Rev. Pelts is secretary of the International Hebrew Christian Alliance with headquarters at Chicago, and he has recently returned from Europe after visits in Poland, Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and France. In addition he was fortunate enough to travel in several eastern European countries beyond the so-called "iron-curtain."

He is acknowledged by observers as a renowned Hebrew Christian. He is sponsored here by the "Youth for Christ" organization.

A GREAT FAMILY REMEDY FOR EXTERNAL AND INTERNAL PAIN

Everybody's Business

by Don Graham

The other day I had an interesting conversation with a prominent farmer who was working on my house.

Although I had always thought his predecessor a rather successful man, I was curious to change my mind. For he talked so engagingly about his work, his experiences and all the amusement and other related matters, that I found myself becoming genuinely interested.

But what fascinated me most was his great enthusiasm for his work.

This attitude towards one's job is generally to be desired. Enthusiasm has a magic, warming effect on all of us. And in a competitive world, as man or carpenter, butcher or bank keeper—it is an asset to employers, customers and all others with whom he comes in contact.

So, especially to younger men, I would say: Regardless of whatever handicaps and disadvantages you may bring, keep on being enthusiastic!

Millions of parents and hundreds of life insurance salesmen have found that the best way to provide for their children's education is by means of insurance.

Leaving For Didsbury

Milton District Couple Honored at Farewell Party

A very pleasant evening was spent at Milton School on Friday evening, October 24, when fifty or more friends and neighbors gathered to a farewell supper in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hay Urbar, old timers of our district.

After an enjoyable supper was the cooperation of the Canadian Pacific Railway officials.

Mr. and Mrs. McArthur will be leaving shortly for Didsbury where they will make their home for the winter months.

Piano selections were given by Miss Marie Myhre and Evelyn Bathje after which, with Mrs. Thompson accompanying, the community sang "Till we Meet Again," and the evening was brought to a close by all joining in "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Mr. and Mrs. McArthur will be leaving shortly for Didsbury where they will make their home for the winter months.

C.P.R. "Safety" Train Visits Lacombe In Combine Campaign

A spectacular three C.P.R. "safety" trains visited Lacombe last Oct. 16, as the C.P.R.'s promotional campaign urging safety precautions among its railroad employees.

The special events in equipped with a blackboard and screen, safety posters along the sides of the wall, and a projecting room for machine with a safe showing of pictures.

Almost forty C.P.R. employees from Lacombe and district were present at the meeting and film showing.

Speakers were J. B. Strother, C.P.R. superintendent, Edmonton and W. J. Pascoe, safety agent, Alberta district, Calgary. Both talks dealt with Lacombe C.P.R. divisional safety record during the last nine months of this year.

Only 13 employees of the company have been injured so far in 1947, out of 700 workers. The record places the local division third among 19 supervising divisions on the prairie region.

Both speakers urged greater precautions, safe thinking, care at all times, and the observance of rules to overcome the ever present danger of injury.

Safety films were shown to the group, some of which were operated and produced by the C.P.R. All the story pictures dealt with various phases of the railroad's operations as affected by injuries to employees.

C.P.R. officials plan to run the "safety" train on regular visits to Alberta centres.

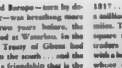
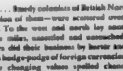
PROVED THEIR FAITH IN CANADA

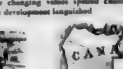
...130 Years Ago

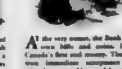
An exhausted Europe—torn by decades of war—was breathing more easily . . . two years before, the square timber, assorted and unmatched, Napoleonic Wars had at last ended at Waterloo. In the New World, the six-year-old Treaty of Ghent had ended an attempted invasion from the south . . . and the peoples of North America began a friendship that is the admiration of the world today.

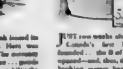




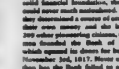
INTO this scene came nine men of vision . . . nine English and Scottish merchants who realized then, without a solid financial foundation, a nation could never reach maturity. Together, they determined a country rich in land, with easy ownership and the banking of 300 other pioneering citizens, these men founded the Bank of Montreal, which opened its doors for business on November 3rd, 1817. Never since has the Bank failed to open on a business day.

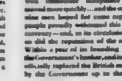


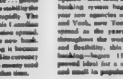




AT the very corner, the Bank leased its own lofts and centre. Here was Canada's first real money. The necessity was immediate . . . commerce . . . people moved more quickly . . . and the enabling the nation began! Settlement multiplied. The people generally welcomed this Canadian currency . . . and in its own interests, so did the expansion of the new bank. Within a year of its founding it became the Government's banker—and has ever since. Only neglected the British enemy until by the Government up to that time.



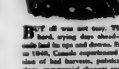




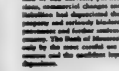
FIRST ever weeks after the Bank started, Canada's first branch bank was opened—at Kingston. Other agencies squared—and, then, the Canadian branch banking system began. The following year saw branches established at Kingston and York, now Toronto, and branches opened in the years ahead. Halted throughout the world for its strength and stability, the system of branch banking—begun 130 years ago—has proved ideal for a country vast in area and small in population.

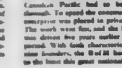
BUT all was not easy. There were hard times, and the Bank—and Canada—had its ups and downs. From 1840 to 1849, Canada experienced a succession of bad harvests, political upheaval, commercial changes and failures. Imitation had discounted the value of coupons and seriously hindered the improvement and further settlement of the country. The Bank of Montreal was the only the area could see of its existence and the excellent loyalty of its depositors.

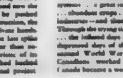
RECOVERY was rapid during the 1850's, middle years of the century. Then came 1867 . . . and a second was born. Not a trans-continental railway was a reality—and settlements—and now the Canadian Pacific had to be pushed through. To speed the construction, the Government was placed in private hands. The work went fast, and the last spike was driven five years earlier than required. With both characteristics of its time branches, the Bank of Montreal was the best this great national project.

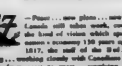


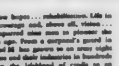
1900—the century opened with the middle years of the century. Then which loomed her more than a decade. Two more trans-continental railways appeared—and another—and now the Canadian crops . . . the needs of new industries—and then . . . World War I! Through the strong times which followed . . . the inflated days of the 20's and the depressed days of the 30's—through a second World War in our time . . . Canadians worked and fought, and Canada became a world power.

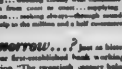


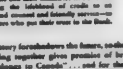












—Peace . . . new plans . . . new hopes . . . rehabilitation. Life in Canada still takes work, courage and, above all, vision . . . the kind of vision which inspired the nine men who founded a country 130 years ago. From a corporal's guard in 1817, the unit of the 20 of 56 has grown to an army eight thousand strong . . . reaching coast to coast . . . touching all phases of communities from coast to coast . . . supplying the lifeblood of credit to an expanding economy . . . making always—and friendly service—a personal help to the million and a half customers who put their trust in the Bank.

What of Tomorrow...? just as history foreshadows the future, so the record of Canada "nine" and her first-established working together gives promise of bright endeavours for the nation. "The twentieth century belongs to Canada" . . . and for that future we pledge ourselves anew to work constructively with Canadians in every walk of life.

Bad Cheques

SMALL-TIME cheques have returned to cause trouble with the post-war period. Usually, they are the unsophisticated or reappearing kind of cheque that business men or women, an exhorter cheek that has successfully duped several Lacombe merchants within the past few months.

These petty thieves make a habit of working the small towns, ordering out their stuff of de-livered methods to make off with a few dishonest dollars. The most common device is that of pos-ting worthless cheques.

Well-meaning Lacombe storekeepers have occasionally cashed cheques in good faith for strangers and in the majority of cases they are been fab. Unfortunately, police report eight in-dividual instances of valueless cheques credited to local stores lately.

One cheque was for the not inconsiderable sum of $50.00, a heavy loss for a small-town mer-chant to absorb in a single transaction.

Hints of the culprits making their way north have been supported by the R.C.M.P., but others are still on the loose, no doubt trying their techniques on honest business men in other towns.

Police point out that merchants are undoubtedly doing their best to check these movements, but when cheque-bearers are in the best position to help. They should be on guard against strangers who have small quantities of merchandise and then pass cheques formally in exercise of the purchase amounts without adequate identification.

It is regrettable that Lacombe merchants have shook to lose by some transactions, but the losses may be worth the cure. It's most unlikely bad cheques will be accepted in these parts for a long time to come.

To The Pansy

HERE'S a salute to the pansies, the first flowers to appear in spring and the last to leave in the fall.

A flower garden is incomplete without the numerous exquisite shades belonging to the pansy its presence in the gardener's show piece of flowers is as necessary as water to the single dot. We drink in its rich variation of color

It is a source of infinite curiosity in the aver-age man how we feel and cultivate a plant which stands the cold onslaught of approaching winter. Yet it is no secret that within the confines of its slender stem another nature has provided substitute and stamens that fights off heavy frosts success-fully, not only in late autumn but in early spring.

The rest of our flowers have long since died but here and there in our barren garden plots, there a mass of purity and color, stands the lonely and valiant pansy, still fluttering forth its last rays of bloom and sunshine

Without the pansy, the kingdom of flowers would be indeed incomplete. To you, little Pansy, we doff our hats in deep respect.

The Liberals Consider

LAST week's news report on Prime Minister Mackenzie King's proposed retirement next August raised speculation and only of the King's successor but of the possibilities of an early general election and the make-up of any cabinet. Should the liberals again be returned to power Resignations are expected about the same time next June. Time of course, will show.

Oddly enough, the prime minister has never been particularly popular with Canadians at large, perhaps due to his reticence, though firm, leader-ship. The fact that he has been returned to power in five general elections has been due not only to words to his own personal appeal as the the best man of outstanding ability now in the field of selecting to carry out governmental policies.

Now, observers are suggesting the early re-tirement of such recognized cabinet ministers as Rt Hon. Ian Mackenzie Alberta's Hon. James MacKinnon Hon. C. D. Howe and Hon. James A. Glen. Their withdrawal from the political field would leave a big vacuum in the cabinet

Rt. Hon. W. Lyon Mackenzie King, Liberal leader since 1919, has been premier of Canada since 1921 except for the years 1926 to 1930 when R. B. Bennett was premier. He was born in Berlin, Ont., now Kitchener, on December 17, 1874. He was educated at Toronto University and Harvard University. He was deputy minister of labor from 1900 to 1908. He was elected to the House of Commons in 1908 and was minister of labor from 1909 to 1911. He was defeated in 1911 but was elected in 1917 and was minister of labor from 1917 to 1919. He was elected leader of the Liberal party in 1919 and has been leader ever since. He was defeated in 1925 but was elected in 1926 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1930 but was elected in 1935 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1940 but was elected in 1945 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1950 but was elected in 1953 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1958 but was elected in 1962 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1965 but was elected in 1968 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1972 but was elected in 1974 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1979 but was elected in 1980 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1984 but was elected in 1988 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 1993 but was elected in 1997 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 2001 but was elected in 2004 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 2008 but was elected in 2011 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 2015 but was elected in 2019 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 2023 but was elected in 2026 and has been elected in every election since then. He was defeated in 2030 but was elected in 2033 and has been elected in every election since then. Bentley District News

BENTLEY—Births in the Bentley Municipal Hospital:

Mr and Mrs. Ray Stevens, Bentley, a son, October 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Brodeur, Bentley, a daughter, October 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stewart, Bentley, a daughter, October 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Melnyke, Bentley, a son, November 2.

The "Open House" Hallowe'en party sponsored by the Bentley High School Student's Union was very well attended and everyone reported an enjoyable evening. Prizes for eldest went to Mrs. Downey, Mrs. Rogers, H. Hopkins and S. Mansfield. The chief point to note is: Mrs. Hopkins. The proceeds of the party will be used to provide sports equipment for the school.

Pat Savage, Shirley Peterson and E. L. Peterson spent the week end at their home here.

Messrs. H. Meyers, J. Savage and L. Gerhardt left this week for a few days big game hunting at Wolf Creek.

A party of hunters spent the week end in MUR RAY.

Mrs. Blaine Hollins of Lacombe, B.C., is visiting friends in Bentley.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Peterson moved to Calgary on Sunday for a few days.

Mrs. Bert Lehnert and daughter of Edmonton are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Pringle

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gilmour were called to Banff recently to be with their daughter Peggy, who underwent an operation for suppurating colitis.

Mr. R. Seal of the Rosemont College, Red Deer, spoke on behalf of the Temperance Forces of Alberta, at the Bentley United Church on Basset Creek, Blackfalds and Bentley last Sunday.

The Search for Talent program attracted a large crowd to the Bentley Community hall on Saturday evening. This program was put on by the Associated Musicians of Bentley, with a view to raise funds for crippled children. There were 14 numbers given by local amateurs and the standing of the crowd of the program was Dark Dancers—first Carri Weill second, and Dixie Fay third. Judging by the sound one may change considerable as votes for any of the candidates will be accepted for the next two weeks. To date, some $50 has been raised in Bentley for crippled children.

The position of the program put on by the Women's Institute, was very entertaining, and in particular the act of Sgt. Bernardo singing and playing the guitar.

H. Leisle, who farms south east of Bentley, had the unique experience of killing a cougar last week, without wasting a bullet. Driving to Lacombe in his car, he came across the animal, in a dip in the road, and putting his head on the gas, overtook, ran over and killed it with his car.

He stated, "it was a good way of getting rid of the pest."

Blackfalds

BLACKFALDS—Mr and Mrs. P. D. Robson from the C.F.C. were guests of honor at a social evening spent at the home of Mrs. L. Richardson a week or so ago last Friday. Mr. Robson just returned with his bride from Ontario last month.

Mrs. Carl Marco returned home from the Red Deer hospital recently.

Lorene Rankle is away on a holiday for a couple of weeks and points south.

Mr and Mrs. Ed Roberts and children, Mac Lindsay and Mrs. Jean Brown Edmonton spent a couple days with Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett of Blackfalds

Forbes

FORBES—Mrs. Harry Foundford visited Mrs. Proudfoot in Sylvan Lake over the Hallowe'en week end.

Mrs. F. Leask motored to Red Deer Tuesday of last week.

A. W. Rogers attended the Provincial School Board meeting on Lacombe last Saturday.

Mr and Mrs. Elmer Hutchings had as guests Mrs. Hutchings brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamb from Saskatchewan and their son.

Lorene Graham is left last Saturday on a hunting trip accompanied by Dr. Myers and Ted Gregg.

Mrs. Andrew and H. L. Cross, special last week end at Buck Lake guests of John McPherson of Bentley.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Freeman motored to Lacombe last Monday. Mr. Freeman attended a service held in connection with agriculture.

Miss Lucille Mostalbeth was in Red Deer Saturday as "Lucky Ticket" for CFRN at Bentley recently and will go to Edmonton on a guest of A.T.T. next spring.

NOTICE OF EARLY CLOSING BY-LAW No. 13-47

A BY-LAW OF THE VILLAGE OF CLIVE IN THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA TO PROVIDE FOR THE EARLY CLOSING OF CERTAIN SHOPS AND BUSINESS PLACES.

Whereas the Proprietors and Occupiers of the Shops and Business Places hereinafter referred to and within the Village of Clive, advertised, have by Petition requested council to fix the closing hours of such shops and business places, and Whereas Council deems it desirable and expedient to accede to such request.

The Municipal Council of the Village of Clive in the Province of Alberta, in council duly assembled, enacts as follows:

1. Throughout the whole year all shops as defined by the Early Closing Act being chapter 113 R.S.A. 1942 and amendments thereto within the said Village of Clive wherein goods, wares or merchandise are sold or offered for sale, shall remain closed on several hours each day as are hereinafter mentioned, except on the days and during the hours mentioned in section 3 of said Act.
2. This by-law shall not be deemed to apply to such meals at any time or refreshments lawfully sold, or of a beauty for immediate or shortly consumption, nor to any shop in respect to (a) the Post Office business;
   (b) the sale of newspapers and the sale of meals at and refreshments;
   (c) the sale of intoxicating liquors as prescribed by law;
   (d) the sale of confectionery for consumption on the premises;
   (e) the sale of tobacco and other smokers' requisites;
   (f) the sale of newspapers and periodicals;
   (g) the business carried on as a railway boardsell or at a railway refreshment room;
   (h) the sale or service of motor automobiles, tractors or other motor vehicles or accessories or service stations;

U.F.A. Meetings In Lacombe District Starting Next Week

A series of meetings under the auspices of the International Department of U.F.A. Co-op. Calgary, will be held in the Lacombe district commencing next Monday, November 10.

The meetings will feature round table discussions, and talks will be given by representatives of the Central U.F.A. and U.F.A. Co-op.

A question period will also form part of the program.

These meetings are of a purely educational nature, and they are designed to give farmers of this district information regarding the progress of their own Co-op, and co-operation dealing with their U.F.A. organization.

The schedule of the meetings is as follows:

Monday, Nov. 10 Bellgrove School
Tuesday, Nov. 11 Sterling Valley School
Wednesday, Nov. 12 Gwynn School
Thursday, Nov. 13 Naverdale
Friday, Nov. 14 Sparrowdale Hall

The meetings will be under the direction of Lawrence Hannah, director of the Field Service staff of U.F.A. Central Co-op, Calgary.

Petition Asks The Town Council For Street Lights

A petition was removed by the Town Council at its regular meeting in the town office last week asking for some more lights in the southeast section of Lacombe, across the railroad tracks.

The petition is signed by eleven residents of the district, and in support of the earliest possible date to remedy the present lighting situation.

The petition read:

"We the undersigned residents of fifth street, south of the C.P.R. Backyards, wish to direct your attention to the fact that there are no street lights in that locality and because of heavy traffic, no sidewalks and the poor condition of the street, it is difficult and dangerous to travel at night.

"We therefore suggest that the street lights be erected at the earliest possible date."

The petition was signed by E. Payne, Mrs. Mary L. Vernon, Mrs. Ed Kergolan, John Gilmour, Alberta Pacific Grain Co. Ltd., H. S. Saunders, M. L. Grover, J. W. Bathie, A. Sanchuk, John Hoshkosky, R. H. Hendi-cott.

In discussing the petition, council admitted the street was dark but "it was becoming increasingly difficult to survive some of these petitions that spread out the town."

The matter was left in the hands of Councillor F. O. Verhoeven, who agreed to look into all aspects of the case and report at the next meeting.

Ordinary life policies, 1,303 industrial policies and 168 group policies. The sum of $2,366,231 was paid to matured endowments, 1,363 ordinary policies and 2,735 industrial policies.

Premium benefits amounted to $97,856; annuity payments $952, 128, and surrender values $9,666, 888.

Bank of Montreal Observes Its 130th Birthday (November 3)

Monday, November 3 was an observatory day for the Bank of Montreal—Canada's first substantial bank—observed its 130th birthday on that date.

It was on November 3, 1817 that the first branch of the bank was opened in a modest little office in Montreal, and it has since grown to a financial institution that has an international reputation, and its business here and abroad.

In Lacombe, the Bank of Montreal was established through the Merchants' Bank branch which first opened its doors on February 26, 1906, in a room in the old Verbona Hotel. Later the Merchants' Bank was taken over by the Bank of Montreal, which has continued in business here over the amalgamation.

It wasn't until 1920 that officials of the institution decided to erect a new building and they chose a site which still serves the purposes of the local Bank of Montreal today.

Mr. McDonald, who served a good deal of his "apprenticeship" in the Lacombe branch of the bank as a youth, came back to this city as manager in 1932 He is still in charge here, having held wide importance in banking as branch manager at numerous points in the West.

on light tough aluminum

BOY! In a toy shop lately? Or a hardware store? Or a sporting goods department? Then you have noticed the amazing number of things now being made with Aluminum — shovels and scooters, bearing needles and clothes pins, cooking and cocktail shakers and caravan rods.

Aluminum is today one of the four most widely used metals in the world — for a lot of reasons. It has brought new beauty into architecture and into the kitchen. Its lightness has made work easier — and enabled planes to fly higher and faster.

It has the strength to build bridges — and to make the heating a two-car-old gayes his toys . . . It is the metal of the Twentieth Century

One hundred years ago Aluminum was more valuable than gold.
Today its low cost enables the thousands of everyday uses.

At Arvida, Canada, the largest Aluminum smelter in the world can produce two million pounds of ingots a day. Each (1) Aluminum cash box or utensil from anywhere else in the world, (2) one out of every ten pounds are available for export. Today Canadian Aluminum is sold in every country in the world — is a major factor in providing Canada with needed producing power abroad.

Lacombe Girl Basketballers Lose 15-10

Lacombe school girls' basketball team dropped the first game of the new season at the Church Hall on Tuesday of last week when the visiting Ponoka lassie's clashed up a 15-10 win.

It was a close checking contest all in favor of the visitors but the locals have not played up a 15-0 lead.

The locals now have plenty time in the second half, and although they outscored Ponoka 10-5, the deficit was too big to make up. Lacombe definitely improved in the game over last week.

Eileen Bliss, high school secretary, has been coaching the girls, and Stuart Wilson, grade eight teacher, will assist Miss Bliss. Lacombe plays a return game with Red Deer shortly.

Lee Knickerbaker and Lorne Pollock are the high scorers for Lacombe, while Jean McDonald and Betty Fairbairn collected two points apiece. In the Ponoka losing scoring gun with 11 points, Miss Muriel Clapp got ten.

Control

Controlled by the School Students

CENTRAL—Students of Central School entertained their mothers and other ladies of the district at a Hallowe'en Party on Friday, October 31. A program consisting of songs and plays was presented by the pupils, after which pupils and guests partook of refreshments in the classrooms. A delicious lunch brought the afternoon session to a close.

A shower for Eileen Hood was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Hood on October 28. The bride to be received many lovely and useful gifts.

The Edward Lagan entertained a number of teen-agers at a chicken supper on Monday. All reported a grand time.

Likely Vote on Hospital Wing Early January

Date for the referendum vote on the proposed $15,000 hospital wing to the Lacombe municipal hospital will be held probably in early January, it was intimated at the regular meeting of the hospital board Monday night.

A definite date will likely be set at a special meeting of the board to be held next week. By that time, J. Martinsel, architect from Edmonton who attended Monday's meeting, will have his estimates of the probable cost of the proposed $15,000 addition ready.

Approval Received

The Board of Public Utilities at Edmonton has given approval to the proposed building by-law, estimated on a building valuation from the province and the hospital board felt it would be going too far at the present time to hold a voting date before any additional reports had been obtained.

At the same time the hospital board members went ahead with the tentative plans for the new addition, and the architect was instructed to have the plans ready for the next time the board meets.

Once again, final decision was left in abeyance when the board recently voted against an amendment to the existing by-law governing the admittance of patients of the general hospital ward. Maternity rooms, rate rooms and no fards were also left as they are, the east side of the new wing, and the 30-room part would second storey of the present building.

Plumber for the month of October again show overcrow ing at the hospital. A total of 195 patients were admitted to the hospital for a total of 1,505 patient days. This figure averages 48 patients daily in the 30-bed hospital.

Funeral Held Last Friday in Lacombe for Mrs. J. Orum

A funeral service was held in Lacombe last Friday afternoon for Mrs. Jane Orum, who died early on Tuesday of last week at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller. She had been ill for about two weeks.

Rev. L. A. Thompson officiated at the service. Pallbearers were Frank Mitchell, Ernest Cox, Harry Crouse, Harry Coverdale, Clare Williamson, Harry Orum.

Interment was made at the Lacombe cemetery. Brown & Johnson were in charge of arrangements.

The deceased was not widely known in Lacombe, having come here from Edmonton to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter. She had not been in failing health for some time.

She is survived by her husband, three sons, Calvin in Montreal, Harry at Kew, Alta., and Harold of Lacombe, and two daughters, Mrs. J. Miller of Lacombe, and Mrs. Jessie Cox of Vulcan, Sask., and several grandchildren. Her son-in-law, Mrs. May Orum, resides at Carstairs.

BOSS CITY CASHIER, 16-YEAR-OLD YOUTH CAN'T BE TEACHER IN LACOMBE

Lacombe school board, at the regular meeting held on Tuesday of last week, decided that a 16-year-old youth could not be employed as a teacher in the Lacombe school district.

The decision was arrived at when the board received a letter from Varsity Theatre, Calgary, last week, enquiring with about $80 to sum.

No relatives of the youth could be found in the district by Mrs. Gibbs, after exhaustive inquiries had been made around town. As no local motivation put of, "he has no fixed address and probably would spend the first town that come into his head—in this case, Lacombe."

Big Crowd Fills Central Alberta Pavilion

Acrobatic Performers Win First Prizes At Canadian Legion Concert Tuesday

Acrobatic acts stole the show as the Canadian Legion's annual concert Tuesday night, and the greatest acrobatic display of the evening was that of Fredo Barbordon of Bowden, 12 years old, coupled the eye of the judges and gave them the most points in the number and produced the most entertaining. Nikkosi (unbelievable) took part in the amateur section and five of the professional division. Scoring of the contest was done on the part of three judges who were judges was based on ability, stage appearance, popularity, dapper appearance.

Robert Layton of Red Deer proved popular with the crowd as he drew with a fine singing voice. He chose for his song, "My Hero." Ken Hawkes of Red Deer proved he was meant to ten-year-old Joe Sherlock of Red Deer, with a humorous monologue that showed considerable professional polish.

Seven sporting numbers among the amateurs saw Freddie Sears of Lacombe, Jimmy Lee and Robert Fenlson of Lacombe, 12 years old, Prudnie was the hearts of the contestants with a medley of medley solo. Robert Fenlson, a young vocalist proved a real find. Jimmy Durante impersonation as his act.

In the professional section, 11 year-old Alan McLaren of Red Deer was in second place right behind Barbordon, and proved to be an excellent trumpet solo. He played "Trumpet" with cute and comfortable.

Lizette seven-year-old Donna Lee Dever of Red Deer was third prize with a pleasing irish jig number.

Master Thomas Willms of Lacombe was master of ceremonies, and the following judges and announcers were rendered. L. V. S. "Happy" Hopkins gave a very interesting talk on "Legion Concert Party." The Four Harries" from Red Deer, with their harmonica music and sportsmen in a snappy song and dance routine.

Lacombe Ponoka's augmented orchestra then took over and supplied the music for the dancing which followed. Members of the Last-We-Forget Club catered at the refreshments for the evening.

Presentations were made by Mayor T. Willms and Rod Carter on behalf of the local Legion, to Mrs. W. M. Sutherland, pianist of the 42nd Red Deer Legion Band, who accompanied top ladies ticket winner; Mrs. Bob Poulsen, who received the ladies' door prize; and to Mrs. Mrs. Margaret Reed, legion candidate at the Lion's Club Ball, who received the consolation prize. Grants, cushions, cash and gift prizes.

Ticket Sales For Assembly Dance Are Disappointing

Ticket sales for the annual Assembly Ball of the Central Alberta Pavilion this coming winter have been only moderately successful to the executive committee at the local organizational session Monday night.

In view of the two-fold purpose of these dances, the committee is disappointed with the response. The gatherings have not only been organized for social purposes, it is pointed out, but the proceeds will go to the memorial recreation building.

The dances are scheduled at the pavilion for November 28, December 26, January 16, January 30, and March 12. Local business houses within the district are also being approached. Lacombe Food House, McLeod's Store, Sweet's Pharmacy, Red Deer Motors, Red Deer Creamery, Globe, and in addition the Lacombe high school.

TURKEYS FROM LACOMBE DISTRICT TO BE SHOWN AT TORONTO ROYAL

A. Tate has been selected by the provincial government to represent seven of the forty standard breeds turkeys being sent by the province to compete for the royal title at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair at Toronto, this week.

Binder stubble is not as hard to work in, but a shallow fall tillage is encouraged, having the a bit more time for controlling these weeds.

3. Rates and dates for seeding rower crops. The division hasn't much advice to offer here, although Argentine crops seeded between July 15 to August 1 produced to one bushel of oat, per acre. Argentine produces a very good kind of food for fall pasture.

4. Fertilizer. No commercial brew and inter-tilled crops. Poor in Tees poor's experimental farm ground. But John-Alfa 1 crops are just as effective in keeping land free of weeds as in summer-fallow. Profound growing crops like rowe as potatoes are suggested. Keeping the rows tilled frequently.

5. Fertilizer formula lists. Farm fertilizer was discussed at the experimental station, an application of 30 pounds phosphorus for a crop of 30 bushels per acre given an aver-

Tees Youth Wins At Alix Grain Club Seed Fair Last Week

Alix—Installed at teen-age Baseball Barclay of Tees was declared the champion boy judge at the Director of Winchester, at the Alix junior grain club seed fair on Wednesday of last week.

Jimmy Schnell and Bonnie Adams, both of Alix, placed second and third respectively in the competition. Three boys getting within 3 points of the winner.

Judging will be entered at the Alix or Edmonton entry next year.

Grow Lacoma Oats

All members of the club grew Lacoma oats this year. Their samples in the seed judging were entered in the 1947 Alberta competition. Their boys getting within 3 points of the winner's standard. Reasons for and comments by the judges and the members were used as a basis for discussion. Only slightly of the club member's showing and of the samples with which they had imported during the afternoon.

Mrs. Birdsall also gave a short summary of the club and produced the first in the first year of the association. Tees Women's Institute, Calgary, Sidney Morris, Douglas Nash, Bill Nash, Alex Schnell, Barbara Bennett and Rose Nash.

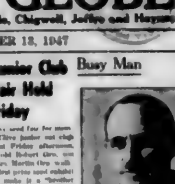
Council Discusses Truck Parking Facilities Here

Parking of trucks in the downtown sections of Lacombe came in for considerable discussion at a regular meeting of the town council held Monday evening. Councillors, faced with the necessity of providing some facilities for truck parking, tentatively decided that the lane back of the Medicine Hat Block, might prove a satisfactory lot parking the larger vehicles.

Instructions for lots were also dealt with at the regular meeting. Approval was the note of a letter from Mrs. Mary Hoverty, conditional on the erection thereon of a dwelling house to cost more than $4,000, also received the approval of the council was an application from H. M. Erickson, who indicated willingness to build a house valued at not less than $4,000 on the Calgary-Edmonton trail.

Another application for the erection of a service station and wholesale gas agency was also received from Mr. Hoverty, who indicated the applicant had been asked to attend the meeting, and was not present, but application was held in abeyance until the next meeting.

Busy Man



DAVID T. WILKES

District Agriculturist Lacombe Hps Mr. Wilkes a busy man. Monday night, Mayor Walker presided over a supper bi-monthly meeting of the Town Council. Tuesday morning, he gave the annual address and presided over the Armistice Day service. Tuesday night, he was master of ceremonies at the Canadian Legion's annual concert and dance.

Record Crowds Attend Bentley Harvest Festival

BENTLEY—The Harvest Festival was opened by the Board of the Bentley United Church last week and was probably one of the most successful ever put on in Bentley. Record crowds attended each of the three nights and the Board itself well rewarded for their efforts.

Miss Shirley Haverland was crowned queen of the festival, and Miss Ida Ellen Smith ran a close second. Both the young ladies worke hard throughout the contested and are to be commended on their fine showing.

Three door prizes were given away each of the first two evenings and the last night. Mrs. Ernest Hall was probably one of the most surprised persons to get one as the lucky number was announced. The proceeds of the carnival, after all expenses are paid, are to be used for much needed repairs and renovation to both the outside and inside of the hall.

Vaccinations Made In District Against Bangs Disease

Thirty farmers in the Lacombe district are getting about 300 head of calves vaccinated for Bang's disease this week.

The vaccinations started Monday in the west corner of the Lacombe municipal district and will go on one row at a time.

The work is being done through a co-operative program involving the agricultural service board and the provincial department of agricultural at Edmonton. Considerable importance is attached to the vaccinations, the number of farmers interested has been disappointingly small.

Clive Junior Club Seed Fair Held Last Friday

Annual Clive seed fair for members of the Clive junior out club was held last Friday afternoon, and 15-year-old Robert Gee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gee with a 4-H club project entered capture honors. To make it a "brother act" record Ivan Gee the same family aged 14 won the second prize.

Other winners in order of merit were: Lloyd Rosher Hoerl, Douglas Hawkins, Beverly Cole, Lorraine Hawkins, Helen Hoefel Ernest Hamworthy, Lawrence Wagner, Ivor Hoefel, Norman Haverstock, Reigford Pohl, Donnie Lewis, Harvey Lewis, Billy Hoefel, Kenneth Lawton, Stanley Hertel and Roger Hoefel.

Challenging Theme At Armistice Day Service Sunday

From the text, "That they with out us should not be made perfect." Rev. L. A. Thompson took up a challenging message at the Armistice Service held in the Lacombe theatre the last Sunday morning.

In the moment of returned servicemen, Lacombe cadets, members of the Lord's Way Club, as well as a fair number of town residents attended the hour to honour the dead in two world wars. Two of many persons walked with bare during the two minutes' silence in memory of the honored and revivified.

The challenge to us all, said Rev. Mr. Thompson to the men address, to the challenge of world peace. "We must not forget the sacrifice they made for us, but we must also remember that we are united," he added, "not against us things for which they died."

The Goal — Peace

He went on to elaborate on the theme of the unification of the world in brotherhood, content unconditional surrender. "The goal," he said by no means." We need the courage humility, faith and unity of purpose to build a world worthy of the sacrifice of him and create a new world, he said.

Prayer for peace in his opening address, stated Rev. Thompson must be preceded by personal and memorable and pay humble tribute to those who gave their lives. We Bentley Cenotaph in the Park, he said, their deeds and their actions.

Mrs. Ed. Hall played the Prelude, Prayer, and the Scripture Reading from the Old Psalms. Rev. L. A. Bonnell read the Scripture lesson.

The address was then presented by the Memorial Park, others wreaths were placed at the cenotaph, and the flag raised. Mrs. Ross Peffer played a wreath on the base of the cenotaph on behalf of the Last-We-Forget Club, W. G. Cameron on behalf of the Canadian Legion and Sgt. Shirley Love on behalf of the Lacombe Cadet Corps.

Stock Arrives Shortly After Car Accident

Last Sunday night, a car accident took the lives of four horses, and, while, slightened all the road and into the ditch on the west side of the road, a mile and a half south of the Lacombe-Ponoka side of College Heights.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Lardon were injured in the smash. Their 1940 4-ton truck, in which they were driving, was also given birth to a 3 lb. 1 ounce girl at the hospital.

Both mother and son were discharged on up to Tuesday afternoon, the hospital reported Mr. Lardon is also busy handing out cigars.

The truck is being done straight a considerable amount of damage to the body and the fenders came out pretty bad Damage has been estimated at about $300.

The mishap was one of a series that occurred in Lacombe and district during the past week. Heavy snowfalls on the holiday hampered motorists on certain days have made streets and highways icy.

Lacombe reports several more trucks have been working overtime putting motor vehicles out of snow and slushy roads which they had slid. One traveller Monday had to wait two hours before cars off the road between here and Red Deer.

Community Club At Forbes Meets Last Thursday

The regular meeting of the Forbes Community Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Crisp last Thursday. There was a very large attendance including visitors and a number of honorary members.

The main event of the afternoon was a sale, the proceeds of which amounted to $8.00. The raffle, amounting to $8.25, was won by Mrs. George Cunningham.

Mrs. Charles Cunningham will be in charge of the rink members for the Christmas meeting. Each member is to take a gift and the usual entertainment will take place.

St. Stephen's Church Scene Of Wedding

MORNAYETTE BELYEAR

In St. Stephen's Church, Lacombe Wednesday, November 5 at 10:30 A.M., the marriage took place of Marie Louise, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Belyeir of Lacombe, to Frank, son of Mr. and the late Mrs. P. Mornayette of Saskatchewan. Father Bourassa officiated. The church was decorated with snapdragons for the occasion.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. W. Butterfield and Mr. Ken Evans sang Rush-Lamont's "Ave Maria".

Entering the church with her father who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a real wool suit with a black off-the-face hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses and she carried a white prayer book topped with snapdragons. Bunny Bowes from the South Ranch was bridesmaid with Theodosia Belyeir, her only sister, as flower girl. Her daughter's wedding dress was a black crepe dress. Her little hat was trimmed with black velvet. Her corsage of snapdragons were to match the bridesmaid's.

Mrs. R. Lemire visitor at the Adam Heath home wore green wool suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of mauve carnations.

A reception and luncheon was held right after the ceremony at the bride's home for 25 guests. Laid in a white linen cut-work cloth, the bridal table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake embedded in yellow bells and asters. Bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums flanked by yellow tapers. Snapdragons were used for decoration all over the house. Father Bourassa proposed the bridal toast to which the groom responded. Mrs. Ken Crowe was assisted by Miss Kay Woods in serving.

In the evening, another reception was held for about 50 friends of the bride's home in Bentley, after which the young couple left for a honeymoon where the groom is employed by the Mitchell Publishing House. The bride travelled in her wedding ensemble, over which she wore a black coat.

List of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Crowe of the groom, Mrs. R. Lemire, Misses Margaret and Hazel Belyeir, Bernadette, all sisters of the groom, Mr. Maurice Mornayette, brother of the groom and Mr. J. Hoppert all of Gravelbourg, Sask.; Mr. A. Desrosiers of Abernethie and Mr. Charles Bourassa of Hartland, the bride's uncle; Miss Jean Belyeir of Red Deer, Miss Kay Woods of Calgary and Mr. and Mrs. Hinmenbrick of Coronado.

Farmers Not Happy

FARMERS are not happy about the current government latest action in connection with coarse grains, and they have every right not to be. With controls off, the price of feed grain has increased from about $1.00 per bushel to above the dollar mark. Central Alberta has always been a prosperous mixed farming district, but farmers, nevertheless are dependent on the weather or not it will pay them to continue in the long and livestock business now the cost of feed is so high.

Many are on and stock cars rolling to the slaughter houses have been filled with cows, even to pay (Other farmers are sorely tempted to "knock their little pigs on the head" rather than pay the costs of developing and finishing them for the future market.

It is time for the former to forget the hysteria of the moment and to consider the over-all picture calmly and wisely. True feed costs are out of proportion to the hog values, but many of farmers in this area have their own feed anyway. He must count the hours before he will be ready to sell, and watch the stock market closely for the next few months while hog ing on to the hogs and cattle he has. We can see no alternative both in trying to hold the line livestock industry this country has built up during the war years, and in the confidence that price adjustments will be forthcoming after this temporary but ruthless flooding of the livestock market itself.

Just the same it is hard to understand what the dominion government was thinking about with its ill-timed decontrols that favored those who murdered their grains late in the year, and that will do an injustice to those who remained the full price for their coarse grain crops early in the season.

The government was surely not trying to destroy the fine bacon industry that has been established with Great Britain. Nor do we agree with the sentiment in the many radical publications that stresses the selling of a farmer's future to the gambling exchange. Time will work the problem out.

Chicken Suppers

THIS is the time of year when these genial, pleasant social gatherings known as Chicken Suppers are held. They might well be called "community" suppers and we use the word here in the larger sense to include both urban and rural areas.

Townsfolk rub elbows with country folk at the dinner table. They swap stories, exchange ideas, and express opinions on matters of common interest. Of course they go through the motions of doing the same thing in daily life, but there is something strikingly different about the atmosphere in front of a piping hot chicken dinner.

Town residents are more readily able to appreciate the farmer's troubles after he lands a prosperous one. The farmer displays more understanding and patience in trying to see the urban point of view. Maybe it's the fragrant cream waiting in front of appreciative mouths; maybe it's the full, satisfied stomach. Anyway, the spirit of good fellowship is there.

True, there is a financial aspect to the suppers. But any monetary gain becomes a secondary consideration alongside the social intimacy that is built up along the length of the community table.

The suppers chicken, vegetables and rich (and oh so rich) desserts are all donated voluntarily by ladies of the various sponsoring organizations. We applaud their efforts that makes possible the union of town and country cousins at least once a year.

Some C.C.F. Shortcomings

M. J. COLDWELL'S speech at the pavilion here last week was in no sense an election campaign speech. He did not try to sell the C.C.F. plan; people down the throats of the 300-odd persons in the audience. He touched on some of the world's economic and social problems, and showed the C.C.F. note and how it would have merely to look at facts for did, of course have special emphasis on certain particular principles without going into them deeply.

It's very easy to criticize any administration and Mr. Coldwell took the easy way out. He blamed Canadian government policy for the high cost of living, he censured the Alberta Government for allowing "corporations" to "exploit" this province's oil resources, and he fell back on the time-worn "I-C-F stand by to prove the failure of private enterprise in the depression of the early 30's.

The worth of an economic system is measured in terms of the alternatives, however, and Mr Coldwell's remarks were devoid of much in the record of Britain's Labor Government. He urged "governments" like that United Kingdom to need "the inevitable change to come."

Sometimes a planned economy does not strike this newspaper as satisfactory panacea to world problems. It implies too much government interference with individual lives and with personal freedoms. It calls for public or government ownership of industries which are "monopolistic" in nature although C.C.F. ers are always noticeably vague in defining how far these monopolistic ownership should go. Naturally, the government will be the final authority in deciding which industries are "monopolistic."

There is another glaring flaw in the C.C.F. platform as we see it. Production. Could industry, under government control, maintain the driving output attained through personal initiative and incentives for profit? We doubt it. And production is the key to any national prosperity.

These are some of the points that make the success of a C.C.F. administration extremely dubious, and these are some of the last week.

Farming Notes

Wintering Farm Machinery

If machine storage space is limited, at least try to shelter those implements with complex parts, and keep rubber tires and belts away from, oil, grease K. S. Harris, Extension Agricultural Engineer for the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Provide shelter for rubber tired machinery if possible, and at the same time set up the machines in such a way that they will be ready for instant use when wanted. Where storage space is not available for the whole implement, remove the wheels and store them under cover. If wheels cannot be removed without a great deal of trouble, it pays to cover the tires with canvas or tar paper. Belts made of rubber parts should be removed and placed under dry cover.

The seed drill has should be cleaned out thoroughly before storing for winter. The boxes must and dried, and the seed and get out all chaff if allowed to moisture. If the drill is to be kept outside wrap the box with tar paper or canvas. Perishable rubber parts must also be thoroughly cleaned. When removed for either however seal the water jacket with chewcords in the bottom of the boxes. The seed cups every at the lowest point and bottom being they are raised.

Shearing and cutting edges, such as those on plows, harrows, cultivators, cultivator shovels and disc blades, should be well cleaned and a coat of grease applied. If you have a grain binder or a one-way up on planks, the disc blades will be kept out of the ground, and rust and corrosion of the edges prevented.

Farm Labor Summary

The farm labor situation in 1947 was somewhat better than in 1946. Farm wages were a little higher during 1947 than in previous years and there was a tendency for farmers to try to hire men on a year-round basis.

The demand for harvest labour in Alberta was somewhat lower than in 1946 due to a smaller crop. However, approximately 800 men were brought into the Province from the East by the first of October. Inclement weather during the latter part of August and throughout September delayed harvesting and created, in spite, a large number of local men leaving farms to take employment in woods and other industries for the winter months. There was a considerable shortage of harvest labor in many districts during periods when weather was suitable for harvesting operations.

Cream Quality

To the producer of milk and cream, winter means a definite change in handling conditions, a change that cannot be disregarded. Officials of the Dairy Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture advise that there are three main reasons why milk and cream need special attention at this time:

(1) The necessity of long stabling periods for the dairy herd.
(2) Use of feed and concentrates that are sometimes highly flavored.
(3) Freezing conditions and the bad effect on milk cream.

Meeting Decides to Redecorate Portion Of Lacombe School

Grades one and six school rooms and the entrance hallway and cloaks of the Lacombe school will be redecorated, it was decided at the regular meeting of the school board held in the Town Office on Tuesday night of last week. The redecoration will be done during the Christmas school holidays.

The caretaker's wages were also largely raised as the commencement salary was raised from $75 per month to $80 per month and direct to the Janitor had been approved and certified as required by the school children of Canada, and their special responsibility

This does not represent the private opinion of the writer, but rather those American.

How much better it is for children to bring about how much money they put for their supplied bids, rather than about how many stood lights they destroyed!

There were no "important" nor "back-bone" youngsters who attended the Hallowe'en ball on Friday evening, hanging around, eagerly watching to see how much their can had collected. A certain in say that anyone looking into the ball could see a lot of "pennies" and "fun" as evidence as the kaleidoscope of colourful figures bobbed by. Everyone smiled for a moment, or marched in the grand march for the serious judging.

To get stand in the world you must serve than ability, personality and organization. You also need good health.

Nowadays the word organization is important the right idea to good health is being more widely recognized. Then more and more people are adopting use of the heavy search and pressure in the care of the vitamin-rich raw and leafy vegetables, and fruits.

Here is a good common solution a mixture of eight leaves in the raw state daily.

To most of us, the idea of taking exercise is a chore and a bore. But it is virtually impossible to enjoy outdoor sports unless you are fit. A few moments spent daily in simple exercises is repaid many times over in the form of extra energy, pep, Long, brisk walks are also extremely beneficial.

Above all, have your physician give you a complete check-up every year.

All this may have a familiar ring. But I have repeated it because I know how many they are do so much to help you win more.

Just as health measures safeguard your physical fitness, life insurance safeguards the financial future for yourself and your family. During the past 10 years the life insurance companies in Canada paid out an average of $400,000 to policyholders or beneficiaries every day.

Expect Powerful Team Again

Al Myers To Coach Local Juvenile Hockey Team

Al Myers has agreed to coach the Lacombe Juvenile hockey team this winter, and it appears that the locals will again have a powerful aggregation time to battle. Last year's team, under the personal management of Al Myers has been highly recommended by his backer, former owner of the famous Regina Pats.

Bob Wishart and school principal Russ Patrick will assist Myers in the management of the team.

Most of last season's star sticked lineup will be back in the fold for play in 1947-48, and there is some talk of the possibilities of a three or four-team junior league involving Lacombe. It is understood that Innisfail and Penola are interested.

Big Jerry Bob Falkner is still he key defenseman this winter along with Don Hay who was laid up in the last campaign with a serious injury. Two goalers and Vince Tillotson three of last year's stars are now over-age for juvenile hockey. Colleges from Red Deer is also said to be interested.

In all, the Lacombe juvenile outfit should be a very powerful one with last year's experience, particularly of the 18-year old players and will be a big asset to the coaches plans of bringing the club to another provincial championship crown to this centre for the first time.

A Local Poem

Dedicated to them "who bowed and bled," in World War II.
By L. E. H.

Mr. Regret

Killed in action.
The message read.
Killed in action yesterday—
Your son is dead.

And she thought—
And her daughters-in-law said
And each
Of a boy on his station.
Of a brother dead.

Of a time when his life
Was only his.
He'd hunted with bells
And wild game-call.

Of summer pictures—
And days at the lake.
Of a boy who'd trouble
Makes cake!

When came the war
And the day came when—
He said "Mother I'm going!
They're calling for men."

She thought of his father,
Gassed,
Coming home,
Burned with grief
In his old eyes dear.

Till he said at last,
With a sorrowful look,
Standing her ban.
"I'm going!"

She looked at the page of a book.

"We'll just have to bear it,
As best we can,
Another of kind.
We realize it, Mister!"

Memorial Day Service is Held At Bentley Sunday

The Bentley Branch of the Canadian Legion were in charge of a Memorial Day service in the Bentley Auditorium Sunday afternoon.

A choir under the direction of Mrs. Judith Day sang "O Valiant Hearts, Who To Your Glory Came" with Miss Lily Black as accompanist. Rev. L. C. Lowe-Anderson delivered a brief address on the ministry of "Poppies for Remembrance."

Two minutes of silence was observed at 11 a.m. after which "The Last Post" was sounded by E. G. Camp. The service was brought to a close by the Benediction and "God Save the King."

Hockey in Central Alberta

CENTRAL Alberta hockey fans should be on the top notch sport hockey this winter as the newly-formed Central Alberta Hockey League, Alta., Red Deer, Ponoka and Lacombe.

The bench, or coaching staff, of each team and a patient team of individual stars but you bet they never achieved the performance of a well-coached machine. This month's coaching series centered with the employment of J. V. Cartwright, a Manitoban who has played and coached hockey for many years in the Prairie Provinces. The boys can be assured of one fact. They will receive the town's support if they use it hard on the ice. A team deserves the best of the evening team to earn a steady following. It's the hustle that counts, although more than often the two go hand in hand.

What a team of ramps with of similar hockey information. Let's now outfit a team for Lacombe. The Stampede 4, have been holding early workouts at the Athletics arena under the watchful eye of Hans Nash, pro-hockey player and idol of the modern Prince. Their new hockey arena will be completed late this month, it is expected.

Much credit is due to a small, enthusiastic band of hockey supporters from Alta. The town hasn't the population of the other towns in the field but surrounded but for entry in intermediate league play is unknown.

Games and final lists, of course, are originals in the league and always provide a rosy competition. The comparative strengths of the clubs will be better known after the schedule gets underway December 2 with Stettler at Lacombe.

Tenth Province?

THE Dominion's offer to Newfoundland to join the confederation of Canada has not been given the publicity it warrants. The event is a milestone in the young history of Canada, whether the people of Newfoundland accept the offer or not in a plebiscite sometime next spring.

The population of Newfoundland is about 200,000, and that entrance into the Dominion as a tenth province would not give them a strong representation in the Parliament at Ottawa—probably around 10 seats to the present 245-seat house.

There months' discussion this fall between delegates from Newfoundland and Canadian officials under the chairmanship of acting Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent dealt with taxation problems, and drawers and legal questions. Financial adjustments proved to be most important, and terms offered by Canada at the end of the conference included Dominion grants traditionally made to provinces, as well as special grants for a transition period, estimated at about 15 years.

Ironically, the union of the two countries could not be expected if each didn't anticipate mutual benefits. Newfoundland, which has been in serious economic troubles for over a decade, could look forward to solvency. Canada would receive enormous advantages with the abolition of tariffs between the two countries, and better protection to the Atlantic fisheries industry.

The fact of one people must never move about the recent conference about the offers that were made, and it is not Newfoundland itself. Even if the prospect were to come to pass, it merits careful study and more knowledge about that smorgasbord lying "somewhere off the east coast of Canada."

Sentiment From Spirit

[illegible] ...s upon reports here it would [illegible] Pride Scotland's before numerous [illegible] from Canada and the United [illegible] is too good to miss, too many [illegible] can claim. Often, felon by [illegible] and never so short in the [illegible] Christmas true!

[illegible] ...ly right to pray artistic homely [illegible] ...ar for Britain the wayward [illegible] ...n and world! The British had [illegible] ...ensensible outlook on life even [illegible] ...ce the grumblings and the gripes there is [illegible] ...y humor.

The latest directive from an austerity-minded Labor Government calls for potato rationing. Whether it's decided during the war will leave with the "small" meant to the national diet. People used to boil fish and chip shops regularly to "fill up." It will lower morale more than bread rationing.

Canadian postal authorities, in the meantime, give the heartening news that current overseas shipments are continuing at a high pace, surpassing even those of the war years. Canadians are not forgetting the Old Country, nor the magic of a small crown clustered godly about the surplus comforts of the latest food box from abroad!

Somehow that picture produces a good lump in the inside. There is joy in giving as well as receiving.

Farming Notes

Weeds and Seed

Most Alberta farmers realize the value of clean seed but this year the demand for good seed exceeds the supply. There are just two alternatives for those who will have to buy. To obtain good seed now while it is available, or to take what they can get later if they are able to.

W. Lobay, Supervisor of Agriculture Service Boards for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, stated that no matter where you buy your seed or where it comes from, make sure that it is free from weed seeds before you sow it. Germination is not enough. A beautiful tuber from the new may look clean, but the way to make sure is to spread a sample on a piece of white paper and check closely. It is shown weed seeds that are undesirable to you, take a sample to your Field Supervisor or District Agriculturist. They will identify them for you.

This good work by up up trouble for yourself in to sow weed infested seed. Check closely. Clean and the weed seeds before sowing. It takes only a few of them to start an infestation.

December Survey, 1947

During the last week of November thousands of farmers throughout Canada will receive Livestock and Poultry Report Forms. Each farmer is asked to fill in the information concerning the livestock operations on their own farms. The Agricultural Division of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics will co-operation with the several provincial Departments of Agriculture in conducting the survey.

From the returns received from farmers estimates of the number of live stock in Canada on December 1, 1947 will be prepared. Similar information will be obtained with respect to the disposition of live stock during the last six months, i.e., marketings, births, deaths and farm slaughter. Questions are also being asked about intentions to increase production.

As in former years the success of the survey will depend to a great extent upon the co-operation received from farmers in filling out the Report forms.

The information obtained from the survey is used extensively throughout the year. The world Food and Agriculture Organization depends upon the Bureau to supply up-to-date figures on Canada's agricultural industry. The Bureau is also the official source of statistical information which is used by governments, farm organizations and industry to plan future operations. It is in the farmer's own interest that a full measure of these contributions be obtained and for this reason his co-operation is solicited to complete and return the forms to me as soon as possible. Information from farmers provide to the Bureau is kept strictly confidential.

Reflections of the Times

Censorship of Books

It is unfortunate that many present-day authors seem to think it is necessary to play up sex and to introduce into their books descriptions bordering on the obscene. And while it is obvious that such books are written to satisfy a popular demand for them, it would be a serious mistake if authors were to take it upon themselves to write with a more wholesome outlook.

This increasing output of salacious literature is prompting a certain section of the public to agitate for a board of censors to pass on all books before publication. In the same connection some protest before being shown to the public. And while we sympathize with the desire to clean up a mess, we are against this sort of censorship. Obscenity is not an absolute term the same all times for all people. A censorship board would be harmful to literature as a whole, and would have a tendency to stop progress in many fields. Any improved on a book would only serve to stimulate and taunt people to try and get a copy, when otherwise they probably would never read it.

But there is such a thing as good taste, and many present-day books are not in that category. The evidence we believe is with the public. They must stand against obscenity and offensive literature, even though it may mean refusal to buy.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Lacombe Globe,
Dear Sir:

"Observations of a country boy" says that "I moved out ranch and I'm going to have a break." Where is the country going to move to? Surely only has a market but in younger but where he is able to make his cows he'll have a dime out of the cream cheque.

The little woman will be happy if she has enough to buy the groceries, rubber and other necessities but on luxuries. She will probably eat in her or with the family and see all her friends and call in them on the street.

Into Saturday night, what does the country family do? Every farmer need "Saturday night" over in film.

Why shouldn't the farmer have a vote on early evening? After all the city people can vote on the late and why not make him happy. I hear other nights but PLEASE leave the shows open on Saturday night, in the interest of the country women, men and children.

Yours truly,
A country woman for 30 years.

Report from Dr. E. H. Hanson, municipal health officer states in part "during this year 1947, the typhoid has been remarkably free from disease. We have had an outbreak of diphtheria in February, there was one case of scarlet fever in April, May and June, there was a mild epidemic of measles. We have had typhoid cases during the summer

Dr. Hanson's report of the streets and lanes shows them to be kept well cleaned. There are still a few nuisances to be pursued in using the lanes as depositories for ashes manure, rubbish and garbage."

R.C.A.F. Recruiting Officer Will Visit Lacombe Next Week

An R.C.A.F. recruiting officer will be in Lacombe next Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of obtaining recruits from the town and district. The officer will make his headquarters at the Lehigh Hotel to receive all applications or to interview from the local Canadian Air Force station at 3 inquiries.

The letter from Edmonton reads in part: "In its new peacetime role, the R.C.A.F. will find less important jobs to do. It will not need many thousands of aircraftsmen, mechanics and instructors since airplanes and maintenance research which will benefit all aviation.

"To fulfill its duties in the public eye I assure the R.C.A.F. requires capable young men for its large complement of skilled mechanics and technicians."

CHEVROLET and GMC TRUCKS
Shortly after the war concluded, and because it was of timely importance, we — your General Motors dealers — issued a statement outlining our business policy.
In the interests of our customers and the community as a whole, we have decided that this policy should now be reaffirmed.
It will be our continuing purpose, therefore, in all our dealings with you to adhere to the following principles:
★ We will abide firmly by delivered prices on all New Cars and Trucks, as recommended by the manufacturer.
★ We will do our best, having the responsibility of being the sole distributors in this area of new General Motors Passenger Cars and Trucks, to allocate them as fairly as possible with proper regard for orders placed with us and dependent upon the availability of models.
★ We will ask only reasonable prices for all Used Cars and Trucks — based on an equitable resale valuation.
★ We will make allowances based on proper appraisal and a fair valuation to purchasers who have cars or trucks to trade.
★ We will give purchasers the benefit of those accessories which are available, but delivery of a new car or truck will not be conditional upon the acceptance of accessories other than those desired.
★ We will charge only the established prices for parts and accessories, and not more than equitable prices for all types of services. When requested we will gladly provide the customer with advance estimates.
★ We will, at all times, strive to be considerate of our customers' needs — and to serve with efficiency, satisfaction and courtesy.

Local Representatives Attend Convention At Calgary

Representatives of the Lacombe school board and Lacombe school division attended the annual convention of the Alberta School Trustees Association at Calgary on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. Local trustees present were J. S. McCrimmon, K.C. and A. M. Pollard from the school board, and F. Gill, J. Bennett, R. Peck and secretary A. Brush, from the division.

Figures at the convention showed 388 teachers are retained in Alberta, of which 321 are elementary classrooms mainly in small areas. Teachers' authority in the province have been raised, and a one-year graduate of the University of Edmonton now receives $2,200 to $3,400, compared to $1,800 to $2,800 in 1946.

Of the 37 resolutions which came up for discussion, a few were of importance to the average school district.

The school was passed dealt with transportation. Resolved that all vehicles operating in such all students from isolated districts be required to have a school bus, and that the Department of Education be requested to make some provision for a qualified driver to service each bus. Resolved that a student body meeting last week in the Lacombe Normal School resolve to sell stars pennies to buy this week Flora gems as 100 additional scholarships in the next two days.

Fairview Couple Observe 71st Wedding Anniversary

A remarkable old couple in the Fairview district, seven miles north west of Lacombe, observed their 71st wedding anniversary yesterday. They were Mr. and Mrs. R. Larsen, remarkable not only in living 71 years of married life together but being in sufficiently good health to celebrate it. Both are now 92 years of age.

Mr. Larsen, with a long flowing white beard and a few white hairs on his head, speaks a good deal of English, considering the new-comers. He usually uses glasses. Outside of the growing deafness, his faculties are all good. He has amazing bright blue eyes.

Mrs. Larsen, aided through a hearing aid what he thought of the county to be held in their honor at the Lutheran church, Lacombe at 2 p.m. already voted that he would be present. It is an apparent member he no little considered the event personally.

"Lots of other people have real happy anniversaries," she said, "I don't know why they go to so much trouble for an old couple."

Came 80 Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Larsen moved to the Lacombe district 35 years ago after they were at the "tender" age of 72 years. They had already observed their Golden (50th) wedding anniversary.

Mr. Larsen used to walk to Lacombe until eight years ago. He still walks, at the age of 92, but with the aroun rather to turn to his home.

Seven years ago, he fell on a pitchfork while doing some work around the barn. He received a permanent injury from an injury to his left side.

Mrs. Larsen, a small woman about five feet, has been home to 12 boys and about. She has been using white hair and is a little weather than her husband. She walks with the aid of a cane. She is a very few years ago when her eyes started to go bad, she did some of the mending for the household.

Had Pioneer Lifetime

"What is your most pleasant memory in 71 years of married life?" Mr. Larsen was asked. He still has pleasant, Mr. Larsen replied, we've had no trouble or quarrels. We have got along well as far," he said.

The gathering at Arbuckle will be the biggest was attended by about 100 district residents. Mrs. Larsen is in charge of arrangements included Mrs. J. E. Lawrence, Mrs. Norris Pierceling, Mrs. I. J. Fraser.

W. E. Cheney presented the old couple with a purse of silver, addressed the large group and recommended made two given at the gathering, Rev. L. A. Thompson made a few appropriate remarks.

The old couple have two sons, five daughters, 30 grandchildren, 25 great grandchildren, 2 great great grandchildren.

Full report of the reception for the honored couple will appear in next week's Globe.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR HERBERT BENNETT HELD THIS MORNING

Funeral service for Matthew Dowdall of Mirror district is being held this (Thursday) morning at the Catholic Church, Mirror. Father Dietrich of Mirror will officiate, and burial will be made at Mirror Cemetery.

The late Mr. Dowdall was 61 years of age. He died at Lacombe hospital following a lingering heart ailment.

The deceased has formed three sons and one daughter.

Pallbearers will be Messrs. Jack Dowdall, Mirror district is survived by his wife and 10 children.

A Thought For The Week . . .

When performing a service or an act, do it with a cheerful heart; you have no time to waste.

Hockey Coach

J. V. CUNNINGHAM

Local hockey rink enthusiasts have been busy getting ready for the coming winter season. Ice has already been made on the rink at the Lacombe Arena. Weather has settled down to a reasonably fine week, and many of the Buffaloes and Lacombe Wolves have been out practicing.

The Lacombe Sportsmen's Association has also been busy getting the rink in shape for the coming season. Boards have been put around the rink, and a number of improvements made.

Hockey coach this year is J. V. Cunningham, who has had considerable experience in coaching hockey teams. He has been coaching the Lacombe Wolves for the past two years.

Local Turkeys Win Six Prizes At Toronto Royal

Returns from the Toronto Royal of Winter Fair in the further competition showed that Albert Tate of Lacombe won six awards.

Mr. Tate, who farms four miles northeast of town, entered seven birds in the international fair, and six of them were rewarded.

A letter received last week by Mr. Tate, stated that in the Bronze Turkey Section for hens he won first and fourth prizes; in the two Yearling Tom, second and fourth awards; in the Young Tom, second and fourth prizes.

Mr. Tate is a predictable showman and we wish to congratulate you," the letter concludes.

'Brighton Town' Is Theme at Council Meeting

"Let us light on our cemetery," stated councillor Ed. Timmerman, with a broad grin, referring to the many some people have given to Lacombe from time to time. Several local town councillors at their regular meeting Monday night in the secretary's office made plans to do just that.

Under the Delmore lights, which brighten up the town considerably, will be strung across the main thoroughfares on the business section shortly.

Council is asking the insurance men of Lacombe to cooperate by leaving the lights of their business premises on under the glare each evening during the month of December. It was pointed out that the privilege is not a right business, lighting some of the store's merchandise to the best as well as brightening the town with a little Christmas spirit.

Citizens in the residential section of Lacombe are asked to leave their lights during Christmas week. Many of the residents of Lacombe are retired to bed by 10 o'clock and it is not to put the lighting some light into side finishes to it on the business section of the main street. It is definitely advisable to spray when the grub is ready for use or thus in flower.

There were two types of spray mixing machines used this summer in the district, the boom type and the funnel spray.

For small orchards, the boom type machine should travel no faster than 4 to 5 m.p.h. With a 30-foot boom, it is possible to spray about 15 acres per hour. Approximately 4½ gallons of solution should be used per acre.

Last season, specialized men experience in spraying did most of the spray work in this district. Machines are now coming off the market, mostly of the boom type, which will be easy for the farmer himself to operate in the future.

The police committee agreed to study the area in question by orchard recommend, to decide on possibility a little further before they would still allow a safety margin, and then enforce the law, by police court action if necessary.

Church Speaker At Clive Raps Evils of Liquor

CLIVE: Mr. Seale of the teaching staff of the Nazarene college, Edmonton, was the guest speaker at the congregation of the Baptist and United churches of Clive last Sunday evening, when he spoke on the temperance Forces of Alberta.

He stressed that youth is being debauched by liquor to-day by the many forms of advertising, and of warning them of the dangers of drinking beer and liquors. The conclusion is reached, along with the Department of Education to establish a course of study along these lines.

TEACHING YEAR WORK

Organized games each year-y since that they are members of society, according to the experts. Sports also players lose all-important rights, reputation, confidence and feelings similar to their own and that they are, as it were, the only "bubbles on the bank." Properly-conducted recreational programs are considered essential to normal development of young people, and health authorities urge parents to encourage their children to take part in games which keep them up against others, so that they will learn, as an early age, how to merge their personal capacities for the good of a team.

Ministerial Order

MINISTRY OF HEALTH
PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

I, WALLACE WARREN LEWIS, Minister of Health, pursuant to Section 71 of the Municipal Hospitals Act, R.S.A. 1942, as amended, and pursuant to any other appropriate section of the said Act, do hereby direct that a vote shall be taken on the 1st day of December by the Lacombe Municipal Hospital Board, which has jurisdiction over the area

BY-LAW No. 1
LACOMBE MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL DISTRICT

A By-law relating to the issue of debentures of the Lacombe Municipal Hospital District No. 51, of the Province of Alberta.

WHEREAS it is necessary and desirable that the sum of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS ($115,000.00) be borrowed on the security of the Lacombe Municipal Hospital District, No. 51, of the Province of Alberta, for the purpose of building an extension to the present of at least twenty beds, to send into debentures to be repayable to the Province on twenty equal annual instalments of principal with interest at not more than Four (4%) per centum per annum.

AND THEREFORE, the Board of the said District enacts as follows:

That the Board do borrow the said sum of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS ($115,000.00) on the credit of the Municipal Hospital District of the Municipality and issue debentures of the said District therefor to the amount of twenty debentures for $5,750.00 each, bearing even date with the first of the said debentures to be payable on the 1st day of December in each of the twenty years next following, with interest at not more than Four (4%) per centum per annum payable on the 1st day of December in each year during the currency of the said debentures.

AND PASSED this 10th day of October, A.D. 1947

A. BIRD, Chairman
Secretary-Treasurer

I hereby appoint Mr. W. Chesser of Lacombe, Alberta, as Returning Officer for the said poll, and I hereby subdivide the area into polling divisions, and appoint a Deputy Returning Officer for each polling division.

I direct that the provisions of Section 21 of the Municipal Hospitals Act shall apply to the preparation of a voters' list and preparation of a separate list for each polling division as thereon provided

I further direct that the Returning Officer shall give notice of the date of such poll in the Lacombe Globe of November 27th, being a newspaper circulated in the Hospital District, and that a like notice be posted in any other places at the discretion of the Returning Officer throughout the hospital district at least fourteen (14) clear days before the date of the poll

I hereby fix the date for taking of the poll as the seventh day of December, 1947, from the hour of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

I further direct that the said Returning Officer shall on the 10th day of December, 1947, at 2:00 p.m., in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Hospital District, open the ballot boxes and publicly declare the result of the poll to the Minister the total number of voters voting and the number of voters voting in the affirmative and other negative on the question.

The Hospital Addition

THE Lacombe Community Hospital was built in 1927 with a maximum capacity of 25 beds. In 1936, an average of 17 bed patients were hospitalized daily. By 1942, this average figure had increased to 35 patients daily, and last year, 1946, to 53 patients daily.

The hospital staff in 1936 constituted four nurses and two non-professionals for kitchen and laundry work. In 1942, there were eight nurses and six aides. Today there are 11 nurses, five record aides and seven maids.

This background in figures is interesting because it shows better than anything else the rapid and steady growth of the hospital in every way but in capacity. There are no more beds than ever before, more patients, more beds, but no additional hospital space. To provide for the overflow of bed patients many have been doubled up and even corridors used, a practice both unsafe and unsatisfactory.

Why are more patients seeking hospitalization today? One good reason is that more needy persons can afford treatment. Another is the reduction in the dollar-a-day rates in the municipal hospital districts. The good doctors in turn send them more and more patients, more beds, but no additional hospital space. To provide for the overflow of bed patients many have been doubled up and even corridors used, a practice both unsafe and unsatisfactory.

Why are more persons seeking hospitalization today? One good reason is that more needy persons can afford treatment. Another is the reduction in the dollar-a-day rates in the municipal hospital districts. The good doctors in turn send them more and more patients, more beds, but no additional hospital space. The present Government scheme provides free hospitalization to all but the indigent, and pensioners and maternity patients add to the increase.

Hospital board officials have rightly recognized that present overcrowded conditions cannot continue. The strain is too tolling on the hospital staff and on the isolated facilities in the 50-bed hospital. That is why there are existing supporters on the 10-voter 17 for a new hospital wing to provide another 20 beds. If the addition is voted down, the hospital will be compelled to refuse admittance to a new people in need of hospital care, due to lack of bed space. And no hospital can ever consent to do that.

Royal Wedding

IN SPITE of the austerity-era and beauty, last week's wedding of Princess Elizabeth to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten must have equalled the pageantry of the Coronation Centenary of 1897.

There was color in the red and blue-coated guards escorting the procession, and in the gold and scarlet uniforms of other warriors. There was finery in the rich dress of the wedding guests. There was the magnificent sight of Britain's masters, numbered in the millions, lining the mile-long procession route between the Abbey and Palace, cheering endearingly. Huge and ban-throbbish flapping madly, accompanied by the deafening din of a hotel people cheering the principal figure of the day, Princess Elizabeth, and the beloved royal family.

It was a British show for Britons. It was an opportunity for them to throw monetary to the winds and give forth unrestrained feelings of joy and love, and to Princess Elizabeth and her Consort, it meant the consummation of a romance dating back to childhood days.

Toward Economic Stability

THE new trade resolutions and import restrictions announced last week by the Canadian Government were direct off-shoots of a so-called "dollar famine" more simply put as a shortage of American dollars. The Geneva Trade Conference was necessary because European countries were struggling for peace or recovery had neither the money nor the trading power, with ensuing high tariff walls, to buy needed American goods. The result of that conference was a world-wide lowering of tariffs that will allow those nations to better compete with unprotected American industry. But Canada's trade position with the United States is also critical, and it is for this reason that the Dominion has introduced import restrictions designed to cut down on our buying from the States.

These Canadian items can no longer purchase from the United States goods (produced in Canada) like jewelry, candy, novelties, typewriter ribbons, refrigerators, washing machines, and furniture. Automobiles, temporarily prohibited, will be placed more on a quota system. Another partial ban embargo on foodstuffs like oranges, grapefruit, lemons, apples, and on sundry items like cloths, watches, sporting goods, jewellery, supplies.

Increases in the price of other American-made goods have been introduced to discourage Canadian buying and help restore the balance of trade. There will be less pleasure travelling in the United States.

As for the Geneva Conference, agreements were made with 16 countries that will benefit Canada as well as these countries. Canada made some 200 concessions on its tariffs that will enable many European products to enter the Dominion and help pay for the heavy exports we are making to them. They, in turn, have made tariff reductions that will mean bigger markets abroad for Canadian producers.

All in all, the complicated, revised agreements that took nearly a year to complete were far from much for Canadians to swallow in one day. Many of the concessions have far reaching significance, but it will take time for them to be brought out on the open market for closer inspection and analysis.

Farming Notes

Ordering Registered Seed

In 1947, 116,000 bushels of registered seed were purchased by Alberta farmers with a view to improving the quality of grain grown in this province. Registered seed means that the crop of approved of the Canada Seed Growers Association. It is sold with a guarantee — a guarantee having diversity in pure seed produced by a Canadian University or Government institution, and increased by supervision of these growers.

In the distribution of good seed the Alberta Crop Improvement Association has been wonderfully successful. This Association consists of representatives of the grain elevator companies, Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, the University of Alberta, and the Seed Growers themselves. Under the supervision of this Association, Alberta pedigree plots set up by this Association grain elevator agents are agents for and promoters of better seed.

The secretary of the Alberta Crop Improvement Association, J. E. Bentall, advises that the purpose the Association is based with a definite objective. European and Allied outside markets are demanding all the registered seed they can get, and there is not enough. Seed is being moved for export, and growers can not be expected to overlook this market for their crops. This being the case, Alberta can supply seed to Alberta farmers only if they place their orders immediately.

In past years over 70% of Alberta farmers placed their orders after January 1st, but this year delay will almost certainly result in disappointments. If you want registered seed see your elevator agent now.

Yours truly,
E. W. Taylor,
Secretary.

Clean Barns

Many others are absorbed readily by milk and cream during milking time or during the time they may be kept where such odors are present. Try to prevent this absorption of odors by milk and cream, particularly at milking time. Remember too, that strong objectionable odors remain for a long time after the cause has been removed. Others show up on the milk. Then there is a flavor of milk taking on objectionable flavour from the same source.

Feed flavour on milk and cream become "cowy barny" when kept indoor. The grade of many cream's flavor time spent in careful selection of dry feeds is often a paying proposition. Eliminate the strong flavored or bad smelling portions of feeds where possible. If strong flavored feeds must be used for economy's sake, they should always be fed after milking time, and they should not be stored where their odor fills the milk or cream.

Much has been written about keeping milk and cream cool to maintain quality. This is true for all seasons of the year but is extremely cold weather every precaution should be taken to prevent freezing of milk and cream, both on the farm and in transporting to the dairy plant. Milk or cream must first be thawed before being sampled, graded and processed. This necessary thawing requires time and causes shortages in flavor and consistency especially in cream, which will disqualify it from the top grades. Frozen cream comes easily butter which does not qualify for first grade.

Brooders and Their Equipment

A pan for brooding chickens requires sufficient floor space to carry them to the age of their adult weight. In addition to the space required for the equipment in care for them. Pens 10-ft. by 12-ft. and 12-ft. by 16-ft. are the most convenient sizes for operations. The former accommodates 275 to 300 chicks, while the latter is capable of holding 500 to 550.

A good brooder pen is one that is properly constructed, well lighted, easily ventilated, with good draft, and easily kept in a sanitary condition. The equipment used for brooding chickens is a heating appliance or brooder stove and hover), and hoppers for feeding mash and grain, and waterers for drinking.

The type of brooder used, whether for coal, coal or hard), oil, wood, or electricity, will depend upon the preference of the operator. As compared with the brooder is the correct type of brooder stove, so that correct temperatures are maintained.

Letters To The Editor . . . .

4th Street West,
Lacombe,
November 4, 1947

Editor Lacombe Globe

Dear Sir:

The Honourable Douglas Abbott, Minister of Finance, in a statement issued on October 31st, 1947, announced that on and after the restoration of trade relations with Germany, the net proceeds of Iron Ore exported from Newfoundland and Labrador, the Province of Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick would be brought in a claim.

The Premiers of each Province of the Government and the people of Canada has already paid high tribute to the work of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency and I do not feel that this statement goes without expressing both personally and officially our sincere appreciation for the outstanding contribution made in benefiting a stricken and difficult world-wide problem throughout the war and post-war periods.

The services of the large group of citizens who comprised the Local Relief Committee organized on a voluntary basis have been of the highest order, and I shall be grateful if you convey to your local committees our sincerest thanks for a job well done.

Yours sincerely,
E. W. Taylor,
Minister.

Local Representative at Alb. Legion Meeting Held Last Week

Reg Cartwright, Bob Burton and Legion president Bob Pedlant represented the local Canadian Legion at a banquet held at the Elks Hall, Edmonton, of late week. It was a banquet Central Alberta Command Zone meeting attended by the districts of Lacombe, Clive, Ponoka and Innisfail.

Local speakers at the banquet preceding the business session were Dave E. Hamilton, veteran; John Proctor, D.V.A. Administrator; Bill Crumb, district superintendent of Rehabilitation, and Bob Stillman, legion special activities officer for the province.

It is hoped to have a banquet and smoker for the returned men of the district next year the New Year, president Bob Pedlant stated Monday. No real get-together or fun have held for all returned men since the war's end, he pointed out.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

By Don Gibson

Why do some men achieve success and others fail?

The reason is not as much because some men have greater intelligence than others, but because they have developed greater thinking power.

To learn to think, learn first to concentrate. The rules concern practice. All of us have a tendency to daydream. When we try to think about any subject, our minds persist in wandering. So we must keep pushing our thoughts back on the track.

Practice thinking for 15 minutes every day about Alexander's rules for improvement efficiency, television, how to organize your shopping, or any other subject you may choose. Stay with it and, if possible, reach some original conclusions.

You will find that just a few minutes daily exercise, as you can increase your thinking time daily, you will have taken an important step toward greater personal success.

In any pay you to suggestions today on the subject of bringing your life insurance up to date. Your circumstances may have changed in many respects since your insurance or larger amount your needs, in order to get the most for your money, see the help of a good agent.

What You Should Know about TRAVEL RATIONING

Why?
Canada's supply of U.S. dollars will no longer stretch far enough to permit all the purchases of goods and services or all the travel in the United States that has taken place in the past. It is, therefore, necessary to reduce our expenditures of U.S. dollars in many different ways. As one of these steps, the Government has decided that the use of U.S. dollars for pleasure travel spending must be reduced. To ensure this reduction in a way that is fair to all, an annual "travel ration" has been established. As in the past — a Form H permit is required by anyone taking out of Canada more than $10 U.S. or more than a total of $25 in Canadian and foreign currencies.

Pleasure Travel
Regulations now provide that the maximum amount of U.S. dollars which any Canadian resident may obtain for pleasure travel purposes is $150 per year. In the case of children of eleven years and under, the amount is $100. There is no restriction on the number of trips as long as the annual allotment is not exceeded. Any U.S. dollars obtained for one trip and not used on that trip must be brought back to Canada and exchanged for Canadian dollars at a bank immediately on return. No credit for these funds can be allowed against the annual ration for subsequent trips.

Personal Purchases of U.S. Goods
A Canadian tourist should remember that the new restrictions applying to imports from the United States govern his personal purchases there. He may not bring back any commodities of which entry has been prohibited or which entry now only be exported on a quota basis. The list of goods covered by the new export restrictions is an extensive one. Tourists contemplating any particular purchases in the United States would be well advised to check with the nearest Canadian Customs Officials if this purchase will be affected.

Here is the credit that provides thousands of business enterprises — from the largest down to the smallest one-man show — with the ready money they need to buy raw materials for manufacture, to pay wages while awaiting returns from the sale of finished goods, and to carry out plans for expansion.

To farmers on tractors . . . to farmers with seasonal income . . . to merchants, manufacturers and businessmen . . . to professional men . . . to estates in the process of being wound up . . . to municipalities, school boards and governments . . . to churches, hospitals and all types of public institutions . . . hundreds of millions of dollars are being lent by B of M managers at more than 700 branches from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

These millions of transactions add up to a billion-dollar story that makes interesting reading — not so much on account of the figures involved, but because of the human stories behind them.

For 130 years Canadians have put their trust in the B of M. Never in that time has the Bank failed to repay a dollar lost in its care . . . never has it failed to open for business on a single banking day.

THE FACTS BEHIND THE FIGURES

SCHAFER - MOORE

United Church, Alix, was the scene of a pretty wedding last Thursday afternoon when marriage vows were exchanged between Rosie Jane Vernon, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs. F. E. Moore and Albert Gordon, younger son of Mr and Mrs. D. Schafer of Alix. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Stevenson of Alix.

The bride wore a floor length gown, styled with fitted bodice of white jersey and netted skirt. Her finger tipped veil and Mary Queen of Scots head dress was held in place by red rose buds, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Lena Kemp of Red Deer was bridesmaid, brushed in a fawn and green of white net decorated with yellow bow knots. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Arthur Schafer, brother of the groom, was best man, and Clinton Moore, brother of the bride, and William Schafer, brother of the groom, ushered the guests.

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe afternoon frock with a corsage of red carnations. The groom's mother chose a rosberry frock with a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception for 60 guests was held later in the Alix Hotel. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Wishing candles crowned the toast to the bride. Following the reception, the bride and groom received and opened many lovely gifts.

The young couple motored to Calgary where they will spend their honeymoon. For travelling the bride wore a aqua crepe dress with a blue top coat and pink and black accessories.

They will make their home in Innisfail

HALLOWE'EN — Owing to sickness of many in the district, the Hallowe'en dance and banquet held on Friday evening, was a very good success. Only part of the usual crowd attended the valiant ladies (and gentlemen) who cooks and waiters held on Friday evening. Nine tables of whist were in play. Miss Phyllis Sharpe and Frank Harding won the first prizes.

SHOWER — The latest home news circulated is of Mr. H. Veld and homegirl one and only resident only a very good prize. On last week (none) attended the valiant police (and supervisors) sold for $5. The small children enjoyed the fish pond.

Mrs. H. Harris has accepted a job at Blackfalds for a short time. She will keep home at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Sharpe—during which time they are holidaying in the U.S.A.

Miss Beulah Harris left on Sunday for Lacombe to work in the B.A.A. Store.

Mrs. L. Sutherland spent the week end visiting with relatives in Penhold.

A number entered here from here on Friday week to attend the shower for Roland was cleared on Tuesday owing to the terrible fire. Fireworks lasting all

Meadowbrook News

(Omitted over from last week)

MR. AND MRS. H. E. Weeks and daughter have gone west to work in a sawmill.

Mr. L. Long who has been here for the harvest season has returned to his home in Oregon, U.S.A.

Mr. A. Long accompanied Mr. and Mrs. J. Radke, Mrs. Radke's mother and sister of the Rimbey district to Oregon, California, and other points of the U.S.A. and will visit relatives in North Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Radke planned to be married and were motoring south to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Riley have purchased a house in Lacombe and moved into it last week.

Harold Kinney and his mother, Mrs. R. J. Kinney were in Drumheller on business last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bremenkamp of Innisfail spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Riley.

The A.P.E. meeting was held in the school on Monday evening with a very good attendance. It was decided to hold a card party in the School school on Saturday evening, Dec. 6, to raise funds to send a delegate to Edmonton to the convention which will be held there in the near future. Clifford Baker was chosen as delegate.

Proceeds from the lunch at the W. Sharpe sale were $21.55 which will be divided equally between the P.T.A. Fund, the Salvation Army and for the Bruce family of the Lacombe community who were burned out recently. Sincere appreciation is extended to all who helped to make this amount possible and a special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe for their contribution of $20.00. Due to nearly $21.00 before the usual small crowd and the much higher proceeds. Everyone we hope it proves as fond this amount is will be very encouraged.

Many Votes For Entrants in "Search For Talent" Show

The entrants in the "Search For Talent" show in the Lacombe Theatre on Saturday night received many votes from the audience. Two artists from Lacombe and one from Red Deer tied for the three positions to date in the "Search For Talent" show in the Central Alberta Theatres Ltd. Saturday night.

They are Bob Paulson, No. 19, 12-year-old piano stylist who delighted a crowded house with an original composition, Bob Spencer, 20, talented accordion player, and Robert Lapdon of Red Deer, outstanding vocalist.

Two-minute votes took part in the show. Individual members of the audience signalled their choice of the best performance by having votes at 10 cents each. A telephone was installed at the pavilion, and an operator was on hand to accept orders by phone.

Votes will be accepted up to Saturday, December 6, at either The Lacombe Globe or radio station C.F.R.N., Edmonton. The Lacombe winner will be declared near the air that evening at a "Search For Talent" broadcast from the Edmonton studios. Both broadcasts feature coast to Central and Northern Alberta.

Winners from the 20 competing towns will meet at a grand finale in Edmonton early in December. All proceeds go to the northern 43-hertz crippled children's fund.

A 15-minute reel of a portion of the program was filmed on over radio station C.F.R.N. direct from the theatre stage. Shots from the studios including the audience, the contestants, and entertainers, entertained the late-night crowd during part of the three-hour show.

At the close of the evening, Bob Paulson led the 21 entry field with over 200 votes, and the votes reported late from Robert Layden a short phase.

The Globe has received this week eight votes for both Bob and Robert Paulson, Lacombe, six votes for Robert and Ruth Wright, and four votes for Robert Lapdon.

Complete entry list, with numbers for convenience in future voting, is:

Santa Claus is Coming to Town —Maybe?

A grand total of $6126.70 was the net proceeds of the recent Lions carnival, reported Chairman Fred Barrett at the regular meeting of the club held in the I.O.O.F. Hall Monday night.

Mr. Barrett thanked all the members for their assistance in the successful event. He endorsed several suggestions for future projects such as an ice carnival, with Fred Jost, Doris Reed would be a grade for future events. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Barrett and his capable committee.

President Ferris brought before the club several social evening activities which he felt should be decided by the club, such as the Ice Carnival, Christmas Banquet for needy people. Mail for undersigned without clothing, and the commencing of a Santa Claus visit for the Christmas season.

Plans for entertainment on these matters, Harry Leggett was appointed chairman for the Ice Carnival to be held sometime mid-February, and Wes Jackson reported that professional skaters from the Lacombe Club, Calgary, had already been contacted to take part.

John McDonald was appointed chairman for the Christmas Banquet for the Christmas hampers in town, and Russ Patrick was appointed to look after the toys for school children.

Santa Claus

The members all thought that some provision for a Santa Claus visit to Lacombe should be made.

Trail Blazed For New Road Birch Lake Area

A little of the old pioneer community spirit was shown in Lacombe during the past two weeks in the Birch Lake district.

Eighteen farmers and a couple of teams of horses have been working on a road between Birch Lake that district now and the building of a new road, work that was begun on the former road in the completed last week.

Taxpayers in that area wanted a road from Birch Lake through to the new Calgary-Edmonton highway, Lacombe to Ponoka, and interviewed the municipal council on the matter and it was given good consideration.

Councillors Douglas and Bailey, who represent that district, at once approved that a road could be put in providing the brush was cut and all stumps removed from the roadway.

Farmers bordering the proposed road were contacted, and the result speaks for itself. Municipal councillors Douglas and Bailey, the job had been completed, and it is reported that the new road will be ready for use by the end of the week.

Volunteer workers included V. Mitchell, Wm. Ward, Alex Ward, O. Boyd, B. Boyd, E. Wilburn, J. Wilburn, M. Kitty, Hall Bros., R. Fisher, J. Fisher, Wm. Fisher, Ed. Pierson, L. Porter, A. Ash, E. Tetz, J. Ghent, R. Winslow, J. Brown, H. Cutler and C. Cutler.

Former Local Resident Has 100th Birthday At Haney, B.C.

Calvert Thomas Daykin resident of Lacombe until 1935, and recognized as the oldest citizen, observed his 100th birthday at his home in Haney, B.C., last November 25. He did not have a message which has always characterized his attitude peacefully prevailing to the British Columbian, daily paper at Ness Westminster.

Mr. Daykin was born at Shelbyshire, England, on Nov. 22, 1847. He came to Canada with his wife in 1886, and after first settling in London, Ont., he came to Lacombe in the early 90's.

Government Purchases Building of F. E. McLeod Store

Premises of F. E. McLeod's department store on 50 avenue have been sold to the provincial government, and Mr. McLeod is still to be formed to vacate. The building does not know when he will be discontinuing business at the present time, but probably by January or February, maybe later," he stated.

It was not definitely learned whether or not the building would be torn down or used by the government for its own purposes.

Mr. McLeod has been in business in Lacombe for the past 60 years, having one of the town's early pioneer merchant and community builders.

Presumably, the government would use the building to house the Joffre Public Health Unit branch, now located in separate buildings at different locations in Lacombe.

Secretary Moves Monday

New Location For Town Office

Office of the town secretary has been moved to the new location next to the fire hall on 39 avenue. Secretary C. B. Hyndman made the move on December 1

A surprise bouquet of flowers was sent by a Northwest Utilities Co. agent in brighten up the appearance of the new, spacious office. The office showed up by myriad books and records still remaining to be filed in their new home.

Also on the ground floor of the newly-altered building is a police station, washroom facilities, and a bedroom which will be used by the R.C.M.P. in the expectation that they eventually take over policing duties in Lacombe.

In the basement is space for a library, expected to be occupied by next summer, and serviceable by a boiler. There is also which is to be available for use probably about the first of the new year.

A Thought For The Week . . .

Difficulties are not intended to discourage but to straighten our faith and character.

Shop in Town

Lacombe Stores Offer Wide Selection of Christmas Articles

That Christmas seems to creep on and Christmas time comes around more quickly than it seems each year is the observation of many Lacombe people as they start their Christmas—and now comparatively early—shopping.

And it seems each year as if more and more people are doing their shopping in Lacombe, and that the stores are offering more and more attractive lines of goods for the Christmas season.

There is no reason to be otherwise than outside points. Stocks are as full as the shelves can hold them, and the prices are as low as, and often lower than, those quoted in mail order catalogues.

Increasing numbers appreciate the value of shopping in their own town, and the increasing numbers appreciate the value of the stores in their own town, and the increasing numbers appreciate the value of the stores in their own town.

Toys for the younger members of the family are in plentiful supply, and they have returned in almost every conceivable variety. Dolls, articles, of course, dis-power carriages and merchants have joined in urging patrons to shop early.

Fourteen Polls To be in Operation For Vote December 17

Fourteen polls in all will be in operation when the ratepayers of the hospital district will be open for an expected hours to vote on Wednesday, December 17 on a by-law calling for the issue of debentures for a 20-bed hospital addition at an estimated cost of $115,000.

Location of all polling stations are not definitely known at this time. They will be open for voting between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. W. E. Chance is returning officer.

A two-thirds majority of the by-law is necessary before the loan can be secured.

Hospital board members intend that the by-law for hospital purposes continued in operation in the Joffre district, as hospital facilities have been overcrowded in recent months, and the Joffre district has no hospital in the district. Hospitals in increasing numbers, as established the Borders were that time Mrs. Dick had remained in Lacombe to look after the shortage of housing at Bashaw.

Local Ration Board Winds Up Work

With the termination of the sugar and tobacco ration on December 1, the necessity of maintaining a local ration board ceased to exist. Secretary Mrs. C. E. Field is now busy collecting up all the ration books and files and this completes the work of the board which was established in 1942 when rationing of articles in short supply was instituted by the Government. Last, rather sugar was the most used article with rationing low among the households, followed closely by tea, and local board members have been much amazing about the fair manner in which the public have accepted the rationing over the five-year term.

For the most part the consumption remained fairly well balanced, but in the case of sugar, in the year 1946 for example between 11,000 and 12,000 ration books were distributed to the Lacombe district. There were six such distributions made in the five years keeping it almost a whole sugar

Vote For The By-Law

ON DECEMBER 17, ratepayers within the newly-formed hospital district will vote on a new by-law which will provide for the construction of a new hospital at Ponoka. This by-law is a most important one, for it will affect every ratepayer in the municipality. It will mean that the district will be responsible for 50% of the cost of the new hospital. This figure is based on an assessment for $15,000,000 at an interest of 4% per annum. The debenture amount will total about $6,000,000. When the total amount value of the hospital district is over two millions, an extra two mills would require at least $30,000. The rest may be slightly less with an increased assessment. Basically an increase of one mill is one to the cost.

Recent votes at Stettler and Peace River on the question of a new hospital have been given overwhelming support in those two districts —over 80% at Peace River. A new hospital at Trochu was also voted upon and carried. The province of Alberta's hospital facilities is being left off over the provincial Red Deer is talking about enlarging its hospital. The Lacombe hospital board, like many other boards, is trying to raise the standard of hospitalization in every way it is up to the voters within this hospital district. This newspaper feels the ratepayers will be unfriendly unselfish and intelligent enough to see that it passes.

Training Talent

A RECENT supply of musical talent among small town populations in this province is the favourable subject of much praise. The record "Smoke Fire Talent" show and the local region's amateur musical competitions proves the talent is there. Indeed, it is rarely that a rural district within this size can boast of many entertainers with musical gifts for singing, dancing or instrument playing.

Remarkable, too, is the admission on the part of most contestants that they have taken no instruction or have done so only sparse-dingly. Why this disinterest in one of human nature's important. There is an old theory stating talent is born, and several respected music and singing teachers.

Usually, a person with ability in some craft is interested in performing that of skill, since at least several young people in the district are endowed with better-than-average musical ability, we would think them keen to get all instruction possible, as a hobby or outside activity. The effort expended in unorthodox fiere many of us would have the proverbial "eye-tooth" to play the piano. What a distinguishable accomplishment to be able to entertain at some social gathering, or even to join in a spontaneous sing-song with a cultured voice that demanded.

The concerts here displayed some poor stage presentations of otherwise good acts. That observation points the way to a little training without going to the heights of a polished professional. Competence in the musical field is a great asset in a harsh, disordered world having too little of it.

To Re-Affirm Faith...

"WE THE PEOPLES of the United Nations, determined to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war . . . to re-affirm faith in fundamental human rights . . . to practice tolerance and live together in peace with one another as good neighbours." Statesmen in every country in the world should re-read the Preamble and Charter of the United Nations. In 24 years most 55 nations faithfully pledged themselves to the principles of the United Nations, has our cherished peace become a reality?

U.N. achievements: The establishment of British and French forces from Syria and Lebanon, and the evacuation of Iran by the Russians. Vast programs of economic and social status have improved the position of most nations in a degree. All five Great Powers and the organization's members are actively engaged in some or all U.N. activities — these indicate that most of the world's people give some measure of hope and trust to the organization.

U.N. failures in almost every pressing problem involving political or ideological considerations. There is no agreement over the fate of Korea, over investigations into air-ped forays led to Greek guerillas, over establishment of an international police force, over membership applications, over the atomic bomb.

Why? The impasse remains because leaders of all nations do not think in terms of internationality. They put selfish political power interests above those of a world-wide organization whose strength lies in unselfish co-operation. Fear of dire World breeds every important move made by United States or Great Britain. Fear of American domination drives communism deeper into Western Europe. In this "re-affirming faith" and "practising tolerance" as outlined in the U. N. charter?

Dreams of world peace are being shackled by misunderstanding and ignorance. As the chains grow heavy, we cry out for universal faith, moral and spiritual guidance!

Farming Notes

Note For Beekeepers

During the course of his presidential interview at the recent Alberta Beekeepers' Convention, R. R. Dunham, Minister of Agriculture, the year-old platform for the expansion of honey production in Alberta must be regarded as good, the individual beekeeper has his problems. One of these is the over-all pressure on others to provide his pastures. In stocking quotas, beekeepers were advised to allow a margin of safety for change in the cropping program, as many have well adapted their particular districts to suit the type of crops available to them for beekeeping.

As an example, reference was made to the Lethbridge area where the production of canning and other crops in the place of sweet clover is a matter of concern to beekeepers. "If the substitution of other crops for sweet clover is continued, beekeepers of the district will be forced to move to other districts, or go out of business," said Mr. English.

On the other hand, the speaker mentioned the expansion in northern areas of seed crops that are greatly benefited by the pollinating activities of honey bees. At other points mentioned were: Bees must be in top condition for pollination; they need to be kept fed.

As far as I am concerned, the "Only Horse" is a gross waste of manpower, money which, without relieving the sick, runs into millions of dollars each year in the name of better health. Let's make it a double-edged effort on people who myself aren't happens to put my money where there is a higher ten hundred than I would otherwise be.

What I would be rather not would be a restriction of insurance to those who are physically able, which are, in any case, at the date of the contract.

Alberta Dairy Convention

The 1948 Alberta Dairy Convention will be held on February 10, 11 and 12 in the Macdonald Hotel, Edmonton.

A full three-day program is being arranged, and many prominent speakers have been invited. In addition to the general meetings, representatives of the five sections of the industry — producers, producers, manufacturers, plant workers and cheesemakers — will attend special meetings during the course of the convention to deal with their own individual problems.

Seniors, Juniors Get Together

Something new in the way of entertainment will be held at Innisfail on November 12 when the seniors plus Innisfail couples and hold a special carnival of their own.

District Agriculturist L. H. Pocock advises that following a successful shooting by the juniors, members from other residents of the district were exhibited judith a view to shooting the event next year. The record "Innisfail Fire of Talent" show and the local region's amateur musical competitions proves the talent is there. Indeed, it is rarely that a rural district within this size can boast of many entertainers with musical gifts for singing, dancing or instrument playing.

Reflections of the Times

An Immigrant in Canada

Canadians of every walk of life are watching with interest the activity of the Polish veterans who came to Canada a year ago. Reports about their progress have been printed well be well be Canadian event. One of these both who is now working in Olds is a most interesting. He is assisting very good in this his adopted land. But he has a difference about an life than we. He misses his symphonies, his both music and his good friends in the country.

From the time he came to Canada until recently he worked on a large farm. There was plenty of new machinery, new cars, new homes, and new buildings but the owner continued to strive for more-and-more—but there realized that life is to better—satisfied.

One Polish friend liked to live. If he worked hard, he wanted to play hard. He wants to enjoy chess, books, music, plays and adventure. He misses these. They are not a public thing here like they were at home. He can't discuss the opera which he used to see every two weeks because we don't have many operas . . . in this country. He likes to play chess but so far no one has made him an offer to play. He feels that he is only half alive—has nothing in. That of course is the Canadian way. Our life is different but we are sure that in the long run he will find that we will meet him half way. The life of this Polish veteran is a lonely one. He has plenty to give and we should reach out and lend him a hand. The Olds Gazette.

At the conclusion, Mr. Chesser presented the honored couple with a purse of money on behalf of the well wishers. Mr. Larson suitably thanked the gathering for all their kindness to Mrs. Larson and

A delightful lunch was served by the neighboring ladies.

Samuel W. Chadwick, well-known resident of the College Heights district since 1926, celebrated his 75th birthday.

Ten Years Ago

Mrs. B. L. Ramsay was re-elected president at a regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Guild, held at the home of Mrs. L. H. Shearer.

P. A. Switzer, Lacombe Hunter Farmer, was re-elected president of the Central Alberta Hereford Club, when that organization held their annual meeting in the Adelphi Hotel.

A total of 414 students were registered at the Lacombe School, it was reported by the principal. This figure is made up of 293 Public School Pupils, 114 in High School and 32 taking Commercial courses.

Letter To The Editor . . . .

Lacombe Globe
Dear Sir:

As an immigrant, I was astonished to find that when I became a Canadian citizen, my name will be added to a monthly allowance from the government on behalf of our son.

I have by no means a rich man, but I consider that I am able to feed and clothe my family by my own efforts. There must be thousands of others who, like myself, prefer sharing in our own home, and this unnecessary allowance ought not to be paid out.

As far as I am concerned, the "Only Horse" is a gross waste of manpower, money which, without relieving the sick, runs into millions of dollars each year in the name of better health. Let's make it a double-edged effort on people who myself aren't happens to put my money where there is a higher ten hundred than I would otherwise be.

What I would be rather not would be a restriction of insurance to those who are physically able, which are, in any case, at the date of the contract.

Grad Program at Wedding Anniversary Of Fairview Couple

An amusing and happy crowd attended the reception held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Borodin Roland Hoose in the Public Hall on Wednesday evening, the occasion of last week to honor Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Larsen, both 50 years of age, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. It was a reward for the bonds. Mr. and Mrs. Larsen were married in Denmark and resided in last week's Globe.

With the aged couple sitting at the head table, to front of a beautiful tiered wedding cake, a delightful program of entertainment was enjoyed.

W. E. Chesser presided and introduced the various numbers. He said, he had filled the capacity of chairman for the past eleven weddings anniversaries of the honored couple, and heartily congratulated them both on this occasion, which was unique inasmuch as they were married before any of those present were born.

They were a shining example to the younger generation, he asserted, had enjoyed a well spent and life, and in their career had on many doubt overcome many and hard and some rock during their life-and Mrs. L.

Congratulations were extended to the honored couple by Mayor W. Hilton on behalf of the citizens of Lacombe, and the Rev. L. A. Wilkinson on behalf of the Union Church. In his remarks Mr. Thompson stated, it was impossible for him to be born to remember the occasion, as he failed to get an early enough start.

Contributing to the program were Mrs. Wm. Sutherland who sang two delightful solos, "Angels ever bright and fair" and "Dear to my heart, dear", Hayor Wilson with a vocal solo, I. B. T. Hopkins with a solo, "When you and I were young Maggie", Mrs. Chesser with a violin number, Mrs. Lyle Flewelling with a piano solo; and Mrs. R. Ogilvie with a solo, "Silver threads among the gold", all of which were well received.

At the conclusion, Mr. Chesser presented the honored couple with a purse of money on behalf of the well wishers Mr. Larsen suitably thanked the gathering for all their kindness to Mrs. Larsen and

MR. FARMER—YOU BE JUDGE AND JURY, TOO!

During the world wide depression of the thirties prices for every commodity, including cereals, fell to record lows. Millions of people all over the world were unemployed. In many United States banks failed and their depositors lost their all. Canada lost all banks for a while in several nation-wide panics. Banks lost time, certain people in Western Canada have never ceased to attack The Winnipeg Grain Exchange and blame it for Members for the time being, for all the world.

But Members had no more to do with that low price than you did. It was caused by the world-wide depression and the excess of supply of wheat over demand. Even so, many people couldn't even afford to buy bread. Every fair method to meet this was tried, devious means of attack and contrary proposals put out by the leaders of the "Trade."

Up to now, The Winnipeg Grain Exchange has ignored this misleading propaganda, but this time it has published it. So, in a series of advertisements (of which this is the first), The Exchange will tell you how its Members operate and endeavor to answer all the questions asked at farmers' meetings. Those advertisements will appear in this paper and in leading farm papers for some months to come.

You have heard the "Trade" side often enough. Here now are the facts and for Judge and Jury in the matter they themselves do not favor Jury verdicts.

Meantime, Booklet, coupon below for a free copy of the booklet "An Explanation of the Canadian Wheat Board Act 1935 and Amendments Thereto." It is important for you to know how you are now being regulated and controlled.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange,
Winnipeg, Manitoba.
Please send booklet to which you refer above.

WEDDINGS

RED PERSIAN

Miss Lois Lane, youngest daughter of Mrs. Margaret Ferguson, Vancouver, and the late Wm. Ferguson of Tees was united in marriage to Medford Alfred, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bowden, Olive, on Sunday, November 23. The home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lawrence Ilas and Mr. Ilas of Clive was the scene of the pretty wedding.

At the election of the wedding march played by Mrs. Stanley Ferguson the bride entered the room on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. L. Ilas, who gave her in marriage.

Mrs. J. R. Bowden officiated.

The bride made a lovely picture in her gown of shimmering white satin, the full gathered skirt of which fell gracefully to a slight train, with the hemline just escaping silver sheepers.

Miss Lilette Ilas, only sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid. She chose a floor length model in ice-blue chiffon. Bracelet satin, accentuated by sweetheart neck line and a row of tiny self-covered buttons down the back formed the two-piece bodice.

Mr. Stanley Ferguson, only brother of the bride, was best man. During the signing of the register, Mrs. C. C. Barron sang "Because" accompanied by Mrs. J. Ferguson.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ferguson selected a dress of grey wool with crepe trimmed with gold and brown, and fine wool braid. The groom's mother chose a model in silk crepe.

Following the ceremony a dainty supper was served to the bridal party and guests. The bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Ilas presided at the urn, assisted by Mrs. Norris Lancaster, Mrs. Ilas and Mrs. Lois Nye.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thompson, Peace River, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lane, Alliance, Burt Chisholm, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fergusson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fergusson and Beverley Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Deering, Blackfalds, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Deering, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nunn, Miss Dorothy Bowden, Miss Norma Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Lois Nye, all of Clive

Haynes Couple Honored on Their 31st Anniversary

Mr and Mrs. Harold Haslet of Central Haynes received a number of guests at their home gathering to discuss community hall business on the occasion of their 31st wedding anniversary.

Between 35 and 40 residents at- her of years tended the event. George Webster presented the honored couple with a chest of silver, on behalf of the gathering. A small party followed.

Mrs. Haslet is the former Rosie Bowland. Mr. Haslet has served on the village council for a number

SPECIAL SERVICE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Church on Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m., when Mary Dorothy, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs. Karel Koss of Bentley became the bride of Donald Emerson, eldest son of Mr. Jim Spicak of Lacombe.

Rev. L. A. Thompson of Lacombe officiated at the ceremony.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father was met at the altar by her groom by a bell basket with ribbons and flowers, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridal veil was carried by little Frances Eckstat, of Bentley, niece of the bride. She wore a floor length dress of white satin trimmed with blue ribbons and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Ann Koss, sister-in-law of the bride, who wore a floor length dress of pink satin and carried a bouquet of calena gladioli and

New High in Deposits of Bank Montreal Statement

MONTREAL, Nov. 24.—Again this year, reflecting a position of outstanding, the Bank of Montreal issues forward with a well-illustrated bank statement for the benefit of its more than 1,000,000 shareholders.

In the explanation of "The facts behind the figures", the Bank emphasizes that current dividend days not its info, but works constantly for the building of the nation.

"There is the security than makes the wheels of commerce turn," the report points out. "There is the confidence that helps the farmer garner his crops . . . that helps the lumberman buy equipment and build his mill. Here are the dollars that enable the bank to make more than 500 personal loans every business day of the year to men and women who need money to meet emergencies and take advantage of opportunities."

Deposits of $1,925,000,000 appear set an all-time high, showing an increase of $47,250,000 over the previous year, and demonstrating the way in which Canadians are endeavoring to meet the danger of inflation.

Buffaloes Trim Scottie 9-1 in Opening Game provided equal to the assigned already buffaloes's Scottie attack, and the business of outskating the only goal of the period from the George Hamilton while Scottie was benched.

When they weren't cheering their favorites, the Lacombe fans spent the rest of the time trying to sort out new faces on the local lineup. They showed up well, particularly Major Ed Gove's rush, and Dawson up front who looked as if a batman had been very.

Local interest that had most attention on the lines all played a good game. Norman Jessop's passing ability when he knows his defence partner is of the best in town, and the way Hamilton and some accurate passes to keep the ice well in bounding combination forwards. George Hamilton played a punch of a game.

Lacombe should have a better idea of how they stack up to league play after Saturday's game with Red Deer, and next Wednesday's visit to Ponoka. They're both good teams on the first night out.

Inter-Town School Sport Events Organized

All school sports activities in the inter-towns of Central Alberta will be collectively organized, following a meeting in Lacombe on November 29 attended by school principals from Bentley, Lacombe, Blackfalds, Tees, Morningside, Chigwell, Joffre and Lacombe.

Basketball, curling, hockey, golf, rugby and track meets were among the major sports events discussed up for consideration. Set-to will be made in the future to co-operate inter-town competitions, rather than have each town engage in various sports at random by the district.

Prize goals present were G. Mensing, Wetaskiwin, C. McLeay, Gainsborough, Pamela, T. Whiting, Red Deer; R. Petrie, Lacombe. At least one teacher from each centre was present. Although unable to attend, school principals in the district of Bentley and Lacombe say they would like to have the Bentley school included in the scheme.

Here are the highlights:

Hockey—It was decided to have an school league affiliated with the Lacombe midget and Bantam) A.H.A. League for each class now being arranged by the Lacombe Club at Wetaskiwin. A committee is being drawn up to look after both town eight games (home-and-home series).

Curling—some of the big things discussed. It was decided to keep bonspiels entirely within the local school, and have a one-day zoned "spiel between the champion teams of each town. The bonspiel will be held this season at Wetaskiwin.

Basketball—If possible, a league and schedule will be organized this year, each town rapidly joined by the other in a home-and-home series. Home-and-home games with be played, and a tournament held at the end of the season, of course.

Golf—A simple high school tournament will be held at Lacombe, probably next spring. It also likes of a league is in progress.

Track meet—will take place at Red Deer, soon after the season opens.

Rugby—A league schedule will be drawn up next June for play in the fall of 1948 Red Deer will not be included in the league, and be invited in the league. It is hoped to arrange for four-town games between the four towns.

Curling Bonspiel— The Curling Feast is On Tonight

A feed of rib will be the menu for tonight (Thursday) when over 100 curlers of the town's 4 rinks will enjoy a feed at the rink, to officially open the new curling season.

For the past five years, it has been the custom of the Lions Club and Ace Sharps to supply the big game for the evening's feed, and this season is no exception, with with other hunters earlier this fall. Henry and Abe were successful in bagging the fine deer.

Curlers following won't go hungry! The feed will be on tonight from 6:30 p.m., and games will be played during the evening. A President vs. Vice-President draw. Some 32 rinks are expected to take part, competition for the Bonspiel is completed in play Friday night.

HOME-SCHOOL ASSOCIATION MEETING NEXT WEDNESDAY

The Lacombe Home and School Association will hold its next meeting in the school auditorium on Wednesday evening, Dec. 17, at 8 o'clock. There will be a program presented by some of the pupils of the public school.

Meeting Held Monday Night

Town Council Discusses Possibilities Of Paving Lacombe's Downtown Streets

Town Council decided to call for Ben Morden's night and receive an estimate on the cost of paving a section of the main business streets in Lacombe, it was decided at the regular meeting held in the municipal office on Monday night.

The subject of paving at least a few blocks of the downtown streets has been discussed before, and it is the desire of the council to do something definite in the matter this year.

Councillor A. S. Kerr was elected to look after the legal end of the matter.

Additions and improvements to the Town of Lacombe's Water System were discussed at length.

Councillor L. D. Williamson reported on a business visit to Edmonton last week, when he visited Town Solicitor Wm. Short, Councillor F. O. Vickerman and himself. The committee reported that Mr. Short, Public Utilities member of Public Works Board, had suggested improvements in the town and provincial roads.

The town will be responsible for 25% of the cost of road-building on the new highway through Lacombe, when summer it was learned.

Plans of the proposed new ward were discussed at length, and it was tentatively decided to run the first ward on a boundary line as used by the eastern boundary of the Lacombe Rural Electrification Association Limited, on the north by the Lacombe-Bentley road, on the south of Clive, and on the east by the line 2 miles east of Clive. The second ward would run to the boundaries hereupon, and the third ward opposite to two.

Canvassers will collect pledges at the same time they are receiving the $5.00 membership fee. The cash payment of $25.00 at first, as evidence of good faith.

Directors, confirmed by the good hearing given at the meeting, are considering the erection of a new plans immediately, although figures have not been prepared. The conveyance manage to sign up for the electrification project.

COLLECT USED FOR BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY

A total of $300 was collected by the Lacombe Ministerial for the British and Foreign Bible Society, it was reported by Cyril Gee, secretary-treasurer of the local branch. Mrs. George Ramsay is secretary of the organization. The society was expressed pleasure at the work done by the canvassers and the response of local residents.

Farmers Enthusiastic Over Response

Rural Electrification Schemes Progress at Clive, Lacombe

Lacombe Rural Association Ltd.

Rapid strides toward rural electrification in the area south of Lacombe are being taken by the recently incorporated Lacombe Rural Electrification Association Limited. A further general meeting will be held in the Lacombe Hall on Wednesday, December 17 at 8 p.m., at which directors will give definite information on all points of interest to all farmers in the proposed area. 438 residents of this area have become members of the association or not, are urgently requested to be attend.

Hans Mensch was elected to the board at a directors' meeting held in the town hall, Lacombe, on December 8, to bring the board strength up to seven members, as required. The memorandum of association and articles of incorporation were signed and completed, and the association is now formally requested from the M.D. of Lacombe to establish rights-of-way for the line.

Name of the association was changed from the originally proposed Lacombe South-Eastern Electrification Association Limited to the Lacombe Rural Electrification Association Limited, due to the fact that power were made out in the latter name.

A further executive meeting was held on Monday with F. T. Gale, supervisor of rural electrification for the Calgary Power Ltd., and H. E. Riley, manager of the Lacombe office of the power company. The committee between members of the association was thoroughly gone into, and all matters in connection with the project were worked out and discussed.

"It only remains now for the directors to obtain as many more members as possible", said Secretary told the Globe, "so as to obtain more 'consumers per mile of line' and thus cut costs of initial maintenance." About 30 more memberships are needed.

Final estimate of the average cost per farm will not be known until the full amount of membership is determined.

Preliminary field work was done this week by a power company official who checked over the proposed line. Actual surveying is not expected for some time.

Lacombe Association is Organized at Clive

An overflow crowd attended the first meeting of the directors held in the community hall at Clive on Monday evening. I proposed Rural Electrification Association was formed as a direct result of meeting, and executive of 10 directors was elected.

Councillor L. D. Williamson reported on a business visit to Edmonton last week, when he visited Town Solicitor Wm. Short, Councillor F. O. Vickerman and himself. The committee reported that Mr. Short, Public Utilities member of Public Works Board, had suggested improvements in the town and provincial roads.

An Editorial

NEXT Wednesday, December 17, eligible voters within the boundaries of the Lacombe Hospital District will decide the fate of the proposed $115,000 addition to the hospital building at Lacombe. A two-thirds majority of those voting is necessary to carry the by-law.

Voters have recently received a poster in the mail outlining the aims, purpose and necessity of the proposed addition and urging, and all those who study and this poster will be well versed on the problems which have been faced by the hospital board in the past few years.

To those who believe that the new hospital addition is not necessary, may we point out these facts:

1. Overcrowding of the hospital has become a very serious handicap to the ill, sick and injured of this district. On numerous occasions, those in need of hospitalization have been turned away from the door, or, due to lack of room in the corridors because there were simply no beds available.

2. This fact being admitted, the only criticism which can be offered against the proposed wing is the cost and size of the plans. Hospital board members studied the situation carefully before deciding on a proposed twenty-bed addition. They realized that a smaller addition could naturally be built for less money—but such a short-sighted policy would bring on another problem for a further expansion within a short number of years. They have planned on addition large enough to handle all anticipated hospitalization needs here for some time to come.

Public minded residents, and those interested in the welfare of this district as a whole, can only conscientiously vote for the new addition. Get out to the polls—and vote for the by-law. The addition is vitally needed.

A Thought For The Week . . .

Few persons have sufficient wisdom to prefer censure, which is useful, to praise which deceives them.

Buffaloes Tag 5-3 Defeat on Red Deer Saturday

LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W	L	T	F	A	Pts.
Lacombe	8	0	0	84	14	16
Ponoka	5	2	1	51	31	11
Stettler	3	4	0	32	42	6
Red Deer	1	7	0	23	71	2
Alix	0	8	0	18	58	0

Last week's scores: Stettler 5, Alix 3; Ponoka 5, Alix 0; Lacombe 5, Red Deer 3; Red Deer 6, Alix 3.

Lacombe Buffaloes kept the offensive armament of the Red Deer Rangers in check to clinch top hockey honors in their circuit. The win, annexed straight for the league title, played before 400 Red Deer fans.

Doug Hammond and Vince Bancroft, Buffalo defence men, with two goals apiece, while Jack Calhoun collected the other. Kennedy, Dillon and Lewis netted Red Deer's counters.

Most of the misses of the other Buffalo players should be up in lights alongside the good score 5, Lacombe 3.

Lacombe's victory was quite unsensational in the Lacombe net, particularly in the third period when Red Deer shot out the Buffaloes.

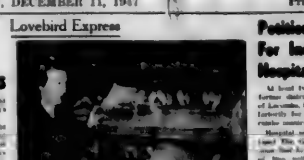
George Nestoros, 'tis said, figured heavily stated he's sorry he might have had one or two counters if he hadn't been robbed so efficiently. Jimmy Hines was a terror of strength on defence, and Hans Lavender, youth, Jack Calhoun, Murray MacKenzie and Yousil Tibbons all gave superb performances.

Lacombe led 3-0 at the end of the first, held the two-goal edge throughout the second when Ponoka was completed, and then Ponoka up on iron defence to muzzle the Gunners' guns in the third. Red Deer, from all appearances, will be in tough enough to land as the season wears on.

JUVENILE HOCKEY TEAM BOARDING AUTO SNAPS

Prospects for a hang-up Lacombe juvenile hockey team this winter are bright, according to Al Meyers, the coach. Practices are being held at the local rink, and the boys look good in early work-outs. "We need a few more players to round out the team though." Al told the Globe this week. Any hockey players of juvenile age who want to play are urged to contact Al Meyers.

Lovebird Express



Billing and cooing all the way, 5,000 Budgerigars, or love-birds as they are commonly called, recently travelled from Australia en-route from Bob Wolmanster B.C., to Toronto, for sale on eastern markets. Mrs. A. W. Morton, who with her husband owns the lodging, is shown watching the young couples chatter noisily as the shipment, one of the largest ever handled, passed through Winnipeg.

Free Show in Theatre at 9:30 a.m.

Santa Claus is Coming To Town---December 20

Santa Claus will arrive in Lacombe on Saturday, December 20, it was announced by the executive yesterday. Mr. Nick is being brought to Lacombe by the Lacombe Lions' Club, in co-operation with the Lacombe Theatre and merchants of the town. Plans call for the two bisheard Santa to arrive at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, December 20, at which time he will stand on his sleigh in front of the theatre and distribute candy and oranges to the children who are expected to throng around him. Other bags will be distributed by the children as they pass down the theatre.

A free show is being held at the theatre through the courtesy of Mr. Stevenson, owner, and a large number of special cartoons will feature the free performance and make up more than a two hour show.

Local merchants will be responsible for the candy and oranges, having already responded in true spirit paying the small bags of candies for the young children, so it is not expected that Santa Claus will be able to furnish all the candies he has.

Dr. G. C. Haworth is in charge of the Lions' Club committee arranging the event, and the Lacombe Theatre staff in preparing the free show, as well as the special Christmas attraction.

It is anticipated that at least 1,000 children will be in attendance at the theatre, and everything points to Santa getting a rousing reception when he arrives in town.

Near Tragedy at Joffre Railroad Crossing Monday

(From our own correspondent)

JOFFRE—A very near tragedy occurred at the elevator crossing at Joffre Monday evening between a C.N.R. special train and an automobile. The couple in the car apparently did not see the approaching train as it came upon them.

Both parties just had time to get out of the car. As the car was left in gear it merely crossed the track ahead of the train and went into the ditch on the other side before stopping.

It was fortunate that no one was hurt.

Stores to Stay Open Till 6 p.m. Wed., Dec. 24

Stores in Lacombe will remain open on Wednesday, December 24, from 6 p.m., it was decided by the members of the retail section of the Lacombe and district board of trade. Merchants, interviewed by W. J. West, president of the board, were in favor of eliminating the usual Wednesday half-day holiday on December 24 so as to give customers and last-minute Christmas shoppers a chance to make their purchases.

Stores and business places will be closed on Christmas Day, Dec. 25 and Boxing Day, December 26.

Business-Professional Women's Club Holds Initial Meeting Monday

Margaret Isbister presided over the first meeting of the business and professional women's club held Monday night in the great office building. Other officers elected at the meeting were: Executive include Lorre Rinke, vice-president; Lorna Cannon, recording secretary; Bertha Hulbert, corresponding secretary, Gladys Yandbook, treasurer.

There are 21 local charter members in the group, formed here last November 21 by Mamie Gilroy. Next meeting will be held early in January, and any working girl interested in the club may give her application to Joan Riley, Dora Nalder or Catherine Crawford.

Objectives of the group include to further social contacts between business and professional women, provide opportunity for devoted at a recent meeting of the executive to arrange for a joint and other artists, and to share years, farmers are being urged in common projects through club by 20 their homes for the eastern representation.

Petitions Received For Inclusion in Hospital District

At least two townships in the former district of Lanaerton, east of Lacombe, have petitioned unsuccessfully for inclusion in the Lacombe municipal hospital district.

Municipal secretary, L. Hoyland The Globe, Thursday, December 11, 1947 Page Three

...ance that the Lacombe district ...ers, signed by the necessary ...ent of the respective ratepayers.

Those districts are Twp. 42, Rge 28 (north-east of Tees), and Twp. 39, Rge. 26, extending sections 3, 4, 5, 6 (south of Haynes). The excepted four sections, the Red Deer area inhabited, wish to seek inclusion with the Red Deer municipal hospital district.

Accompanying these petitions was a certificate from the secretary of the Lacombe municipal office that the necessary 60% majority of resident ratepayers in the two districts were in favor of the petition.

Mr. Hoyland said he would forward the petitions immediately to the department of health. A memorandum of the petitions received from Edmonton if they are complete I, according to the usual procedure and hospital supporters within these districts will then be eligible for the special provincial hospital rates of $1.00 per day.

With the inclusion of additional areas in the north, and, if accepted out, the increased accommodation for the hospital sought by the addition will be ample for many years, becomes more essential than ever.

Plans Laid For New Year's Eve Dance at Pavilion

A. S. T. "Mac" Hoyland, secretary of the Lacombe Agricultural Society, has given a report of preparations laid for the annual New Year's Eve dance to be held at the Pavilion on December 31, at the regular meeting of the society held last Wednesday night. Approximately 35 members of the 1111 F held to hear business made up mostly of reports from the various committees.

Mr Hopkins together with the other members of the dance committee Wes Howe, Bev Jones, Francis Bush and Bob Park plans on making the New Year's dance one to be long remembered. There will be five dance bands, and a fine supper for, and several spot dances. Arrangements are being made for serving lunch, and a first class orchestra will be in attendance.

W. G. Chapman, Rod Carter and Ian Claus were elected a committee to look after the summer fair for the new year. The committee will meet in the near future, at the next annual general meeting to be held probably January 14. Any other committees will be received at that time if members so wish.

A report from the puppy committee was made by Bill Prichard, and Secretary Jones from the Lacombe puppy sale covered the puppy costs, Mr Prichard said, and left a considerable sum for the next bonspiel. Fund. This fund is used to provide relief and an extra for workers in the event.

Paul Carter as chairman of the sports committee. Any dance reports I on that highly successful event. Proceeds amounted to over $100.

Secretary Gordon Bush was given authority to arrange for the services of a hockey referee, with the name of the Lacombe Hockey included in the schedule. Efforts will be made to have the event here for the New Year's Eve dance as well as for all other varied functions.

Yes Kiddies, There is a Reddy Kilowatt!

Yes, there really is a Reddy Kilowatt. He assists us cautiously as modern conveniences, conveniences and economies of electric service unfold . . . and you know how real they are and how much they add to the enjoyment of living. There are at us who say he cannot be but they are offended by the suggestion of a sceptical eye. They think nothing can be which cannot be seen.

Nobody sees Reddy Kilowatt, but those who has seen Santa Claus coming down the chimney's lord or heard symbolizes a beautiful feeling of goodwill and of giving to others, so does Reddy Kilowatt stand for all the many wonderful things that electricity accomplishes for humanity.

You could tear apart your electric motor but you would find only wheels, gears and wires. You wouldn't see Reddy Kilowatt but without him those wheels wouldn't turn and the wires leading to your lamp and appliances would be without power.

Life would be dreary without Reddy Kilowatt. It would be as dreary as though there were no little children. There would be hard, back-breaking work to do . . . many hours of toil to the end by the patience.

Yes, there is a Reddy Kilowatt! Thank goodness he does, and does forever. A thousand years have now he will continue to make glad the hearts of people and make lighter their everyday burdens.

Wrong Government Action

RESIDENTS of Lacombe and district were interested at the recent announcement of F. E. McLeod that he was "forced to retire" by provincial legislation. He had been holding the position for the past nine years by the provincial government, until now he said he no longer government officials, and the provincial legislature.

Although the province purchased the holdings on the same market, residents will see little in the transaction for which to commend the government. They must regard the move as being inspired from his promises a monument of long standing service to the community, the government has lost one more progressive example to state dutifully when they must leave the building. Then, instinctively but quite correctly, they have feared Mr. McLeod to carry on business under great handicaps for the past several months. His pleasant buying of merchandise has been lessened by the fact that those known here for about he might purchase his necessities are obvious.

There is another aspect to the case in which every sole-owner of the town should be interested. For forty years, the building occupied by F. E. McLeod's store has paid taxes to Lacombe. Those taxes have helped pay for the streets, sidewalks, street lights and other municipal expenditures. When the government moves in offices into the building there is no provision for proportionate payment either do not pay municipal taxes. In other words, the town of Lacombe will lose annually a hundred dollars assessed at the present mill rate. In addition to this, the business tax of $125 (1947 rate) will be irregularly lost to the town. All the more definitely forces Mr. McLeod from business.

This is not fair. Lacombe derives all the above and business people within its borders pay taxes. We voted that spirit in our assessment plan if a certain proportion of good quality is had at a satisfactory level. The last on which provincial payment made the fastest and most economical gains. Of the two milk-fed lots the higher level of milk proved more satisfactory. The pigs in all lots were healthy and vigorous, but in the higher protein lots thigh milk and meat content were greater. Carcasses were somewhat fatter, fairly well ordered by more fat and healthier skin and hair.

Twisted Philosophy

"ANOTHER beautiful day, isn't it?" was the remark. The stumbling voice of the pessimist was heard, "Oh, it'll be getting colder any day now."

He couldn't see the clear blue sky above. He couldn't appreciate the beauty of a warm sun shining on fluffy, new-fallen snow. His was a depressing state of one of the four classes in life.

Of course, it takes all kinds to make a world. But there are many facets of life that have room for kind appeals, and sometimes our gloomier climate shouldn't be included as one of them. Even the cold weather in winter (which is becoming more and more infrequent) should be credited as the invigorating tonic that makes us the industrious people we are.

But that there'll always be individuals who believe in the twisted aphorism, "Why be happy when there are so many beautiful things to be sad about?"

Story Within A Story

TIME story of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Larson—both of 50 years young—is one that young married of in his youth will try to emulate. The old couple have been married 51 years, a wedding anniversary they observed in this district last month.

But the story runs deeper than that. It touches on the continuing ability of Mr. and Mrs. Larson to enjoy life in their own quiet way. Mrs. Larson was married several times until Lars came with me—a then usual activity but November 30, in excitement and anticipation over the anniversary party being held by farm neighbors in their honor that afternoon, Mr. Larson then interpreting news through the papers, telling tales of the early days.

They have lived a married life in perfect harmony, having no quarrels "at least not yet" Mr. Larson adds with characteristic humor. This is a striking contrast to many marriages of today which end up on the rocky road of divorce because of "cruelty" or to nothing with whispers through four-sided eyes) "lack of understanding." When Mr. and Mrs. Larson exchanged married vows they were also married to the land. Mr. Larson exchanged married vows, they were also married to the land. It is all solemnly, also a striking contrast to a number of marriages today, when solemn marriage vows apparently mean little to those supervising them.

The story can be magnified still further by stressing their unusual experience and energies. Mrs. Larson has been the "model wife," happy in her daily tasks as housekeeper, she has shared her husband's trials, aided in his successes. Mr. Larson has been a hard worker, but never to the point where he hasn't been able to get some rounding and horseroom out of life. In the 51 years of marriage he found a great deal of pleasure in walking the 80 acres from his farm to Lacombe.

Young people today may not relish to live to 72 years of age, or to look back on the first 51 years of 71 married years, but they could, in advantage, attempt to duplicate this "story within a story" and inspire some of the simplicity and understanding into their own lives.

Farming Notes

Farm Fires Cost 10 Millions

It is estimated from a recent survey made by the Insurance Bureau of Statistics that there were 5,000 farm fires in Canada in the 12-month period ended June 1, 1947. It is difficult to obtain adequate representation of farm fires, because of a fire is not insured there is no incentive for the owner to report it and it is not reliable, there is little possibility of farm losses amounting to almost 10 per cent of the total survey of householders. The estimated value of farm property destroyed by fire in the period under review amounted to $60,150,000 and the insurance on this was covered by insurance companies to the extent of $5,775,000, just under 10 per cent. This estimate is the largest annual proportion of farm property to ordinary amount agreed fires.

Fires were most frequent in barns or outbuild ings and 65 per cent of all fires originated in these places. The farm house was the location of 20 per cent, and 15 per cent were stubble, bush or grass fires. The remaining 3 per cent of the fires consisted mainly of those originating in or adjacent to buildings, including the farm home. It is estimated that farm equipment was lost or destroyed in 35 per cent of the fires and implements and live stock in 15 per cent.

Alberta Seed Proves Merit

Commendation on the success achieved by Alberta farmers in the seed crop at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair is expressed by A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner. In spite of the serious and weather during the past season, 17 of the 20 exhibitors furnished samples that were awarded prizes in competition for the championships in oats and high grounds in wheat.

Mention must also be made of the exhibitors of Crossing Bird Farms and Ranch, who won the five 3 bay awards in the class. In the bygone and chosen Ability growers of Alberta entered winning samples in spite of the fact that the growing season was by no means favorable towards the production of clean seed.

Keep Pigs Growing

One of the problems in connected swine raising is to keep pigs growing steadily after weaning. Unfavorable often occurs at that time, stole big setbacks and slow growth, resulting in a poor net-back to the pigs. In experiments carried out, pigs were weaned at 56 days of age and fed on skim milk and one-half pounds of skim-milk per pound of grain.

Another lot was fed only one third as much skim-milk, while a third lot was fed a mixed ration supplement instead of milk. The results obtained from this experiment are interesting. We voted that milk is not necessary for pigs if a protein supplement of good quality is fed at a satisfactory level. The fat on these pigs was healthy and vigorous, but in the higher protein lots thigh milk and meat content were greater. They appeared somewhat fatter, fairly well ordered by more fat and healthier skin and hair.

Accidents on the Prairies

A comparison of the percentage distribution of farm accidents and farm population would show not only do the greatest number of accidents occur in the Prairie Provinces, but the relative frequency of accidents is also greatest there, according to a survey of non-fatal accidents on Canadian farms during the 12 months ended June 1, 1947, made by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Province of Quebec is relatively the safest province.

The Province, with about one-third of Canada's farming population, had 40 per cent of the accidents. This is no doubt accounted for by the greater mechanization of agriculture in the West, and the added risk involved in working with tractors and various agricultural machinery.

Letter To The Editor . . . .

LACOMBE, Alta. 15 December, 1947
Editor, Globe,
Dear Sir:

Upon reading an item in a recent publication mention was made of the TOWN of Lacombe regrets with sincere sympathy the loss of the hockey game on Saturday night by the CITY of Red Deer at the CITY of Red Deer.

The addition of a century or two near their infancy seems to be doubt by a large degree for erring in their boards, and deserves the sympathy of the entire town of our sort and fraternal hearts.

The reasons impressed for the and wave Mayor W. H. Morrison, alike of the loss by Red Deer's Councillors C. C. Switzer, A. Gilsporting correspondent here at mour, C. Raymond and A. D. U.S.A. Protests "Unfavorable Position" Livestock Industry

United Farmers of Alberta, Woodstock Constituency, issued a telegram to the Dominion Government last week exhorting immediate action to counteract the reported lifting of price controls on coarse grains.

Secretary of the association, Mrs. W. Schroder of Brunsser, Alberta, informed The Globe that "owing to the unfavorable position to which livestock producers in Canada today due to lifting of price controls on coarse grains, the following sets of prices have been sent to Prime Minister MacKenzie King and Hon. J. G. Gardiner, by the Woodstock Constituency, U.F.A.:

"As the Livestock Industry is already in serious difficulties through the drastic reduction of breeding stock and destructive of production by marketing of livestock caused by the record sharp rise in coarse grain prices, we urgently request that you immediately exert your greatest influence to re-place the British Coalition Government and or remove embargo to United States and or subsidize livestock prices."

Does the man who rushes through his work really accomplish more?

Very rarely, I think. For such a man is usually somewhat fatigued of his hand. He concentrates on haste instead of efficiency. Before he finishes one thing he is mentally rushing on to the next. So he never does anything thoroughly.

Moreover, the unfortunate effects of such a temperament are felt in many directions. By his nervousness and rapid-fire speech, Mr. Rush creates a feeling of tension and restlessness in other people. Then he multiplies his own inefficiency.

Speed is desirable only when it is the result of wise planning, increased skill, and the elimination of waste motion.

Don't make a hasty decision about the amount of life insurance you should own. Discuss the matter thoroughly with a life insurance agent. He is trained to analyze your requirements and suggest a plan that suits them.

Block-Time Party Held by Members Young-Adult Group

Thirteen couples, members of the young-adult group, enjoyed an hilarious block-time party and dance at the LDLF hall Tuesday night. Costumes were especially good.

A short business session preceded the activity. It was decided to sponsor a "Dollars a Day" entertainment after the New Year. A campaign by workers is hoped to gather clothing to send to needy persons overseas. Next meeting will be held Tuesday, January 6.

Dancing festivities included a sing-song, games and dancing. The refreshment and paid for the lunch supplied by the women.

Wolfville

WOLFVILLE — Miss Morie Ile spent the Thanksgiving week-end at the G. C. Archibald home during the week-end.

Last week-end, quite a number from our district attended the Homebuilders' Social and Card party at the Baker school which was sponsored by the Parish Parent C.G.I. Club. A substantial sum was realized from the above. Mr. Jamieson has undertaken and hired much boy buddies, together with the brethren of Irish lines once, should bring a good prize.

The game which was so kindly donated by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Avery brought to a tidy sum.

The lucky ticket holder on the goose was Miss Ivy Williams, of Penhold. First prize winners in cards were Jean Archibald and Don Bauer, while consolations went to Ella Archibald and J. A. Archibald. There were a great deal of prizes.

Agriculture Board Requests Farmers Sell Seed Locally

A seed grain policy was established by the grain editorial board at its regular meeting held recently in the office of the Municipal district of Lacombe. The policy is dependent upon the support of the farmers within the municipality.

Since seed grain is an already demanded this year, especially not expect markets, the board is not going to ensure that adequate supplies will be available in this district before it is sent out.

Any local farmer with surplus seed grain to dispose of is asked to get in touch with the secretary. The field inspector must be called within Lacombe along with the amount and variety of seed for sale if possible a local buyer will be contacted.

Similarly, farmers desiring to obtain seed grain of any variety are asked to give their names, and board members will try to locate the seed requested.

Seed grain is in short supply in some areas, board officials point out, particularly where crops were frozen or dried out. Some of the usual seed producing areas in Alberta received early frosts which have reduced seed output to about 20% of normal.

Some very attractive prices are being offered for seed, but on new board member stated, "In all fairness to the district in which we live it would be a never-ending battle to offer this seed to local farmers first."

Schools Close On Tuesday For Xmas Holiday

Students of the Lacombe school and in Lacombe district schools will enjoy 12 days holiday over the Christmas festive season. Schools will close at 4 p.m. next Tuesday, December 23 to Monday, January 5. It was decided at several board meetings.

Notice to Lacombe will resume next week on the 8th.

Wednesday, December 31 to enable Christmas shoppers to make last minute purchases. Movies will be closed on December 25 and 26.

Line Member Gives Talk on Sugar Refining

Lacombe Rotarians were given an excellent talk on the process of sugar refining Line Harper T. Wilson addressed the members of the Lions Club at their regular meeting held in the LDLF Hall Monday night.

Harper Wilson was one of a party shown over the sugar refinery located at Picture Butte, a few miles north east of Lethbridge, when he visited the south west city recently. He explained how interesting the parties found the manufacture of sugar, when parties of 10 to 15 were escorted through the factory by a guide.

From the huge piles of hundreds of tons of beets direct from the farms, he took his hearers through the different processes, from the raw vegetable to the finished product. Chairman Gordon Sweet thanked the speaker for his informative talk.

Chris Williamson gave the obligation of Lions Clubs for the benefit of a large number of prospective members in the meeting dealing with the club's code of ethics, and the purpose of Lionism for the general betterment of humanity.

Visitors' Hopkins led a sing song, which in keeping with the season, included a number of Christmas carols.

District Governor Will Edgar of Innisfail gave a short talk on matters of interest to various clubs in the district.

$125 Damage to Automobile, Truck In Collision Last Week

Damage estimated at $125 was sustained by two motor vehicles on Monday of last week in a collision on 53 street and 51 avenue when Lacombe Chevrolet Ltd. truck of the drivers, Rev. W. Sargeant of Leeuwdale, Alta., and M. Gallo, Lacombe, was hurt.

According to reports, Mr. Sargeant was driving south along 53 street in a truck. Mr. Gillies, who was heading west along 51 avenue in a delivery truck in the village area, and in applying the brakes of his automobile, skidded into the truck.

Damage to the car, a 1947 Chevrolet, amounted to about $100. It was fully insured. The truck was only lightly damaged. Chief of Police Jas. Cullen investigated, by the condition of the roads was responsible, he said.

Welcoming Committee Awaits Arrival of Santa on Saturday

Arrangements have been completed to give Santa Claus a big welcome when he makes his public appearance in Lacombe on Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. Treats for all the children who attend have been prepared for the big occasion, and these will be handed out to the children as they file into the free kiddies' show to be held at the Theatre immediately following Santa's arrival.

Santa will be accompanied by several of his helpers, and will chat with as many children as possible, as well as handing a brief appearance on the stage inside the theatre prior to the show which, no doubt, he will be shown on the screen.

The Lacombe Theatre management state they will have on sale various show specialty selected to please the youngsters.

Dr. G. C. Haworth, in charge of the Lion club reception committee for Santa Claus, reported Monday night at the regular meeting of club members that old St. Nick will arrive in town on his sleigh, be evidence for himself and his band on hand or help unman.

President Elected Blindman Helping Hand Society

(From Our Town Correspondent)

BLINDMAN—Mrs. M. Amundsen was elected to head the district Helping Hand society at a regular meeting on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Johnson.

Other officers elected for the coming year are Mrs. M. Hand, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. H. Long, assistant secretary, Mrs. L. Wasiuk, sub-committee, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Parks, buying committee.

The members agreed to send $25.00 to Red Deer and voted that $50.00 be sent to a family at Wetaskiwin who lost their home by fire.

Proceeds from the sale of lunch served at the Christmas tea party amounted to $43.97, it was reported. Mrs. Brown, kindly donated $27.50 to the fund from fund. A total of $1.45 was received from the Red Cross draw donated by Mrs. W. Brown and lunch was by Mrs. F. Wooden.

Roll call at the meeting was responded to with suggestions for Christmas entertaining. A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. P. Kroll for the gift received when she left the district. In exchange gifts were drawn from a Christmas tree. Lunch was served by the hostess with Mrs. M. Amundsen assisting.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Kappis on Jan. 8. Roll call will be answered with a New Year's resolution.

Unofficial Returns Show Majority Votes- 477 For; 167 Against

A 74% majority vote within the Lacombe municipal hospital district favored a new 20-bed addition to the present hospital, unofficial returns from yesterday's ballot showed last night. A total of 477 favored the scheme with 167 opposed — the first count. A 75% majority was necessary to pass the by-law. Complete returns are expected throughout the district today. Of 1,000 persons out of 644 enfranchised 1,000 voted in the 1937-1938 debenture scheme. While plebiscite with the by-law, the scheme was very disappointed at the unfavorable small number who turned out to vote.

The by-law, as passed "Give and Take" provisions by Law No. 1

A by-law to authorize the borrowing of $11,000 to build additions to the Lacombe Municipal Hospital.

Lacome electors favored the scheme 9 to 1, with 230 in favor as opposed to 27. There were five spoiled ballots at the Lacombe poll in the Church Hall.

With a 62% majority needed and an unofficial 74% majority obtained, there is little likelihood of the ballot showing any big changes on the returned complete official returns which are expected next week, some of The Globe.

Work on the hospital wing will start at the earliest possible moment the hospital board has stated.

Next Assembly Dance On Boxing Night Replaces School Event

Third Assembly dance of the season will be held at the Central School Auditorium on Boxing night, December 26, will take the place of the usual school event.

Music will be furnished by members of school students and La Lacombe school graduates will all lend the event their evening, to aid children in the regular assembly dances next year.

Dancing will commence at 8:00 p.m. Georgie Williams' orchestra from Edmonton will again be in attendance.

Lacombe Cadet Party Enjoyed by Members and Guests

First prize for girls' costume went to Lorraine Holmes, and to C. Calkins for the boys.

The evening was spent in games, games and dancing. In the "Truth or Consequences" show, W. Thompson was top honors. In the dance contest, Mrs. L. M. Prizzell, Mrs. C. L. Hay, and Mrs. H. E. Wilson Mrs. Wilson is a member of the Lacombe school board, and the other three ladies are wives of board members.

Art presents from the new dance were distributed and the successful party ended.

Meadowbrook Farmer Sustains Painful Burns in Fire

(From Our Own Correspondent)

MEADOWBROOK — M. Gerry who farms in this district northwest of Lacombe suffered painful burns to his hands, arms and body last week when his barn was destroyed by fire. He is in the Bentley hospital receiving treatment.

From accounts received, Mr. Gerry apparently went to rescue a calf which was tied in the barn. While doing so, the burning roof fell in on him causing painful burns.

Unofficial Returns Show Majority Votes- 477 For; 167 Against

A 74% majority vote within the Lacombe municipal hospital district favored a new 20-bed addition to the present hospital, unofficial returns from yesterday's ballot showed last night. A total of 477 favored the scheme with 167 opposed — the first count. A 75% majority was necessary to pass the by-law. Complete returns are expected throughout the district today. Of 1,000 persons out of 644 enfranchised 1,000 voted in the 1937-1938 debenture scheme. While plebiscite with the by-law, the scheme was very disappointed at the unfavorable small number who turned out to vote.

The by-law, as passed "Give and Take" provisions by Law No. 1

A by-law to authorize the borrowing of $11,000 to build additions to the Lacombe Municipal Hospital.

Lacome electors favored the scheme 9 to 1, with 230 in favor as opposed to 27. There were five spoiled ballots at the Lacombe poll in the Church Hall.

With a 62% majority needed and an unofficial 74% majority obtained, there is little likelihood of the ballot showing any big changes on the returned complete official returns which are expected next week, some of The Globe.

Work on the hospital wing will start at the earliest possible moment the hospital board has stated.

He's Happy

A GRIN!

A happy man of the hospital board, who expressed pleasure after learning the result of results of yesterday's vote on the new hospital wing. He will try to make the most of the conference the people have placed in the board," Mr. Ivory said

Robert Paulson Wins First in 'Search For Talent'

Robert Paulson, talented 13-year-old pianist, stole the show with his rendition of Chopin's Polonaise Opus artistry to lead the 21 entrants in Lacombe's "Search For Talent" contest held in the Lacombe building on December 6. Complete figures from radio station CJCA, Edmonton, where Bob will with a Block-buster judge were the second highest recorded in the province.

In third place was Robert Langdon of Red Deer. Three Red Deer entrants were in the contest, and an addition Robert Paulson was the right to enter the northern provincial finals being held in Edmonton next March 14th and 15th.

Complete standing of all contestants with number of votes received are listed below:

Robert Paulson Lacombe (267), Robert Langdon Lacombe (166), Robert Lindsay Red Deer (166), Lorna J. Trevor Hopkins Lacombe (151), Lorna Langdon Chigwell (148), Eileen Sutherland Lacombe (141), Kenneth Lidbet Howard Hanson Lacombe (92), Marion Sutherland Lacombe (40), Trevor Hopkins Lacombe (40).

Kathleen A. Jr. Calkins, Calgary (41), Luella Ball, Lacombe (40), Jean Ball, Lacombe (40), Carl Grundy, Red Deer (40), Lorraine Cunningham, Barrow (44), Malcom Lavender, and Ball and Robert Wright, Lacombe (24), Mrs. D. Dean, Lacombe (20), Lorna & Marie Tegerdine, Lacombe and Red Deer Lacombe (20).

He Was A Friend To Man

Let me walk with the man in the road.
Let me walk not the borders that crumb.
Let me speak a kind word of good cheer to the trusk
Who are falling behind to the rush

I'll go to their side, I'll speak or good cheer,
I'll help them to carry their load.
And I'll walk at the man as the brave by the way
As I walk with the crowd on the road

The Master has neither a home nor a home,
But He walks with the crowd day by day,
And my heart sings in praise to the Master of all
Who is helping me serve as He may.

Three crops from One sowing...

EVERY DOLLAR you invest in life insurance is like a seed sown in fertile ground. But—unlike ordinary seed, your life insurance dollar yields three crops!
1. It produces an immediate estate for the protection of your family.
2. It builds up a savings fund that provides cash or credit for emergencies.
3. Grown to maturity, your life insurance savings give you the independence that makes old age the pleasant time of life.
Ask your Crown Life counsellor how you can make your savings yield three ways—protection, security, retirement.

H. W. Leggett Attends From Lacombe Station
Conference Discusses Effects 2, 4-D

Believing that results of the recent three-day weed conference at Regina will be of interest to Lacombe district farmers, The Globe presents the highlights of several talks at the conference. Harry Leggett, assistant superintendent of the field husbandry division of the local experimental station, represented Lacombe at the conference.

D. B. O Elliott, Officer, Division of the national weed committee forecasts a dry, clean weed crop in 1948. He stated that it would be possible to control practically all weeds by the use of 2, 4-D. Weed Control is one of the best examples of co-operation we have had while Weed Inspectors were responsible for much of the control work.

Members of the group were: Chemical weed control and the use of 2, 4-D were both considered to be the most important subjects discussed at the conference.

Chemical weed control as a cure-all for your farming methods, and argued that it is viewed in the role of an "important aid" to agriculture.

J. G. Davidson, experimental station, Indian Head (Sask.) said experiments there treated wheat and oats at 12 inches in height, barley at 14 inches, and flax at six with experiments conducted on timber. In all cases, the applied weed, oats, barley and flax. Rates of 2,4-D readily affected the oats were wheat, less damage crop within a short time. In most from early spraying than late cases wheat, and in all cases oats, spraying, barley, appeared damaged showed reduced yields This was aged other spraying but recovered and free of barley. Flax yields to wild, oats, least resistant agent to 2,4-D treatment. flax, treated and oats at 12 inches in height, H. W. Leggett of Lacombe dealt plots seemed to mature later

Sargent

SARGENT: There was a show of interest paid to the Sargent Community Hall Monday. Hallowe'en had attracted Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cameron from Lacombe to Sargent.

Mr. Cameron auctioned off a number of articles and Mrs. Cameron served lunch. The proceeds were in the neighborhood of $40.00. Mr. Cameron was born and raised in Sargent and has many friends in the district.

Mr. Cameron also ran into a few interesting incidents with 2,4-D in the province this year. Many of the grain fields were sprayed with 2,4-D and the results were startling. Some fields were completely killed out. Others showed a considerable reduction in weed growth. Many were sprayed by amateurs. These were not entirely successful.

Wheat and flax were not affected by the chemical to the same extent as barley and oats. The experiments resulted in some remarkable increases in flax yields.

Mrs. Cameron entertained at a miscellaneous shower on Monday evening, Dec 1, around forty friends and neighbors gathered at a miscellaneous shower and tea given in her honor, the "Thursday's" afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. E. Wilson. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Cliff Johnson, Mrs. R. H. McKenzie and Mrs. Harry Leggett.

Mrs. Cameron was well over the hundred dollar mark. It was decided to divide it equally on three worthy causes.

The evening was brought to a close with a good hearty sing song and a very delicious lunch topped off with some good ice cream supplied by Mr. Sanders of Bentley.

Forshee

FORSHEE: Mrs. Charles Cunningham was hostess to their group, members of the Forshee community club for the Christmas meeting. The usual exchange of gifts took place and was by far the outstanding event of the day. The raffle amounting to over two dollars was won by Mrs. Peter Kosak

The annual meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Fifth-worth on Tuesday, Jan 6. Please note the change of date.

Eminent Canadian Honored

ONE of Canada's outstanding citizens is the person of Senator W. A. Buchanan, publisher of the Lethbridge Herald, was paid a glowing and well deserved tribute last Thursday, when the Lethbridge Board of Trade, duly honored him with a banquet on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of his well known publication.

Approximately 400 of his friends from all over Western Canada gathered at Lethbridge to pay tribute to this popular personality.

A national figure for a number of years, Senator Buchanan has probably done more for his city and district than any other person. The impetus in development of southern Alberta was mainly the result of his unstinting efforts and pen. His pastime did not stop there. He has made a splendid contribution to the national life of this Dominion.

While his leadership is recognized in many ways than one, the fact that his national duties did not detract him from publishing a daily newspaper of strong merits is a tribute to his fine organizing ability. He has secured an efficient staff of home-made talent to operate his publication and the daily reports of their accomplishments usually go hand in hand with interesting features. The only surviving member of the original Western Associated Press in the early 1910's, he made a big contribution in the news gathering organization formed at that time, which the months of world wide news was a difficult problem. Later the former was consummated with the present Canadian Press, recognized today as one of the most efficient news gathering organizations in the world. He was president of the Canadian Press during part of the difficult war years.

The Globe is pleased to extend its hearty congratulations and best wishes to the honored guest, and to join the host of those who express the wish that his talents will be spared for many years to come. As noted chairman was told, "many more years are ahead in his friends." Senator Buchanan enjoys that asset to the full and overflowing.

Santa in Lacombe

A WORD of congratulations is in order to the Lion Club, and merchants and business men of Lacombe who are making possible a Santa Claus visit to Lacombe this year. Bringing Santa "way down from the north pole on December 20 will brighten the hearts of hundreds of small Lacombe boys and girls.

Santa is due to arrive, probably by aircraft, at 2:30 this coming Saturday morning. A large number of youngsters are expected to be on hand for the first glimpse of the saviour for Santa can be disappointed making a long trip and being greeted by small numbers as can children running the fear of Old St. Nicholas during the Christmas season.

An hour or five cents in rewards and selected shorts is in the offing. Santa will be accompanied through the co-operation of H. G. Stevenson, theatre proprietor "knits, in addition, will be giving out packages of candy to many eager, underfed little hands. With the retired local shortage, merchants are asked to help supply hands with candy for the children. We have faith in their generous, full support

Partitioning Palestine

THE United Nations took concrete action this month in agreeing to partition Palestine. It will be noted the decision was possible because Moscow—Russia and the United States had common views on solving an international problem.

The choice does raise the question, however, of the broader right of the organization to make decisions between two parties without their mutual consent; particularly when decisions on less important problems are dominated by jealous bickerings of the Soviet and U.S. At best, a compromise was all that could be expected on the Palestine question and the U.N. has done its duty as an impartial conciliatory body. But the Arabs don't see it that way and they are determined to back all interference from outside sources. Thus, although the U.N. has succeeded in reaching a majority decision, it has in another sense failed to reach a unanimous solution.

The feelings of the Arabs are difficult—probably impossible to evaluate on the no-nonsense decision that threatens to split in two a land that has always considered their country the historical right. The Jews, by the same token, also have a claim on the Holy Land, and have the mutter stands. Nevertheless, it would seem, was the only solution possible.

Now the U.N. could never to divide Palestine without having the forces to back up their decision to a blunder they seem to ignore with bare shrugs of the shoulder. It is a known fact that British intends to pull its harassed troops out of the country early in 1948. Although armed well-trained Jewish divisions could hold their own with the Moslems it would be a pity to let two unreconciled races fight a battle to the bitter end.

Russia and the United States may send token forces, Britain may be persuaded to stay, but whatever the answer the present undesired war mustn't be allowed to swell unnecessary blood. There have been reports of too many killings already.

Farming Notes

Poultry Suggestions

C. W. Treves, Poultry Commissioner for the Alberta Department of Agriculture says that there was never a better outlook for turkey raising than at present time each month, and no imperative to note. With present feed and other costs we can not afford to keep a single bird that is not a real dinner. Cull regularly, but cull judiciously. Market all non-profitables.

In spite of the high cost of feed there are many farmers where feed hoppers are filled to the top with grain and mash and where the birds can eat all the mash hungry for a thousand birds to less than satisfied hens. It will be time well spent and money saved to fill the hoppers but not half full each time. On the other hand, do not let the hoppers remain empty for any length of time for the hoppers are so constructed that the birds can reach all the feed.

All sick or unthrifty birds should be removed immediately they are noticed. Disease should be free of mites and the birds free of lice. Water should be kept before the birds at all times. Clean, fresh water should be given at least twice daily. There should be all year round for every four birds. Birds should be kept clean and hens hens should not be allowed to clutter up and contaminate the ranges. Range should be changed at least four times daily, ranked quickly, and packed with clean straw, sawdust with the litter used to. They should be laid in a cool, clean, sparkling place and should be marketed at least once each week. It is attention to the details of the poultry business that will mean profit or loss from year to.

Seed Cleaning

Where will your seed grain be cleaned? A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, suggests that the farmer will on the farm is still the best method. Many grower grain cleaned on our own farm will not germinate nor weed seeds.

There are many grain elevators in Alberta equipped with machines to remove durhum, but neither the elevators nor the machines were ever intended to clean seeds for seed. The removal of durhum from grain does not make seed. Smaller or later, formerly with the durhum, are undesirable grain for planting will introduce new weeds on their farms. These new weeds will be for many years. All of that can be prevented by the use of having the durhum removed in the elevator.

Samples that have been cleaned in the elevator will have the grower and district represented by the best many and look too bad. But in the same sample there may still be many weed seeds to be removed, as well as other seeds of noxious weeds. By the use of grain such as this, the whole farm can be polluted in one season.

If your grain is suitable for seed, clean it well on your own farm or in a reliable seed cleaning plant or portable cleaner. Having done this, the first rich in growing a good crop next year is eliminated.

Stubble Burning

R. J. Mather, Supervisor of Soil Conservation for the Alberta Department of Agriculture mentions a strong practice at his command this fall that is in direct opposition to soil conservation. He says he is not customarily that our soils need fire, that they need organic matter and we can get it in no way of this thousands of pounds of plant food and fiber that should have gone into the soil went up in smoke.

Mention however shows all the fuel and smoke that it easier to cultivate, but every time you burn the stubble you are destroying between two and four hundred pounds of plant food per acre. You can replace the plant food with fertilizer but you can't buy organic matter. It is that organic matter that makes and holds the rain down. In the course of years it returns to the soil some of the elements needed for the crops to follow. Rob the soil of its organic matter and you reduce the water holding and water holding capacity of the soil. If the soil is unable to absorb the rain as it falls, you get run-off and water erosion. Lack of fibre in the soil paves the way for soil drifting.

The heavier the stubble the greater will be the waste by burning Mr. Mather points out that handling heavy stubble is not the problem these days that it used to be. Many of our farmers have handled stubble from crops from 60 to 70 bushels to the acre without difficulty. They use the tiller and keep the trash where it belongs.

WEDDINGS

RAYMOND-PARKS

First Baptist Church of Red Deer was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, The contest 30, at 3 p.m. when Annie Viola, second daughter of Mr and Mrs. Leo Parks, became the bride of Raymond Ray, son of Mr and Mrs. A. Ray, formerly of Bentley.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Hodgson assisted by Rev. A. [illegible] Miss Clara and during the signing of the register, Mrs. I. Adler of Bentley sang, "The Wish Bonds Of You". The church was tastefully decorated with white and mauve chrysanthemums.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was in the strains of the wedding March played by Mrs. Pat Adler of Bentley looked lovely in a gown of white satin and net featuring a satin peplum and a full net skirt. Her floor length veil was held in place by a halo of French lace over satin and finished with a fingertip point. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Clara Bellrose of Edmonton was bridesmaid and was dressed in a pink satin gown style to match the bride's gown. She wore a matching shoulder veil and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Miss Barbara Payne, sister of the bride was bridesmaid and wore a gown of blue taffeta and a corsage of pink carnations. Little Janice Parks, niece of the bride, carried a nosegay of roses and baby mums.

The groom was supported by Mr. Lee Taillefer of Edmonton. Mr. W. Brown of Bentley and Mr. Parker of the groom and Mr. R. Hutchison Red Deer, were the ushers.

Reception Held

Following the ceremony a reception for relatives and friends was held at the Elks Hall. Receiving with the bride and groom were Mrs. Payne, mother of the bride, who wore a dress of black crepe with black and gold accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses and Mrs. Raymond, mother of the groom, who wore a dress of blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake flanked with the bride's bouquet and lighted candles. Mr. P. H. Leppard of Calgary proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

Later in the day, the young couple left by car for Calgary for a short honeymoon. After which they will make their home in Edmonton where Mr. Ray is employed. For travelling the bride chose a brown dress trimmed with gold turquoise topped with a gold

Car Drivers Required Take Tests in 1948

This provincial government will bring a system of tests for those now making applications for drivers' licenses in this province next year. This information has been made public by officials of the Alberta Legislature.

Under the system to be made operative, tests will be required for those who are making application for drivers licenses for the first time. This will cover a large number of young people who have reached the required age.

Regulations also will require tests in the case of those who have been involved in motor vehicle accidents during the past year.

These applicants will be required to satisfy the requirements laid down in the regulations and they will be given tests under the supervision of the R.C.M.P.

The new system will come into operation in time for opening of the 1948 driving year on April 1. Owing to lack of sufficient officers, it was impossible to make the change in 1947.

Woody Nook

WOODY NOOK—Christmas is about here again with the school children busy practising for their annual Christmas tree and concert. The little ones are eagerly looking forward to seeing good old Santa, and getting a bag of treats. The mothers are busy sewing, and getting their children ready for the young stars and the rest of the family to see that they all look their very best. The fathers, no doubt, are watching their pocket books grow thinner day by day and therefore are very much like the little kids, counting it. Xmas will get here!

While we are on the subject of Xmas the ladies of the Woody Nook Club donated $10.20 toward the treats and it was recommended at that each lady make 1 pound of magic into candy or other treats or an effort to make the candy bags bigger and better. They could attend to bringing it to Mrs. Somerville of the school board a few days before the night of the concert. Lorraine Johnson will be sporting a brand new car a 1948 Chevrolet.

Other hockey game reports on page nine!

Both are proved a serious handicap to Lacombe players here last night when Lacombe and Alta fought the game out to a 2-2 overtime draw. The local Buffaloes outshot the Alta aggregation by about three to one throughout the game, but superb goal tending by Hitchcock in the Alta net, and lack of finish by the final forwards enabled Lacombe to salvage only one point.

Alta opened the scoring in the first period when Ray Greene broke away from a scrum and passed to Bill Hitchcock who shot with a hard, high shot from close in. It took the Buffs two minutes of the second stanza before they evened up the score when Seamen Jack, a pass from Harwood to perch the rubber behind Hitchcock. Both teams and Alta one up in the final period, beating Hitter on another break-away from the Buffs, who—according to reports of the Alta net-end doing everything but beating Murdoch. Hammond took a pass from Seamen at the 17:03 minute mark to even the score and although both teams pressed hard, there was no more scoring.

A fair sized crowd braved the sub-zero weather for the final and overtime sessions, and hi-heeling between the fans, players and the officials over a disputed goal by Alta, which was finally declared "no-goal" eventually ruined the game from a hockey viewpoint.

Wills and Estates Talk at Bentley Board of Trade

An interesting talk on wills, estates and succession duties was given by J. R. McLennan of Lacombe at the regular monthly meeting of the Bentley Board of Trade on Tuesday of last week in the town members and guests attended the banquet in the community hall at Bentley.

Wallace Peterson, president of the Board of Trade, was chairman. As guest speaker Mr. McLennan dealt with the form types of wills which are legally accepted by any judge or court today.

They are the holograph type, which is written or typewritten and signed by the individual concerned, without the use of a witness; the type of will made out on a statutory will form, which must be accompanied by the signatures of two witnesses; and the will drafted by a competent person to suit the particular case in question, also prepared by a lawyer.

Wills are not accepted from persons under 21 years of age. The exception to this rule, the speaker went on, is for persons killed on active service overseas of the Armed Forces during World War II. Three wills are valid today.

No Will

If a person dies and there is no will, relatives of the deceased must apply for administration before they are entitled to the deceased's property. This procedure involves the expense of a bond company, public notice, and official administration with the Real Estate of the estate, the speaker declared.

Touching on estates and succession duties, Mr McCormick said that as of April 1 of this year, only one duty is paid to the provincial government, instead of the previous two to the provincial and dominion governments. The change became effective with the provincial government announced by which the dominion takes over all rights in succession duties, and pays the provincial government a subsidy in lieu of it.

The dominion government has increased the succession duty, however, and takes from the estate just about as much as the two did before, Mr McCormick added with a smile.

Succession rates start at 2% and work up on a graduated scale. Persons falling heir to estates exempt from duty up to $50,000, children over 21 up to $1,000, children under 21 duty free.

Outdoor Rinks For Children to Be Ready Shortly

Two outdoor rinks being built under the initiative of the Lacombe Junior Board of Trade are expected to be ready for the committee over the Christmas holidays.

One of the rinks located on the town office block has been flooded once, but will require several more coatings before it is ready for skating for the younger children of town. It is a new size, 50x100 feet, being prepared under the direction of A. C. Heywood.

The other rink at the school is also a good size, and will be flooded soon. D. Pybush, school principal, is supervising work on that rink.

A Thought For The Week . . .

Government stability can only be maintained by the confidence the people have in its integrity, the only weakness in the group.

Mild Weather Brings Out Cluster Of Pussy Willows

If a group of pussy willows is to be found anywhere spring is just around the corner.

A. W. Sweet who farms east of Lacombe on the Haynes district has a whole tree full of early-blossomed pussy willows. He noticed the pussy willows had week-running out in full bloom.

This a remarkable build was for we're enjoying. Has not been planted their garden yet!

School Program at Meeting Last Week Home-School Association

School children gave an interesting Christmas program at the regular Home and School association meeting held on Wednesday of last week. Songs, plays, speeches, dances and stories were given by the pupils which were much appreciated by a good number of parents.

The school Christmas program was made largely possible through the efforts of the teachers, particularly Mrs. F. Sharpe. The program was as follows:

Song by the rhythm band, entitled: Merry Christmas grade one (Miss M. Bell). Action song, grades one and two (Miss G. Sharpe). Play, "Three Boys", Fath Dance, Irish Jig grade 3 (Miss N. Jensen).

Group of songs grade 5 (Mrs. Thomas) music class). Choral speech grade 4 (Miss M. Grubbaugh). Christmas story (grade 5 (Miss E. Walker). The music staff, group of songs grade 7 (Mrs. Sharpe).

The high school chorus sang a group of Christmas Carols under the direction of Mrs. Helen MacArthur.

Christmas Music Makes Up Church Service Sunday

St. Andrew's United Church was crowded Sunday evening on a large congregation heard an all-Christmas service rendered by members of the church choir assisted by the Red Deer men's glee club.

Mrs. Wilma Sutherland, choir leader and director of the glee club, was in charge of the part of the musical numbers rendered by the singers.

Rendditions included such Christmas favorites as "Silent Night" and "Adeste Fideles Chorus." Vocal solos were sung individually by the choir and the glee club, and by other local talent.

Refreshments were served in the basement of the Church, following the service, by the members of the Ladies' Aid. Miss Clark and Mrs. Ross Mrs. Ellison and Mrs. Bernard Edmonds presided at the coffee tables.

Former School Teacher Now Going to Sutton For Special Meeting

Former school teacher at Lacombe, Gordon Higginson will attend a school for trade and field couples at Boston, Mass., during the Christmas vacation, the Edmonton recreation association announced last week. Gordon is presently attending the University of Alberta.

He is one of five Canadians attending the school in the United States, and is understood to be the only westerner in the group.

Narrow Escape in Collision With Train Engine

Three Lacombe residents, Tom Smith, Jim Bellamy and Fred Stead had a narrow escape from death when their car was struck by a train at the Lacombe Maple Leafs, last Friday afternoon.

The car was completely demolished, but none of the occupants received serious injuries.

Mr. Smith was driving the car at the time, and was unaware of the approaching train until it was too late.

All the boys escaped from the car after it had been struck by the engine and attempted to shut the door to keep the children from coming out.

The train driver had applied the brakes as soon as he saw the car, but was unable to stop in time.

Bellamy was thrown from the car and received a concussion and cuts on the head. He was taken to the Lacombe hospital, where he remained for a few days.

Mr. Smith received a broken leg and bruises on the body.

Fred Stead received a fractured rib, bruises and cuts on the head.

The car is partially wrecked.

74% Majority Vote For New Hospital Wing Corroborated on Recount

Official re-count to find week's vote on a 30-bed addition to the Lacombe municipal hospital corroborated unofficial figures published in last week's issue of The Globe.

There were 677 votes cast in favor of building the new wing, with 240 opposed, re-counting officer Mr. Chrisner stated. With a 65% majority necessary, 74% favored the addition to the hospital.

The vote the largest percentage vote "for," with 47 in favor and only 2 opposed. Lacombe's 1,200 million of dollars of being passed into the project

Local Residents Enjoy Unusually Mild Winter Weather—So Far

Keep those fingers crossed and Lacombe's present mild spell may break all previous temperature records established over the past 20 years at the local dominion experimental farm.

To date, there have been exactly five days in which below zero weather has been recorded this winter (or in it winter?). The coldest temperature has been 2 degrees above zero. On the other hand, the mercury has soared as high as 50 degrees above (December 13), with 10 days out of the first 21 in December warmer than freezing.

For statistics on long term averages we find a mean temperature of 23 degrees for the month of December in 1941, and of 26 degrees in 1935 and 1939. The mean temperature for the first 21 days of December this year was 16 and a fraction.

If mild weather continues, new records may yet be established. The coldest December on record occurred in 1927 when the average was (brr-er-) 2. Last year's December mean was 9 degrees above.

Looking over November, records show a mild month with 16 degrees above (December 13), to say nothing new marks. Average temperatures for November this year was 27.1, 33-year average is 24, the highest ever recorded, and was in 1933—34 degrees above.

Whether that mean of figures can be entangled or not, Lacombe residents know the weather has been unusually warm for this time of year—and pleasant. No one is complaining. And there is still enough snow on the ground to give that Christmas atmosphere.

Juveniles Play Edmonton Here Boxing Day

Two more hockey fans will be added to the list of those who have attended Lacombe Maple Leafs' home games when Manager Jim Bellamy presents his daughters for the first time.

Mrs. Bellamy will be said to be the youngest fans ever to be seen at the Lacombe rink when she appears at the projected play on Monday 10 or so bouncing two-year-olders.

Drilling Crews Test For Oil in Lacombe Vicinity

Rig drilling trucks passing through Lacombe almost daily are the result of the activities of the Standard Oil Co. with headquarters at Stettler Lake and Bentley, and the Stanolind Oil Co. with headquarters at Edmonton.

Both companies have crews operating in the right leg, horsemen and others.

Preliminary inquiries was held Saturday night at the Joffre hall on Imperial house with Rev. W. Hoogendoorn and James Yee Toronto, Rifle Association, Claire Todd, Henry Robinson, Fred Bracey Cormore to Dr. F. H. Locke.

The main purpose into the death will be held sometime over the Christmas holidays, the date has not been set.

No Local Residents

Although the deceased had no relatives in the district, two brothers, John and William were said to be of Pender Dist., of his death. There is a cousin Arthur Edwards of Edmonton.

A great racing enthusiast, the deceased had attended the annual Model 1 races at Red Deer for years. He was driving a racer at the time of his death, and had been driven anything else into old Model T's and Model A's.

He was a taxidermist, having with Jim Sherkes in the Joffre district before he moved to Lacombe.

He had several rides engineer's papers in a steam engineer, but was more interested in being friends his philosophy of life.

"Nobody is my enemy," was often heard said this week. "At the same time he was well liked and known by all and sundry."

He lived at one time with Fred Fisher of the Joffre district.

Police said estimated speed of the truck was 30 m.p.h. No collision was possible on the road and it was going considerably faster. Neither the driver nor the passenger was hurt. Cpl. D. H. Barton of Red Deer, was here.

Hold High School Christmas Party Monday Night

By Robert Wright

A large number of students attended the High School Christmas party at the school Monday night. Music was supplied by the orchestra and lunch was served by members of the executive.

Public and Intermediate grades, and the High School Glee Club presented a concert at the House and School meeting in the auditorium on Wednesday evening of last week. Many parents and friends were in attendance.

Lorraine Albert (Windy) Thompson, 67, was killed about 4:30 p.m. Monday in a motor accident on the north Lake road Stettler highway intersection. Familiarly known to almost everyone throughout the district as "Windy," the deceased had been a familiar resident of the municipality for the past 25 years.

Mr. Thompson was driving his car on the highway in a small, old racer when he met a R. C. M. P. car of Red Deer who investigated, apparently to assist a car on the Joffre district. Police Constables of Red Deer detachment of Lacombe Hall in the back, was making the turn and on the highway. Striking Thompson's car, also making the turn.

At the last moment, Thompson apparently decided to go straight ahead along the old Buffalo Lake trail and attempted to shut the door to keep the children from coming out. The truck driver had applied the brakes as soon as he saw the car, but was unable to stop in time.

Bellamy was thrown from the car and received a concussion and cuts on the head. He was taken to the Lacombe hospital, where he remained for a few days.

Mr. Smith received a broken leg and bruises on the body.

Fred Stead received a fractured rib, bruises and cuts on the head.

The car is partially wrecked.

Brought to Hospital

D. Whatley, district ranger of the Lacombe forest service, was also brought to the hospital. Mr. Thompson was also brought to the Lacombe hospital. He was unconscious when he arrived at the hospital, but regained consciousness in the night leg, forearm and chest.

Preliminary inquiries was held Saturday night at the Joffre hall on Imperial house with Rev. W. Hoogendoorn and James Yee Toronto, Rifle Association, Claire Todd, Henry Robinson, Fred Bracey Cormore to Dr. F. H. Locke.

The main purpose into the death will be held sometime over the Christmas holidays, the date has not been set.

Big Welcome Greets Santa Claus Here Saturday Morning

Santa Claus came in town fast Saturday morning to be greeted with a roar of welcome from approximately five hundred children and many parents. Keeping to his strict time table, Santa here into view of the crowds at the end of Lacombe the deep prompt on the promised time of 9:30, and stepped up in front of the theatre in his colorful red costume and flowing beard.

His sleigh, drinking with bells, was decorated in the Christmas spirit, and contained boxes of candies and nuts which good old St. Nick threw out to the waiting children. Two sacksful of candies and nuts which good old St. Nick threw out to the waiting children who thronged in to see the Christmas show.

After issuing a brief song song from the stage, Santa retired, and the cartoons, brought to the waiting children by H. C. Simmons, Lacombe store, were flashed on the screen. A cowboy show, and some more shorts made up the program in the theatre.

Santa's visit, sponsored by members of the local Lions' Club, was a real hefter success. The show-downed by in 1938, homeschooled and Lacombe's Santa Claus is a great old Santa worth of town.

Lacombe Library Will Close December 24 And December 31

The Lacombe library will be closed on Wednesday, December 24 and again on Wednesday, December 31, it was decided at the regular meeting of the Lacombe Ladies Chapter, I.O.D.E. held recently at the home of Mrs. S. Kerr. Library will be kept open on Saturday, December 27.

A report on the I.O.D.E. Welfare Programme was given by Mrs. H Leggett. It was suggested that contributions by the work should go through the provincial chapter rather than local chapters as workers trained in this type of work were more valuable to them the matter. Five dollars was donated by the local chapter to the I.O.D.E. Princess Elizabeth gift, and another 15.00 voted to the St. Connell Hospital Fund.

Library report showed 730 books loaned during November 47 new memberships and a revenue of $69.10.

One new member signed the roll.

Sponsoring Dance New Year's Eve To Welcome '48

To welcome 1948 that's the theme of the New Year's Eve dance to be held at the pavilion on December 31 under the auspices of the local Canadian Legion.

Dancing, will start at 9.30 and continue until 1:00 a.m.

Refreshments, lunches and novelties will be provided to help the dancers bend in a brand new year. Members of the legion dance committee under I.S.T. "Hoppy" Hoppins have charge of the dance parties, novelty dances, and a mess of colorful decorations in keeping with the festive season.

Dress is optional. Music will be supplied by Bob Pennington's orchestra.

Invitations to the dance are being issued to the district 22 years ago, the late Mrs. Randell was born well known around Lacombe, as a real hefter as the mother of the majority of children who witnessed him born.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 24 1947

Christmas, 1947

The spirit of good-will and cheer echoes through the streets these days as the hearty "Merry Christmas" greeting. At night, the blue-hued forms of trees point white-tipped fingers to the skies and others shiver. Colored lights dance and play in the snow. Some smart home wants to know, and find those homes are more colored lights, some Christmas decorations of both green and red trimmings, and maybe a touch of Santa Claus.

Even of the family and tree order at the ever mounting pile of Christmas parcels reaches a height beneath the christmas tree, over wrappings. Perhaps there is the occasional catch a letting and shaking of parcels and to the home of a guess like manner.

Then bells, and Santa Claus. It isn't the size of the gift, nor the value of it, or spirit in which it is given that counts. In God gave to the world its Saviour, many as 2,000 years ago, to insure an commemorate the birth of Christ by exchanging presents — to one another

So here it is this commemoration that mellows hearts and softens sharp tempers over the Yuletide. Would that we could show the same spirit the whole year through.

The Hospital Vote

ELECTIONS within the Lacombe municipal hospital district showed by a confined majority last week that they favor the bi-lod addition to the hospital. With a 65% majority necessary to pass the by law calling for a new wing, 74% gave their approval to the scheme.

We are in agreement with this vote, and most heartily endorse the unselfish reaction of the majority to the present of a $113,000 addition, in spite of the high building costs prevalent today. The wing was vitally urgently needed to cope with the increasing number of hospital patients that have put an undue strain on the staff and the limited facilities available. We most congratulate, too, members of the hospital board for doing everything possible to put all relevant facts before the electorate.

Now we hope they exercise similar enterprise and dispatch in constructing the new wing "at the earliest possible moment," to use their own words.

15 p.c. Vote - 85 p.c. Decay

THIS newspaper has advocated for some time the need of all citizens to acquire a greater measure of public responsibility, in order to effectively resist democracy's most deadly enemy — complacency. Last week's hospital vote which saw 85% of the electors express their franchise emphasizes and re-emphasizes the pressing need of the democratic theme.

Democracy is based on the rights and freedoms of the people it is also based on the responsibilities of the people. It is the responsibility of the citizens of democracy to vote for the Government of their choice, naming government policies of those choice. Such millions of dark-skinned individuals, with high principles and ideals hundreds of years to win that freedom for the present.

The responsibility is not meant to be monopolized by persons who would favor their own selfish ends. A citizen should cast his vote, and for any possible authorized gain, but for the good of the whole; for the policies he thinks will benefit the entire town. Too often, citizens oppose policies of the Government or power and stand to gain to the detriment of the many. That is an evil of democracy which demands constant vigilance.

The present democratic evil of all, however, is when the people's representatives are not truly representative.

The ideal in democracy would be a 100% vote, in which all qualified voters knew all the facts and had studied all sides of the question before casting the decision they remembered best for the town, for the majority. That ideal will never be attained, but it can be aimed at. A 15% vote is shameful. It is also dangerous, for the rest of democracy may creep up the path until the dawn-raise flower conspicuously withers and dies.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1947

1947 - and 1948

IT IS a duty to look back over our community month during the year 1947, and to make note of the eager keen ground in meeting the many problems of 1948. Lacombe has been most progressive in the past 12 months now universally, percent of a new 30-bed hospital wing, and a dozen and one business houses and residences in a big industrial house stand out as the more notable achievements of 1947 this municipality in 1948 is out as a step of advancement.

Some of us are inevitably voice the voice opinions in international affairs. While our Christmas cards have been filled with best-season gifts, the threat of European hostilities has been in the air and mind. While our dinner menus have been filled over with fat and rich delicacies, there have been reserved by many kids. Poor and free-tuition has replaced fun and trade; depletion has taken the place of delight and pleasure in living.

For it is true that most peoples in Europe today are slowly starving German rations give them but a rather little more than 1,000 calories a day, on-the-spot economists declare, which is less than the minimum necessary for good health. Starvation-rations are the lowest since those of the unlikely after the first World War. People have little incentive to work, little more even to live. Around this spring, the United States and Russia are engaged in the cold and tax of power politics. The British services the political leaders of all Europe. America counters with superior economic resources in keep at least Western Europe democratic.

Another mention of the Big Four Powers also have conveyed in London during December. The "converging results. It seems incredible that close to three years after the German armistice a peace treaty has not been drafted and signed. The Ministers grounded with the problem for over a month without a satisfactory agreement, even on the lesser questions of an Austrian treaty. Russia demands too much in war reparations, western diplomats feel. The word has the bitterness of the first World War when excessive reparations were imposed on Germany so great in fact, that it resulted in the mockery of the democracies handing more money to Germany than they received in reparations.

They don't want to make the same mistake again. Russia, defeated in 1917, didn't have the benefit of this lesson, and under inspiration on heavy bills. The two institutions are becoming communist and it may be years before formal Armistice terms are made, unless done on unspecified

Most of the United Nations? They are in session this summer and fall, and after little wrangling at first, are now somewhat down to pre-Nation Palestine. They made that decision, however, without having an on-the-spot report to hand out it. The United Nations have no armed might with which to enforce their verbal commands because Russia, the United States cannot agree on the proper disposition of such forces. They cannot even agree on the size of these forces.

The continued forced housing of many of the liberations in the fearful unknown power of the Atomic Bomb. Whether we like it or not, we must face the fact that a race for bigger might is in progress between America and the Soviets. Why? Because the two great World powers cannot agree on international control of the bomb. Russia will not permit international inspection and supervision of their production, on the grounds of sovereignty. United States is implacably resolved to hold the bomb until adequate inspection and protection is assured.

One immortal said we were sure as world history as the words phrase, "Citizen Adam to Adam." We will and come in our time. While Stalin and the Red leaders of this age live, there will be no war. They have won the transition of war in their own household, which will not be re-united under their direction. The democracies will never start a war because the form of public opinion wouldn't allow it even if the leaders would. It would take an attack on our household, or an outrageous attack on a smaller nation we championed as an absolute public world to the point of war. And although Russia is and undoubtedly will strive to push communism far afield, they will never go to the length of outward war.

We of today put far too much value on material things. We rate security that may be the "Liberty, equality, fraternity" dream of the 20th Century. But we pursue security our free from want and fear by the same old methods of power politics, forgetting the brotherhood of our world ideal.

It is armed that national qualities have no place in the world affairs. But we have tried diplomacy, force, material pursuit. They have not succeeded as world peace. Perhaps a conscious application of moral "virtues" in a great world movement would

Cereal Breeders' Problems

When a plant breeder considers developing a new cereal variety, he must keep in mind that it should, above all, be one possessed in relation to agricultural practices and extreme weather conditions. He must develop a variety that is adapted as it exists at the present and in the future. Such a new variety should be able to withstand cold, drought, disease and insect pests. It must be able also to ripen at and about maturity. Finally, it should give the greatest returns of high quality product per acre, says A. H. Wade, Dominion Experimental Station, South Current, Sask.

His plant breeder tries to combine into a single variety all the desirable characteristics possible in the past it was necessary to crush the weed for control, but now large collections are available from he has only matured by crossing a study of the material to which the various characteristics are inherited.

When two varieties are crossed their progeny contains many characteristics from each parent. By intercross in each material, it is possible to find varieties that have the characteristics of both parents but are identical. Because many characteristics are usually involved, large numbers of plants must be grown in order to find the particular type desired.

Plant breeders, pathologists, entomologists and cereal chemists all play an important part in experiments necessary in a breeding program. The work is divided up and carried out in various conditions as disease, insect, or drought nurseries. From each test the most promising plants are selected. This is repeated until the best variety is obtained. In tests to there is sufficient seed, milling and baking or other quality tests are carried out in the case of wheat. Finally, the new variety named is sent to plant breeders at other locations to verify the results.

If the new hybrid proves to be superior to existing varieties in the majority of the tests it will be named and licensed. Licensed seed is grown and when there is sufficient seed it is distributed to the farmer.

Farm Equipment Sales

Domestic sales of farm implements and equipment as reported by manufacturers and importers, and of implements shipped to dealers or consumers amounted to $84,272,000 in 1946, an increase of 39 per cent over the previous figure of $60,566,000 in 1945.

It would appear that the total sales volume of Canadian farm equipment dealers for 1946 amounted to about $175,434,000 for new machines and equipment and for repair parts. This is based upon the markups for equipment and parts as reported by manufacturers and importers. Accordingly the retail sales volume in new equipment during 1946 was $96,434,000 and the repair sales $37,000,000. All parts of Canada recorded substantial increases in sales, as compared with 1945.

Reflections of the Times

Vanishing Commas

When reading the works of Dickens, Thackeray, Hardy, and many other writers, we do not find ourselves under a strain to understand readily what they mean, largely because of a gracious and judicious use of punctation.

Many modern writers seem to be shying away from all punctation except the stolid and unexpressed period, or full stop, as it is known in England. Even the comma is used as sparingly as possible. The result is that sometimes one has to read a sentence or paragraph over more than once to arrive at the gist of it.

Leaving punctation largely to the satisfaction of the reader, as many modern are in left largely to the imagination of the beholder, may be complimentary, but it may also encroach on the reader's time.

The comma is too good a friend to writer and reader alike to be given the cold shoulder.

When your little one catches cold—

Don't let that cold settle in your throat or chest. Rub on Vicks VapoRub at once. Its direct action through the skin brings relief to sore throat and chest muscles. Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest and back at bedtime helps relieve coughing, aching muscles, easing and helps you breathe easier. Use Vicks VapoRub at the nasal orifice (the other always relieves by opening and nostrils) and you get better-treated Vicks VapoRub.

The payoff on War Savings Certificates has begun. Right now all War Savings Certificates issued in May 1940 are being redeemed by the Canadian Government at their full face value.

On or after December 15th, you can redeem all War Savings Certificates issued in June 1940 . . . and so on, month by month, for the next few years.

If you are among the thrifty people who own War Savings Certificates, NOW is the time to take them back down, month by months and so they full due, endorse them and mail to Ottawa as described on the back of each Certificate. A cheque for the full face value of each Certificate will be sent to you in due course.

But here is another suggestion...

Have The Royal Bank of Canada do all this "office work" and saving for you. Save yourself the bother of searching out the right pieces of paper each month, endorsing them and mailing them off to Ottawa.

Here's what you do: Bring all your War Savings Certificates which you have at home or in your safe deposit box to your nearest Royal Bank Branch. We will put them in our vaults for safekeeping.

As the Certificates fall due, we will cash them for you and deposit the full face value (which includes interest) in the savings account of the registered owner, automatically. If you have an account with us, we will open one for you for this purpose.

The rest of this service, including safekeeping, mail your Certificates for you, is free, as the following rates show.

Juveniles Stop Edmonton Maple Leafs 6-2 Here

A lack of rubber didn't stop the Lacombe Juveniles from trying for a 6-2 victory over the Edmonton Maple Leafs before a fair sized crowd in the local rink on Monday night. The local youngsters were handicapped by the only loose puck available being the one that was used in the game as the referees and linesmen refused to supply from the Leafs, and rapped home the only balls of the final frame.

It was a smart hockey game as the two teams battled through several periods of scoreless hockey before the locals finally got going and players found their feet on the slippery surface. Lacombe scored two goals each other's clean but it was not until the last part the two teams battle raced completely

Weddings of Local Interest

SMITH-SWEET

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Cyprian Anglican Church Lacombe on Sunday Dec 28, when Dorothy Elizabeth Fletcher, youngest daughter of Mrs. Fletcher and the late Benjamin Fletcher, and Edward Preston Benning youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sweet were united in holy matrimony. The Rev. E. E. Lee (D.D.) officiated. Entering the church on the arm of her brother Mr. Ernest Fletcher of Calgary, the bride looked charming in a floor length gown of white satin with full length veil of embroidered net and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations. She was attended by Miss Betty Fletcher as bridesmaid and flower girl who wore a floor length dress of pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother where the bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake flanked with pink and white candles.

After a short honeymoon spent at Wetaskiwin and other points the happy couple will make their home in Mrs. Wetaskiwin B.C.

SAUNDERS-CRAIG

The marriage took place at 11 o'clock on Saturday of Miss Lorna Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Craig, Lacombe to Mr. Ernest Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Saunders of Lacombe. Rev. J. A. Hamilton officiated at the ceremony which was performed in the presence of immediate relatives and friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor length gown of white satin with a full length veil of embroidered net and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Miss Lois Craig was bridesmaid and Mr. Ken Craig was groomsman.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake flanked with pink and white candles and centre piece of white carnations and roses.

Mrs. Lorne Craig, mother of the bride received guests wearing a navy blue dress with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Saunders wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

Fifty four guests attended a luncheon and reception held later in the evening.

Mrs. Saunders is a graduate of the Craig home The bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake flanked with pink and white carnations

Experimental Stations

TOO little is known of the part played by Dominion experimental stations in Canada's agriculture. Time and time again the Canadian government created the turn of the century these stations are now dotted throughout the country. Each one has done wonderful work in the field of livestock improvement, extensive areas of land and employing impressive numbers of workers. They make an important contribution to better farming in Canada.

At Lacombe the animal husbandry division conducts experiments aimed at improving breeding stocks. Research in the poultry section has its main centers around the production of heavy hatchable, high egg producers — as opposed to White Wyandottes, low egg producers. Why the discrepancy? The answer began to appear in the present gathering at the 3 cents inducement that will be granted by the Canadian Government. Breeders were given the basis for experimentation in the crown division, and efforts are being made to develop a breed with economical egg characteristics more in keeping with the existence side fix the farm we expect known in Britain.

Developing crops more resistant more adaptable to Alberta's short growing season is the big part of crops experts at the station. It will be noted that Lacombe oats a new type initially determined here in 1940, won six prizes in Calgary's spring show for last year.

Horticultural authorities experiment in vegetables, fruits and flowers. They experiment based on growing records covering not over the past 30 years and many lands have been passed along to the small local gardener. One fact established by crossing experiments is satisfactory breed of corn capable of maturing before Alberta's early fall frosts. Officials experimented on growing peonies here some years ago, but the climate wasn't suitable.

While all the Lacombe station's activities are not intimate to settlers, we have in mind perhaps only some of the crop rotations more suited to small eastern Canadian farms it's worth is nonetheless valuable to better agriculture. That fact makes it undisputed manifold value by the contributions of stations in other parts of Canada.

New Immigration Scheme

AN advertisement at the current edition of The Globe declare with the subject of Dutch immigrants anxious to work on Canadian farms will undoubtedly arouse a good deal of interest. Farmers in this district willing to hire new hands are asked to contact the Selective Service Board at 2nd floor and state exactly the kind of help they want. Contact with the re-arrangement of qualified farmers ready to emigrate from Holland to Canada.

The system of bringing Dutch immigrants to the country is being worked out jointly by the Canadian Government. The Dutch Government and the Christian Reformed Church Immigration Committee which is acting as a go-between. The Canadian Government requires from a sponsor for every immigrant entering the Dominion, the farmers applying for farm help must be in effect, acting as sponsors of Netherlands workers willing to settle in Canada.

The workers agreement is at least a start on the road which all right thinking Canadians hope will bring a big influx of immigrants to this country. There is no reason to doubt the agriculture prosperous of these Dutch immigrants. They will help at the same time to fill one need for farm labor that exists in the country as well as to swell a population which Canada sorely needs.

Expected to bring several thousand Dutch farmers to the Dominion the arrangement between the two Governments would well be anticipated to include other European countries and other industries besides agriculture

Reflections of the Times

Keeping to Business

There is no doubt that long-winded public meetings which tend to be protracted to under ten miles all the way [illegible] the great problems [illegible] to unusual misery in Britain and Western Europe [illegible] to the week before us [illegible] Canada.

Quarts upon the meetings are allowed to run while at the [illegible] a period of still adaptation when the [illegible] Perhaps [illegible] but are more there now for me and I will return the favor. Perhaps [illegible] in the [illegible] good a lot of satisfaction out of the occasion now but the rest of the evening is bored almost to death.

If public meetings were kept to the point and made as brief as the actual business will permit greater interest and more active workers would be apparent in short order. Devoting a whole evening to passing a couple of resolutions that should be through in twenty minutes is not progress.

Farming Notes

Registration of Beekeepers

Everyone who keeps even one hive of bees is required to register with the Alberta Department of Agriculture each year. W. G. S. Hutchison, the Provincial apiarist, explains that this is necessary in order that bees may be controlled in any district, may find the brood combs and excessive loss by foul brood.

It seems that bees, like all other forms of life, are plagued by certain diseases, and while there is not much danger of these spreading to bees in a little confirmed through the provision it needs careful watching to keep it from spreading.

Mr. Hutchison points out that the names of beekeepers are an aid to inspection, provides information on the number of beekeepers in the province, is required by each hive and the total honey crop in the province. This in turn is a guide to honey marketing. All the information provided by beekeepers registering is treated as confidential by the Department of Agriculture.

An application for Registration form is sent each year to all those who are believed to be beekeepers. Those who have not received and registered promptly to the Provincial Apiarist at Edmonton. Anyone who has bees but who has not received a Registration form, but is a beekeeper, should write requesting to be registered. There is no charge for registration, but those are penalties for not registering.

Water For the Dairy Herd

Every good dairyman is conscious of the need of high protein feeds, but it must be remembered that has little value unless it is used with an adequate supply of protein. In most places water is readily available and those should be no reason for not providing an abundant supply at all times. In summer this is a fairly simple matter, but in winter a little more thought is required.

The amount of water consumed by a dairy cow depends upon her size milk production, the kind and amount of feed fed, and the temperature of the surrounding air. Cows allowed free access to water will consume greater quantities than if they are watered only once or twice a day.

Experiments conducted at the University of Alberta show that dairy cows drink between 9% and 4% gallons of water for each pound of milk produced. The experimenters also found that where the cows had free access to water at all times, they drank about 3% more water and produced around 6% more milk than when they were watered twice daily. Where they were watered oftener than twice a day increased milk yields will result.

The ideal arrangement of course is to have water available in the barn at all times. Where this is not possible another convenient way is to let the water trough should be sheltered from the wind; it should be not too distant from the barn, and a heater should be used during the winter months to raise the temperature of the water. The keynote is to provide conditions that will encourage maximum consumption of water by the dairy herd.

Prevent Goitre in Lambs

Last spring reports coming in to the Live Stock office of the Alberta Department of Agriculture indicated that goitre of new born lambs was showing up in several flocks. This is not surprising when one remembers that the past moisture of many Alberta districts are deficient in iodine.

A timely suggestion from Live Stock Superintendent J. Chamberlain reminds us of the ease with which goitre in lambs can be prevented. Pregnant ewes should be allowed access to salt containing potassium iodide. Take 6 ounces of potassium iodide, dissolve in a small quantity of water as possible, and sprinkle over 100 pounds of loose salt. Keep among the salt while sprinkling and until it is dry. Feed in salt boxes protected from snow and rain.

Lacombe, Alta

Dear Sir

Some time ago you invited letters from residents of this district. With your permission I will now take advantage of same.

In your editorial of the 11th last re the forced vacation of F E McLeod, you refer to the property branch here and we also want the liquor store.

You also suggest that the provincial government erect a new building instead of remodelling the old one and that such action would be greeted with applause from all sides. In this town I think most people are losing myself [illegible] will be pleased to see the liquor store and that [illegible] the Liquor Store and that all sides would co-operate with the government on the building of a new one.

The Evening Auxiliary of St. Andrew's United Church will resume their meetings on January 21st at the home of Mrs. R. D. McDougall at 8 p.m.

Mrs. C. E. Miller returned from Edmonton after attending the funeral on January 5 of her mother Mrs. Cowton, who was taken ill while visiting her daughter in Edmonton. She was well known here as she visited often with her brother Mr. Parkin. She had been in hospital for most of the time the past five years. Mrs. Cowton had lived in Edmonton over 30 years. The community extends sympathy to Mrs. Miller, Mr. Miller and the family.

Joe Miller is visiting relatives in Caldonia.

The annual school meeting held last Saturday was attended by two of the local board members and by ratepayers attended. The board is trying to arrange another date when it is hoped a full representation of ratepayers will be present.

WEDDINGS

BUTCHER—MOORE

The United Church, Bentley was the scene at a pretty wedding on Saturday, January 3 at 1:30 p.m. when Shirley Anne, second daughter of Mrs. Dora Moore and the late Mr. Clem Moore, was married to Kenneth Butcher, younger son of Mr. George Butcher and the late Mrs. Butcher of Bentley. Rev. Armstrong officiated.

Entering the church on the arm of her brother Allan, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin, with a full-length veil of white net the identical veil worn.

The bridesmaid Miss Cimaine Moore, sister of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of blue brocade and carried a bouquet of roses.

Lester Holman was groomsman, while Dick Moore and Cliff Butcher were the ushers. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Allan Moore and Carl Rankin sang "O With Bright Joy" during the signing of the register. The church was tastefully decorated with yellow and white cut flowers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother for the immediate relatives after which the young couple left for Calgary for a brief wedding trip. On their return they will reside on their farm near Bentley.

The very best wishes of the community go with Mr. and Mrs. Butcher in their new life.

The Royal Bank of Canada Annual Meeting

Sydney A. Dobson, President, delivers Ongoing economy and Continued full to provide what is necessary to carry Dominion Forward. Annual Meeting of Shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada held with its 4 of London in both Canada and Abroad.

Sydney Allen, General Manager reports marked increase in earnings, deposits, loans and investments. Total assets now exceed $1 billion. Dividend Rate increased from 10 to 12 per share.

The annual meeting of the Shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada was held at the Head Office, Montreal, on Wednesday, January 14th, 1948. The Chairman, Sydney A. Dobson, presided and the following report was submitted:

Before production and employment reached their present high levels, it was necessary to make good progress in the post-war period with the task of reconversion. Much of that task is now completed. It should be noted that Canada's experience in this respect compares favourably with that of the United States. Canada's reconversion was accomplished in a relatively short period of time and without serious dislocation.

In the reconversion period, the Bank has been called upon to provide finance with new requirements and to meet the needs of customers who, in 1946 and since, have had to rebuild their businesses. The Bank has responded and provided over $1 billion of new credits to customers during the past two years. Loans to business have increased by $600 million, or 100%, since the end of 1945. Loans to individuals, other than mortgage loans, have also increased substantially. Mortgage loans have been made in large volume and the total now outstanding is $200 million higher than at the end of 1945. Loans to farmers have increased by $50 million, or 50%, since the end of 1945.

Deposits have also increased substantially. Total deposits have risen by $1,200,000,000 since the end of 1945. Deposits now stand at $3,000,000,000. This is the first time deposits of any chartered bank in Canada have exceeded three billion dollars. Deposits have increased in every province in which the Bank operates. Deposits in the Bank's Canadian offices have increased by $1,100,000,000 since the end of 1945. Deposits in the Bank's offices in the United States have increased by $100,000,000 during the same period.

The Bank's total assets now exceed one billion dollars. Total assets at the end of 1945 were $2,100,000,000. They now stand at $3,300,000,000. This increase of $1,200,000,000 is the largest in the Bank's history.

RECORD INVESTMENTS

Canada and Mr. Dobson said been supported because the Government, business and labour have been willing to work together in the Canadian people have been willing to work hard and Canada's economic resources have been developed. Total production in Canada in 1947 is estimated at $10,000,000,000. This is more than all the goods and services produced in Canada in the first ten years of this century. In 1900 we exported goods worth $117,000,000. In 1947 the volume of our trade should exceed $5,000,000,000. The Bank is one of the many institutions which have benefited from the growth of Canada's economy. Deposits have increased from $1,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 in 18 years. Loans have increased from $200,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 in the same period. Capital funds have increased from $75 million to $200 million in 1948. When translated into dollars of the same value as the 1900 dollar, the increase is to $2 per cent equal to an increase of $275 per person per year.

"I feel that I am typical of the many millions of ordinary people in Canada who have benefited from 1901 to 1948. The total personal expenditure per man, woman and child in Canada in 1901 was $200 per person. In 1948 we expect the goods to be worth $1,000 per person. This is an increase of ten times. Employment expanded five times in the same time. Income per person in August last was five times as much as in 1901. Our average personal income increased from $171 million in 1901 to $1,900 million in 1946. When translated into dollars of the same value as the 1901

Paving The Roads

THERE has been a certain amount of dubious handshaking over the town council's proposed paving program in the streets of Lacombe. Many business men and the high cost of living make the average citizen hesitate to support any public works project at this time. We admit the load today is staggering particularly as the federal field.

The town paving program is not as bad as it sounds however. To be concrete on five or six blocks of the main streets will involve the $60,000 on annual payment of about $6,000 (with interest) over a 15 year period at 4% The cost is relatively approximate as considered as returns less with present wages costs of about $2,000 each year for the same streets at rent. That would only be $8 a month for the better and well known a rough surface with the accompanying curse of dust, and a half dozen pairs.

What town councillors want to know is whether or the citizens of Lacombe want paving these streets and be done with it. It will last another 15 years to the rate over 15 years but nothing the municipal utilities. Or do they want to wait over 20 years sounds still better to this newspaper. Council at the same time would be required all costly repair work and there would be nothing to show for the money spent less dust, and several roads in the business section that would need substantial business to the town.

The proposition will be discussed further at the Board of Trade annual meeting next month. Councillors will be on hand to answer relevant questions and inquiries. In the meantime, think over the scheme over. This paper will welcome letters on the subject.

The Handshake

HANDSHAKING in the Western hemisphere is probably evolved from a spontaneous gesture of friendship. In the Orient it is customary on introduction to shake hands with yourself a trifle less than vigorously as from a lot of Americans. Our Western custom leaves us at the mercy of any one all kinds of handshakers.

There is the soft handshake for example, that comes from the moist palm of some over-perspiring individual. There is the "bone crusher" kind, when the big paw of some Alex climbers your own little fist in a death grip. The "pump handle handshake characterizes the man who thinks individual who carries your arm back up and down without having to see where he is going.

Worst of all is the feeble touch of the jelly-fish." You look out your hand to grasp his in manly fashion and wobbly mushy soft, flabby piece of flesh that feels more like bake-warm liver Conversation is impossible. You shake the thing, then, but the moment you form of the course is not very reminiscent.

Many all handshakes reveal character we might as well shake hands firmly and graciously The greeter will read much unwritten double in the Midgetwood or rawhide opposite you and leave the proper impression.

Shaping Foreign Policy

NO LONGER subservient on policy the United States is making a magnificent contribution toward the economic recovery of half the world. In the words of President Truman, as his last message to Congress

> [illegible]

The trouble with America's and to help is that it has been given in dribbles. There has been no planned program and nothing to the confusion further was a piece meal installation of the relief of the damage in the devastated areas

Along [illegible] the Marshall Plan to remedy both evils. It is under estimated at between a 17 and 22 billion dollar and program, the United States Congress is being asked to authorize a 17 billion-dollar loan spread over 4 to years. Close to seven billions is being asked for the first year to June 1948 the object is not to allow 16 nations of West Europe to merely submit all piecemeal and has saved up to now but to help bring about an actual [illegible] and reconstruction of industry

The passage of that bill through Congress will have no easy sailing It will mean definite sacrifice for Americans for several years But most good-thinking Americans believe it is a cheap investment for the returns a Western European bastion for democracy and a revival of prosperous world trade

The necessity for a Marshall Plan indicates another of the drastic offshoots of war and the need to revive the wheels of industry to improve educated methods 10 years after the beginning of the post-war period It also reflects the steady weakening of the American mind to the plight of a whole world, and the part the United States must play in it.

Farming Notes

Grading Honey

Alberta beekeepers have asked for grading on honey this crop down from the normal production that has been achieved during the last few years Albertans have discovered the ability to produce honey in large volume Most of the 6,700,000 lbs produced in 1947 was produced by small operators and does not reach the trade. but comes and more will be getting into commercial channels.

W. G. S. Hendry, Provincial Apiarist, Alberta Department of Agriculture, says that in meeting conditions change in the beekeeping industry Where large acreages of clover become available to bees in quantity for nectar production is established. It is the honey from these large apiaries that reaches the trade

Mr. Hendry points out that the honeycomb should have the protection that grading affords. this has already become recognized in this production on most agricultural grades.

Grading regulations to apply on honey exempt direct producer-consumer sales, were asked for by the Alberta Beekeepers Association A number of regulations has been prepared and means of administering them are now under consideration. Under these regulations the Honey Producer will not be responsible for the proper grading and marketing of his own honey. An inspection service will be maintained to check on the grading when the honey has been sold and found to be faulty.

This grading will work no hardship on the careful beekeeper It will encourage all producers to improve the quality of their product, a problem and make it possible for the beekeeper to live happy with some confidence

Conservation Meetings

At many county points in Alberta this week the Agricultural Service Boards are sponsoring meetings on Soil Conservation and Weed Control This is a subject that concerns every farmer in the province

The meetings have already started some of them with an attendance of between 60 and 70. W Lehay Assistant Supervisor, of Soil Conservation for the Alberta Department of Agriculture reports keen interest and lively discussion at the meetings about these meetings" he says is that they deal entirely with local affairs There's nothing general about them Forage crops fertilizers, soil erosion, chemical weed control, weed farm management all are discussed from the point of view of the district and the farmers in the district."

Watch for announcements from your Service Board Think it over in the meantime and go to the meeting prepared to express views and ask how they compare with those of other residents of the district

Junior Seed Fair

Dates of the 1948 Provincial Junior Seed Fair have been announced January 26, 27 and 28, at the Exhibition Grounds, Calgary This is one of the big events at which the boys and girls of Alberta exhibit samples of wheat oats, seed barley flax, rapeseed and fall rye and last year nearly 350 samples were exhibited

G. S. Black, Supervisor of Junior Activities for the Alberta Department of Agriculture points out that this contest is open to any farm boy or girl between the ages of 12 and 20 years. The contestants must be over 12 and under 23 years of age. Many attractive prizes and special prizes are offered, and the experience gained in events of the kind goes far towards pressing up contestants for the shows at Toronto and Chicago

Those who wish to prepare a sample of grain for the Provincial Junior Seed Fair should contact the authorities without delay Only one quart of grain is required for exhibit Full information can be obtained from the District Agriculturist

Rural Electrification

RURAL electrification advances to bring the benefits of electricity to the farm are getting hotfooted in the rich agricultural district surrounding Lacombe. Three separate projects are in the making and applications have been registered each with strong committees. Origin of more than 100 farmers to bring power right into the yard. Each organization covers a broad area of about 100 square miles. Each has announced the amount of some 75% of the farmers within the specified territory, showing that the majority of farmers are ready to the undisputed benefits of rural electricity.

There is no need to labor on what power means to the farmer. Probably higher in place of lamps in the general night benefit morning the eye. Making the cow in the barn in dark early morning hours by the dim shadows of a flicker of light a old stuff. In the yard a power may does the work of a dozen men interested moving wood. Pop's switch, and get water from the well with a power pump indoors, the drudgery of the home is removed by the electrical appliances that make way for automatic for a washing machine in place of the scrub board.

Electricity of course just means the end of farming, not better farming. It is the convenience power brings that makes it appealing and although most farms have small motors used to put up to harness radio electricity it is not to satisfactory for reasons in which the majority of farmers have specific farmed electrification organizations suggests they realize that fact. The power is considered bringing power to the next farm is progressive, and in keeping with today's higher, modern standards of living

Hockey on the Corner Lot

IN these days of professionally paid hockey players under the game of amateur status, it is good to see kids on the neighborhood outdoor rinks playing the game for the fun of it.

Two things of snow will probably form the goal posts. A tennis ball may be the puck. And then they go to it, nine rules with crudely rushes that touch the ice at every stride, battered hockey sticks that are chopped and broken to half their size. These conditions don't detract from the fun one whit. Four defensemen and six forwards swing after the puck or do equivalent in the enthusiasm in efforts to imitate the play of their hockey idol.

Then an early school days the love graduates from the beginner's stage and receives their first training in organized hockey. A wide-eyed youth relives lunch time hours to go under and frantically tries to sort out the disordered array of colored hockey sweaters that supply reds, with yellows with blues. Managers may be readily belonged to these logs with which to shoot goals. And the most pleasant part of the game to the aftermath when the game is played over again with unrestrained zeal and color.

As long as there is cold weather in winter, so long as there is water to coax to freeze to ice, Canada will continue to be the heaven for the world's best hockey players. Those youngsters are the hockey stars of tomorrow.

The Lid is Off

TODAY'S high cost of living is receiving intensive attention on the part of us all because it affects us all a lot more than it did one year or even six months ago. The buying power of the dollar ago at present has been reduced to a level with. No longer does the spend from the pocket buyer is getting louder

Why are we going up and up the real value of the dollar down? One specific reason is that the Government lifted controls prematurely last year on some of the basic necessities relating to food and clothing. Their purpose in taking off the controls is understandable it was credit. Business and labor wanted to get back to the free-for-all as quickly as possible where the supply demand level would be its own price tag. Unfortunately that level is still abnormal with shortage continuing in the post war period. Heavy demands overseas finally create the shortage. Premiers of run-away prices in the United States adds to the storm

Result: new controls clamped on the rising price list of some commodities like butter, meats and hides. But only on some commodities, said finance minister Douglas C Abbott, in recognizing those price ceilings, many the consumer it is to cure-all for inflation. Let us hope! Consolation, for results the price list is all on other goods, and that inflation is already here without going big wild chasing high prices further up the ladder

District Agriculturists Meet

Alberta's District Agriculturists met for their Annual Conference at the Parliament Buildings, Edmonton, on December 15 16 and 17 During the course of the conference the past years addressed by Hon D. B. MacMillan, Minister of Agriculture and by the Deputy Minister, Mr. O. S. Longman.

Reports from the D. A.'s indicated growing realization on their territories of the need for soil maintenance and improvement. Interest in summer fallowing, rotation crops, live stock, and cultivation programs were discussed, and suggestions were made for the improvement of the Farmer District Agricultural Service. Directing of Lacombe attended.

2, 4-D Sprayers

Barring that 10,000 acres of grain were sprayed with 2, 4-D as a weed control measure on the Canadian prairies. It is estimated that about 1 to 10 times that amount will be sprayed in 1948. According to a memorandum issued by the Alberta Department of Agriculture spraying to date has proved much more successful than expected. Only a very limited amount of dusting with 2, 4-D was done in Alberta last year.

The amount of water required in the spraying process has been considerably reduced Early spraying was done with adapted orchard or tree work sprayers, and from 50 to 100 gallons of water per acre were used. It is now agreed that 3 to 5 gallons per acre is ample.

Some of the qualifications outlined to determine in a sprayer are high concentration, low pressure low gallonage, a high-type boom, coverage and distribution of liquid, and good equipment and so on.

Reflections of the Times

The Two Sides to Social Credit

Any students of politics is reminded every day when he reads the newspapers that our province is not only divided into political parties but that most of these parties are divided into factions

Premier Manning of the Social Credit party is the leader of his party because he has all the advantages of having a premier's job. Some of those that the Social Credit party is immune from factional disturbances. There exists in that party a group which is called the Independent Social Credit from the Manningites and the Fallowites. The Douglasites believe in the feasts of Social Credit, pure and undefiled and they have little time for the text books and the teachings of Major Douglas the originator of Social Credit.

The Douglasites have been raising rumpus in party councils for the past three of four years and they were particularly vocal at the B.C. convention at Calgary about two years ago. They demanded that the principles of Social Credit be put into operation or was promised by the late Mr. Aberhart when he came into power in 1935. When about monthly dividends they asked. What about the blood stream that was to carry the principles of Social Credit through the whole internal economy of the province.

The chief opposed however is Mr Fallow and the Fallowites have apparently no use for the Douglasites. The Douglasites are firm believers in pure Social Credit which means to me impracticable in a non-sovereign state like Alberta. The Fallowites are strong believers in "applied" Social Credit, meaning the party in power, with the assistance of Conservative votes.

In other words the Fallowites are realists They know by this time than any party Social Credit legislation will be thrown out by the courts and so any case would be opposed by the Conservative allies Hence their course of action is to appease the Douglasites but to keep the Conservatives at bay and also throw a monkey wrench into the CCF machinery The appears to be a workable course from an election standpoint

It may be that three factional factions are merely the evidence of growing pains. On the other hand they may represent the conflict between two major tendencies in human nature the tendency to follow what is considered to be right or the tendency to follow what is considered expedient

Price Control And The Farmer

The rapid increase in the cost of living, especially of foodstuffs, is a matter of great concern to the consumer and of equal concern to the farmer. During the last three or four months the consumer has been startled and unsettled with the returns he received although the prices have advanced since then, the cost of living has been the subject of considerable discussion.

The food prices have contributed to the high market level. The farmer now receives a horrible share of the consumer's dollar, but the cost of the action While many of the farmers have benefited by the higher level based and have control their debts, the majority of farmers have not been able to take advantage of the opportunities of active and the uncertainty of what may be in the future, which has prevented them in the case of making long term plans.

The increase in beef prices has not been due to subsidies alone. Then too, the increase in consumer has been due to the increase in farmers. Some groups in factory have made substantial gains. More ceilings will be removed on meats, but farmers' costs will continue to rise. Moderately the consumer will be up considerably this year

At the Calgary convention, President Manning declared himself against price control in any form as a power fraught with danger of Canada's meeting price ceilings. Farm organizations are fighting vigorously for the continuance of Wheat Board. Their campaigns are strongly endorsed by the C.C.F. party.

Johnny doesn't know why he is able to carry so many of the shiny metal pails. "Aluminum" means nothing to him at present. It will, when he grows up. For this modern metal is already doing much to make farm work easier.

This light metal in the man's tool is being used for all kinds of farm implements and equipments to reduce labour and time hunger — to can things to make time, garage doors, flashing, roofing, siding, ventilators.

It is a "material" for all sorts of uses about the dairy — so light, so easy to clean and, as aluminum paint, for steel and concrete use, it is equivalent to painting on a shield of wear and weather resisting metal.

In the kitchen, too, it saves endless labour in making utensils and labour-lessening appliances. Yes, aluminum will make life on the farm a lot easier. Johnny's parents have discovered its many time-saving advantages.

Hospital Contract Rates

The hospital board of the Lacombe municipal hospital district has set the following contract rates for 1948:

Non-taxpayers within the hospital district are liable and a contract with the hospital board for the care at $3.50 for single persons and $12.50 for married persons.

Contracts will be accepted from non-residents of the hospital district providing they are prepared to pay 2 mills on their assessed value, plus a $5.00 service charge. Ratepayers residing in hills municipalities who are non-residents of the hospital district will pay the same contract rate as a resident of the district, i.e. $5.00 service charge.

Dependents need take out no contract to receive municipal hospital care. Dependents being defined as:

An unmarried son or daughter residing with the taxpayer under the age of 18 years, or any son or daughter of any age who is actually and regularly attending school, and a member of the taxpayer's family, but who is unable to apply for hospital contract on his own behalf because of the limitations to apply to hospital contract on his own behalf because of the limitations of age.

All Contracts must be applied for by March 1, 1948.

Bentley Curlers Oust Lacombe And Ponoka

A powerful Bentley curling team composed of Cecilia smith and skipped by Bob Downey defeated two rinks from Lacombe and Ponoka here on Wednesday of last week to earn the right to enter the Northern Alberta Championships at Edmonton on January 23 and 24

Bob's rink composed of Donald Palmer brother Fergus Downey and Garnet Reiter whipped Lacombe's two rinks skipped by Andy Semchuk 16-1 Only two ends on the local rink were Ted Parlang, Gerald Edwards and Fred Meadows

While byrne had all the way the Lacombe students showed lack of practice and proved no match for the Bentley boys

In the finals, the Bentley rink met the Lacombe two-ender from Ponoka's foursome skipped by Harry Rudd. Final score was 9-6 but the rinks were tied 6 6 going into

If the Bentley curlers manage to handle the Edmonton shamble-hitch and win the Northern Alberta at least 20 rinks are expected to enter they would qualify for the provincial school championship playing against the winner of Southern Alberta in Edmonton at early February

Leading auto makers switch to new kind of tire

Call Super-Cushion by Goodyear greatest tire advance in 15 years

Bigger, softer tire runs on only 24 pounds of air... gives incredibly smoother ride, amazing new comfort, safety and mileage.

The Super-Cushion is an altogether new KIND of tire. Enabling car manufacturers to use a huge improvement in motor car operation. Turn they will!

EVERY day more and more new 1948 cars are rolling off the production lines equipped with a new kind of tire

Auto engineers who tested this new tire ... the Super-Cushion by Goodyear ... said "We want this tire for our new cars ... don't know why."

First tire to lick hazard shock

After the tests these engineers were openly excited. It really absorbs lateral shock," they said "Never ride it out satisfactorily bodies"

Bumps and conventional tires absorb up-and-down shock. But until Goodyear produced the Super-Cushion, lateral (crosswise) shock was one of the "5 things yet to be licked in the modern motor car." Pillowy Super-Cushions soak up crosswise side.

To you, the motorist, this means a mountain-ally new kind of ride ... less fatigue ... less wear and tear on your car from engine to body bolts

Super-Cushions blot out shocks, help prevent rattles lengthen the life of your car

Used Goodyear produced the Super-Cushion, lateral (crosswise) shock was one of the five things yet to be licked in the modern motor car

Super-Cushions soak up both kinds of shock, give an unbelievably smoother ride, better car handling, cut wear and tear on your car!

An incredibly softer ride—easier, safer car handling

The Super-Cushion is a bigger, softer tire. It holds more air but runs on only 24 pounds of air pressure instead of the usual 28 to 32. It gives a softer ride, an unbelievably smoother ride ... not only on bad roads but even on good roads.

Super-Cushions bring you indescribable new ease and security. Your car hugs the road better seems to float through traffic. On a small car it's like riding in a limousine for the ride and feeling of security you get in a big car ... they make big cars ride even better.

Super-Cushions are safer—give more mileage

Super-cool runs literally flies along the road. You get safer control ... it's easy handling ... especially on curves. Blow they're more likely to blow out the punch.' are harder to cut or bruise, have extra fibres / reinforcement.

Hospital Contract Rates

The hospital board of the Lacombe municipal hospital district has set the following rates for 1948:

Persons within the hospital district can take out a contract with the hospital board for the sum of $5.00 for single persons, and $15.00 for married persons.

Contracts will be accepted for residents of the hospital district providing they are prepared to pay 6 cents on their assessed value, plus a $5.00 service charge. Persons wishing to take out contracts, who are non-residents of the hospital district, will pay the same contract rate as a resident of the district, plus a $10.00 service charge.

The hospital board also set an amount to receive municipal hospital rates "dependents" being defined as "an unmarried son or daughter resident with the taxpayer and dependent upon him for support, who is under the age of 21 years, or who is a student of any college or institute for further and higher education, or who is mentally or physically incapacitated from earning a livelihood, and any resolution to apply to both urban and rural ratepayers of the hospital district."

All Contracts must be applied for by March 1, 1948.

Mr. Jaques Speaks

ABOUT every two years for the past fifteen years or less Mr. Jaques has been the recipient of requests within this Christmas-no constituency to return Norman Jaques as Social Credit representative to the Dominion house. After his Member of Parliament speech here earlier this month, it is hard to understand the reason why. The man has conviction and conduct of his address isn't much to be sneezed at.

When Mr. Jaques holds a meeting he lets the people he represents, we might reasonably expect to be told about what is going on down at Ottawa, or at least some of the highlights of it. He goes further like to how what his band as our representative has been doing on behalf of school, rural. What of the Grouse trade agreements? What of the postal contracts program introduced by the Government affecting every Canadian home and hotel? What of rental controls? What of the trial for sale of over-seven soldiers?

But Mr. Jaques spoke for two hours on defence of himself against his opponent who are waging a smear campaign against him. He found it pain by his actions before the eyes of a public that is becoming more critical in the light of the extreme public ill, he has been giving this consideration why Mr. Jaques and he was not anti-semetic pro-fascist, or glib in charging certain persons with all unfavourable tendencies. He has not succeeded, if ever all.

We are not attempting here to judge whether Mr. Jaques is guilty of these accusations or not.

There was nothing constructive in his message here. Apparently we could deal with a community venture he doesn't say how. His speech was disappointed. It certainly did not contain useful information whereby constituents might be proud of his re-election to Parliament.

The Honest Approach

LAST week, a press dispatch carried the story of a Los Angeles citizen who found a purse in a street car and returned it to its rightful owner. That doesn't mean such an act is exceptional that its purse contained over $1 000 and the means of identification. Not only did the finder forfeit $1,000 which many a human would have claimed his own but he also went to the end of trouble by trying to locate the owner notifying the transportation company and advertising in newspapers.

The hero of the piece was eventually discovered undoubtedly grateful and full of relief. It is the weakness or honesty of the leader which we are interested in, however. There were so many factors favoring the finder most apparently his decision was a large sum of money the impersonal feelings of one to a big city.

Here is a person who had firm faith in human nature, the best policy, opposed to Double Dealers. The monetary reward he undoubtedly received would not be his true reward. That would come from a satisfying peace of mind and from an inward triumph of the forces of good over evil.

Oh, Brother!

RED DEER is playing the big brother act again and Lacombe residents don't like it. The main actors were from Red Deer but mitigating parts were allotted to a few interested parties in Innisfail, Olds and Didsbury. A small news article in last week's issue of The Globe carried the names of the glad it encouraged the spirit of the Central Alberta Golf Clubs Organization into two sections.

In future Red Deer will head activities for the south division and Lacombe which was for merly the central point for all eight clubs will with Sunday Pinch Mr Weatherall. It is rather ten bad that a gradually built up junior organization like this one should be split up to suit the selfish interests of a small group which isn't in sympathy with the interests of the whole. The feeble excuse which seems to have been offered for the division was the excessive amount of money which would be unavailable for junior golf.

But as a united group, outsiders have shown only a mild interest in the large club and players have collected good prizes for the value. Operating in two sections we can expect less outside interest from players at a smaller rate and poorer prizes.

It might be useful to recall that at the start of the war years the organization was particularly due round Red Deer. Lacombe was the host village in the first struggle in 1939 and the organization has fully recovered it is healthy and doing rotors a special interest group to undo a lot of the useful work done. The pre-arranged partition rate at Red Deer attended by no more, even clubs except Lacombe was just another game of sports. We hope the north central Alberta organization can forget its selfishness brother and continue a good side next June in spite of the mysterious movements within its own solid ranks.

Alberta Dairymen's Convention

Plans for the 1948 Dairymen's Convention to be held at the Macdonald Hotel Edmonton on February 10, 11 and 12 are now being made. The program committee reports that favourable replies have already been received from most of those invited to speak.

Among speakers from the Alberta Department of Agriculture will be Dr. E. S. Hopkins Director of Veterinary Services, Dr. J. B. Lineker who will discuss Mastitis Control, A. M. Wilson Poultry Crops Commissioner and C. B. Harris, Extension Agriculturist Engineer. Mr. Harris will deal with dairy cattle housing.

As in previous years, general and secretarial meeting will be held and a special program is again being arranged for the ladies' visitors. One member from each of the 21 Dairy Call Clubs has been invited to attend as guest of the association. The chairman of the arrangements committee is A. T. Potter Northern Alberta Dairy Pool, Edmonton.

It is advisable to get apple stems in early for best germination. In order to ensure germination

Field Crop Varieties

Recommendations of the Alberta varietal recommendations for 1948 are now available from district agriculturists and from the field crops branch of the Alberta department of agriculture. Included on the list are varieties of wheat, oats, barley and flax recommended for each of the four soil zones of the province. A brief description of the qualities of the recommended varieties is given, including comparative yields, disease resistance maturing ability and general character istics.

The information prepared in leaflet form, will not only prove valuable to those contemplating a change of seed during the present year but will also serve as a guide to all interested in profitable crop production. The circular "Field Crop Varieties For Alberta" can be obtained without charge from district agriculturists or from the field crops branch of the Alberta department of agriculture

Order Seed Grain Now

Field Crops Commissioner A. M. Wilson urges Alberta farmers to take immediate action to obtain their seed grain requirements. Reports from certain districts are already having trouble as fill ing their needs. Late August frosts in the Peace River country in 1947 affected the germination to such a degree that many samples are showing less than a 50% germination. In other districts of the province had destroyed a great deal of crop Farmers in these districts must look elsewhere for seed supplies.

The farmer who has need for sale has a ready market in Eastern Canada and Quebec and some of the Maritime Provinces are looking to Western Canada for seed Buyers for the Eastern market are now busy in getting grain that will be suitable for seed and carloads will soon be on their way to farmers of Eastern Canada. The highest quality seed is the first to find a market. Every dollar is likely to mean poorer quality grain to grow another year's crop.

You may make some profitable discoveries by asking yourself and others questions about everything from mousetraps to nuclear rockets. Knowledge is Power. The more you learn, provided you have the ability, the more salt knowledge, increases your value to your employer and may start you on a new and exciting career.

And don't forget to be curious about people, too. A study of their interests, aims, behaviour and opinions can be equally rewarding.

Are you curious about what causes us to buy consumer goods? Savings affected by Canadians through their life insurance policies provide funds for investment in a wide variety of public enterprises, such as schools, highways, power plants, factories, homes and farms.

SMARTEST TRUCK LINE EVER BUILT

Hold Responsible Positions at Faulafer Motors Ltd.

HOWARD J. FAULAFER
Former resident in the city of Edmonton and until recently associated with Imperial Oil Ltd. for the past 29 years acquired the Cassidy Motor Garage in Lacombe on April 1947, and as agent distributors of Mercury and Lincoln Cars and Mercury Trucks for Lacombe and district, opened the doors with confidence in Lacombe area where Mr. Faulafer has already made many friends by his genial personality and courteous service. To serve the district in the most modern up to date premises on Railway Avenue Mr. Faulafer has now come to the West having been born in Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta, and resided in that province since that time. Mr. and Mr. Faulafer and daughters Betty and Pat, have taken up residence in Lacombe.

FRED STOREY
Well known throughout central Alberta, in both automotive and community circles, has recently become associated with Faulafer Motors Limited in the capacity of Assistant Manager. He brings a wealth of garage experience to Lacombe and district, and is associated with White Motors of Red Deer. Mr. Storey will be actively welcomed by the district for his energetic personality and courteous bearing. Fred graduated from the Kinsman Chartered Institute of Motor Engineers, and is a member of the C.P.A.A. under seasonal engineering and is well known in Red Deer and district where he has many friends.

E. G. (CURLY) COVERDALE
Service Manager, is no stranger to the town and district of Lacombe. He has had some 20 years in the automotive business and is certainly well qualified to handle the position. During the war, he was employed on M.T. mechanics. He and his capable staff are able to render complete service to the motorist and trade in town and district.

Old Newspapers Revive Days of Oil Lamps, Buggies

Some an untimely few some 30 years ago published the likes of early Western Globes, say old by newspapers brought in for inspection. Some days are objects of great interest.

We have three such papers on hand now one Western Globe printed in 1907 (much the worse for wear). A Stettler Independent on its first year of publication, and a Penny Post and Weekly Star dated January 2, 1907.

In Old Log House

They were found last week by Bill Gustafson, who was tearing down an old log house two miles north of Aspen Beach erected by his grandfather Otto Lundberg, about 1895. The Globe is practically non-decipherable but the Stettler paper is in good condition also to recount and recall some of the early history of those days.

An interesting letter is published from Dr. McIntyre M.P. to W. F. Puffer, member of north west for the Lacombe constituency in 1906. A grand old man he Puffer is still going strong here today at 85.

Postal Service

Dealing with postal service, the letter states in part, "You will be pleased to know that Mr. Oliver, Postmaster-General has promised to settle your post office difficulties with the utmost despatch."

An editor's note at the bottom of the letter says, "It is plainly to be seen from this letter that both our members are doing their best to secure us an adequate postal service, and it devolves on us now to render them all the assistance in our power."

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kelly of Portland, Oregon, were guests last week visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Geo. Moser.

WEDDINGS

HEISLER—HEALD

Miss Vivian Heald was united in marriage to George Nobels Heisler, B.C. by Rev. S. J. Watterson at the Baptist Church. Miss Heald looked very sweet who was performed under a canopy of pink and white and the altar was decorated with flowers and ferns.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father was beautifully dressed in a floor length gown of white satin which featured a sweetheart neckline and a long veil held in place by a wreath of Orange blossoms and tiny white pearls. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bride groom.

The bride attend, Miss Dorothy Taylor chose a floor length gown of pale blue net with sheer and carried a bouquet of red carnations. Miss Gloria Heald a sister of the bride was charming in a floor length wedding ring gown of pink net. She wore a flowered headdress and tiny white flowers and carried a bouquet of carnations.

The best man was Stanley Heisler, brother of the bride. Mr. Madeline Johnson sang "I Love You Truly" while the register was being signed and Miss Dorothy Cummings sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Gladys Butterfield, eldest sister of the bride.

Mrs. A. Heald greeted her guests at the reception in a dress of black silk crepe.

The bride chose a grey gabardine suit with black accessories for the honeymoon to be spent in Edmonton. The happy couple will reside at Nelson, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hamilton of Winnipeg.

Mrs. Stewart Thomas left Wednesday night for Vancouver to visit friends. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mount and her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnard.

Attend This Meeting

THE FIRST show at hand the annual meeting of the Town of Lacombe will be held next Monday evening (February 9). For the past 12 months we have heard ministerial mutterings and mumblings of discontent over the direction of matters by the town council. The grumbles increased but fell when council decided to convert the former Jenkins premises building into a new town office and he-but temporarily dreams of a fixed civic block constructed around a modern town office. Yet it is understood that there were rate payers, who rear a fuss and cry some town policies during the year fail to attend the respective annual meeting to voice their grievances.

The annual meeting is held for the express purpose of airing any disagreements and allowing councillors to give an account of their actions as the people's elected representatives. Council has a right to expect all to attend the meeting. It gives the council a full, moderate citizens are disinclined to be members of the town, elected men himself to pursue future activities with more firmness and confidence.

The annual meeting is more than a rehash of past events, however. Probably never before have so many important matters been left for the council to be settled in the near future. Council nonetheless needs guidance on the way to go, and it is not only the right but the duty of responsible citizens to help point the way.

Here are two issues of vital concern which must be answered soon: a new $220,000 school for high school students with adjacent auditorium, a $95,000 paving road program for Lacombe's business sections. These questions will undoubtedly be answered or left for the responsible authorities and next Monday is the proper time for residents to ask questions and learn the facts.

The growth of Lacombe and the increasing complexity of an informal affairs places greater responsibilities on the shoulders of the council members. Let's have a capacity house next Monday night to encourage them to carry on.

Municipal Hospitals

ONE of the most encouraging elements in the field of free government social services has been the continued increase in this province of the number of newly-formed municipal hospital districts. The municipal hospital set up does not create "free" hospitalization in the literal sense of the word, but it has enabled hospital rates to be materially reduced through the establishment of government grants and compulsory taxation by municipalities in the district. Municipal hospital members are entitled to hospitalization at the nominal sum of $1.00 per day compared to non-members' usual rates of $5.00 or more daily. While these persons, of course, are thus able to afford proper hospital treatment whenever necessary.

The transition from community or general hospitals to municipal hospitals has been effected rapidly during the past five years particularly in the rural areas. Wetaskiwin is the only large hospital not outside of the cities which still operates as a non-municipal hospital.

This new scheme has caused some difficulties, however, and it is time the provincial government was stepping in to right the wrongs. An over-all study of the map of Alberta shows a vast rectangle of municipal hospital areas, large and small, but with many adjacent sections lying in no apparent hospital district at all. Those residents support no hospital, and if they become sick and need hospitalization they must pay the full hotel charges. They are sharing themselves the advantages of a municipal hospital system largely through ignorance and lack of initiative.

The malady would be quickly cured if the government would set out by law the boundaries of all hospital districts in Alberta. The powers that be have the areas of the various rural school divisions and municipalities, and these are used for their upkeep by the ratepayers. Why not do the same for municipal hospital areas? There was some excuse for the government's more-slow attitude five years ago, but nearly all residents in these areas now realize the benefits municipal hospitals. The present hodge-podge of territories bring into no one position in and out of hospital districts is unreasonable.

Central direction is necessary to correct two other evils peculiar to municipal hospitals. At present a supporter at one district is not entitled to reduced ward charges in another even though the care of a specialist is needed. So the ultimate exchange of patients from one hospital to another could and should be supervised by the government wherever necessary without penalizing the patient.

It is the custom for municipal hospital boards to set their own mill rates within the district. Thus variations in taxation are absurdly out of line. It would be better to standardize these rates provincially so that ratepayers in one area aren't shelling out more money than ratepayers in an other for the privilege of obtaining the same municipal ward charges.

Municipal hospital districts are a good thing but they are unfair and ill-balancing influences in unison out the rough spots and make the benefits equally available to all.

Farming Notes

Cattle Grubs

Cattle grubs that infected hides are caps lost to the hand flow but summer are now causing loss of thrift in some Alberta herds. Cattle grubs in hindgut causes a waste of feed, reduced milk production and damaged hides. Although no steps can be done to relieve the situation now much can be done to prevent a recurrence.

Every grub that is allowed to leave its host and develop into a hard fly is a potential threat to continued production. Within a few months the grubs will appear as lumps on the backs of the cattle. Such offer they will open breathing holes in the lumps and remain there for a short time before escaping. Only during this short period can a successful effort be made against them.

A simple treatment with a derris powder preparation will destroy these pests and help to provide warble free pastures in 1948. Dates on the treatment will be announced later.

Director of Extension

Pig Pounders

Cold damp drafty floors can cause a severe set back among suckling pigs. Chilling due to sleeping on cold floors will cause shortness and lung abscesses. Scours, too, causes severe set back because of poor ventilation. Where the owners artificial heat should be provided and steps taken to improve the ventilation system. Other pigs can stated considerable cold provided it is not a damp cold and provided the sleeping quarters are kept dry.

To build up resistance in new born pigs two or three tablespoonfuls of high quality cod liver oil should be fed to the sow daily for three weeks before she is due to farrow. In addition two to three highly concentrated cod liver oil should be given to the sucking pig when he receives his reduced iron treatment for the prevention of anaemia.

Sows should be given protein of mineral supplement before and during the suckling period. Skimmed milk is also valuable for this purpose.

But if you can't get skimmed milk use protein concentrate in accordance with the manufacturer's directions.

Reflections of the Times!

The Teacher Shortage

One teacher shortage has passed its most critical stage". The statement by our Minister of Education will be widely welcomed. He adds cautiously "We are a long way from where the situation completely solved." As a warning against complacency, this is good common sense. Nothing has been done yet which will stabilize and maintain a teaching force adequate to the needs of this growing province. We are still drifting along paying high wages when we are due to be paying low wages, still training too few teachers to be had. Just now we are bribing young people with scholarships into the teacher training college with money that could be spent on direct retiring payment. The great bulk of educational dollars is invested and will be the people where it hurts most on future school terms. Present day costs of modern schools with wood teachers cannot be met from present day quoted tax system. Granted that these are desert times we live in, the fact remains that there are thousands of bright young men and women who could be teaching our children. And we are still waiting for a Provincial policy which will lift them into the most essential public service, and

FRASER - JOHNSTON

A wedding of local interest took place on Saturday, January 31, at Sherbrooke United Church, Calgary, when Miss Helen Margaret Johnston of Calgary was united in marriage to Robert Henry, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Fraser of Jeffrey. Rev. S. J. Parsons officiated.

The bride who was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. H. L. Trotter of Calgary, was dressed in a floor length gown of white satin with a floor length veil and carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only ornament was a cameo brooch of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bridesmaid, Miss Violet Fraser sister of the groom, chose a floor length plain sheer gown and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The best man was J. W. Fraser brother of the groom.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Empress Grill for 25 guests.

Local out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Lobb, Mr. Ken Lester and Miss Doris Smith all of Jeffrey.

After short honeymoon at Banff the happy couple are now residing in the Jeffrey district.

Try All Three Creameries!
But Don't Ship Steady to Any
Until You Have Tried Bluffton

A Statement
By Lloyd Montgomery
Manager

"Hundreds of farmers are taking advantage of the high price of cream and are milking quite a few cows. Here is the time to "clean" and ship wisely. Don't ship cream steady to any plant until you've actually tried our Creamery. In our plant we have achieved more than we had ever hoped for. In 1947 we received 38% more cream than the previous year. How did we do it?

By giving a pick up service unequalled in the Province of Alberta. By paying the highest price for every pound of cream.

By cutting costs to the bone and passing these savings to you. Again let me urge you to try our plant. Be sure to try the other Creameries First. That's the way to get the most for your cream."

Curling Bonspiel

THE LENGTH shrinks, the stroke of sweeping arms is seen, and the music of rock curtsying echoed through the Lacombe curling rinks this week-end as the local annual bonspiel got under way. Fifty-six entered the quiet 220 sportsmen gathering to enjoy one of winter's most popular pastimes which nearly always grows more interested and more players.

Curling is one of the few sports where there is no bodily contact. There are the fast, rasping sweeper figures on the true center of the stone's path, then glides the stone. Opponents are nerved assembly and quickly its former movements either opposing curlers to calculate exactly where they'll need their next stone. And when all the movements of various rinks play head to rink, they are still able to draw out a few words of cheer or thoughtful speculation of a sober and fellowship which prevails.

Such an atmosphere has been apparent at the local rink this week. The losers must be congratulated for having the joy of excellent shape. The local bonspiel executive directing the draw directors credit for keeping things moving with a minimum of confusion. Well done all of you, and the ladies are of the highest order. All in all it's been a grand week for a grand game.

With June just around the corner we'll soon be getting up all those weddings and completing the last sentence at the Guild way. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon at Banff and the rest of the groom's said

For Trade—and For Peace

FRANCE and Italy like most other European countries are hard pressed to keep their down hitherto unbreakable national trade barriers. They have formed a customs union which is designed to benefit both nations by pooling of supplied items, the superior resources of France with the greater labor power of Italy. They will subsidize rather than compete on the world market both in buying raw materials and in selling the finished goods.

The initial agreement for this is a broad pattern of economic co-operation between almost all Western European countries. The world's new Big Two (Belgium-Netherlands-Luxembourg) customs union has been credited as one of the main factors in the spectacular though still precarious economic revival of those countries. American Marshall Plan aims to re-establish and re-generate the capacity of industrial output among the European democracies. And by most the trend. Britain has every been talk of a large-scale Western European union.

Strange it is that the ability of men to co-operate with men already becomes so apparent as an hour of need. It is then the traits almost seem instinctive to us. Then international security, currencies and for the bond of understanding and friendship from his fellow. These nations are going to for their reconstruction on a peace time world together as one.

Yet in a civilized world we refuse to promise to meet these same needs of the peace-time days of peace. It is necessary to pool our resources here, too and to all countries as United Nations with a common aim.

Farming Notes

Farm Electricity

E. S. Mills, Extension Agricultural Engineer, Alberta Department of Agriculture reports that some 7,000 farms in Alberta today are getting electric light and or engine drives individual farm plants. Add to these 1,000 in use owned by neighbor power and we have a total of 16,000, or approximately 30% of Alberta farm families who are receiving the benefits of electricity.

Although rapid extension of high line power on to a large bed during the next few years, there are still many districts in Alberta where the farmer will have to rely for some time to come on the individual farm plant. Research and experience gained during the recent world war have improved the efficiency and usefulness of these small electric plants.

A few years ago the individual plants were quite expensive and could be used for little more than lighting purposes. Today however small, not too costly plants are doing the lighting as well as running the washing machine, pressure water operating refrigerators and several other appliances. Still more plants are now being manufactured which produce 110 volt electricity. Although the majority are still 32 volt farms are also numerous which require a transformer if required for operation. Plants are available in a wide range of sizes and styles.

A Valuable Forage Crop

A grass that does not move sometimes as forage is sometimes in Alberta is Creeping Red Fescue. J. B. Reitmeil, superintendent of Crop Improvement Alberta Department of Agriculture advises that although Creeping Red Fescue is not suited to the drier areas, it will prove a valuable addition to forage crop mixtures in the moister sections of the province both for hay and seed production.

Creeping Red Fescue is a highly nutritious grass that remains green throughout the season. It will withstand heavy pasturing and is outstanding in effect on range lands. It does not have the vigorous growth habit of Brome and is not to be used in mixtures with it. It is also unsuited for low wet areas which border the bog & surface of the water. Under these conditions it does not thrive although the grass is not particularly good as a hay crop it is good pasture to add a pound or two per acre to forage mixtures because of its value in adding fiber to the soil.

Letter To The Editor . . . .

Editor
The Lacombe Globe
Dear Sir

Yes, Yah Yes of course I will, I conquered. The phrase with which Julius Caesar announced his victory at Rimini, can hardly be applied to Mr. Jacques recent visit to Lacombe.

It's a far cry from the days of Cleghorn, and Gunner Smith and the Ruby Big Shots of 1920, but quite a change from his Premiers in the Indian Council Hall. Gladiator was made of our own proletaria statesmen, honesty, no bull, no bluff, and our government of the people, elected by the people for the people.

It would be very interesting to hear from Mr. Jacques as to how he has served his constituents in the House of Commons, and the percentage of days he has served in our interest at the House of Commons since June 1945 to the present time. We love the Bill, we want to know "Is" We want to meet Mr. Jacques in a constituency of Consumption. A state of Society in which the people have property as common Public Enterprise. When people get rich and die one and like the Prophets of Baal, fail to produce the goods they have promised them, they must therefore they try to destruct others from by crying Communism or Red Peril.

So Our 30% Wasn't High Enough! New York Raises Us to 70%

Last week we pointed out that a tremendous increase in Provincial revenue was to be consumed by taxing the residents to at least 30% of net companies at high year during fields Now it appears that the oil companies in the Lethbridge field are willing to pay a considerably higher royalty still At a recent sale by lease of an island on the Saskatchewan River a New York oil company agreed to pay 70%, royalty. This would seem that a well on the property would net the Provincial govern-ment approximately $120 thousand per year, whereas the 12½% royalty which the lessee oil Oil company pay on an oil well would be but $30 thousand. This is definitely an excess profit of $100 thousand per year for Imperial

Now that the field extends across the river the amount of Provincial revenue at stake is colossal as there will doubtless be hundreds of wells in the oil ready proven field. Advt

The Annual Meeting

Town and school affairs came in for discussion at the annual meeting of the ratepayers held last week but the discussion was mostly from officials of both the town and the school district. Ratepayers generally and those entitled to vote had little interest at the meeting as but little part in the actual discussion. The reports given by the committee on town matters and on school board chairman J. G. Hamilton K.C. on school affairs were interesting but there was little to be said as matters on which ratepayers were not in full accord when time came for action.

What was of interest however there were exceedingly few in evening.

All residents of the town though are not unanimous in agreement with the proposals of the town council. The meeting of the streets could which many will be heard in the near future was discussed at the meeting by the officials but only one or two persons were impressed by the rate payers at the meeting concerning this expenditure.

Yet every day as back streets and on streets Lacombe. Mud roads or lack of them are criticized by ratepayers. What was the question and likelihood of the town getting a "paving" question and discussion was not held by Mayor Walker but little was said.

Talk at an annual meeting can go to waste unless a quorum if an existing out the number of the people but talk on street repair seldom is taken either side in the form of motion.

The annual meeting of a ratepayers should be a compelling force for all ratepayers. From the annual meeting town officials should be able to obtain useful and evidence of the ratepayers' feelings that they may put into effect the wishes of the majority. When and only when the annual meeting becomes such a standing board will the council be properly guided in carrying out of task of executing the policy desired by the electors.

Albertans -- and Canadians

Despite the exchange of men and money on the merits of exporting, part of Alberta fields to other provinces and perhaps to portions of the United States, it is the opinion of many people of the province that Alberta is the province Keep Alberta Alberta. This type of thinking is the province maintains much like the province maintains resources, control of natural resources, control of its own affairs.

This is not to say we in the province shouldn't take full advantage of our rich natural resources in gas and oil. And there is a good deal to be said for establishing more industries in the province where the necessary raw materials are available and the raw materials are within easy haulage reach. We can build up Alberta into a strong self-sufficient industrial province. Part requirements might be to be met by a co-operative for the development of the maximum number of private homes.

But preferably we should be looking forward to the point where we must export more. Further the plants and factories in Winnipeg and Vancouver moving to Alberta now for the field when it is more logical and economically sound to page our tax there.

We must think as Canadians and of the welfare of Canada not simply as Alberta citizens.

For Men Only

Men's wear! Let us not settle the matter of fashion-mindle dress that is neither new nor old but expresses our every sense. Why not wear clothes and be happy at the same time.

Take the collar and tie, for example. Who ever thought of the collar as just a band of cloth and tied tightly around the neck? We agitate and get hot under the collar. Why not wear a collar that women are sufficiently interested to leave the throat line open and gloriously free. There we would be compelled to swallow our pride and not try to tell others what to do. The women have us bottled up. Let us be free to dress as we please. Let us be free to dress as we please. Let us be free to dress as we please.

And now of the Hippies. Let us not be content to wear women's open neck. The fashion is to wear a tie, light yellow, green, blue, red, or any color. Let us be free to wear what we please. Let us be free to wear what we please. Let us be free to wear what we please.

Perhaps you have noticed the Hippies. They are not to be confused with the ordinary men. They are not to be confused with the ordinary men. They are not to be confused with the ordinary men.

Let us be free to wear what we please. Let us be free to wear what we please. Let us be free to wear what we please.

Farming Notes

Diet Importance

Hereford cows, more cows, and more must receive clovers that will meet these cow needs and also supply sufficient nutrients for the unborn calf. If the mother is fed inadequately the offspring are likely to be weak at birth and the milk supply may be inferior or of low vitamin content.

It is supposedly important to provide sufficient of the nutrients which are needed for the development of body tissues. Calcium and phosphorus are used in the formation of the skeleton, and a sufficient of vitamin D is required to assist the proper calcification. Vitamin A is an important factor in the health of the foetus and the other nutrients should include minerals of the cobalt to assure that the milk supply will carry an abundance for the offspring during its first few months of life.

The inclusion of a few pounds of alfalfa hay in the daily ration of pregnant animals will help to ensure strong young and a good supply of milk. Legume hays are the richest in protein of all common roughages and contain more of the minerals calcium and phosphorus than forage from grasses. Overall grains are higher in phosphorus content than alfalfa hay, but in relation content legume hay surpass other common feeds. The chances of well-cured legume hay on vitamins A and D makes it valuable for all young growing animals and for the breeding herd. The presence of alfalfa hay in bred sacks for winters feed cows has been an aid in getting good litters.

Dairy Herd Improvement

With the present high prices for feed with a resulting strain there are very few cows at the present time that are not paying their way. However the time may come when many of those individuals become of low production, will be unprofitable. Unless regular culling and selection are carried on continuously the standard of herd will be composed of many individuals of low production.

Culling can be done effectively only if you know the total production of each female in your herd. We can select for dairy type but without actual production figures it is impossible to know how much a cow is producing. Record keeping is a "must" in a sound culling program.

Reflections of the Times

Boys in Trouble

There are not all Dead End Kids. Not by a long shot. According to a survey of more than 2,000 juvenile delinquents made in Detroit boys between the ages of 10 and 17 are a poor cross of those who come from good families in comfortable circumstances.

The real common denominator in these back grounds was found to be parental neglect. Broken homes, slumdwellers other factors entered into many of the cases but the chief fault appeared to lie with parents who were willing to give their children money when they asked for it but not to do a little time to their interests.

The assault on family life from every side today is prodigious. The movies, the radio, the press build flagrantly false ideals before a restless disoriented generation. The answer is not the censorship called for by the Soviet delegation to the United Nations Subcommission on the Freedom of the Press, as the spokesman for American press for its sensational treatment of sex crimes and suicide.

The answer lies in educating parents to the need for providing their children with interests and ideals more real, more satisfying, and more comfortable than those to be had by the unprincipled vendors of sensation.

Ask Participation Certificates For Wheat Board

Very few farmers in the district have presented their 1946-47 participation certificates to local elevators, it was learned this week. The Canadian Wheat Board has so-called all farmers to do so, so they may receive the payment of 20 cents a bushel to whom delivered from the 1946 1948 and 1947 crops.

This figure is the rate mentioned by Dominion Minister of Agriculture J. G. Gardiner in a question in the Parliament Buildings. Farmers Western farmers delivered 320 million bushels in the 1946-47 crop year and 362 million in 1945-46. Total payments at 20 cents a bushel therefore approximate $130 million.

The 1947-48 certificates are not required at present and will be called in later. Deliveries to February 6 were 388.6 million bushels. The actual payment is now on the basis of $1.55 a bushel 1 C. No. 1 Northern at the terminal.

FREEDOM OF CHOICE — NOT COMPULSION

As long ago as May, 1937, a writer in "The Calgary Herald" said:

"With both the Wheat Board and The Grain Exchange in operation, the farmer has a choice as to the method to dispose to employ in disposing of his grain."

"He could sell for cash through The Grain Exchange or deliver to the Wheat Board and take an initial payment, with further payments being made to the grain is finally marketed."

"The first plan would give him the interest on his grain on any particular day he chose to sell, and the latter would give an average price over the year. There should be no room for complaint any farmer to use one method against his will."

This is exactly what our members believe in. Farmers who wish to continue selling their grain at the Government's Guaranteed Price through the Canadian Wheat Board are entitled to do so. But other farmers who wish to sell on the Fine and Open Market should have the right to do so and get the full prevailing world prices. Under such conditions, there would be no compulsion, no dictation, each farmer getting the price of his own.

Freedom of choice — not compulsion — our question, should be the policy in marketing all Canadian wheat.

Our members are firmly believe in a Price Price for wheat, but, remember that a farmer should get top prices now. What do you think?

Many prairie wheat growers still do not know how much they are entitled to and accumulated by the Canadian Wheat Board and the Government.

Do you? Many need the money badly at this time of the year. It will be to your interest to send and to study the facts.

Buffaloes To Play Games In Montana

It will be the familiar "Bands Across the Border" theme, when members of the Lacombe intermediate Buffalo hockey club take off tomorrow for Great Falls, Montana, for a two-game exhibition series with the Americans.

First game will be played Saturday, and the second contest Sunday. The Great Falls club has an enviable record in senior play, boasting 20 wins and two ties in 22 tilts.

The local are making the trip by auto, included in the list are Sparks' Minor Vave Benson, Bob Barker, Jack Calvin, Don Cannon, Roy Greene, Doug Hammond, Lee Lidbeck, Hugh McIntosh, George Menzies, Minor MacKenzie, Dick Sexton, Vern Tillotson, Bill Riley.

Buffs Eliminated From Provincial Play Downs

Lacombe intermediate Buffaloes couldn't get by Red Deer Knotted out of league competition by the Toonies earlier this month, the Buffs bought bite tig two when they met Red Deer in the first round of the provincial playdowns last week, but lost the second game 10-5 at Red Deer Tuesday.

The evenly matched squads each bombed the lead several times in the four-corners game at Red Deer but always the locals had one about half way through the third when they led 5 1 and needed only one more counter to be the total-goal score.

Then push Ron Jardine of the Toonies raced to make it 6-5 Lacombe pushed Sparky Mikkelsen over the top for the last two minutes in an effort to pull even, and Red Dees white last two people capable goaltender for the La combe Buffaloes, turned in an outstanding game against Edmonton Maple Leaf Monday night, and helped his team to a mid-week victory. The local squad defeated the Leafs 7-5 in a game played at Edmonton.

Juveniles Held To 7-6 Win Here Saturday

Lacombe Juveniles outplayed Edmonton Maple Leafs for most of the game on the ice at home of the Lacombe Juveniles to emerge with a 7-6 victory. Lacombe Juveniles now have three victories and one loss to their credit in the series with Edmonton, while the locals came coming back to win the second game 7-5 at Edmonton.

Ron Bachus, Lacombe goalie, was the star of the game. He turned in a sparkling three game effort while Lacombe forwards Bob Frost Ross, Don Bennett and Norm Lane.

For the Leafs it was Ron Hesketh with three and Mack and Carlson with one apiece.

Chalk up a good performance to Al Calkins.

WEDDINGS

JONES-ALBRECHT

A quiet wedding of an interesting event on February 14 at the United church manse Lacombe when Anna Mary Albrecht third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Albrecht of Penhold became the bride of Ivan Addison Jones third son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones of Lacombe. Rev. L. A. Thompson performed the ceremony.

The bride chose an ecru satin gown with long sleeves and Sweetheart neck. She carried a bouquet of carnations and white chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaid, Miss Lucy Albrecht sister of the bride, chose a brown suit with contrasting yellow accessories.

The best man was Hilden Jones, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremonies a reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents where the reception was held.

The happy couple motored to Edmonton for the week end following the reception.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Miss Ethel Jones of Day and Louis Albrecht both of Edmonton.

Sunny Crest

SUNNY CREST Mr and Mrs Neil Montgomery of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Montgomery of Bluffton and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Compton of Lacombe were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sundquist.

Mr. and Mrs. Ab Saunders returned on Sunday from Edmonton, and we are glad to report Mr. Saunders is looking much better.

Joseph Rozelle was a week end visitor with his brother in law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Main and family.

Due to faulty weather last week Janet Rose spent a few days with Mr. Lyle Pruden and Vernon.

Herbert Woods and Hazel were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Main Friday evening.

Fairview

FAIRVIEW Thirteen members and one visitor met for the February meeting of the Ladies' Aid at the home of Mrs. J. Pruden on Tuesday last. Opening by the chairman Mrs. Jones was followed by the singing of the 11 below stairs. Business and prayer. The next meeting will be held on March 11th at the home of Mrs. Douglas.

Our Easter tea and lenten stuff sale will be held on Saturday March 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacombe were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ogilvie last Friday. Sorry we will be held on the usual hour on this day.

Our deepest sympathy goes to R. Barry and family at his bereavement, also to Mr. and Mrs. Monroe and family.

We are sorry to lose three of our neighbors who have moved in the last few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. W. Keith have moved into town to live. Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Lewis have moved to the new home in the Hoey lots. Mr. and Mrs. Dave and Mr. and Mrs. G. Clarke have moved into the John Grayson house half mile east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Slater returned last week from a two months holiday spent in Quebec and the New England states. The weather [illegible] a speedy recovery.

Both the Keith and Clarke auction sales were fairly well attended last week considering the extremely cold weather.

Sunday School attended again the week after moving in Saturday owing to the bad weather. This week with Mrs. R. McLachlan.

Mrs. Moore and family spent Sunday afternoon at Glen Gordon's.

HOW WOULD YOU FEEL if this scene your child . . . and you had to say: "Sorry, darling, there just isn't anything"?

YET many a mother — and father — is faced today with just such a tragic fact. Throughout Europe and Asia children are literally starving — cold and miserable because they have no warm clothing.

Millions of them are in desperate need — for food, clothing, shelter, protection. We in Canada are going to do our share to help meet these urgent needs. The Canadian Appeal for Children, now being conducted, has a minimum objective of $10,000,000 as Canada's contribution to the saving of the world's children and the world's future.

YOU CAN HELP by doing just this:

Go to any Branch of THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA — or any other chartered bank. Hand your contribution to the teller. He is ready to accept it, and will turn the money over to the Canadian Appeal for Children. Every cent collected will be distributed, where need is greatest, under the strict supervision of responsible United Nations' operating agencies.

How much you give is a question for your own conscience. Act TODAY; you will sleep better tonight knowing you have done your part for those millions of little ones who look to you for help.

The Farmers Speak

LAST Friday a mammoth meeting of the M.D. of Lacombe was a good one. The farmers present showed the municipality as splendid citizens, and the thrift and good judgment of the councillors during 1947 has much to do with that position, as ratepayers of the hall seemed to realize. Even with a bumper crop year, particularly in the upheavals of roads, the district still reported a surplus of $32,687. The net deficit is a lot more sizable at $64,348, but the matter qualifies, as the purchase of about $48,000 worth of road equipment during the past three years is shown but it is not charged.

About 75 farmers (ratepayers, we're told, there are other voters, but most of them are farmers) were in attendance, together with the reeve and councillors. The speech of Reeve Jones ranks right up in many than a little classic, and how Reeve Hannibal and secretary-treasurer Hughes can have satisfactorily answered so many of the questions from the floor is a tribute to the practice years all ministers have had in the municipal field.

The point we had hoped The new chemical weed control for farmers was mentioned, but it could be a question that others that be, this can create undesirable and excessive lush growth which can grow to tall crops with too many bushes, the straw and stubble and of course to the ever present weed menace. It is a healthy thinking in a very healthy agricultural district.

Cheese and Sportese

NOW and then a person good-humoredly plays with the newspaper fit the use of Sportese. To the unaccustomed observer, sports jargon. It's the free and easy flow of sports language that calls a goal basket a tally, to stop in one instance and speeding the puck home the next. It's the disparaging way the sportsman has of belting of the ball higher than the browning, his high, hard one.

Now what would these sports have to do? Would they have to say the ole' golf drama either channel, insufficient to transform these cultural modes of expression into sport words? It must be certain that every sentence and every syllable can be translated into peculiar language. Long the country as reached its knowledge-seeking philosophers have then puzzled and debated what of expression to introduce.

But, [illegible] nothing puzzled here when per [illegible] sports language bothers us. So why try to make it bothersome with high-sounding words which aren't there. We have been trying to imagine how such a sport article dressed up would look in the old colonial form.

Mr. Joseph Louis presented a thrilling exhibition of boxing Thursday night Revealing exponential talent in the role of world champion Mr. Louis gave a satisfactory display with fistfists. Pitted against the challenge of Mr. Jonathan Bottle barrel Brendan who is no stranger to cinder-dust Lighting was fortright supplied through the courtesy of the New York Lighting Commission. Hospital Contract Rates

The hospital board of the Lacombe municipal hospital district has set the following contract rates for 1948:

The ratepayers within the hospital district who will pay a contract rate of $10.00 for hospital care for one year, a contract rate of $15.00 for married persons.

Contracts will be accepted from non-residents of the hospital district, but they must be prepared to pay 2 mills on their assessed value plus a $5.00 service charge. Persons residing in cities and organized towns are not members of the hospital district, but a $5.00 contract rate is a resident of the district, plus a $5.00 service charge.

Dependents under two are considered in maternity charges of their parents. Dependents' hospital fee is $5.00.

The arrangement are so complete, combined with the reasonable rates, the hospital board considers all who can afford to do so, should take advantage of the opportunity and thus relieve the indigent of supplying the funds and local ratepayers of the hospital for the needy.

All Contracts must be applied for by March 1, 1948.

What MAKES a good citizen?

A good citizen respects himself . . .
and respects the rights of others.

He avoids bigotry and intolerance.

He puts the welfare of his country and his community before his own advantage.

He is moderate in his thinking and moderate in his actions.
He is moderate in his use of luxuries.

The good citizen knows, as The House of Seagram has so frequently pointed out, that he has a personal responsibility to himself, to his family, and to his country, to be moderate in all things.

What's the Good of UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE?

$87,500,000 was paid from the Unemployment Insurance fund to unemployed Canadians from September 1, 1945, to October 31, 1947.

$31,000,000 was contributed to this fund by the Government of Canada.

500,000 individual unemployed workers and their dependents benefited from these payments.

In many cases had payments not been available the unemployed would have suffered want!

What's the good of Unemployment Insurance? Can there be any doubt!

Unemployment Insurance helps the employer by providing unemployed with purchasing power; and helps the worker by providing maintenance allowances during unemployment. Employer and Employee and the Government all have an interest—Unemployment Insurance does a big factor in a healthy National Economy

The New School

The time limit for proprietary electors within the Lacombe school district to demand an election for the issuance of $320,000 school debentures expired last Friday. Some 80 ratepayers petitioned the secretary for a vote, the bond issue will be carried unless that number or more are suddenly behind the movement to build a new one-storey school here as soon as possible.

The next action of the school board is to obtain the sanction of the Board of Public Welfare. Commissioner of Education Dr. W. A. Ross, whose visit to this area are reported from time to time, is to work will probably call a meeting very shortly. The consideration of a new high school building here are rather far-reaching and complex. We can be reasonably certain of an increased enrolment of rural students from the Lacombe school division, particularly when some of the municipal districts now in existence and under study are of record. That is one reason we urge closer co-operation between the district and divisional boards. It is no secret to Lacombe that some 40 students within the division are attending classes daily at the Red Deer composite school this year.

Aside from more adequately serving the needs of our district pupils the new school would be labor saving in the way of relieving the present congestion of town students. And we shall have an auditorium which should contribute much both to higher cultural standards and to stage plays and entertainment.

But these goals, these, we cannot be expected to compass into the distant future. They make pleasant thinking and the name and town electors are to be congratulated on using the foresight to lay the necessary groundwork. It is a challenge to the business men's service clubs, commercial bodies and public service organizations within the town for the next few years.

How Good is 2,4-D?

As a weed killer 2,4-D has been praised to the skies in publicity during the past year or two. The publicity, editorial and propaganda has left the average farmer as a dog as he just what 2,4-D can and cannot do.

It wasn't until the year 1945 that the newest form of chemical weed killer came on the market, and the summer of a pretty short time for results of any kind to be conclusive. The action of 2,4-D is to make the stalks of susceptible plants grow abnormally until the plants literally smothers itself to death. Its effects on weeds and crops are still in the experimental stage, however.

The most enlightening direct speech on 2,4-D put heard on the district was given last Thursday by R. E. Wood, chairman of the Manitoba Weeds Commission. Mr. Wood is no very outspoken. As the started at the beginning, he did not intend to blow up 2,4-D as his talk, but to try to direct its use. His speech was informative, but at the same time cautious.

Most annuals are susceptible to 2,4-D. Mr. Wood said. Perennials, on the other hand, are fairly resistant. Grasses, wild oats and the like which are in the same family as grain are totally resistant to it. Some generalities, Mr. Wood was frank enough and careful to add two important qualifications. 2,4-D is effective only when applied in the proper amounts and at the proper times.

These words should convey sufficient warning to the unthinking farmer who intends to plunge into this new discovery. It's very new, per haps too new for extensive practical usage without the utmost care. What are the proper amounts? For some weeds Mr. Wood had fairly concrete answers at hand from three to an ounces per acre for susceptible annuals when young. Those above amount are the exception of the three types of 2,4-D used. Small thistles require more than three ounces, three different types of 2,4-D all with different strengths and effects on weeds.

That there are some good points to 2,4D was more than last summer's crop of fine, well weed dead leaves on treated areas while previous green, growing weeds had thrived. There is strong feeling in 2,4-D but there should be more and more experiments to date to prove just how much. The fact that the municipal district of Lacombe is purchasing $4,000 worth of 2,4-D this summer for kill ing weeds on road allowances is encouraging. But the test is to be put out of the ground with out dust against the grain.

From the tone and authorities on the and other districts it is recommended that farmers in westgate and experiment with the efforts of 2,4-D this summer particularly and on crops. The small testing areas for this purpose not the entire crop acreage.

Above all remember another of Mr. Wood's statements. It is not even feasible at the time to replace summerfallow cultivation and clean old fashioned weed hand pulling, by covering a field with chemical weed killer to and. This serves a little purpose unless cultivation prior seeding and

Forage Crop Encouragement

Forage Crops and Soil Conservation are very much related. When we talk of one we usually think of the other. In fact every part of Alberta's crops have a share. If land a crop rotation in which forage crops are included will help conserve soil moisture, save soil from soil loss. On the grain and stock forage crops are especially important. It is impossible to grow a maximum feeding crop of grain or to maintain soil fertility unless there be a forage crop, and unless grain and "plant added to the soil in the form of fertilizer.

The Forage Crop Policy of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, designed to encourage increased acreage of forage crops, has been developed to meet the problem of getting seed made available for the province. Under this policy grass and legume seeds are made available for sale at cost to farmers in all parts of the province where they can not readily obtainable from other sources. These distributions supply information as to proper time to seed, and supply seed to the farmer.

Full details of the Forage Crop Encouragement Policy can be obtained from District Agriculturists or from the Field Crops Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture Edmonton.

Warble Time Again

Warble time is here again and with it a reminder that a few cents per head spent in treatment of your cattle will save dollars. Fifty per cent of Alberta's cattle were treated last year but [illegible] plants from which the grubs emerged before treatment could be applied.

This is three applications of derris powder solution at monthly intervals in March, April and May will give almost 100% control. The first treatment should begin before the grubs drop to the ground. Thereafter treatment is monthly intervals. Two treatments are not enough.

Warble maps are of weight of cattle on hoof have been drawn for each municipality. These maps, from information furnished and municipal warble campaign this year. Become familiar with your District Agriculturist, Board officials and do your share by making sure that [illegible] Swat It Smith!

Hail, The Juvenales!

LACOMBE has been getting celebrity lately in very favorable publicity in Edmonton, in the Canmore corner of Banff, in Banff, in Calgary and very soon we hope, Lethbridge. Do these cities order a hundred sheets? They are among others our young popular Juvenile hockey teams have been touring - capers with the clock and check. These three-hundred, dashing sons of pluck has won acclaim in all parts of the province.

Down at Hooten's Cannon, a gaggle from Cal gary in unsubsidized, unsubsidized with the Calgary Stampeders Rowdies for the past two years in the Allan Cup hockey race. Lacombe's Juvenales shot out on the map in Central Alberta, but to Alberta it is fast earning a good reputation for being a right good team with exceptional sound hockey material.

A good deal of credit is due to Coach Al Myers for keeping the boys along. To the players goes equal credit for playing the game hard but clean. Good luck on the last lap leading to the provincial Juvenile hockey crown. Win or lose, Lacombe is proud, and behind you all the way.

The Power of Weather

LAST month's record snowfall demonstrated once more the awesome might of Nature and its power over man. Deep snow packed and built and transported for days. Highways and railroads were snowbound, and our trains, in Western Canada, were tested those days, were swallowed by the warm welcome and strike those stranded people were provided in nearby farm homes. After the wind had lashed and the snow had swept across the broad countryside in one giant blanket, men went to work with plows, speeded cars, clearing roads and thoroughfares and Mother Nature had covered as a matter of hours.

Day in and day out, the weather is just about always the number one topic of conversation. Is it cold? Will that week be blustery? Is the ice treacherous, or is it going to melt? It's the weather that has much to do with the sort of day we have to do, and others, we are most likely to fume with it.

We had a mild winter this year for the first few months - and that was reflected in business in the decreasing sales of warm winter underwear and heavy overcoats. Last July was a rainless "desert" month that burned crops in Western Canada and cost farmers millions of dollars. The winter of 1946-47 was one of the coldest in British history. The result was a dent on that country's coal resources and precipitated a serious crisis all the way from the private home to the big industry.

It remains still to tell you that we are all on the need to solve the problem of the weather and everything it in their wish. Somehow we have a suspicion those unpredicting, often hostile changes in the weather will remain the secret of Mother Nature in spite of all man's effort and research. There'll be the same old question to the weather-man. What's it gonna be like tomorrow" and the same old non-committal answers.

What About an Auto Camp?

THERE are lessons from the past which can be applied advantageously to plans for the future business affairs. Often of course the above-and-beyond-the-call-of-duty things has no place in this age of high powered machinery and big industry. But the getting together in the larger arms of the word and recalling incidents in the near past of the early 1900's suggests a parcel of previous little mad revelries and a good deal of steady accomplishment.

We have in mind two items of news recently appearing in the 'Looking Back' 30, 20 and 40 Years Ago,' column. The reports have the comments on one instance and yet they are very closely related to another. Forty years ago, the council minutes for that year recorded a committee was formed to publicize the west to and benefit of the Lacombe district made plans for a pocket-size booklet to be distributed. Both of them - the distribution all the way from Calgary to the World's fair in Chicago - Lacombe. Those were the days of immigration of course, but it was a bold venture paying attractive benefits for Lacombe.

The second item, 20 years ago, was a report in connection with the auto camp here. It showed 200 camps registered in 1927 and a general average of over 2,000 people passing in the camp. Today Lacombe has nothing as an auto camp.

The interesting question is "Why?" Failure to see it. The increased this reading, wooded country, new variant traffic routes - when considered, broke trail and highways ended. They had an auto camp that attracted visitors and swelled the business in the community. And Lacombe's more verdant areas as an auto-camp Lacombe must establish a new auto-camp today. Surroundings, the general area and trailer travel Lacombe is an ideal spot to draw - a few offers of tourist amenities for shady trees, and peaceful countryside. Councillors are busy on various town matters, but they might consider the move that would pay big dividends in quick time.

Anemia in Suckling Pig

Anemia is on the rampage on a killer of suckling pigs. It is estimated by eastern authorities that 60 per cent of pigs probably can be attributed directly or indirectly to this cause. The direct losses are the most obvious, but the indirect losses that result from comparatively anemic pigs are more serious. Reduced vitality of anemic pigs makes them easily victims of other diseases. Also that average attention to a received a growth set back that only rarely is overcome.

What causes it? It is a reduction in the normal proportions of bone globin in the blood the substance that gives red to the appearance of the color and a symptom - the vital process of oxygen transportation in the body. The most obvious symptom of anemia is thus a loss of color the skin changes from a healthy pink to a greyish white. This is particularly evident in the ears. Secondary symptoms include paleness of the inner lining of the eyelids and a general unthriftiness. Respiratory and digestive disturbances are frequently associated with anemia.

Although associated with the disease results from a nutritional deficiency of iron. Young pigs are born with a fairly high reserve of this element in their bodies but they soon use up this reserve and reserve in a few days. The sows milk is not a concentrated source of iron and the pigs must get it as the local page - that they must be replaced by it is not less than 20 days of age - before.

Butter Sells For 12 Cents Suits on Sale For $5.00

This story doesn't concern a local newspaper but the paper's gal died of it under interesting reading anyway.

It is a reign of The Queens Navy, Yorkshire dated March 3, 1898, that Mrs. Norman Brooke of Lacombe discovered last week an an old pottage home.

A glance at the ads and gave those prices of the time quoted is worth a chuckle a two. Butter, we note, sells for 8 cents a pound with Tees 4½ cheese from Creamery and Fresh Dairy at 12 cents a pound (6 cents today 11 cents a pound today).

Bow spring styles in Hughes and American Hats in all the latest colors" go on sale for $1.00 and $1.50.

It was had gone to the Jamie Grocery on Queen street in 1898 you could have bought all of that "Best Granulated Sugar" for $1.00 or 20 lbs of laundry soap for a quarter.

For a good substantial meal, advises the Globe Restaurant, we can serve you at 15 cents per meal or $2.25 per week.

In the clothing line we see line suits offered for $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00. Ladies' best house slippers were selling for 12 cents and boys' solid made boots for $1.00 and more.

The classified section suggests some of the boys' occupations, in notice of the day Under "Personal" we read

Annie when and where can I meet you" Answer quickly to Box 242, News office, Lacombe. Phone I will call Friday evening May 1" If not phone me "Harry"

The Story of Mr. Lindsay - And the Editor

The editor of a weekly town paper received the following subscription:

"For fifty Slightly used items enough to guard against family Phone 228 Robert Lindsay."

Apparently there were paper customers when the advertiser got through for out of "enough" Such is the next issue the newspaper made a correction in bold

Due to an unfortunate error Mr. Lindsay's ad last week was not clear. He has an excellent watch for sale We trust that the will put an end to jokesters who have called Mr. Lindsay and greatly bothered his housekeeper. Mrs. James, who is "Mrs. Lindsay."

In the next pages come the final blowup from Mr. Lindsay. He is pressed himself thus "My watch is not for sale I put a dodge between to it. Don't bother call-

Juveniles Win Over Stettler Thursday

Lacombe Juveniles raped to a score over the 8-2 win over Stettler in the first game of their northern tour. Lacombe's final victory by last Thursday night, before over 400 fans.

Lapped was the main factor in the hands victory Both Peter Hans shutout Stettler batsmen over the entire 60-minute route both ways to bag the 4 shows Stettler team for incurring the home crowd their own blue line

When the visitors did once the pressure with some well-meant forward passes to the red ice, Lacombe had kept in full force before a potential Stettler break away could have trust. This was the game-saver of the game as the locals swept into a 4-0 lead in the first and an 8-2 edge in the second before adding the only goal of the third period

The locals never gave up fighting, and for the early part also of the second it looked as though they would come back to make a game of it First Hart then Dorosh and then Lacombe's gaining attacks and the bound the net on both occasions to make the score 4-2

From then on it was pure walk in Lacombe scored Hart Holmes and Pool Hunt both contacted for a pair of counters and singles were by Hunt Whyte Dick Frizzell, Don Haworth Norm Lund and Don Holmes

The passing of an old friend and neighbor [illegible] has made [illegible] with many memories. Until then the Rowlands could have [illegible] the future where they [illegible] married in Lacombe in 1899.

They as pioneers with other early settlers, had both experiences.

There was the necessity to have all of their possessions in a few that burned their car of [illegible] to operate in the new country.

The struggle for existence during the first winter, more [illegible] and loneliness [illegible] were [illegible] problems known and met all the family experiencing were had a good home started.

Mrs. Rowland will be remembered as being most kindly, hospitable and an example to us all of the satisfaction and happiness that comes from a life fully lived in every sense.

We are thankful that this fine pioneer woman was our neighbor for nearly half a century.

Canadian Union College

Pastor Charles Keyser of Denver, Colo., will present a lecture-recital of song beginning evening, March 20, in the college auditorium. Pastor Keyser, former Cornish Mission ambassador, will be accompanied with trombonist Lonnie Mellenbruch of the Denver York Street church. Those who attended the Youth's Congress in San Francisco last September will remember Pastor Keyser's singing of the melody of his native and his adopted home song.

Miss Margaret Mohler of the Rocky Mountain Conference office, announced that she will lead the college choir on a long over-night Alberta tour between April 24 and May 2. Appointments already in hand: Calgary, Bassano, Empress, Brooks and Bentley.

Pastor G. E. Wilson, president of the Mon Sask conference presided over a two-day session in the Thursday students' March 8-16 Bible speaker at chapel at Friday night vespers and Saturday morning Sabbath school. Pastor Keyser's lectures and sermons.

Stating that Flesh, received his early training in the Cornish Rhinh and Joshua in Mexico, he advised: Don't be frustrated in your life. Don't let fear of experience thwart your life.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Thompson and the Fox-Kraft Co. Edmonton spent few days at the college recently. Mr. Thompson is a former student and a graduate from the college. He was formerly associated with the Edmonton Bible Institute.

The freshman reception was held Friday evening, March 5, in the form of a banquet followed by a program in the college chapel. The Wesleyan Methodist Federation of Women, during each month of the year, is a major source of the foreign mission fund.

Trust in God

Thirteen members of the Mission Volunteer society presented a program at the Bible hour on Tuesday evening. Miss Lorraine Anderson delivered the theme: Trust in God, and Louis Bergevin's M.V. society motto: Be strong and of good courage. Others taking part were Miss Lorraine Anderson, Verna Fox, Betty Hardcastle, Elaine Bergevin, Marion Dahl, Irene Peters, Willie Wuerfler and the Peterson brothers. Arthur Bjornet and Bernard Bergevin sang at the 11 o'clock service Lorraine Bergevin played the piano selection.

Woody Nook

WOODY NOOK The community was hoping of having at least a good quiet day for the St. Woody Nook—not namely Percy Bernard Tom, Donald Lee Bernard and Johnny Hoe, took first prize at the Lacombe Music Festival. Mrs. McRae and Eddie Eberding were also the lucky ones who had their pupils competing in all classes.

Bert and M. Mohler and family of Lacombe were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. O Wells are recently. Mr. Mohler returned to Lacombe with them to spend a few days playing with Jeanette Mohler and Bernice Wells.

The Lacombe telephone seems to have acquired a bad name at most of the ladies are busy planning their spring housecleaning. But with a heartsome glance at the advanced prices on most all articles.

Lloyd Roe from Red Deer was the guest over the week-end of his aunt and uncle at Aspen Beach. He reports all roads still blocked between here and Alix.

C.N.R. OFFERS LOW RATES

Edmonton, March 19. Low railway rates, effective from Calgary to Edmonton, are announced by the C.N.R. to enable Edmonton fans to attend the Calgary-Edmonton hockey series on Saturday.

Under the auspices of the Lacombe Women's Institute the house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Hill was well attended and the net sum of $20.85 was contributed to the cancer fund. A very enjoyable evening was spent playing court whist with prizes awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Miller, and consolation to Mr. F. Tracy and Mrs. Short.

Mrs. J. Ralph entertained the Women's Institute last week when Mrs. Shaw gave her report of the conference held for District 111. A lovely collection of infants clothing consisting of a crib quilt nighties, sweaters bonnets etc making a total of 84 articles were handed in to be packed for overseas.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Woodrow on April 14

HELP IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

In all cases of serious shock or injury, send for a doctor or ambulance at once. In the meantime, apply first aid promptly, but not hastily.

BLEEDING WOUNDS — Bleeding in sports indicates severing of an artery. Steady flow indicates a vein has been cut. Bleeding from an artery should be stopped by applying pressure of the thumb, a compress or cloth pad over the artery at a point between the bleeding wound and the heart. In bleeding from a vein (steady flow), pressure should be applied at the side away from the heart. Direct bandaging is usually sufficient to stop a severe hemorrhage. Where the open wound should be sufficient. If bleeding is very severe, tourniquet may be made by tying handkerchief, cloth, belt, strap or neck-tie around the part over compress and using small stick, pencil, or similar article with which to twist and tighten. Do not twist too hard, just enough to stop bleeding. Loosen every twenty minutes to let a little blood escape. Keep the part elevated.

SHOCK — Lay patient flat on back with head low, unless head is bleeding. Remove false teeth, gum or tobacco from mouth. Keep patient warm. Give stimulants such as aromatic spirits of ammonia in water, hot coffee, tea or water. Do not give stimulant to unconscious patients, or one who may have internal bleeding.

108 MILLION DOLLARS
...blessing or boomerang?

During 1948 Ottawa will pay back this tremendous total to individual Canadians in the form of refunds on 1942 Income Tax Compulsory Savings and as cash for War Savings Certificates maturing during the year. Some of this money may be coming to you.

EXTRA MONEY is always useful, and in homes across Canada these payments will be welcomed as valuable additions to income.

But the catch is that this additional spending power, if translated into immediate buying, would almost certainly drive present prices still higher and increase your own cost of living.

It is, therefore, wise, if your budget permits, to defer your spending, putting the money instead into the purchase of additional CANADA SAVINGS BONDS.

Never forget, the money you have coming to you as a Tax Refund, or as the proceeds from War Savings Certificates, is the fruit of your wartime saving effort. It represents a cash asset; think twice before you spend it.

Canada Savings Bonds can be purchased over the counter at any branch of The Royal Bank of Canada. You can buy them outright for cash, or if you wish, use the proceeds of your government cheque as a down payment for bonds to be paid for by instalments. The procedure is simplicity itself. Our nearest branch will look after all details for you.

"You'll never be sorry you saved."

Cereal Grains

Plant variety to be used to grow this year? This is a question which is to be frequently asked of the Cereal Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Before getting an answer all the considerations from well to one of the crop, type of soil and seed envelope requirements for specific or fill purposes should be remembered.

In ... some ... several ... varieties ... [illegible] ... different ... which ... [illegible] ... information might be of interest.

These new varieties of improved flax were released for distribution in 1941, namely Dakota Bearlet and Silvertone. Little limited quantities of seed will be available for seeding in 1948. It is expected that Bearlet and Dakota will replace to ... new extent Royal, now extensively grown. It cannot be said that Dakota will yield as well as Royal, and its earlier maturity and more even ripening will probably make it the favorite. There is a better return for his crop. Bearlet matures between Dakota and Royal and has yielded well.

Warble Fly Menace

Warble flies cause great financial loss to cattle producers. Damaged hides, reduced gains, loss in milk production and carcass depreciation all contribute to this loss which can largely be prevented by thorough application of warble fly remedies.

The warble grubs are now by a secret to show up on the backs of cattle and will continue to do so until late June or early July. In order to kill all the grubs that will be coming in the coming months treatment at present intervals is necessary from now until July. A single treatment kills only those grubs under it, and will ... [illegible] ... the animal's back at the time of treatment.

Individual hand treatment with derris powder solution is recommended for herds of less than 100 head. For larger herds the use of a power sprayer is desirable.

Care at Farrowing Saves Pig Losses

Saving the litter at birth during pig raising particularly in cold and stormy weather farrowing time is the most difficult. In this period of cold weather it is difficult to keep the pigs warm enough. Overheating is successful pig raising, says P. H. Fraser, Animal Husbandry Division, Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Loss of pigs during farrowing time is particularly important, as a large proportion of pig losses occur during the first few days after birth. A warm farrowing pen is necessary and in severe weather a stove should be used to keep the pen comfortable during the day.

Pens should be cleaned and disinfected with a good preparation before the sow is put in. Sows should be given a good grooming to remove dirt and parasites before they enter the farrowing pen.

Sows should be fed lightly for a few days before farrowing. Feeding should be resumed gradually after farrowing, but a full feed should not be given for a few days. Sows should have plenty of exercise during the winter months.

Treatment for the prevention of anemia is generally neglected in commercial swine herds. Anemic pigs have ruined millions. Either injected iron or powdered iron mixed with soil should be given. A pound of reduced iron is equal to one hundred pounds of soil. Powdered copperas is the amount that should be placed on a hot-water sprinkled floor for one sow and litter. Treatment when the pigs are two weeks old and one week second and third treatments at approximately weekly intervals. Pigs should be weighed at each treatment and the amount of iron or copperas adjusted according to weight. Anemic pigs are stunted, unthrifty and subject to many diseases. A number of the symptoms of the little pig's condition are evident. Iron should be used a pig shows by appearance, paleness of the skin, especially around the eyes, and the whiteness of the gums.

Testing Farm Seed is Worth Time, Trouble

The yield and quality of a few seeded crop depends a lot on the quality of the seed that is planted. The man who knows the quality of his seed grain, knows before the advent of your seeding operations and seeds more than enough to make a test. Test it, as necessary to secure a representative sample of the grain at risk.

To find the number of weed seeds or other impurities in a pound of seeds, take one pound and place it on a table where there is good light and count the number of seeds in the one pound to be tested and prepare from that. If any difficulty is found in identifying the weed seeds send them to the Seed Branch, Dominion Experimental Farm, Lacombe, Alberta, and they will be identified for you.

The number of weed seeds or other impurities found in a pound of seeds will vary according to the quality of the seed. Seed containing a number of weeds or other should be cleaned before sowing. For a good crop of seed is to be tested.

No Decision Reached On Fate of Bashaw Hospital District

The Hall Bureau was filled with members of last year's school boards when the half dozen township reps in that area which have voted to join the district were on hand for the promised Bash to municipal hospital district.

The two words of unanimity appeared to be—make any loan—stop it—stop it and the vote was taken and it was a huge NO. Other residents protested the district was not ready for it, that we lacked the machinery and the personnel to operate a hospital.

A total of 1,000 farmers from these areas were present at the Monday meeting. Representatives of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners at Edmonton were present to hear the pros and cons of the various petitions.

The debate at times, resulted in the point of order and there were those who felt that the meeting should have been called earlier. Either introduced with or percolated by the subject matter has been the cost of reduced rent is equal to an increase of 1 mill on the dollar. A mill is the amount that would be placed on a ten-cent piece of property one acre for first instalment when the pupils are two years old and one second and third instalments of approximately 5 and 10 cents of age. An other way of looking at the cost of various amounts of supplies such as the cost of labor with which to make a loan is equivalent to a subject of from eight to ten.

The machine that should be encouraged to eat solid food and not be allowed to eat any of the grain feeding can be added. A very good machine is the one that is not a machine. It is the one that is not a machine. It is the one that is not a machine. It is the one that is not a machine.

Compared to 48 Mills in 1947

Town Mill Rate For 1948 Likely Between 55 and 60 Mills

Town councillors had further discussion themselves to speaking of the town mill rate in terms of 55 to 60 mills for the current year. In no phase of last year's 48 There have been no definite figures yet, but the mill rate will not be less than 55 mills, and it will likely more likely be 60 mills.

Councillors wrestled with preliminary estimates far more than two hours Monday night and the session was not had since again in an in spite of anybody knowing the town budget from year's end to date. The hospital requisition has risen from three to nearly eight and the school from 16 to several 20 Town expenditures are estimated to 20 mills (6 mills and be a few less) The mill rate for 1948 would there to 20 mills.

Effective Wednesday, March 31

Trucks and Tractors Banned From Travel on Lacombe M.D. Roads

A road ban was placed on all trucks and tractors in the M.D. of Lacombe, effective at noon on Wednesday, March 31.

With the breakup of the snow during the coming three, most of the country roads are now in soaking condition and cut up many of the M.D roads. Effective from Wednesday and they decided on an immediate ban was necessary to prevent unnecessary damage to the municipal roads.

Authority has been received from the public department of Edmonton to put the ban in effect The ruling will affect trucks and tractors, and R.C.M.P. will make personnel checks on municipal roads as an enforcement measure.

Cars and light deliveries are not affected The ban will last until the country remembers the roads are satisfactory for all types of traffic. A further notice will be sent two weeks or longer

Green Light Likely From Alberta Board For Proposed School

Bruce V Massey representative of the board of public elementary schools in Edmonton attended at a special meeting of the school board and some members of the town council, in the room I dining here Tuesday afternoon.

The proposed plans of the $250,000 debenture for the proposed new Lacombe high school building and outlined the needs on the part proval of the utility commissioner board, and Mr. Massey attended for the meeting to better acquaint himself with the relevant facts.

He commented on the co-operation spirit of the two board during the discussions. While Mr. Massey made no definite statement, he did seem to view the Lacombe application as a favorable light

Final decisions will be reached soon, pending receipt of estimated budgets of both the Lacombe public schools and Town of Lacombe for 1948.

The Horse Sale

"THAMES have the two all agast now" you may say, but that was the way Auctioneer Bloomers concluded the annual horse sale here last week. Buyers and sellers brought the auctioneer near The annual event has made long strides since its inception back in 1926, and now it is still a step further. Lacombe is on the long chain of Lacombe horse auctions which have gained dominion wide reputation through the years.

A few enthusiastic district residents launched the first sale 17 years ago. The horses were then on the boom, in the horses at one big auction and were there were only two auctions brought the district much needed revenue. The auction sale in the time 1926 and 1940 auctions brought the three best average price in 10 years for 713 horses sold.

Much of the success of these sales can be attributed to the energy and industrious zeal of the officers. But substantial credit, too, must go to the auctioneers. That is why The Globe would give you a good word stating farmers to fill their animals properly before the sale. By so doing, they keep the reputation of the Lacombe Farmers Horse Sales on the same high level they helped build them.

Keeping Fronts Clean

WITH the slush and mud on town sidewalks at a most residential sections it seems appropriate to bring up the subject of snow shovelling in winter. Most residents won't mourn that there will be less snow shovelling to do next winter, but many of a dead letter which requires them to keep their house frontages clear of snow. If this law were enforced there what a shoveling it would be in spring when the thaws start. There would be no snow on the walks to melt, and one would not be forced to walk in the daytime through wet slush that here this to making it dangerously slippery underfoot at night.

Any by-law of course depends on the popular support and co-operation of the residents. Lord citizens have demonstrated quite conclusively that they have little sympathy for this by-law as many of what it has become buried in reverse and forgotten. It would be well nigh impossible to force the law on the public since it would necessitate a house to house inspection.

Thus, it is up to the residents themselves. These must be used for the home owners or apartment flats and not controls that stores or administration and defeat-ridge. We strongly urge residents to thank over the pros and cons of clear frontages in town now and next fall when the by-law is before us. Likewise as a practical matter. An average of a few minutes' snow shoveling a day would make the town look like Kingston all the winter, are in agreement and their walk are to get clean, then council could take action against the offending citizens with the knowledge that popular opinion was behind them.

Sure Sign of Spring

AT same of spring! The lengthening days and the shorter nights the balm and warmth of soft winds with the promise of new life and new hope have been coming made the mantle of heavy winter snows and blossoming forth with new buds to all the first robin of spring, the running water of rivulets, and countless other signs of spring. But the surest sign of spring is the sudden appearance of the rain barrel or brush cut. This is customary in throwing off the shackles of long cold, hard and enjoying the sudden freedom of the short-sprung harvest. And a key on the head — more than an inch in length. The whole head of the housewife raises the appearance of a well-groomed being, a cosmetic shades of color, and art from black to refined.

It is said that the annual cleaning has become a custom of almost the character of a religious ceremony. Whatever the case, we are here to praise and not censure. Let us join in the worship of the spring housecleaning. Don't limit yourself to the usual time, but do it when you are here. Be pride and not of mere formality. Remember that the labor has a value to you to-day.

No Shortage of Cattle Feed as Spring Delayed

While reports from other areas of Alberta indicate considerable fall of drying cattle due to the shortage of feed, no such condition exists in Central Alberta, according to a number of farmers contacted this week in a brief survey.

Most farmers are somewhat cattle as th- lands which are still covered by snow have dried up in many places, but this rich mixed farming district is experiencing no critical shortages of green feed, either.

G Sterling, local district agriculturist, stated Monday that no feed had been shipped into the area to his knowledge but that there was still a little being out. Some feed is being handled locally from some farms to others where temporary shortages have arisen.

Looking At Mill Rates

LAST week a news story heading reporting the big automobile accident in Lacombe called on practitioner of $5,000 over last year's figure might have been something of a shock to many readers. A hasty glance at the figure is somewhat misleading, since $7,300 of the $9,000 excess represented a debenture taken out by the school board last year. In 1947 the school board requisitioned for $7,000 less than estimated expenditures, requiring $7,000 from revenue and from taxation. This $7,000 was diverted to the redress of the Town of Lacombe and to the school board's depleted treasury. Thus the school board last year was forced to take out a short term, temporary debenture for $7,000 to cover the difference between revenue and expenditure. This year that $7,000 is being repaid is represented a payment which should have been made last year and is being obtained by taxation. 1948

Thus estimated expenditures the school board has examined to keep it to minimum. They are to be supplied to which the school requisition will be at

Where the [illegible] Quite possibly the school board would be loath to [illegible] and added burden on the taxpayer, but the [illegible] need for a $250,000 school. The proposed new structure would receive approval from the Board of Public Utility Commissioners at Edmonton, at the time of writing, but there is every hope that the [illegible] will be commenced when the frost leaves the ground.

The town council too has been faced with [illegible] and the necessity of keeping the mill rate within reason. In spite of [illegible] economy [illegible] and other [illegible] the rate at present [illegible] has risen [illegible] Lacombe's rate [illegible] a figure much above [illegible] Many [illegible] have not been [illegible] They have used good [illegible] in adding such vouchers as new [illegible] and [illegible] which can and must be installed [illegible]

Requisitions from the local hospital [illegible] doubled the year, from 4.7 mills in 1947 (that was reduced to three mills by the town from surpluses) to about eight this year. But Lacombe residents can look forward to a new 20 bed hospital soon, a new contributing factor to the increase and every one has a fairly clear conception of how vital the addition is to maintain health standards.

Taking the long term view of the picture seems to be one of activity the summer a new hard-some hospital is one addition to community prestige and possibly another new big construction in the proposed high school and auditorium. These things of substance will be [illegible] and surveyed [illegible] means ahead

The Auction Sale

SPRING! The fall is the time for farm auctions [illegible] the farmer in the [illegible] period either before the seeding season or after the autumn harvest. They are national institutions in their own right, for they draw people together and tell the story of human life. What is more powerful than the drama of lives men and women, their hopes, their trials, their fears, all linked in the pitiful, strangely sad auction sale?

People go to public auctions for a wide variety of reasons. They purchase odd lots of furniture and equipment. But more, they renew acquaintances and talk over matters of common interest around the garnet from a new wheel need to implement-hood. There may gather on pasture or at any where ideas are needed for the common [illegible] chatting neighbors and friends give and receive [illegible] over the "Free Lunch at Noon" usually demarcated on the big sale poster with the warning: "Bring Your Own Cups."

And apart from the normal contact of rural life at the sturdy horseman and a climax of the auctioneer. What are the thoughts of Dad and Mom as you attend after another a led through the ring? There is those the cow nurtured from a suckling calf to your own hand, though perhaps not too kindly now that you look [illegible] There's Clyde, the boy who [illegible] has grown under a good deal in front of the plow. You can recall him now in his first day as a [illegible] long legged colt. And there's the pony. You meddled him at an early age to carry Johnny back and forth from school, the one [illegible] and mischief and [illegible] he seems ever inclined to do. the job willingly and well [illegible] and [illegible] Wendy, what price [illegible] The auctioneer's voice sounds vaguely familiar [illegible] who'll make it [illegible]

[illegible] and the many little pieces [illegible] which combined [illegible] the whole [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Experiment on Beef Cattle

Experiments have been carried on by the Animal Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, on the economy of raising and marketing beef of different ages and weights. Some of the results obtained so far indicate that baby beef can best be produced in areas where there is an abundance of grass and pasture and roughage is in short supply. Since they are marketed much younger, the turnover is greater and thus baby beef is better adapted to farming conditions in which the overhead is limited.

Although other factors must be taken into consideration such as markets, available buildings, skill and experience of the operator, it would appear that the decision as to which type of beef production would be most suitable for a particular farm or district will depend largely on the kind and amount of crop and pasture produced on the farm or in the district.

Less Wool Is Shipped From District

Volume of wool shipped by the Central Alberta Wool Growers Association dropped from about 75,000 lbs. in 1945 to 64,000 in 1947, it was announced at the annual meeting of the group held recently in the late hall.

One of the chief causes for the decrease was the great number of sheep killed by coyotes last year. It was stated the hunting season has proved a strong success in reducing the number of coyotes, but the bounty system

The board of directors were paid $5.00 per meeting and mileage. Mrs. Hebb was elected 1 and 13.00 per meeting and mileage.

The present board will be the same next year as the last, with the exception of Mrs. Hebb. The figure for mileage was left open to be decided with the approval of the Provincial Government board.

A meeting of the local 130 papers had been held the day before and, at which a vote of $0 & was received that the school be operated in preference to the previous one a year. The Board of Trustees desired to meet in keeping the basement and dining room services open.

However, Mr. Johnson came forward stating that from a petition circulated amongst ratepayers 55% were in favor of adopting the new system. Electrical board promised inspection of the present Gull Lake school and was considered that another rate payers meeting be held to decide definitely the views of the majority.

A 50 cheques to district delegates constituting of J. W. Anderson, A. Pearson and G. Wilson report that subsequent were 100% in favor of establishing a rural route to Bentley, giving their children education at a central point.

J. Rogers board member from that area, also stated that two votes were cancelled taking care of the Bench and Steppe-area school as well as the outside from Bonnie Hebb. It was decided to operate on this basis for a one year trial effective September 1, 1948.

D. Gillespie, G. Van Buren, E. Gibbs and R. Watson representing the Drake district asked the board to consider the level the school grounds for a ball diamond, and to drill a well on the premises. Request was granted, the cost of levelling to be their own responsibility.

Sets Record

PRIME MINISTER KING

Canada's prime minister, W. L. Mackenzie King, achieved an historical world record on Tuesday as head of an elected government on that day he exceeded the record set by Sir Robert Walpole who was prime minister of Great Britain for a total of 20 years, 10 months and nine days, from 1721-42. It is expected Mr. King will retire as political leader at the party convene in August.

WEDDINGS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave White of Joffre was the setting of a lovely wedding on Wednesday April 14, when their youngest daughter Mary Jean became the bride of Basil Delvin Budd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Budd of Red Deer.

Standing under a large white bell in an arch of pink and white streamers, the bride looked charming in a teal green suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Miss Margaret Moore of Lacombe, bridesmaid, wore a pale mauve with brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. J. Cumming of Toronto, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a brown suit and a corsage of pink carnations. Little Bertha Van Alstyne was flower girl.

Mrs. White, mother of the bride chose a violet tailored silk jersey with white accessories. Mrs. Budd, mother of the groom, wore burgundy-figured silk with black accessories.

The groom was Mr. Russel Budd of Sylvan Lake.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. A. Thompson of Lacombe. After the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served at the bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Forty-five guests were present.

The couple left on a honeymoon to Calgary and other points, after which they will make their home on a farm near Bentley.

Lacombe's Glee Club

TRIBUTE was paid by the local men's glee club at the month's home and school executive meeting. It was contained in the words of M C Cruickshank who, after listening to a few of the club's vocal items to back forward part of the program, probably echoed the thoughts of most of the audience when he said: I am especially surprised at Lacombe's singing talent. Strongly evinced in the majority of the numbers are: harmony and mention a conception of the fine points of volume nor of the work involved in making them so.

Each Wednesday evening during the winter months, a group of local men gather voluntarily to enjoy and take part in one of industry's oldest pastimes the art of singing. With untrained hands and full lungs they give vent to their feelings by singing "community songs." It's not the individual voices that contain it's the tie-in-tone of blending with the rest and that makes a star observer a joy to hear a hearty or song. It falls to the lot of a women, like W H Sutherland, to weld these men into formal get-togethers and to harmonize the voices for the desired effect. Handling raw material into a singing unit is one thing, but to add the appearance of comfort is one has for her efforts. Keeping interest they like to sing, these men may if realized their ideal from week-to-week quarterly through the body. We have all likely experienced the sensation among those who have shuffled their feet in the rear. "Put on your old grey hen and "go in the middle. "Auld Lang Syne."

Lacombe is indeed fortunate to have a host with the musical talent of like. Sutherland to whom goes much of the credit for the club's existence. It might be a good idea to publicize the club more next year, with a view to stabilize every guest engagements and bring midnight shows and stop here some of the club's spontaneous enthusiasm! Although that would naturally entail more work it might be possible, too to expand the scope also to the formation of another club for school boys, as Mr Cruikshank suggested. Such an undertaking would require another capable leader of the calibre of Miss Sutherland and one who would give considerable of her time to develop the voices and unfold among school youths the latent joys of song which seem to dwell in us all.

School Hi-Lites

by Robert Wright

High school students very much enjoyed the Lit presented by the combined grade eight classes in the school auditorium last Friday afternoon. The first item on the program was a song by Bob Wilson, "Tipping In" followed by the girls singing "Flying Over Paris" and Elinor Sutherland singing "Atlanta On."

After the animation of the Wayne and Shuster radio program was presented by some of the boys. In this were Bob Wilson and Don Kuhn as Wayne and Shuster, Ron Barkley as Gobby Hayes and Don Heworth, Jack MacDonald, and Gordon Barker as gold thieves.

For the final item Mary Bush introduced a fashion show completely modeled by boys. The audience received much laughter as the boys came out on the stage wearing women's clothes, hats, and in fact all other clothes.

W. F. Puffer

Last night's grand old man and old timer has passed on. While he was well past the allotted three score years and ten, being 82 years of age at the time of his death last Thursday, William F. Puffer had lived an active life up to about two years ago. Further than this forced him to retire from active participation in his lifelong hobby of keen quite noticeable to his many friends, especially during the past twelve months.

It is doubtful if any man has more respected and well known in Central Alberta than "Bill" Puffer. For almost half the 82 years of his life he exhibited his ability and served to the district his loyalty to its community was unquestioned.

One of the last pioneers, he loved to relate his early experiences and made light of the hardships and privations he with others, went through, both in the fur and hunting days. Staffed on the last he had a marvelous retentive memory into always well read, and could quote well known poetry with the best.

He was one of the last members of the original first Alberta Legislature when Alberta first became a province back in 1905. He was then elected as a Liberal MLA to represent this constituency in the Northern Legislature and served the interests of his district well.

He was always a staunch church, and never wavered in his faith to that party. He enjoyed telling of his election campaigns, and was a keen humorist. One of his pets, perhaps, was the time when he campaigned with his conservative opponent, Mr. Bancroft, mostly in the same sleigh, to represent their respective political beliefs.

During his metropolitan, his opponent was unable to attend at one or two meetings and Mr. Puffer having heard his speech on several previous occasions took it upon himself to make the conservative speech in the absence of his opponent. He chastised himself and the liberal provincial government, and everything to those attending the meeting made a good job of it. In his own speech given after he defended himself and his own party. Old timers say Mr. Bancroft thoroughly enjoyed the meeting, but he probably would have otherwise received.

An able speaker, he was ever in the fore front when anything for the good of the community was at stake and he took an active part for many years in municipal and provincial affairs.

His proven ability brought him into prominence in educational circles, and for a number of years he was a member of the Normal Board. He was past president of the Lacombe and District Old Timers Association.

Interment of interest were heard on all sides at his passing. A long as Lacombe is Lacombe the name of W. F. Puffer will be linked with it with pride. Of him it can truly be said. Well done good and faithful servant, enter into the joy of thy Lord."

Maintaining the Highways

With the present disgraceful condition of the main provincial highways in Southern Alberta, summer rain and wet from Lacombe south and west, it would be well for the people of the province to know what is being done to put these highways in shape for the summer traffic. Will the main provincial highways be ready for the heavy traffic which will soon be here as usual without further delay? Even the Lacombe district board of trade has been asked to fix them up although just what that service organization has to do with provincial highways is a mystery.

All this rumour is unnecessary. Let's try to look at the facts fairly and squarely. It's true that the upkeep of these highways is the responsibility of the provincial government and that they're in a horrible mess right now. But just what can we do as Alberta powers that be let's not blame the BD of Lacombe or the Board of Trade. They're just as anxious as anyone else to have the roads in good shape. It means, among other things, more business for them. Resolutions have been forwarded by both parties to the department of public works urging immediate repair work and maintenance.

Now let's look at the position of the provincial government. Bad road conditions exist all over Alberta. During the heavy snowfall this winter the running of up to the brunch some of the worst roads in Alberta. Where is the government going to work first? This is their dilemma, and we should try to appreciate it. While doing so, we shall join with residents in urging and hoping for action on these highways soon.

There present condition stems from a brick-dammed hitherto building government program which has been in existence for over the past few years. The war was undoubtedly an important factor in this negative approach to branch highways. With the Calgary-Edmonton stretch now hard-surfaced and in good shape we should be able to look forward to greater appropriations for some of the less important highways like Lacombe-Rimbey, Lacombe-Stettler routes. They have been ignored long enough.

Farming Notes

(From the Provincial Department of Agriculture)

Tillage and Soil Conservation

Correct choice and proper operation of tillage implements is essential in a sound soil conservation program.

The danger of dust storms is not confined to the prairie provinces. One of the worst storms in Alberta last year occurred in the Peace River area. Farmers there are now using more and more strip tillage or trash farming methods to conserve the soil moisture and prevent the soil rather than burying it in a large furrow. Strip tillage is now practiced extensively in Southern Alberta and to a lesser extent in other parts of the province.

Strip tillage means the use of implements that kill weed growth only in the same lines that the weed and stubble is left untouched on the surface where it provides valuable protection against soil blowing and loss of moisture. The one-way disc, blade and rod weeders, and cultivators are the implements used. They must be used correctly. The one way disc in particular can be very damaging if operated too fast or too often over the same piece of ground. To be on the safe side the speed of the one-way disc should not exceed 6 miles per hour.

When planning the cropping program this spring, give a thought to barley. A. H. Flores, Alberta's field crops commissioner, says that there is a place for barley on every farm. A balanced agricultural program requires feed crops. The successful livestock production ample feed must be provided. Barley yields more pounds of grain per acre than other small grains. Barley has brave qualities and provides an opportunity for spring — fall cultivation. Barley can be grown with a minimum of crop rotation than commonly followed in a system of cropping farms free from weeds and at the same time maintain the fertility and as a result of proper cultivation. Barley provides early competition.

Handling Package Bees

Alberta's province of apiarist, W. G. Infelder, suggests care in the handling of package bees on arrival. Before placing them in the hive the bees should be neither chilled nor over-heated a temperature between 60 degrees and 70 degrees F is about right.

Feeding the bees before releasing them from the package makes them more docile, and seems to get them established and settled on the hive more quickly and with less danger of them leaving the queen. The easiest way to do this is to sprinkle sugar syrup on the screen. Lay the package on its side and sprinkle the syrup through the screen, then turn the package over and do the same on the other side. The bees will soon get to work on the fruit the screen and eat themselves. Perhaps a cupful can be fed in this way.

One word of warning in connection with this kind of feeding don't do it to bees that are cold. They must be warm and able to move about freely. If the bees are cold they will not take up the syrup and die.

Reflections of the Times

Something's Been Lost

The experiences of father, the wisdom of the philosophers and the art of radio are unlikely to no longer appeals to the to minute We live in times when the respects of honor bored for records that of being conserved.

The beauty and majesty of nature, the infinite mystery of the universe, the beauty and glory of the great literature of the ages no longer appeal greatly to the mind of mankind. The race has lost something worth while and has to search for substitutes. Can this mechanized age supply them? We doubt it.

The budget amounted to $1,000 Police Parks and Cemetery, $1,000 Relief and Health, $1,410 Street Lights, $4,667.50. Total — $8,577.50.

30 Years Ago

Moved by Councillor W. T. Hicks, seconded by Councillor H. E. McDermott that the resignation of R. W. Goldring as town policeman be accepted.

20 Years Ago

Messrs. Plaxton and Anderson of the Calgary Power Co. were present at the meeting to discuss with council the various clauses of a contract of $50,000 offered by them for the purchase of the power distribution system. Mayor G. T. Jackson thanked the officials for their attendance and promised an early decision from council.

Moved by Councillor E. C. Chapman, seconded by C. E. Todd, "That chairman of the Public Works committee be authorized to purchase gasoline home for town service."

Correction And Education

We have already mentioned in this column the present shortage of teachers in the Lacombe school division, but of a severe nature in other areas West of here there are seven schools in one block with no teacher. They are closed entirely the others have had to put two or three school rooms and one pupil of three school into 25 and 30 pupils.

Both parents and pupils are losing interest satisfactory is poor and many students will be out of school at an early age. The children grow up in social areas are just as unskilled and unfit to do their duties and rights and if a large number of these grow up they become an opportunity to develop their talents. It is a loss not only to them individually but to the country as a whole.

Our democratic form of government requires both intelligence and a fair basic knowledge of education.

The CCF party has drawn heavily for greater government expenditure on education. We believe that the province could and should put at least 30% the total cost of education (at present it is around 20%).

The situation in our rural schools demands immediate attention.

More people drive... More people want CHEVROLETS than any other make of car

Official registration figures show that more Chevrolets have been bought than any other make of car for the total transportation-year period ending from 1941 to 1948!

Year for years — and year then year today — with the advent of this newer, smarter, finer Chevrolet for 1948! Official registration figures prove that more people drive Chevrolets — and newer Independent surveys prove that more people want Chevrolets. Ever any other make of car! The reason, of course, is more value. And now Chevrolet value is made all the more outstanding by the smart new styling, brilliant new colors, and even more luxuriously appointed interiors which have been added to all the other advantages of Chevrolet's famous BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST. Be sure to see the new 1948 Chevrolet, and you'll know why more people drive Chevrolets than any other make!

Building Permits Log Behind the 1947 Figure
Building permits for Lacombe this year continue to lag behind those during the big building boom known as 1947.
Until an appreciable fair building permits were secured by the town secretary from March 1 to mid-April and these amounted to only $ [illegible].
With a value of $45,000 to permits issued during January and February, the 1948 total to date is over $23,325. Last year permit value totalled $205,000 and the town councillors say they schedule to be a low estimate with building values usually higher than anticipated.
It is necessary for residents to obtain permits through Town Secretary C. B. Hyndman when they build a house, building, a garage, or a shed, or make alterations to structures.
Permits obtained recently are as follows:

A. E. Ellis (alterations to home)	$4,000
Andrew Pyztra (after repair dwelling)	600
Sam Bird (repairs to dwelling)	100
J. G. Leiba (after, repair dwelling)	150
D. G. Herrington (new dwelling)	3,500
Howard Barnes, (moving building)	50
Previous Total	34,000
GRAND TOTAL	$39,100

Urquhart-Sutherland Wedding Is Held Tuesday Evening

The home of Mrs. Wilma Sutherland in Lacombe was the scene of a pretty wedding Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock when her daughter, Marion Alice, was united in marriage to Kenneth Urquhart, son of Mr. H. B. Urquhart of the Spiersville district. Rev. L. A. Thompson officiated.

The bride given in marriage by her father looked charming in a floor length gown of white net, cut low at neck and short sleeves. Her veil was held in place by a coronet of pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and pink accessories. Lottie Sanders Burrows was flower girl.

Mr. Bob Urquhart attended his brother as best man.

Wedding music was supplied by the bride's mother, Mrs. Wilma Sutherland.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party were entertained at a reception at the banquet room of the Lacombe Hotel. Places were set for 12. The bride's table was centered by a beautiful 3 tiered wedding cake flanked with crystal candelabra, tall tapers and

One 300 ft. Well Is Only Source

Lacombe Uses Average of 50,000 Gallons Water Daily

The odds are you've been asked about town water, at one time or another. Curious for details, the writer ventured the source of supply for the "dope". All hands at the city pay hops have smiles. Lacombe never bothers story.

The water spurting from the 300 ft. deep well, bubbling from the garden hose at all person from one well drilled on the heart of Lacombe to a depth of 300 feet Toppose water from that well are 300 customers in town and they use some pretty gallons of water on an average.

It is piped to the town reservoir over three miles from the well and the piping is two eight feet inches the curvature of the ground allows no danger of water freezing in winter.

The well is located at entrance to the building owned jointly by the Calgary Power Co. and the town. Here the hostess power operating from the well is a power engine which pumps to the reservoir. The capacity is the rate of 50 gallons a minute.

From the reservoir the water flows by gravity into two mains, one 8 inch and one 6 inch, which distribute the water to the various sections of the town. The pressure is 100-110 pounds and has been estimated to be enough to supply the town for four days of normal usage.

Residents may be interested to know that the reservoir does not show the grade of Lacombe's water is not filtered. It is pumped direct from the well.

About every three months there is a report of the water analysis of samples of water taken at random from various parts of the town. The water is bacteriologically tested which rates its at water, on a high level.

In addition a chemical engineer surveys a combined report approximately once a year. This is a more detailed examination, and according to the last official analysis show it's all the solids and health-giving elements are present in Lacombe water. It has proper amounts of fluorine to eliminate decay and a good builder to assist tooth decay.

Lacombe's water is very soft, and everyone who has ever lived where hard water is used for washing will know the difference.

The closely fitted in the water from the top, incidentally, is simply a series of air bubbles to prevent the pressure of which the water is pumped. A glass of water left overnight may become the bubbles of air come to the surface and leave.

It is said by the residents that their own water from individual wells becomes a habit as regards all lake-bed, and a person can drink a well almost anywhere in the district and be sure of getting water. Hard water can be obtained in shallow wells up to 20 or 25 feet, but to get at the soft water, it is necessary to drill around the 300 foot level.

Since 1936, when the water system was installed in Lacombe, the consumption per year of the town has increased by the town's well with its approved sustainable water supply. The cost of the water is based on the number of gallons used per day. Rates have been many reductions in rates through the years.

The latest reduction this year to a three-dollar minimum planned local residents, and also reflected the increased number of gallons the town pumps through the completed, yet unfinished, complex system of pumps and pipes from one well, to your tap.

Some of us may spend time behind the bars because we spend too much time in front of them.

Former Editor in Lacombe

Old Friend Pays Tribute To The Late W. F. Puffer

By J. H. Sumner
in the Le St. Anne Chronicle

Among the pioneers of Alberta were some men of sterling worth, William Franklin Puffer, who passed away last week at his home in Lacombe, where he had lived continuously for over fifty years, was one of them. I first heard of Bill Puffer this name called him Will) in 1886. I was working west of Olds and living with his brother-in-law and sister Mr and Mrs. Robert Hammond. Mr. Puffer had homesteaded in the same district as the Hammonds. He had arrived there and homesteaded and moved to Lacombe to go into business. Hammonds told me of buildings he was on the homestead of which he carried on his back from the bush some distance away. He was a man of powerful physique, of great endurance and courage as I deemed. He was kindly disposed but full. For a time he lived next to my office and if there was a light there when he was going home for the night, he never failed to come in for a chat and "W. F." always talked of things worthwhile. I have always regarded highly my association with W. F. Puffer, and will continue to do so as long as memory lasts. On one of the last occasions I had the pleasure of his company, I was standing on the steps of a train going north through Lacombe when "W. F." came along. He grabbed me by the arm and said "where is your baggage, you're getting off here." For me he still lives, for his words and deeds cannot be destroyed by the storms of life.

We Are Fortunate

THE spring of 1948 will be remembered for years to come throughout central Alberta. Snowdrifts heavier than at Prairie, Wainwright and Red Deer abandoned farm heads impassable roads and rural railway workers have all made this winter one in the past two months.

In the midst of the flooded area, Lacombe is a haven. has been comparatively fortunate. There have been reports of a few basements being flooded, but there has been no town water, sewer or personal property damage by reason to the north south or west. There has been a good deal of it but generally speaking trouble has been confined to almost any street in town. Many streets particularly in the north residential section were flooded but only one house was compromised of mud, but that condition is one over which Mother Nature should have control. The natural drainage built last year have stood out as pathways of haven to householders half submerged.

Taken all in all, it has been a memorable spring, and Lacombe has been favored as the neighbors escaped the flood ravages suffered by its neighbors

There's Something Wrong

THE recent 21% increase in the freight rates has caused a ruckus, reaching the proportions of a row across the benches of the commons. Some of the provincial governments have protested and appealed the decision. Even within the ranks of Prime Minister King's liberal party there were murmurs of discontent. At the vote on the measure in the commons house, majority of fourth lieutenants weren't sure which way to turn until Mr. King crossed the party wires.

It seems usual liberals felt they owed a measure of allegiance to their constituents back home by voting against the adoption of the new rates but that caused there was danger of government defeat on the motion, entailing perhaps a general election. Mr. King risked the party fortunes, and although it converted indeed almost down, we can well imagine how the master politician "talked turkey" to his recalcitrant members would be reminded they were liberals, and that sentiments would be forgotten when election day rolled around "on hustings" and the party machine would be turned loose shoulder to shoulder and voted with the party as they were told to.

The crisis was successfully overcome, but at a price. That price was the exposure of a weakness in democracy not as old as the system of as the challenge of its petals, servants. The game of politics has been played before, but never with more dilemma immediate effect. The limit not seen that parliamentarians should heed every country voice raised on this or that part of the country, but this was to minority cry. Rightly or wrongly, many parts of Western Canada and the Maritimes feel that Ontario and Quebec have had it their own way too long, and that the time has brought which made no adjustment on the discriminatory scale structure.

When members ignore the unmistakeable protests of their electors in order to fall in line like parrots with the party machine, it is time to do some thinking.

To Aid Tax Returns

FARMERS never have been bookkeepers, and will probably never will be. That business of filling and sending income tax forms with its so-called ingenue and complications has always been a miserable task to the average farmer

Now the department of national revenue is trying to assist him by simplifying returns for future years under a "Farmers Account Book and Income Tax Guide." Perhaps some of our readers have discovered some advertisements on the pages announcing the new volume.

Bill Hunnisett suggests it will be of great value to farmers who use them." It will enable him to enter all receipts and expenses at the time of transaction or shortly thereafter, thus making the task of keeping records easier and also giving him some idea of his financial standing at any time. The department estimates a few minutes each week will be enough to keep accurate records.

The book can be purchased from any post office and should be worth a fair trial during the coming year

Keep Lacombe Beautiful!

WITH the long-awaited arrival of spring has come an obligation on the part of us all to start the annual spring clean-up." The disappearance of winter's chaos, white snow always exposes a surprising amount of dirt and refuse old tin cans, rags clumps of muddy leaves left over from last fall. They all mar the beauty of budding front lawns and landscapes. But a good rake and a little energy-as on the next half-day off can do wonders to transform a scrubby front into a neat, tidy one. The mild fresh coat of paint would help to brighten the town too.

Since Lacombe has been endowed with all the natural makings of a beauty spot it is a pretty situated town nestled in a valley surrounded by sturdy trees and shrubs, and blessed with rich black soil that can grow any kind of vegetables and flowers. But even those natural beauties can be

Control Bang's Disease

Dr. E. E. Rolleston, director of veterinary services, Alberta department of agriculture, states that Bang's disease is one of the most important diseases of low stock, is creating at the very centre of our cattle industry. But only does Bang's disease cause abortion, as commonly supposed of cattle, but is contributory of the sickness from calf pneumonia. Dr. Rolleston says that it is a virus kind Bang's disease and consistently tests by placing healthy cattle on a common pasture with infected cattle.

The disease is spread mainly at the time of the abortion of a Brucellosis infected animal. The aborted cow, the fluid in her uterus, the foetus and the discharges from which may persist for several weeks after the animals has aborted, are teeming with Brucella bacteria. The infected material may be spread about the pasture yards or stables by cattle will eat, drink or lick the contaminated material. Brucellosis is a costly disease. Not only is the calf lost but there is a decrease in the flow of milk for that lactation period. To reduce Bang's disease, a yearly program of calfhood vaccination is favoured by many live stock men. It has been proven that strengthening a high percentage of the herd and has proved to be one of the most satisfactory methods of control.

To help reduce losses from Bang's disease, the Alberta department of agriculture, will, this year, purchase calfhood vaccine and supply it to interested owners who make application for calfhood vaccination by providing records and intimate assistance, ing a record of difficult cases, abortions, ovum, providing laboratory examinations of blood samples and when necessary testing the herd with the positive Alberta veterinarians who are assisting in this program have agreed to a very moderate scale of fees for vaccination.

Discuss your Brucellosis problems with your veterinarian. He is well qualified to give advice regarding diagnosis and control. Application forms for calfhood vaccination can be obtained from veterinarians, district agriculturists or from the Director of Veterinary Services, Provincial Building, Edmonton.

Fit the Tractor to the Farm

E. S. Morton, Extension Agricultural Engineer, Alberta Department of Agriculture, says that the future of our farm tractors are too large for the size of the farm, for the equipment they have to pull, and for the economy of the farm itself. He also points out that with the increased price of fuel during the past year many farmers are realizing that tractor efficiency are of greater importance than ever.

The efficiency of the farm tractor varies with the amount of work it does. It works at a maximum efficiency when it is fully load and at the load is reduced operating costs per acre rise. The same is true the amount of work done. Even before the tractor shortage of the past few years there was a trend in North West farm machines that had much more power than was needed. The first step towards fuel economy is to purchase the type of tractor that will fit the job.

Mr. Morton said fuel economy can be increased by the use of proper tillage implements. He recommended the elimination in the mechanical portion of town Mattawa, Ontario, of all stubble. Weeds

1949 Monarch Is Entirely New Car

An all-new automobile, low, spacious and distinctively styled, will carry the name "Monarch" on a new luxury field of passenger car transportation. The 1949 Monarch, powered by a big, 110-h.p. V-type eight cylinder engine of new design, will be publicly introduced in the show rooms of Lacombe Motor Sales and Service later this month. It will be available in the sport sedan coupe, town and on a six-passenger coupe model

Bodies of the new Monarch are normally spacious. Three adults may ride in comfort on either front or rear seat, the latter being a full five feet in width. Hardware is rugged but gracefully cast and fixtures are refreshingly new The car also introduces a specially designed ventilation system which carries a controlled flow of outdoor air to all parts of the interior. When combined with a heater unit, it provides unobjectionable warm, fresh air in both front and rear seating compartments. All-round visibility is achieved without sacrifice of structural strength and there is exceptionally large luggage space under the "trunk" back in the sedan.

The Monarch's engine has automotive choke and an automatic "fuel-miser" feature to prevent stalling after a cold start. The engine itself is completely insulated from the frame by three rubber mounts, and is quiet.

The frame of the new car is described by the makers as one of the most rigid ever designed. Resilient coil springs are employed at the front end suspension with airplane-type shock absorbers installed within the springs. This enables them to work on the same plane as the springs for smoother, effortless ride. The same type of shock absorbers are one-leg mounted at the rear where they function with new, longitudinal springs. "Equalizer" bars, another feature of the 1949 Monarch, is achieved by the use of turning arms of the same length.

Garden Notes
By G. M. Brewer,
Horticulture Editor,
Local Experimental Station.
Planting Hardy Annual Seeds
Hardy annuals and, if well prepared before planting, can be planted from April 15 to 30 inclusive, and should be in a good location, well drained, with deep rich soil, and a sunny exposure. Annuals that will transplant make satisfactory bedding plants for the full bed of flowers.
Annuals planted are usually spaced from one and one-half to two inches apart, and if the soil is well prepared before planting, can be left undisturbed from a germination to maturity will save time. Old roots cannot be divided satisfactorily. Good mulching for approximately the eighteen hottest spent, in rows three feet apart.
The proper cultivation is required about the seventh year from planting, preventing the formation of a hard crust during the first three years. The cutting season should be from the middle of July to the first days after the third year, cultivating gradually to free weeds. Add to this year by a minimum of eight weeks after the growth has ceased. Be sure to water that the plants can build up and preserve a strong root system.
When cutting, use a side dressing of "Compost" fertilizer may be applied and it is not after the middle of the season.
One hundred plants of asparagus will supply the needs of a family for five "Mary Washington" is recommended as the best variety.
P.S.—When these recommendations inevitably occur, put out some food for the birds. Suet and grain are the best since the provisions have in no fight with insect pests.

R.C.M.P. Band
To Tour Alberta
During June
The commissioner, E. T. Wood, R.C.M.P., Ottawa announces The Band of the R.C.M.P. will make a recruiting tour of the 3 prairie provinces during the month of June 1948. Arrangements are now being made to engage 30 men who are found to be the most suitable members of places. It is expected that the tour will commence at Edmonton and finish at Winnipeg about one month later.
This is the first time that such a recruiting tour has been undertaken, and will also provide an opportunity for many members of the Force to hear the Band of the Force to which is considered to be the finest of its kind in Canada.
Further details of the tour as to dates and places where concerts will be held will be made public in due course.

B and P Club To Hold Dance in June

The B and P Club held their regular meeting in the Town Hall last Monday night with Miss Gwen Rudy presiding. It was decided not to send a delegate to the convention at Regina this year, but to make it the aim of the club to do so next year.

It was decided to hold two meetings each month, one social and one business. Miss Angie Jones and Miss Margo Calder were elected hostesses for the next social meeting to be held on June 7. The business on June 21. Of this number, 41 cubes were returned by members of the Lacombe calf club. Other clubs taking part in the competition were Bentley, Clive, Eckville, Lacombe, Rimbey, Penhold and Wetaskiwin.

Plans were discussed to hold a dance sometime in June. Business meetings will be held in future on the first Monday of each month. Members are respectfully requested to pay their dues to Mrs. Ken Buckley by May 31.

that area in cleaning up the brush along the power line right-of-way.

Another matter that came in for lengthy discussion was the question of hole digging for the poles. Directors felt that the ratepayers should save money if members of the association made themselves responsible for doing their own pole-hole digging. This matter, however has been left temporarily until the time of ordering and spring work on farms is known. When these holes would have to be dug would be the big factor in deciding whether or not members would be able to supervise in digging holes.

Directors present at the meeting included John Henderson, president; Norman Brooks, secretary O. D. Harrington, Chief Ranger, Paul Sarver, L. McEachern, J. F. Cole, V. Rigney, J. E. Williams and J. Dobinson.

Weddings of Local Interest

JUSTINEY—MARSHALL

The marriage of Miss Ella Jean Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Marshall, Town, to Mr. James Joseph Justiney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Justiney of Champion, took place Saturday, May 1 at 2:30 p.m. in the United Church of Christ. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Rev. J. Brown officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a white gown of rayon finish taffeta marquisette over piqué taffeta, and her floor length veil was one her mother wore 30 years ago. Her bouquet consisted of pink and white carnations.

Miss Violet Marshall was her sister's bridesmaid. She wore a gown of rayon blue rayon taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The best man was Mr. Lyle Marshall brother of the bride and the ushers were Mr. Lonnie Wren and Mr. Roy Watt of Alix.

Miss Margaret Cookson played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mr. J. Davies of Lacombe sang, "O Perfect Love."

A reception took place for immediate friends and relatives at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was laid in lace, centered with a tiered, pillared wedding cake, embedded with artificial roses.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. J. Davies.

Later the young couple left for a honeymoon at Calgary and the bride wore a navy pin-striped suit with lime green accessories. The young couple will make their home at Rocky Mountain House.

CAMPBELL—HENDERSON

The wedding of Jean, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs. Samuel Henderson, Lacombe, to Mr. Wilfred Campbell, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Campbell of Winnipeg, took place in St. Andrew's United Church, Lacombe on Saturday, May 8. Rev. L. A. Thompson officiated. The church and cedar decorated the pews, and baskets of snapdragons front of the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pale pink corded silk with bustle back and hat of pale grey edged with matching ribbon and grey veil. Her bouquet was of lavender sweet peas and roses.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss Alberta Henderson, whose gown was of brown taffeta with matching hat. Her bouquet was of pink carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother, Dr. J. B. Campbell of Winnipeg.

Ushers were Mr. Donald Henderson and Mr. William Campbell.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Wilma Sutherland.

A reception was held on the banquet room of the Lacombe Hotel immediately following the ceremony for fifty guests. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Toast to the bride was given by Mr. C. D. Marble, with the groom also responding.

For going away the bride wore a grey tailored suit with a white off the face hat. The bridal couple left for a honeymoon in Banff. They will reside in Winnipeg.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Dr. Steve Campbell and Bill Campbell of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Al Campbell and Mrs. Barrie McIntosh of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cormack, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Russ and Barbara Jean of Red Deer, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Cooper and Mrs. Dick Talbot of Edmonton.

Mr. F. Hargreaves was a business visitor in Edmonton last week end.

Miss Betty Talbot joined the staff of the Bank of Montreal this week.

Better Roads, Perhaps

FRIENDS of Hon D Bruce Sheppard, M.L.A. for the Lacombe constituency will note with pleasure his new post as minister of public works for the province. $9-Million has come a long way since his election to the first round robin contest in 1935. He has the reputation for having been a fair and satisfactory minister of public works for the past several years. Under him, the department of agriculture brought in several new ideas and has greatly extended the transportation facilities of the province in improving trunk of branch as well as feeder roads all over Peace Hills.

It is reasonable to assume that Hon Bruce Sheppard will do an equally capable job as boss of the provincial public works department. His will be a big job as public job. Roads and road grades together with educational problems are among the most explosive in the province. Provincial governments have come and fallen on public opinion on direct proportion to their ability or inability to build and maintain good roads.

While it must be kept in mind that the new minister of public works is first and foremost a member for the entire province, residents of this constituency might draw some hope for action on provincial roads in the near future.

The new minister will have first hand knowledge of the condition of the highways running east and west through his constituency. It is well known fact that the Lacombe-Bentley highway has been all but impassable for the past month. The road has been neglected for so many years that the gravel on it has all but disappeared. A similar situation appears in regard to the Lacombe-Stettler highway. Certainly from Lacombe to Clive, at least, the highway is a highway in name only. Farmers coming from the east to Lacombe, like their contemporaries coming from the west, have been using motorcycles pushed and motorized roads.

Constituents of the new minister would be in bad taste to expect extensive road work in the Lacombe constituency merely because the minister of the department of public works was elected by them. However they might rightly expect minor improvement on provincial roads in this area until the provincial highways here are in such urgent need of attention. Since the new minister will know of these conditions from actual experience, residents might rightly demand that the conditions be righted.

Congratulations, Edmonton

THERE was jubilation in Edmonton over the week end. For the first time since Allan Cup hockey play offs were started 30 years ago, an Edmonton team had won the coveted Canadian Senior Amateur Hockey Championship. By virtue of their thrilling 3-2 victory over the Ottawa Senators Saturday night, the Edmonton Flyers took top hockey honors for the 1947-48 season.

It is the second time in the last three years that the hockey championship has come to Alberta. In 1946-47 Calgary Stampeders took the crown. In the following year the same Stampeders were turned out, bag, bones to them, by the Montreal Royals. This year the Flyers brought the Allan Cup back to the foothills province.

Edmonton fans were not alone in the jubilation. Throughout Lacombe and the district, as elsewhere, fans thrilled to the news that Alberta's capital city had won the title. From there first to central Alberta to the Flyers go best wishes and sincere congratulations.

Farming Notes

From the Provincial Department of Agriculture

Choose Farm Machinery Wisely

E. B. Martin, extension agricultural engineer, Alberta department of agriculture says that there are still farmers in Alberta who are unaware of the possibilities of rotary tillage equipment as time and labor savers in their business. Mr Martin's advice is to learn of same

Rotary tillers of which there are several varieties are relatively small, efficient machines with rotating knives or teeth that break down the soil structure and mix it to the desired depth with a finely pulverized condition. Such a condition does make a good seed bed, and these machines ought to all right for truck gardens or similar small plots. However Mr Martin emphasizes that methods interested in the future of this tillage equipment can not endorse the use of most equipment in general use to-day. We have only recently removed from our bottle against dust disease, he says, and nothing could provide a more serious problem than extensive use of rotary tillage machinery in this province.

Your district agriculturist will be glad to advise on the value of rotary tillage equipment for your farm. He suggests that you may be considering the purchase of one of these machines. Before making any such commitment you may wish to discuss the matter first with the manager of helping to prevent the formation of most valuable asset a farmer can have, soil.

Spring Care of Milk and Cream

The change in weather conditions from winter to spring with its accompanying warmer temperatures make more care on the part of the dairyman. To maintain high quality on milk and cream the usual sanitation measures plus extra cooling become most necessary.

Official advice of the Dairy Branch pointed out that flavours causing brewing in cream are caused by the growth of milk and particularly cream during the change of seasons. Others are not caught unprepared.

Three main points should be kept in mind.

1. Milk clean cows in clean surroundings. Dirty (wet) and odours which are readily absorbed by fresh, warm milk.
2. Thoroughly clean and sterilize all utensils.
3. If you are a milk shipper, cool milk as fast as possible after milking. Cool cream immediately on separation. This quick cooling accomplishes material change (a) Prevents bacterial growth. (b) Prevents absorption of flavours.

Two other points worth remembering are that flecks and odours of milk cows must be kept clean, and that rusty, open seamed utensils are almost impossible to keep in strictly sanitary condition. Use well tinned or stainless steel utensils. The latter are highly recommended and are now obtainable at dairy supply houses and at many hardware stores.

Looking Back . . .

40 Years Ago

A circular to the amount of $5,000 is to be awarded for providing new sidewalks from streets and crossings.

A by-law was passed for the issue of a debenture to raise $4,000 for the purpose of paying the town's share of the cost of a Court House.

30 Years Ago

A special meeting of the council was held. After discussion a sum moved by councillor W T Hogan, seconded by councillor Mc-Dermond that "The proposal of Gordon McCullough Co. Ltd to erect an engine driven grandstand can not be accepted."

A motion for a by-law was prepared to raise the sum of $5,000, same to be refunded in twenty years in accordance with the Town Act.

20 Years Ago

Communication was received from the Western Institute saying that council build and maintain a hockey rink in the business part of Lacombe. It was moved that the W I be advised that the question of a public toilet is at present beyond possibilities of revenue.

Council supported the herdsmen of public toilets on the main park grounds ought be utilized.

Floods Cause Terrific Soil Losses

It will take a great deal of money to repair the damage to roads, bridges and private property as a result of the recent floods in the prairie provinces, but the damage to actual cultivated lands is almost as much. Experts say that it will take many years and many thousands of tons of our best top soil.

The problem of soil erosion by wind and water is becoming more serious every year, and if it is allowed to continue it will mean that in the not so distant future much of our best land will be practically useless for farming. But there is no easy solution; we must have a long term policy of soil conservation. We must put more trees back into our soil by growing shelters and hedge crops. There is little or no erosion in hay land and a great deal less in recently plowed sod than in ordinary summer-fallow. Proper land on steep slopes should be left permanently in grass or reforested.

This would mean even livestock on our farms, to use the old-fashioned pasture and hay. Then we might have further problems such as finding a market for the increased meat and dairy production. But these problems must be solved if we are to save our soil.

Believing that the protection of this, our greatest resource is of the utmost importance to the country as a whole the CCF party undertakes to take active measures to take more action in this regard. A CCF government in Alberta would reforest this area of our greatest value in the future.

But strengthen and sustain

And so, beside the silent sea,
I wait the muffled oar.
No harm from Him can come to me

C.G.I.T. Mother-Daughter Banquet Held at Clive

Candlelight Service Ends Banquet

CLIVE The C.G.I.T. Mother and Daughter banquet and investiture service with the Women's Missionary Society took place in the United Church at Clive last Friday.

The banquet table was done mod with flowers, and beautiful place cards made by Donna Bonner. Four names given. Patsy Johnson, Shirley Bertrand, Betty Lou Bonner, Norma Mackenzie and Mrs. Bonner received the corner. The color theme of the dinner program was preceded over by the president of the C.G.I.T. with Marion Schmidt as toastmistress.

Toasts were to King and Country to the Church, proposed by Mavis Randall and responded to by Mrs. C. T. Coutts to the Women's Missionary Society proposed by Dorothy Porter and responded to by Mrs. Bonnworth. of Spring Valley to the Mothers proposed by Marion Morgan and responded to by Mrs. J. MacLeod.

Mrs. J. B. Brown, leader of the group, also conveyed greetings and gave a short talk on C.G.I.T. work and a report of the group activities for the year.

Miss Madelaine Johnson gave a beautiful solo. She was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Clarence Johnson. Mrs. Bonnworth also rendered a most acceptable piano solo.

The mystery Madelaine Johnson, on behalf of the C.G.I.T. made the presentation of a hymn board to the church. This was accepted on behalf of the church by Mrs. Coutts treasurer of the church board.

All the ex officio members were also housework represented this Women's Missionary society and occupied the vacant pew of the C.G.I.T. The evening's activities closed with the candle lighting service and the benediction.

Gull Lake

GULL LAKE The Roundlight Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. E. McLachlan and enjoyed a wiener roast and afternoon. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Maycox in May.

The new teacher built up her district at Gull Lake school last week. She is Miss Cubbe and is boarding at the F. McLachlan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hinton and Mrs. Grange Cubbon returned last week from a short trip to Penticton, B.C. where they attended the diamond wedding anniversary of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hanson. They report a very nice celebration. The honored couple enjoyed it to the fullest extent, and received many congratulations and presents.

The J. Pollard family spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Clare Bleary at home of Mother's Day also present for the dinner was the M. Foster family of Lacombe.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cubbon spent Mother's Day at L. Cubbon's home.

Mrs. J. Johnson and son spent the day at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Perry.

Jerry Pollard is staying with Mr. Jim Hodges's farm.

Mrs. Ferguson left the last of the last week. He traded his car for a jeep and now he has offers in Bentley without too much trouble now.

Garden Notes

(By G. M. Rosser, Horticulturist, Dominion Experimental Station.)

It seems almost impossible to make a sod too rich for Rhubarb. This vegetable is very hardy and does not do well in a poor soil. A well manured location is also a necessity so that growth can begin early in the spring. A location like this will yield a heavy production.

Although rhubarb is a sturdy rooted from seed, there is much variation in the quality of seedlings, and real dependable kinds of varieties are more satisfactory. Ivey Rhubarb plants should be set at least 4 feet by 4 feet apart. After planting, either root divisions or seedlings, a full season must be allowed the plant to build up reserves before any stalks are pulled off.

After three or four years cropping the plants should be taken up, dug or divided and reset.

The Red Seed Company is a concern in Western Canada and has turned many a good plants in time of shortage. These are known records for fine disease plants showing the vegetables should be strong and dependable.

Horse Almost Lost In Big Hog Hole In Milton Road

(From our own correspondent)

A horse was almost completely buried Sunday in a hog hole on the road in Mr. Milton Miller's farm. Some residents were moving to the former Dennis Jones farm when one of the horses stepped into the crumbling along the road east of Lee's farm. It took another team and several men pushing and pulling with chains to free the animal from the hog hole formed by the run-off waters which washed out the road at this spot.

Cars are unable to travel this road.

Inclusion of Oxford S.D. and Lacombe Division Deferred

Inclusion of the Oxford school district (Bentley) into the Lacombe school division has been deferred until June 1 1949 by a motion which was passed at the regular monthly meeting of the Lacombe School Division No. 14 held on Tuesday, May 18.

The merger of the two school areas, discussed and passed on the spring of 1948, was deferred at that time until June 1 of this year. This year's deferment of inclusion was agreed on by the board of both school areas.

99 Years Old

who celebrates her 99th birthday tomorrow. Born in Pennsylvania on May 21, 1849, he is still hale and hearty and at present looking forward to Sunday, as the 22nd. He has lived with his son Charlie and family in the Lacombe district since his wife died in 1934. During the winter he visited with other members of his family in the United States. While visiting there he had his first hair cut and his first flight on an aeroplane.

Mr. Zielie plans on spending his 99th birthday quietly at home with members of the family.

Clive Residents Receive Slight Hurts in Accident

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Rasmussen who live four miles south of Clive received injuries in a car accident near Wetaskiwin on Tuesday of last week. Returning from Edmonton, in their 1937 Chevrolet, their car was crossed on a curve by a car driven by Mrs. Ed Bruce and the driver immediately stopped to render assistance. Mrs. Rasmussen suffered a cracked rib, and her wife was severely shaken up and bruised.

Mr. Rasmussen's car remained upright on the road following the accident while the truck landed upside down in the ditch.

Damage to the Rasmussen car is estimated at about $50.

Pheasants in Forshee District Doing Well

Pheasants placed in the Forshee district last fall by fish and game officials under the direction of L. Lacombe and Red Deer have raised their number well, according to information received from Jack W. Rogers of that district and on whose farm most of the pheasants were placed. The birds appear to have come through the winter well," Mr. Rogers told the Globe. They have been sighted twelve miles north could miles west and six miles east of the spot where they were released. To date, Mr. Rogers stated there has been no report of them spreading to the south

Oh, Those Highways

HIGHWAY conditions in the town and district have deteriorated rapidly since the provincial government took the ban off personnel and machinery. Gone now are the gangs of men and buses, the busboard bulldozers on any road, have been playing their tools, and mysteriously repairing dead bodies in the highway.

The lifting of the ban has caused grey haired among Lacombe province councillors during the past month and well it might, for the condition of the main Calgary-Edmonton highway through Lacombe is deplorable. Particularly bad is the stretch from the Experimental station to the Gull Lake highway. The stretch of road is a bad spot, and advisers has been a nightmare for engineering maintenance. Since then road is made the town finish, upkeep of the road is the responsibility of the town. Up to last Saturday, 600 yards of ground had been poured onto the road at a town expense of $1,000. The big beams and gas trucks came along, right behind the town owned, and made to their home in the town. Provincial Transfers and town machinery were used to help keep traffic moving, but trucks continued to pile up along the highway.

Now it was the provincial government which lifted the ban, and the truckers, who pay heavy taxes to the provincial government, naturally went to work. In so doing, they made an already bad situation impossible, at this particular stretch of highway in Lacombe — and yet the town, which receives no direct revenue from the gas truckers and has complained, is responsible for keeping the road open at its own expense.

Such a situation cannot hardly last, and it would appear that closer liaison between the provincial government and the town, both financially and through the meeting of summary, would go a long way towards righting what certainly appears to be a wrong. This situation is not confined to Lacombe alone, but in towns all over the province.

There are two or three other points concerning road and street traffic in Lacombe and district. Officials responsible for the condition of the roads have been drawn to our attention through the last week endeavoring to meet complaints of ratepayers, been officials, by the gentlemen, have two trucks, a maintainer and a crew of men who have been working long hours endeavoring to fix up streets and roads, but if a pipeline is impossible for them to get around to all streets at the snow time.

One factor which is largely responsible for the shape of some of the streets and roads, in the entire disregard of some motorists and it is here in which observing "road closed" signs. Having streets and roads blocked off often brings hardships on individuals living along that road or street, occasionally under duress, such individuals may be forced to leave the road but, it is rarely these are the actual offenders who ruin the roads and make them impassable. It is the heavier traffic the chinook offenders with a heavy vehicle who digs deep ruts in the streets with apparent contempt for the "road closed" signs.

Such officials can and should, take prompt action. Such drivers should be summoned, and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Only by such action can officials, apparently driven home the fact that a "road closed" sign is put up for a purpose.

To sum up, then, road conditions in this exceptional spring have been extremely difficult but the difficulties could be eased considerably on provincial highways in town with a closer liaison between town and province. Streets in town and municipal roads in the country would remain in better condition if traffic signs were obeyed to a stand of general boiling co-operation on the part of drivers authorities should take action by bringing them into court.

Co-operation Needed

MEMBERS of the local volunteer fire brigade have a justified complaint regarding motorists and passersby parking in the fire hall when the fire siren blows. At the last fire call, local car owners almost blocked the truck exit from the fire hall. Cars were parked opposite the hall, and around the corners from the hall in the north south street causing wait from the hall, the trucks were held up temporarily while the cars sorted themselves out.

The situation could be serious in event of a bad outbreak of fire. Local car owners and residents are asked to co-operate in keeping their cars off the streets when the fire siren goes in the event, cars must pull to the curb and stop when fire engines are in the vicinity, co-operation on the part of local residents would preclude the necessity of enforcement and a by-law in Lacombe. It is only fair that car owners should fully co-operate

Seeding Forage Crops

When deciding the method of seeding, forage crop seeds must be divided into two groups small hairy seeded kinds, and the larger seeded kinds. In the first group will soon be included all legume seeds and brooms. The second group includes brome, crested wheat and creeping red fescue. Any of the kinds within one group will not require any treatment when drilled, small hairy seeded kinds, however, with coarse fluted seeded kinds a thorough mix is difficult. They may separate readily in the hoppy seeds tend to settle to the bottom. If the two types of seed are to be included in a mixture the best plan is to go over the field twice.

J. S. Bredahl, Supervisor of Crop Inspection, Alberta Department of Agriculture, advises that the small, hairy seeded kinds can be seeded with a grass seeder. Seeders attached with the others can be handled much better through a grass drill. Brome tends to bridge over the drill runs and must be watched constantly. It will not seem seeding. Even distribution of forage seed through the grass drill can be obtained by mixing the seed with the fine chaff contained in wheat that has been fluffy rather than a coarse grain. Sufficient seed is used for seeding. Forage crops to need.

It may use a nurse crop, seed the grass first and follow immediately with the forage crop as the nurse crop.

School Supplement

THE eighth edition of an eight-page high school supplement to The Globe this week should be a matter of great interest to many of our readers. The supplement has been written and almost entirely drawn up by high school students this year under chief editor Dan Hay, the only hard staff members of The Globe had was to set up and print the paper, and assist generally in any way possible.

The students have developed their abilities to replace, in some measure, the school year book. It sums up the activities of the high school year providing a valuable keepsake for students, and serving as a medium of information about the school and its doings for all former students. It helps, at the same time, to give some of the students training and experience in the unfamiliar business world they are soon to enter.

Congratulations to the students of The Globe editorial staff under a capable chief editor and we are proud of the supplement to these pages who have worked so hard and so well in making the supplement possible, and to all the students on a successful school year and to those graduating a successful future.

A Woman's Mind

FACTS are often unbelievable and one fact the dictionary can hardly be said to believe in the undoubted popularity of radio soap operas. It's amazing to the ordinary male mind to find that these soap operas claim to have the highest listening audiences of any day-time programs. These claims are backed up by careful and independent surveys of the radio listening habits of Canadian and American women.

Why they should be so hard to explain. The stories of the soap operas are repetitious, boring and ridden with emotional trash as the male sex is sure more from one crisis to another. Only an rare commercial and those advertised are the characters believable. Yet millions of women all over the continent listen with faithful regularity to the radio and cry at the fates which the lovers are dispensed.

The popularity of these programs is no fact Better radio, it is now a big factor in the entertainment of the modern world soap operas have been one of the main entrees served up by radio stations in this country.

To what does the soap opera owe its appeal? Dr. Gallup, the woman from 18% of the radio audience prefer to hear a fact and accurate account of enlightenment and happiness. Can it possible be that 18% open to truthful tell the story of Mr. and Mrs. Average North American? The answer "yes to either of these two questions would seem presumptuous and not appeal of the opera to women cannot be ignored.

The scriptwriters and waggons of women's minds have provided them from the time of Adam and Eve. Modern radio and its soap operas appear to have added just one more puzzle for bewildered men.

Mr. Abbott's Budget

DOMINION taxpayers found little to cheer about in the new federal budget released last week by finance minister Abbott. After the government's record surplus of more than half a billion dollars in 1947-48, most Canadians were looking forward to considerable reductions in their income taxes. But the cut won't be forthcoming. Although there was general approval that an additional $500 exemption was allowed all taxpayers over 65 years of age.

Many persons would quarrel that similar relief should have been given to other classes of income brackets, particularly in the low wage scale. The single man in tax exempt only up to $750, and the married man to $1,500. By the time he signs over part of his pay check above this figure, and pays high prices like a dollar for any quarts of milk or twelve to fourteen cents for a loaf of bread he's submitting mighty close to the line. Raising exemptions for single men to perhaps $800 and for married men to $1,800 would have been a popular move and possibly a wise one.

Still Mr. Abbott's reasons for holding income taxes at their present high level are sound. "There will never be a better time to reduce the burden of our national debt" he stated in the budget speech and to that end every penny could count. Surpluses from the last two years have already paid off more than one billion of the 11 billion dollars left. Take the money out of circulation is one way of helping to combat inflation. Another method "controlled expansion" of credit are also used and the government itself should. At though the tax reduction would have to pay for it

Mr Abbott's main objective is the position of economy and prosperity. We cannot lightly reduce taxes when we fail" he said but that the large surpluses are here today. The government was able to push taxes way up during the war and the people were loathe to bring them down. The necessity for a rising scale was be appreciated but they would not be justified in holding income tax levels at the present high peak for another years time fixed year

...m the Provincial Department of Agriculture

Rules For Registered Seed

Some farmers may be interested in growing registered seed but are uncertain how to go about it. Here is the answer.

To grow registered seed the crop must be grown from seed which is already registered. Then, because seed registered seed must train back through its parents to pure bred stock which has a pedigree registered at the books of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. All registered bags which are attached to the bags of seed must be saved as the numbers on them are used to establish the pedigree. Unless a start is made with registered seed the crop cannot be registered because it must be eligibility for registration if it is to obtain registration for a year

The purchaser in growing registered crops and producing registered seed considers should ensure the strict precautions which must be taken to prevent contamination of the crop and the seed. For instance registered wheat a acres in a field which has produced commercial wheat the year before. All wild seed must be removed from registration because volunteer plants might come from the previous crop. The field has must be cleaned after harvesting crops by natural harvests or by a cultivated crop. All machinery such as reapers, binders, combines, seeders, must be cleaned before being used to prevent contamination.

Growers of registered seed must an application for inspection to the nearest District Supervisor from Plant Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture and an inspector visits the farm before harvesting.

Immigration of Farmers

Some help in easing the scarcity of farm help is likely to come from the selective immigration plan. Arrangements are under way to bring to Canada about 10,000 farm workers from the Netherlands and a considerable number of farm seed permits from other parts of Europe. The immigrants from Holland will be made up of about 2,500 farmers and four or five hundred single farm workers and some 1,000 will arrive monthly by boat through the summer until September.

It is hoped that displaced persons for farm will start to arrive in Canada early in May. Selection of these have made in camps in Europe of men and couples, with and without families, single men between 18 and 30 are wanted for farm help.

Displaced persons must agree to remain in agricultural work for at least one year, and none will be brought to Canada unless a suitable job is available. The minimum wages will be $60 a month and board for men, and $80 a month and board for women. Although minimum wages have been set, current wages for experienced arrivers are to prevail

Drop in Cattle Numbers

Cattle on farms in Canada as of December 1 1947 totaled 9,842,500 a decline of 71,000 or slightly less than one per cent in comparison with the corresponding date in 1946. Reductions occurred in Prince Edward Island Nova Scotia, Quebec Alberta and British Columbia. Slight increases were recorded in the other four provinces. The number of milk cows at 1 DECEMBER a drop of 56,000 head with decreases common to all provinces except New Brunswick and Ontario.

Cattle, both in the number of cattle on farms with 2,841,100 of which 1,256,000 are milk cows Quebec reported with 1,791,000. 1,791,000 are milk cows. Alberta's third with 1,309,300 of which 670,000 are milk cows and Saskatchewan is fourth with 1,303,800 of which 360,700 are milk cows.

The Saskatchewan government is going to sell forage crops seed to Saskatchewan farmers at below cost in order to encourage hay production in that province. The cost of purchase has nearly eliminated straw and large amounts of hay have to be imported each year.

Agriculture Pupils Decide Against Life on Farm

Out of a class of [illegible] agriculture students at the University of Alberta only [illegible] expressed their intention of following the career of a farmer. Most of the others [illegible] getting the class to find out questionnaires. Of the 200 students [illegible] 176 were home owned and 36 rented or others

The main reasons for not wanting to go into farming was the uncertainty of remaining on a farm. Next important reason was the lack of stability of farm prices. Then lack of [illegible] attractiveness as [illegible] lack of [illegible] and [illegible] lack of social life and [illegible]

Keen Interest Is Shown

L.H.S. Has Successful Year In Field Of Sports

The Lacombe High School had a very successful year in sports. Interest was keen in the many events and the competition was very strong. Each school had its own particular

The year's rugby season was one of the most successful in the school's history. For the past few years the senior aggregation has enjoyed very much success and has won some prominent citizens of the town into the ranks of supporters of this sport.

Coaches Harry Leggett, Bud Mickie and Duncan Nicoll deserve much credit for the consistent manner in which they turned out a team that was always in the thick of the fight for the championship. Practices were held regularly and the boys responded very well to the coaching they received.

After games resumed workouts in the bowls were set up with the Ex-senior Eastwood High of Lacombe and Edmonton. The Lacombe boys lost to Ponoka by a narrow margin of 3 points, but defeated Ponoka on a home and home basis. Lacombe also defeated Edmonton's fourth team twice but were defeated by the first team.

Although the [illegible] year's rugby season was not as successful as it might have been, it showed a great improvement over the previous year and the future looks very bright for rugby in Lacombe.

BASKETBALL

A high school basketball team is taught how upon themselves to be defeating Innisfail on May 24 in sports Day by a score of 31-7. The locals maintained their reputation by winning Red Deer two straight with the scores being 16-6 and 8-7. A good basketball season is predicted this year as the locals already are preparing themselves for the oncoming season.

LINEUP

Milton Ogilvie, Dan Ray Gordon Lund, Chester Sorgenon, Norm Lunberg, Bob Hepworth, Sports Day by a score of 31-7. The locals maintained their reputation by winning Red Deer two straight with the scores being 16-6 and 8-7. A good basketball season is predicted this year as the locals already are preparing themselves for the oncoming season.

LINEUP

Milton Ogilvie, Dan Ray Gordon Lund, Chester Sorgenon, Norm Lunberg, Bob Hepworth, McKenzie, Don Haworth, Don Sullivan, Don Pennell.

HOCKEY

This year's Lacombe Juvenile Hockey team, winners of the Northern Alberta championship was made up almost wholly of high school students. A total of nearly thirty games were played by the hard aggregation during the season with only one loss, until at Lethbridge Lethbridge in the Alberta final.

Preceding this Lacombe beat the Edmonton Maple Leafs two straight in the time of 7-6 and 7-5 to win the Northern title with

A Few Facts And a Little Fiction On This Year's School Graduating Class

MARY ELLEN ARMSTRONG Along with her studies, she has just taken a position in the bank. Are you running low on cash Mary Ellen? Remember you must be a little home sick sometimes

ALAN BAKER The youngest of our graduates has two main ambitions. To grow taller. To be an engineer

ROBERT BJORNSON Bob a new comer to L. H. S. this term, plans to take up teaching as a profession.

ROSEMARY CHAPMAN Wears a bashful look but that's only a fake front as she's a lot of fun. Ambition to be a nurse

JACK CALKINS "L.H.S. must have some drawing card as it draws students or us!" as Jack is back at the books after one year in the air force. Teaching is to be the occupation

BEULAH CURR One of our several Florence Nightingales of the 1948's. Good luck Beulah

VINCENT DUFFY Vin has reached great heights, but is unable to decide on his future is it the boiler of the coal?

GERALD EDWARDS One of our musically inclined students. Gerald is going to better the education standards of our next generation

JEAN FAWETT We can see Jean with a thermometer and a hot water bottle. She'll make a great nurse, especially when she's over-tired also

Amateur Radio as a Hobby Euphony in ABC Major

By Ted Nicholson

By Elsie Bambel

Of all the many and varied hobbies open to the men and women of today none is more fascinating than that of Radio Hams.

The educational value of radio is alone a good argument for it. Consider the knowledge of physics and mathematics that must be acquired in order to be able to build a set. Then after it is built and operating, one can learn much from further experimentation. A hobby such as this provides an outlet for that desire to [illegible] puttee inherent in all men.

Then too, there is much knowledge to be gained in learning the Morse code and in talking to people of different nations. Many times at amateur radio operators are called, take brunch in foreign languages from fellow hams" in far away lands.

Apart from the educational aspect, consider the social outlook. A person who is able to talk to people from all over the world is not easily taken in by propaganda, and he is more apt to acquire a tolerant point of view toward people of the world in general. Thus amateur radio can be a tributes to international peace and understanding.

Besides an educational and social influence radio can make great contributions in time of disaster by diverting into the void a tool for an isolated outpost in Northern Quebec. The town had no fire fighting equipment at its own, but there was equipment in a town a few miles away. Dave the telephone and telegraph lines were down, a man in the village sent out a call which was picked up by an operator at once who relayed the message to a ham in Brazil [illegible] Brazilian contacted a ham in Alaska who raised the other town, and the fire fighting equipment was on its way in record time. Discoveries had been made, inventions perfected, all as the result of amateur radio operation as well as the value of radio to an emergency.

As well as being a very interesting hobby one should overlook the prospective vocation it offers for example [illegible] and he may be very happy in becoming a commercial operator. A radio operator on board ship for instance leads a relaxed and varied life which includes travel and remuneration. A university course in electronics and beyond an amateur who has a world of practical experience at his feet.

However let those who just want a hobby who could support a better one than amateur radio.

The Toasters

By Elsie Bambel

Every summer the vacation spots are filled with literally millions of sun-worshippers all intent upon turning their naturally white skins into a North American Indian-burnished bronze. These folks concentrate as much on absorbing every minute ray of sunshine that it is impossible to even try to converse with them. They come and only son in tale is to attain a full summer's tan in time about session.

They patiently lie on the noon-day sun, letting it shine around their sun-glasses and into their eyes. Slopping coppers, sand-flies, and even horse flies don't lessen their great determination. Hoping to gain an even tan, the toasters rub their backs with highly perfumed coolings, all which they call a sun tan lotion. (It never does any good

And the foundation of it all, the small particles from whence it all began, is each of those twenty-one small letters, painstakingly placed to form words which hold the [illegible] talent. L.H.S. Social Highlights Of the 1947-1948 Season

For the L.H.S. students the 1947-48 school term has proved to be a very successful one.

The new students and those returning each were introduced by the student body and staff to several [illegible] and fourth-year students. Refreshments were served here and school was dismissed for the afternoon.

The first social gathering of the term was the Kick Off Dance was held at the school assembly hall shortly after school commenced and celebrated the official opening of the rugby season. To make the affair [illegible] complete, refreshments were served in the featured caricatures of Miss Bell [illegible] and [illegible]

Joan Lee, Who's who [illegible] was lined into lovers paper booklets made in the art class were put [illegible]

The commendable H.S. orchestra supplied just as well as waltz music and as the [illegible] was graced by the dancers. Novelty dances supplemented the evening which concluded about 2 a.m. [illegible] with the "Home Sweet Home" waltz. The committee in charge of [illegible] of cakes and doughnuts were served by the social committee during the orchestra's intermission.

THE HARD TIME DANCE

Something new was added during the first part of November and a new type of entertainment was decided upon by the executive to bring more zest and pleasure to our parties. The dating was carried out with a hang up square dance followed by other old time waltzes and one or two novelties. Everyone was quite comfortable for the occasion. Some of the girls had their affair of the month balls of their grand [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] and in gunny sack shirts and flour sack blouses. Complementing these outfits were [illegible] and [illegible] colored [illegible] The chief hoppers the boys chose to wear nearly rigged the girls. Taking everything into consideration it was one of the most successful dances of the year and it was very amusing to watch the boys lugging their make believe cider jugs to have a wee sup.

BLUE HAVENS WEEK

The usual [illegible] Monday, and Babe Hawkins Week November 14-21. This was highlighted by the girls' dating the boys for the special dance. A date bus was placed in the staff room where the "Dairy Maid" secretly placed their invitations to their choices for the evening. Amy Lal Abner returning a date was fixed Sie as well as the girls being fixed Mr for neglecting to participate in the annual event. It was a great week and great fun for the boys, but it left the girls in rather embarrassing financial position.

The dance hall was decorated with drawings by Joan Pountney of Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. Lunch was served and finally the dance ended with God Save The King.

REVERSE DANCE

A more quiet and dignified dance was held on the 19th. The Reverse was held on December 3. This dance was united with the Assembly dance. The girls were lovely in their charming ball-room gowns. Cold weather, however, prevented some of the boys and present attendants from renewing acquaintances.

The usual assembly dance or chorus supplied the smooth musical strings. The pavilion was adorned with green and red streamers and archways of the [illegible] were decorated with spruce boughs and bells.

THE GLOOM HOUR

January was highlighted with a sleigh-ride Four sleighs met at the church hall and about 100 students rode gaily off for a happy two hours. One party would embark another sleigh and then more laughs. The music, being [illegible] and wet, succeeded in making the group, but considering everything, it was a night to remember.

Later the party reunited at the church hall for hot coffee and sandwiches. The High School orchestra supplied music for a [illegible] dance until 11:30.

Operetta Staged By Lacombe Students

One of the highlights of the [illegible] was the light operetta on May 19 and 20 in the [illegible] auditorium. The cast of about 30 was selected from [illegible] and Grade VII girls.

The [illegible] were taken by Queen Elizabeth Keith, Norman Mary McCormick, Ray [illegible] and Grant Lorna Hopkins [illegible] Richard Wood [illegible] Robert Wright, Don Bright. Arthur Newman, Betty Collett [illegible] and Mark [illegible].

Individual outstanding numbers were the tap dance by Ila [illegible] a GREEN number by [illegible] and Waterman, and two [illegible] Grade VII girls.

The musical accompaniment [illegible] Barbara [illegible] Donald Mrs. H. Jones and Mrs. [illegible] assisted in rehearsing [illegible] Mrs. K. Shannon and the wonderful costumes that made the dresses for the [illegible].

Dramatic Class Presents Play In Auditorium

The [illegible] took charge [illegible] of Miss M. Jones, pre[illegible] of the Lacombe High School, in production of the play "Allison's Lad." The setting was a pre-army headquarters during the reign of Cromwell. These participating were Harvey Tyson, Ronald Barclay, Ron Kosha, Bernard Sullivan, Leonard Hoole, and Allan Channell.

The plot was the execution of Allison's Lad, played by Stewart Coleman, and how bravely he met his death.

The play was under the direction of Ellen Lemke and the costumes were looked after by Miss [illegible] Jones.

It was [illegible] and was [illegible] approved by all.

Ida: "Where have you been?"
Mabe: "In a phone booth talking to my girl, but someone wanted to use the phone so we had to get out."

Jack W: "My dad always called me sweet as maple syrup but I doubt it."

Bob W: "What else could she call a refined one?"

Operetta Staged By Lacombe Students

[illegible] practices started about February 1st. The three successful performances were adequate reward for [illegible].

At the conclusion of the last performance Mr. Patrick, on behalf of the cast, made a presentation to Miss MacEachern and Mrs. MacArthur.

Lacombe Orchestra Has Busy Year Playing at Dances

The Lacombe high school orchestra supplied the music for the school dances. They had a very successful year and their music was greatly appreciated.

The majority of the members of the orchestra are now playing under the leadership of Mrs. W. M. Sutherland in a local orchestra known as the "Down Beats." The orchestra now plays for the Saturday night dances in the Church Hall.

The members of the school orchestra are receiving special orchestra resources as payment for their year's work.

Members of the orchestra are: Barbara McDonald, piano; Jack Wilson, trumpet; Bob Wilson, drums; Joe's Bathgate, saxophone; Mr. E. Hunt, saxophone.

The first game, played at Red Deer on November 8, was won by Red Deer. The return game, played on January 14, was also won by Red Deer after a hard struggle.

On March 6, Mr. Bliss's team went to Camrose, where they were defeated by the team of quick, clever passing Camrose girls. The return game was not played due to the condition of the [illegible].

The team's first victory was on March 9 when they met the Red Deer team on the Lacombe floor. The return game was played on March 16, at Red Deer. The second win was against the Wetaskiwin girls on March 13, at the Church Hall in Lacombe. A return game with Wetaskiwin was not available as the team had broken up.

On March 23, the team played Innisfail team and was defeated by a very close score.

To wind up the season Lacombe girls played host to the Red Deer girls on April 27 but were badly defeated by the close checking rivals.

Canadians Now Carrying More Life Insurance

One of the outstanding examples of successful advertising is that carried out by the life insurance companies throughout the country over the past few years. During that time the growth of the life insurance business has been phenomenal.

The amount of life insurance protection in force has grown by leaps and bounds. The figures are astronomical. In 1939 the amount of life insurance protection in force was just over $3,000,000,000. At the close of 1947 this had grown to approximately $12,000,000,000.

It has become an accepted axiom that life insurance is the best safeguard against the hazards of death, disability and old age. Life insurance is a form of saving which is backed up by actuarial science. It is the soundest form of investment.

Insure for Protection
Buy the Best Protection
Poorer protection often costs less but if your policy is no good when your crops are damaged by hail you have lost both your crop and your premiums.
WHEN BUYING HAIL INSURANCE
ASK THESE QUESTIONS:
(1) Is the hail coverage effective the day I have declared the loss of 25% of my crop and put the premium on?
(2) Are my crops protected right up until October 1st or may I have to pay for hail after September 15th and still lose my premium?
(3) If my crop is on the ground or shock when 2nd loss of 25% occurs, and is destroyed by hail will I be paid under my policy or will I lose both my crop and my premium?
(4) Do I have to pay my premium right away and if I don't, how much extra is the payment on the bill?
(5) Can I be assured of receiving payment of my loss in full?
For the Alberta Hail Insurance Board I can answer yes of the very best protection and answer these questions by saying:
(1) Wherever you live you can buy a full cover policy and no published rates are less than type of policy. If you want a deductible clause of 10% or 20% we will write it at a considerable reduction but we do not believe that with a 25% deductible clause you have worth-while protection.
(2) Your crops are protected right up to October 1st without any extra charge.
(3) Even after your crop has been cut and is in the swath or stook you are still protected at no extra cost. Protection is available from the time the crop is seed in the ground in the Spring until it is seen in the bin in the Fall provided it is not after October 20th.
(4) The rates quoted by the Board are for payment in cash by November 1st and if you can't send the bill in a cheque will be sent for a refund of at least 5% of the premium in 1947 it was 5%.
(5) You are absolutely assured in 1948 of receiving payment of your loss in full regardless of how heavy the loss. The resources of the Board and its reciprocity wipes make sure of this.
The Alberta Hail Insurance Board is set up for your benefit as well as that of the other farmers of the Province and the above are only some of the ways in which it is doing it.
Call and let me explain why I believe you should insure your crops against hail and why you should insure with the Board. Its improvements in adjusting procedure, its payment of loss in excess of 80%, on 100%, its co-operative business and the fact that with the continued support of you and the other thousands of farmers it is rapidly getting into a position where its plan of reduced on premium may be continued and made applicable to more and more of its policyholders thereby providing much cheaper protection.

For How Long?

BACK to the topic of roads for an instant. Lacombe's roads are still not in good shape and the key to the whole problem rests squarely on the shoulders of the Town of Lacombe. A. S. Kerr of last weeks issue's council meeting. It isn't for lack of work on the part of the town employees because a great deal of time and energy expended on Tuesday of last week grading the old highway leading south to Calder's. There are those who have seen of several that have used to fill in the deep holes and it is a comfortable improvement. Details of which are lacking.

By two days on Thursday it was again patrol with dangerous holes that looked and probably broke many an axle. Lacombe is a busy little place, but traffic from the town and district should command more.

The boy and Councillor Kerr hit the nail right on the head: low in these soggy conditions brushy gravel gets heavy with the addition of spots on town roads.

One of two actions can be taken. One could be to block off ALL Lacombe roads against trucks and busses, and make that heavy traffic go the prescribed route instead of cut across Lacombe streets. We can honor only the latter alternate if they don't make paid on such. On the town we continue to bear the brunt of all that traffic, and seek re-imbursement from the provincial government for the transportation of the total sum of maintenance.

The town should not hesitate to put one of these plans in operation using the threat of the first choice to obtain the second if necessary. Town taxpayers have stood the financial burden as well as the load much long enough.

Tain't So, Zeke!

IT'S often said that "anybody can be a farmer." The implication is that any ignoramus who is too stupid to make his own way in the business world can always turn to farming as a last resort. But from our constant observations of the art of farming today the city boy who usually comes out with the statement doesn't know what he's talking about. In other words, the city slicker isn't so slick and the country dullard isn't so dull.

Let's look at this one hide between us farming. All you have to do is plant seed in spring, watch it grow grow and harvest the crop in fall. Sounds sure but just think for a minute on the farmer has to think what grains will be sure? He must try to calculate what fall prices are likely to be, and end the crop which he thinks will give him the best return. And while doing all this he must keep in mind crop rotations, juggling various crops from field to field so that the soil is not constantly depleted of any one group of food groups. He needs on the number of farm cattle and hogs, involving all the considerations and complications of animal farming.

Lastly farming is at best a gamble. It is a gamble with nature and the elements. If the weather is not kind, there will be no crop. If it is kind, a hail rain golden crop may be lost in a matter of hours. Even a sudden freeze had storm. Or a thin summer may make the gathering of the harvest an impossibility. The average farmer takes terrific risks and still finds the ordinary businessmen but the farmer with his "never say die" spirit comes back for more.

He's no slicker, the farmer. The successful farmer is it known, is a keen business man in his own way. He has to be. And he's a most important one from the economic standpoint. Farming a crook? "Tain't so, Zeke!

Shooting Precautions

TWO men walking down the highway south of Red Deer a week or two ago were startled when a shell from a .22 rifle whined dangerously close past their heads. A couple of young boys were a gopher in an adjacent field shooting gophers, and they hadn't paid too much attention to the direction their bullets were travelling. Such irresponsible action might have had a sad ending.

Now that the shooting season is here in earnest, and youngsters of all ages are going out to the country shooting gophers, ground squirrels, crows and the like, they should be educated by parents on safety first habits.

A harmless looking rifle can do untold damage when used carelessly. It takes only one accidental shot to kill a person. Always walk with your rifle pointing toward the ground, and with the safety catch on. Never point a gun at anyone, even in fun. Never shoot at any target if houses or animals be beyond. If you're not sure, don't take the chance. And on-de-safety have the trouble-some power line shots. The evils of this practice far lack of something else to shoot at, were all too evident from a picture given at Hi-vor school last week showing that a random shot had resulted in a power failure in that town, as well as a grave shortage of water at the C.N.R. station there.

Farming Notes

Abnormalities From 2, 4-D

During the past two weeks, considerable information has been gathered based on the observations of investigators, farmers and others on the effect of 2,4-D on cereal crops and flax. Of the 2,4-D treated crops grown on the province, wheat and rye have shown a higher resistance to 2,4-D than either oats or barley. This is shown by the amount of damage that cereal crops.

One change or application of 2,4-D at the correct stage of growth, using the recommended concentrations is to appear on the growing crop. Symptoms of damage in wheat, rye and barley may be reflected by clubbed heads, torn heads or multiple spikelets. Oats, on the other hand, may show double panicles, leaves with split blades, twisted stems or a thickened stems, when flax may show thick leafy buttoned or bunched leaves and delay maturity.

Seed growers, crop inspectors and others should be familiar with these abnormalities when the purity of the crop is being considered. Malformed seed for 2,4-D should be segregated as such, and not confused with regular damaged which can be proved at the crop.

The effect of two concentrations at which have been made published in bulletins prepared by the Field Crops Department of Agriculture, Edmonton. On the best available knowledge and should be followed by the letter.

In order to reduce crop injury to the minimum, 2,4-D chemical for the control of weeds should not be used:

1. Until cereal plants are about 3 inches high and flax plants about 4 inches high (or about 3 inches since emerged).

2. After cereal plants reach the late shot blade stage and flax the late bloom stage.

Chemical used after the trip will be used this coming season in thousands of acres of pasturing land. Excessive damage or application of the wrong stage of growth must be avoided if we are to get the effective effective control of weeds, with a minimum of injury to the crop and will make the most economical use of the chemical.

Pasture Tips for Dairymen

Hold some off pasture until there is a good growth of forage suggests R. P. Dixon, Alberta department of agriculture. Dairymen who turn their cows on pasture before it is well started are likely to have poor pasture all summer.

Cows should be changed to pasture gradually before turning them on pasture given them a ration of feed of roughage and grain. Continue this practice each morning for the first few days that are on pasture. Gradually increasing the time that in pasture will help prevent digestive upsets in the cows, and add diseases in milk.

Rotate pastures when possible. Divide the pasture land into three or four smaller fields and move the cows from one to the other. Once they the provides more pasture days with a resultant increase in milk production.

Feed the Bees

W. G. McMaster, Provincial Apiarist, Alberta department of agriculture advises that hungry colonies of bees well supplied with food is the most important result factor in building them up to full strength for the honey flow.

Ample supplies as indicated by surplus stores in the combs must be in the hive right up to the final week of June. It is not safe to rely on the supplies that may be gathered, because during spells of cool weather the bees will starve.

The results of a shortage at any time are first, that insufficient brood will be produced to make the colony strong enough to gather a good honey crop, and second, that supercedure of the queen often accompanies a shut down of brood production, especially when caused by an absence of food.

Bringing American Dollars to Canada

In 1947 Canada's trade with the United States exceeded two and three quarter billion dollars. It is the heaviest two-way trade in the world. Canada's need for American dollars to sustain this trade is vital.

Who brings American dollars to Canada? People who make and export goods; and people who enter for tourists.

Last week's scores: Town 21 Aggies 3; School 5 Legion 3; School 5 Aggies 1

Town baseballers trounced Aggies 21-3 last Thursday night, and the school Cardinals advanced to second place with two victories this week in Tuesday league play.

The Aggies had the misfortune of losing their pitcher, Ed Langdon, in the first inning of Thursday night when the Cards took 8-3 McNaughton pitched for the next seven, and gave up only two more while two walks. Fred Hendren and Hoppy Lund starred among the batters for the school, the former allowing two hits to Land's three.

Thursday night's game with Legion saw the Town winning ways by tak[illegible] the Aggies 21-3. In pitching the full five innings, Meadows fanned only 10 men, and struck out 11.

The students collected crown caps off Hensley's truck they made good use[illegible] runs.

game Thursday morning, but before the sale with W. Russell of Red Deer officiating. Lights in the Schools of Vermilion the Silver Beavers, and Kevin Gibb of Kalsea the Angus. (Complete game list on page three)

The sale started immediately at 9 a.m. when about 75 of the 100 members and spectators were said to be present. The auctioneer was then on the stand again [illegible] morning, and by 5 p.m. the Angus and Calgary Brewery had been put through the ring.

With 268 animals sold, the remainder of the 370 animals advertised, either lashed to make the sale due to bad roads, or were culled on account of veterinary duties to. Some directors commented on the higher percentage of good bulls, due largely to the extensive culling of spring and the bad country roads over which many of them were brought.

Auctioneers were C. F. Dawson of Bentley, A. Boyce of Olds, J. T. Dawson of Bentley, and V. Davies, Calgary. Assisting sales secretary J. A. McKinley on the clerking stand were J. F. Ross and W. Webster, members of the Catholic ladies group catered with meals in the pavilion restaurant.

Peace Through Spiritual Codes—Christian Science
BENTLEY Mrs. Dunlop, that democratic commencement is the instrument through which an unshakable spiritual faith is established, the theme of the sermon by Mrs. Edna Lamb, a practitioner of Christian Science, Lacombe, at the Christian Science service in the Bentley United Church on Sunday last. The subject was "Spiritual Codes—the defense of free governments throughout the world."

Democratic government or the orderly unfoldment of the moral nature and spiritual growth of its citizens, the unfoldment of natural and spiritual laws, and the achievement of individual security, formed the main theme of the discussion.

Lesson-sermon also included readings from the Bible and from the textbook of Christian Science, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Golden text was: "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people."

Nation must possess spiritual qualities of thought, culture and purpose. These, when based on spiritual principle, which is the destructive element of fanaticism, serve as the only lasting foundation and unassailable bulwark of men and nations."

May It Grow!

LAST winter saw a movement for horticulture in Lacombe come to the bud for the purpose of an enthusiastic horticultural or garden group here. The impetus for the formation of this society came from several garden enthusiasts, it would be rather difficult to define a garden enthusiast. In most of us there is some spark of satisfaction and pride in growing things, whether it be vegetables or flowers. But the garden enthusiast has a genuine love of the soil with a hand keeping, in spring begins to subdue the raw earth to be down on his knees in the garden, and to have his hands in the soil most every day. With this kind of green emperor in Lacombe, is it any wonder the town has a fairly substantial number of true garden lovers?

It was a surprising incident, therefore to oppose several visitors here who visited Lacombe during the week-end of the initial organization meeting, that Lacombe was the only large town of any importance between Red Deer and Edmonton which did not have a horticultural society in active operation. This anomaly is now happily part of a dead past.

What will the society mean to Lacombe? It will undoubtedly encourage a desire to beautify the town, and everyone will be sharpened to the task as someone are enchanted and stimulated.

The society is also making plans for a flower show in August. A flower show provides a parade of beauty worth-while. Ruge once from the amateur—and the professional—in both, all can learn from a gardens trade his breath drew on at the gorgeous spectacle established at a flower show. Hundreds of local and district residents are looking forward to it. We wish the new-born society every successful journey upon ahead!

The Optical Combine

SELDOM has public indignation been so aroused as it was last week with the startling report of the illegal operations of an optical combine. The revelations created a storm of indignation, charged with holding up prices curse from the bar on undisclosed sources than a dozen investigations carried out by P. A. Mellmore for Justice Minister J. L. Ilsley.

The report tells of glasses sold a true value of $5.00 selling for $40.00. It reveals that the combine gradually formed within its power the means of preventing all cheaper sportswear from the market so that the public had no chance but to pay the "fixed price." It discloses that initial protests from a few virtuous retailers were quickly silenced by threats or a struggle cut and cut better. Even some dealers, on a complete violation of their professional ethics, are reported to be rounded up in the market" obtaining relation.

It is estimated that two-and-a-half million Canadians who wear glasses have been charged out of hundreds of thousands of dollars in the past nine years. Under the circumstances, it is surprising that the government investigation took a long eight years to complete, although the war was undoubtedly a contributing factor.

Now the findings are before the authorities. No lenience should be shown in restoring the people' pocket to the maximum penalties provided under the Anti-Combines Act. It is a virtuous "hold up" of the worst type.

Courage 'Mid Calamity

IT is hard for most of us to comprehend the misery and the cruelty of British Columbian residents in the wake of the disastrous floods which have inundated scores of territory in the Fraser Valley. Daily the toll list increases, recording more lives lost and more thousands forced to leave their homes with the few pieces of personal belongings as they can carry.

One has to undergo the tragic experience of a flood to appreciate what it means. Something goes leaving behind one's farmland which represents the good livelihood of the past year. Their suffering and disaster is matched only by their bravery and courage. It is strangely true that the spirit of man always rises to new heights in times of adversity. Men have worked side by side to build the dikes, saving thousands of acres and homes which have been flown in by airplane. Women and children have been aided in these mis departs like one flooded home after the last, but in moral heroism and disgraceful issues.

Typical of the people's moral courage was the effort of the Saskatchewan family which only last year moved to the Fraser Valley. For 36 years, they toiled on a dust bowl farm crops plagued year after year by drought. Burned it was, the only homestead that they owned, which they built out of their home. But this was determination to start anew, when conditions were favorable. It is to be hoped all stricken families in despite the same valor as these valiant pioneers have shown. The flood is an epidemic. Lasting the 1948 story with homes and fortunes wrecked and millions of dollars of grain and land, more immediate interested.

A memorial fund has been established in Alberta to receive voluntary donations to assist the flood victims. Cash is the most urgent need. To aid one under province can hardly fail to find some ready support among sympathetic Albertans.

Why Cream Tests Vary

At this season of the year, when cream deliveries are increasing, producers should be watching their tests closely. Many cream tests vary from month to month, and from day to day, and often out of reason from the same herd. Why?

[illegible] of the cows is one of the reasons, but several other factors also contribute. Perhaps the most important is the [illegible] of the cream separated. The amount of fat present in the cream is usually less than that present in the milk. This may be due to change of feed, weather, [illegible] and other factors.

Regular testing is important. When a new supply has been established, usually high. The better butterfat content of milk from fresh cows can appreciable reduce the fat percentage in the herd. Such fluctuations.

In addition to the variations of butterfat content in the milk itself there are other reasons why cream tests vary. Speed of separation, temperature of the milk when separated, and rate of inflow to the separator bowl are some of the most important. Even under the best conditions these differences occur but the variation so noticeable at this time of year is usually due to carelessness either in operation of the milk.

Beware of Coccidiosis

With the arrival of warmer weather and more than the usual amount of moisture present, C. W. Turner, Alberta's poultry commissioner, advises poultry must be on the alert for the worst of our short and most fatal diseases, Coccidiosis. Those of you who are raising turkeys should remember that this disease often in the poults just as ruthlessly and as destructively as does the chick.

Both in the young birds carefully do not mix a single day. At the first signs of unthriftiness, loss of appetite, and especially if these signs are accompanied by reddish or bloody droppings, [illegible] the flock on one of the control powders or dressings [illegible] available. All reliable hatcheries and feed companies have control powders available.

Always practice strict sanitation. Move the brooder and range houses. Feed in clean and sanitary frequently. Prevention is cheaper than cure at any time and sanitation is our best preventative. Be drug can take the place of good poultry practices.

Over the past 12 years Canada's production of maple syrup has averaged 3,700,000 gallons a year. The output has ranged from 1½ million gallons in 1940 to 4 million gallons in 1947. About one third of the total production is exported to the United States.

Reflections of the Times

Lifting the Embargo

The federal government has finally agreed to permit the export of Canadian cattle to the United States. It is probable that the decision in many places in that country has actually prompted the Canadian government in this move. We believe that the government should go further on and permit some duties on some of our live [illegible] products to enter the United States.

A British market is important to western Canadian farmers. In normal times, however our economy exports to the United Kingdom are confined to grains and pork products. The natural market for our surplus cattle, dairy and poultry products is the United States.

Farmers of Western Canada should continue strong opposition to the removal of barriers imposed by the Canadian government on the export of [illegible] to the United States.

Old Newspaper Gleans News

Lacombe Looked a Little Different Back in 1902...

The farmers Hugh Reed farm sold for $1,500 cash, was to and ready. Then was the price paid 60 years ago. An old house on the same farm was sold during the year for $100. The new house is a big three A. C. B. Mercantile Co. weekly, and this is one of many interesting news items relating the price fluctuations of the past.

L. Lahrer has purchased J. W. Lemay's interest of town. Consideration not disclosed. The price paid was $1,500, the novel deal goes on. This is probably the best figure yet paid for a quarter section.

An advertisement was carried in the news paper offering for sale 1200 acres of good land at Campon, 20 acres broken, 10 acres fenced, 200 per acre.

Two well known pioneers were married by H. M. Trimble, minister. W. J. Simpson, M.P., to Miss R.D.C. Ross, by Rev. Dr. Sweet. T. C. King, architect, J. B. Harrington, veterinary surgeon.

This paper was published during the election year, and interest used headlines were running high between Lacombe's Premier D. Talbot and Red Deer's John Moore. In fact a long poem was written to John Macpherson Moore on the election, as follows:

The morning opened darkly
As the rain came pouring down,
The voting polls were opened
Both in and out of town.
John Moore was out for Red Deer,
Talbot for Lacombe.
The latter for the people,
The former for his own.

The Red Deer people trusted
In their gallant leader Moore
But Lacombe was quite determined
To turn Pete's election sure
The Tuesday noon got brighter
The sun commenced to shine
Through mud and slush it bothered not.
For Talbot was the mine

The Officer Returning
Asst. scrutineer's at odds
We're all kept busy telling
With John Moore not outside

At five o'clock the polls were
The result it now began
It soon became quite evident
That Talbot was the man

You should have seen Moore's colour
For the result came down
Like a thousand tons of brick turned
He never changed he blew

Soon were the ballots counted,
The burial was over,
Moore was covered deep and safely
In a ten-fifty seven acre

We learned how deeply and disturbing man
Can a gloomy, cold and sour
And he's numbered here-forth with the sore head clan.
With none left to shed a sad tear

Let others take warning who from abroad
To court Sonny Alta's fair-form
Lest they too should fall and be lost from view god.
To the land where there's never sorrow

Red Bobs Wheat Most Popular In Alberta

Birthrate in Britain Highest Since Year 1930

Many factors have acted as a stimulus on the birth rate in the years since 1939. The birth rate was 14.6 per thousand higher than the previous year. At the same time, the infant mortality rate was 3 per 1,000 less in the previous year. Marriages have also increased.

There are records to be found in the Registrar General's returns for the last quarter in 1947 which show that the birth rate represents a rate in approximately retained to be 21% in excess of that required merely to maintain population and is the highest rate recorded since 1920. In the 2nd quarter of last year there was a further considerable increase to well over 70,000

Have you $1,000 in UNITED STATES Money?
● Existing regulations make it illegal for any Canadian resident to have more than this amount save him $10 in United States.
● You are required to turn in to your bank, for exchange into Canadian money, any amount you have in excess of $10 in United States, without delay.
THERE'S A REASON
● The reason is that Canada must have the U.S. dollars spent here by tourists, in order to make them available for the purchase of imported goods and services needed to keep production and employment at a high level.

To the Farmer

This is predominantly an agricultural district. It is only proper and fitting, therefore, that we take time out for one week in the year to salute the Farmer.

Man kind is not right, one has but to say, was it built by the hand of God or Man, and as God is not in a hungry world, in spite of mendacious blue ergs thrown out the engineers of this condition by Canada, it might be truly said, his agriculture shows better response to the appeal of our growing needs for larger quantity and greater quality. Our district did a magnificent job during the trying war years, and they are now striving to assist a world-wide starvation threat.

Too often, as our towns spread and population grows, we find to understand our dependence on a strong rural economy. A successful farming area means success to town merchants. Lacombe is the example of a prosperous center resulting from the wealth and goodness of the surrounding rural municipalities. Town residents will do well to study the relationship put forward by our rural representatives to better and sound, economic and wholesome way of life.

The businessmen of Lacombe have cordially and wholeheartedly approved and supported the agriculture effort. We ask the farmers in return to support them. We, as a newspaper are proud to push town interests in endeavoring the same by the Farmer.

When a Nickel Isn't a Nickel

NOW we learn a nickel is no longer a nickel when it comes to buying an ounce cream. In future, cream and other ice cream concentrates will be sold for six cents. Calgary dairymen stated last week, due to the rising costs of production. It was just an unsophisticated news report, but it's going to mean a lot to the kids.

Time was when the ordinary nickel was a mighty potent little coin. Any youngster who entered a confectionery armed with a five-cent piece was sure of receiving sufficient purchasing power to satisfy his sweet tooth. It would buy any number of different goodies to suit his taste, a cone, or a chocolate bar, or a soft drink.

Alas, for the same thing today, one or two or even three of these pesky pennies must be added to the dainty nickel. We grieve for the good old days when a nickel was a nickel, and the kids and ours confectioners were glad of it. All we can do is earnestly pray that the thrifty government ten will soon be talked out that inflationary route will quickly die. Then our pockets won't be loaded down with so many coppers. And we'll be confident that the nickel will again buy an ice-cream cone a double header at that!

The Fall of Kings

THE personal defeat of Premier George Drew in Ontario's provincial election last week must have been a bitter pill to the Progressive Conservative leader. But even the easy victory of his own party could hide his disappointment. Although his government that he hadn't doubted whether or not he would obtain one, probably unpleasant.

Premier Drew—defeat parallels in unique detail the fall of Prime Minister MacKenzie King in the 1940 Dominion election. In that instance two writers at Prime Alice's Rock failed to elect the leader of the party that was swept into office at Ottawa. There must be a reason for the seeming unpopularity of party leaders at election time. Two years ago the downfall of Premier Drew was for the ninth-successful time in Ontario one of the party which he assisted and which was not generally anticipated in Toronto. Hugh Port electorate in the case of Mackenzie King, writers were simple—a strong liver dissatisfaction with the Prime Minister's handling of the conscription issue during the war.

But the fall of these two leaders leaps to mind the fall of two mighties leaders in other parts of the British Empire. Not of course, was the defeat of Britain's Conservative party headed by the world's Winston Churchill in the first post-war election. What British leaders would ever still remember Lloyd George, who was the man who have vanquished Churchill to be a superhuman, as Britain's first minister in seven years. Rare Churchill be a successful in his new capacity as the Conservative were overwhelmed at the polls in the Labor party. The second example is the more recent defeat of South Africa's Jan Smuts. Although Smuts apparently went the down over the native vote he a strongest as such a great statesman that he has won a rather surprising.

And so it goes — apparent popular in turn out unpopularity at the polls. Leaders die quarters and perished in the sudden change of mind of a fickle public. Perhaps that is the reason a rash electorate easily swayed by fast talking orators are unlauded into quick decisions in gala conventions.

Farming Notes

From the Provincial Department of Agriculture

Improved Cream Quality

During 1947, approximately 40% of all cream submitted to Alberta creameries graded lower than second with a loss to the producers of nearly one million dollars. The largest percentage of this loss was caused by cream being over and grading No. 3.

D. H. McLellan, Alberta's Dairy Commissioner, says that one of the most important steps to quality cream production is the distribution of sufficient of pails, milk cans, separators, cooling apparatus and all dairy utensils. Two cups in which thermometers can be placed in the cream dairy farm are (1) Submerging all utensils in freezing water, (2) Using a chlorine of chemical for cleaning solution.

The cleaning solution is produced by mixing powdered lime like washing soda in used strength. The chlorine solution should be used only on clean surfaces. If any dirt or milk is present the strength of the chlorine is reduced and it does not kill the bacteria. Very often following cleaning and separation, utensils are washed, rinsed with a chlorine solution, and let stand on a rack until the next milking. During this time the chlorine passes off and the bacteria multiply on the surfaces.

All pails, cans, milking machines and separator parts should be rinsed with a chlorine cleaning solution for at least five minutes, or brushed with the chlorine cleaning solution before use. Just over the chlorine cleaning solution before use. Just over the chlorine cleaning solution before use. Just over the part of the utensil is used for the next five minutes. Utensils should then be rinsed off with cold water and the washing proceeded with immediately.

Better Pastures

There are few more run-down pastures on the basis of Alberta. The same principle of rotation applies to pastures as to crops. Pastures should be divided to pasture and these huge acreages are not near better than cleaner grounds for most of the year. Livestock returns from livestock can be obtained only if they harvest most of their forage themselves and they should turn on to better energy as possible while doing so.

J. B. Bredall, supervisor of crop improvement, says a mixed of crop pastures should be made a generous farm plan, and should not remain down for more than four or five years. The best grazing period is the land well sold fiber and fertility. When it is planned better grass crops can be produced. By dividing each part of the farm will be given benefit at the center of a few years, and over a being pastured the productivity of the whole farm will be high and can be being allowed to run down.

Better grasses are legumes alone provide the best pasture. They should be planted in mixtures of grasses and legumes together. Legumes increase the feed value and bulk of the forage and also help to maintain soil fertility. Grasses fill the soil with needed root fiber. The two together provide a pasture that is very nearly perfect. Many mixtures are chosen carefully, they will provide good pasture fairly continuously throughout the season.

Agricultural Field Days

Sponsored by the Alberta Department of Agriculture and local organizations, weed sprayer and duster demonstrations, and tillage machinery field days are now under way in many parts of the province. In spite of the fact that many farmers are still busy with seeding attendance has been excellent. They have interest displayed, indicates both the value of the [illegible] and the desire of Alberta farmers to make full use of modern methods and discoveries.

Weed sprayer and duster demonstrations will be held at Calgary June 8, Edmonton June 12, and Stettler June 14. Tillage machinery field days will continue until the end of June. Areas in which the tillage machinery field days will be conducted include Vermilion, Vegreville, Wainwright Stettler Peace River Bonnyville Lake Wabamun, St. Paul Vetas an, Camrose, Provost, Viking, Kinwell Morrin and Lacombe. Full particulars can be obtained from district agriculturists.

Farmers at Clive and Okotoks are planning on erecting an increased acreage to oats and barley this season. This is a change from the 20% million bushels of coarse grains and 20 000 000 bushels wheat that is of recent years a problem.

Citizens Ask For Property to Build Playground

A delegation of four town citizens presented themselves Monday night's meeting of the town council. They were Hon. Chas. Stewart, Martin Dunlop, Stan Pidruch and Lee Trudgeon, and their request was an unusual one.

There are too many children in our neighborhood with nothing to do, said Mr. Cameron. The delegation asked for permission to lease a lot in the northwest corner of town in order to build a playground for small children.

The citizens would do all the work and provide the equipment for building slides, swings and other such playthings, council was assured. All the delegation asked was reasonable assurance that these lots would not be sold as soon as the playground was built.

Council agreed to try to withhold from sale these lots totalling 132-foot frontage so that eventually

A Job For Organizations

PLANNING on the building of the new 25-bed hospital wing here is continuing at a fast pace. As the contractors rapidly taken shape the financial picture is also shaping up. A campaign to complete the project under the $75,000 estimate will be launched at early opportunity by the organizations who raised similar amounts a few years ago.

It is not an unreasonable proposition as large hospitals for a city or town organizations to provide financial help. Lacombe's hospital has always been placed on the door. Purchasing as the wood have been provided by the local Lacombe Lumber Co. and one of the rooms in the present hospital when it was constructed in 1920.

It would seem a real idea for one or possibly more of the largest to undertake such a project now. It could be easy for ladies' groups to undertake collection campaigns, bed sheets, etc. It has been estimated that around $500 would be necessary to furnish one room completely and although this sum is considerably too much for one small organization it would not be a prohibitive amount for a number working together.

The suggestion is worth considerable thought and it is hoped some groups adopt the idea.

What Socialism Means

AS expected the People's Weekly official CCF party organ moved from the road tops over the surprise showing of the CCF at Ontario's recent provincial election. The socialists gained 22 seats compared to only eight in the last legislature although they still fell far short of the formidable 56 seats they had back in 1943 Nevertheless, this year's rearrangement of the CCF party in Ontario revives the oft-heard question as the people really want a socialist government in Canada? If election partially swung back to the CCF now when times are good, are they not naturally to do so when things tighten up a bit and people start looking around "for a change"

The socialist movement is simply an outgrowth of the feelings of some people that the government owes them an existence. Yet those who call for government meddling fail to realize it means interfering interests, particularly the right to know where and as you want, and to reap the benefits or profits of your toil.

In Saskatchewan for example the Liberal government recently gave itself the power to direct into labor pursuits not gainfully employed, and to transfer workers from one industry to another. This is forced labor one way you look at it. The legislation has not been put to full force from all accounts, because the working masses are obviously against it. Yet unthinking people give the government just that franchise at the polls.

The CCF in Canada has would introduce nationalization "to endorse every industry which has a hold over our national economy or which cannot be made efficient in private hands." And who would decide which industry are to be clashed in this sweeping statement? Why the CCF government! Under no-where the admission of rule of free enterprise might be reversed, but the power of abuse is also abolished. That is the alternative before the public. The CCF groups gambists seem to be out to remove public thought on the issue.

Farming Notes

From the Provincial Department of Agriculture

Poultry Pasture

Good clean pasture is necessary for young poultry. Alfalfa is particularly valuable. Research supplying the A and B complex vitamins, proteins and minerals alfalfa has a beneficial health value above the other types of pasture.

I. W. Travers, poultry extension expert says that a new good pasture is available and is kept out so that new tender shoots are coming up all the time. Such pasture should be kept at the proper height. Short and run consumption can be reduced from twenty to thirty percent, depending on the quality and quantity of the pasture. When the flock is four weeks old it is used enough alfalfa has of good quality and by the time the flock is six weeks old it has developed a fair root system and has become very valuable for poultry.

In fact there should be no reason why alfalfa should not be used.

Some people prefer a grass mixture for their pasture and run what is called a permanent pasture. This the writer knows are on a farm right in the district and the birds have to crowd into a pen to get the pasture. Like alfalfa a grass pasture must be looked after regularly and when young the birds have a rich growth necessary for best results. Once its position has been, it also very valuable for poultry.

Club Leaders' Conference

June 29 and 30 are the dates of a club leaders' conference announced by the Alberta department of agriculture. This course will be held at the 60th school of agriculture and is open to leaders of the girls and boys' clubs in the province.

The conference has been arranged to give club leaders some assistance in carrying on their work. The program includes discussions by leaders in judging and club project material, and features speakers from the Alberta department of agriculture, the University of Alberta and sponsoring organizations.

A feature of the conference will be the presentation of certificates to club leaders who have been carrying on this work for five or more years. Space is still also be given by club members who attended the summer competition in Toronto last November.

Looking Back...

Coming Soon!

There will be a Provincial election early in August, probably Tuesday August 3rd. Already the handbags is apprehensive circulated by the Social Credit party of course, and the political prospects for the CCF are very good. The constituency covered at Lacombe has no compared to the old Credit set out to the "Big Show" a considerable difference to that served of a change.

After August of the year we can has hospitalization good roads, automobiles more easy at cost good labor laws, free education and a decent scale of compensation. The CCF is covered to Saskatchewan is a considerable achievement, but we Albertans say do much more for ourselves with our greater natural resources.

Social Credit's claim to "good government" falls rather flat when one discovers that $36 million has been spent on main road construction since 1935 and over $6 million spent on districts and market roads. By similarly ignoring the claims of the Social Credit party has committed political suicide.

Social Credit will not be on hand in the coming election. The government is trying to forget the old Credit and such words as reconstruction, Pattern, Abolish liberty and socialism will be bandied around gayly from the government speakers. This will be the usual means behind which they will try to hide the utter failure of Social Credit to provide anything.

UNDERSTANDING = MODERATION

Understanding seems to us when we see things through the other fellow's eyes . . .
when we listen through the other fellow's ears . . .
when we consider the other fellow's point of view at all times.

It's the key to happy living together. For it leads us to weigh our words and shape our actions for the common good.

Happily a Canadian characteristic, it's this understanding which leads us to choose the path of moderation in all things . . .
moderation in our thinking, moderation in our spending . . .
moderation in our pleasures. For understanding makes us realize that moderation benefits not only our own selves, but our families, our communities and all of Canada.

Men who Think of Tomorrow
Practice Moderation Today!

ANDERSON—HUNT

At a beautiful evening ceremony in the chapel of Alexander Ogilvie College on June 21 into they younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hunt, Lacombe, was united in marriage with Mr Silas A. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Anderson, Lacombe.

Mr Gordon Anderson was the groomsman.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin, with long sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt, with an overskirt of pink net.

Miss Cynthia Kitz, as maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of blue satin with an overskirt of pink net.

Attending the groom were Mr Willis Weadney and Mr Dunnel Morris.

Mr Preston Bassett-Burns performed the wedding music, and Miss Pat Sing, ITI Walk Hymn "Love".

For the bride, from her-ring, attended the wedding with a beautiful traditional wedding of the bride's parents.

Following the guests were entertained with Miss Edmondson, Miss Gladys Bassett and Miss Pat Preston.

Later, 200 guests attended the reception which followed in the College dining room, where the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked on either side by white tapers.

Mr and Mrs. Anderson will make their residence near the College.

MORAD—NEAL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Sunday June 27, at 2:30 p.m. at Sunday School Church on Sunday June 27, at 2:30 p.m. when Miss Jean M Neal, second eldest daughter of Mr C J Neal and Mrs Neal of Lacombe, was united in marriage to Mr Donald Wilson Morad, fourth eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H Morad, all of Bentley.

Rev. C.C. Armstrong officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride looked lovely in a long gown of white sheer style cut with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a wreath of white flowers. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Miss Dawn Turnbull acted as best man, and Godfrey Spyther and John Turnbull were ushers.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Roy Dorken sang "Because", accompanied at the piano by Miss Lily Bilet.

Following the ceremony a reception for the immediate family was held at the home of the bride's sister Mrs Chris Spyther.

Bride-to-Be Is Honored at Musical Evening

A delightful musical evening in about 40 guests was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dalen when honoring Miss Lorna Lawrence whose marriage to Mr Pat Larkin takes place shortly.

Many of the old fashioned songs came in for the party pointed as a lovely song-song. With Mrs. R. W. Poulsen, Mrs J. Thompson and Mrs J Vander Zee contributing to the entertainment. With each evening, Lloyd and Freddie Dalenvision also contributed some numbers on the violin and guitar.

Miss Hannah Grave Mrs D Robertson and Mrs J. Thompson were the soloists for the evening. One of the highlights was the presentation to the bride-to-be of a set of Dalenvision and Dalenvision.

The gathering worked on table Mrs. Wayne Skoga, the Misses Lorna Lawrence and Betty Ann Anne Beach, Lorry and Dora Dunsdale.

Father Murphy was master of ceremonies. He gave a very clever talk concerning the bride and groom, and then called on Mr H L Craig who proposed the toast to the bride. Mr Klein responded.

After spending a honeymoon in Edmonton, Mr and Mrs Klein will be living in Bentley

Business Men's Competition Success

Spruceville Plowing Match Creates Great Interest

It was a great success That was the consensus of opinion expressed by the large number who attended the annual plowing match sponsored by the Spruceville U.F.A. held on the farm of R. Chalmers Wednesday of last week. Great interest was shown by the 19 contestants and the spectators and some classy plowing was done.

F F Parkinson, agricultural engineer from the Board of Agriculture Office, Red Deer, was out to decide the allocate win here, while Mr. Parkinson was the conclusion of the contests. He said a big improvement was evident in the plowing of previous years proving the advantages of the plowing matches.

Lloyd Rasmussen district agriculturist with his helpers were busy here allotting the contestants and measuring up the plots. Mr Rasmussen said he was delighted to see the success of the U.F.A. has taken interest displayed in the matches with prizes attractive, and harnessing the sentiment to the U.F.A. in the competition were as follows:

Two Bottom Plow Event

Ron Chalmers, Great Kate; gardner Alvin Dyck, Buddie; Hugh Braithwaite, Dean Chalmers Model; Arvon Smith and Bert Chalmers.

Three Bottom Plow Event

Boyd Woodward, Nancy; Bert Fred Cumber, Mike Sweet and Fred Rudy Winners 1st Fred Rudy 2nd Boyd Woodward 3rd Fred Cumber

Four Bottom Plow Event

Tom Alexander, Bob Chalmers, Orval Minter, Jim Doubles and C Barton Winners 1st Jim Douglas, 2nd Bobb Chalmers, 3rd Orval Minter.

The grand aggregate prizes on points for the champion plowman and pair in the field, Junior Champion, Fred Rudy, Reserve champion gardner, Arvon Smith and Boyd Woodward tied for points 3rd Grover Kamgren 3rd.

The trophy for champion plow man was again won by Fred Rudy by Fred Rudy and Boyd Woodward should be successful again next year as the trophy will become his permanent property. This trophy was put up for an annual competition by the local U.F.A. Any competitor winning it for three successive years becomes the permanent owner

The new innovation of having a business men's competition this year proved a great success, as 10 competitors entered this contest. Much to the delight of the onlookers these amateur plowmen started with zest but a few took a little peek out before they finished their job. These contestants were Wes Anderson, Buster Brown, Don Sharp, Clint Marble, Herb Pocock, Jerry Whyte Ed Burrows, Tom Wilbur, Harry Ford, Frank Adamson, Nick Barbogiles, Howard Paulsite, Ben Barr, Dave Stuart and Oliver Verhaeren.

Judges Joe Rogue and Jos Bigbends, gave the nod to C. B. Marble as 1st prize winner. Some claim he got the nod as the judges could enlarge their credit at the Royal Bank. Jerry Whyte took second prize.

This month's Central Alberta junior calf clubs

These and calf club activities have been the topic and theme of the valued work done by the boys and girls of the province. About 140 calves were registered and fed by junior club members in the Olds, Didsbury, Innisfail and Lacombe Calf Clubs. Shows, sales and calf clubs are being held all over the province, and it is heartening to know that the number of calves and members exceeds 1,000.

All winter long, each calf is cared for methodically by a young boy or girl under 21 years of age. Then, early in the summer, the animals are groomed and fit for the big event of the show and sale. There is secretary's prize for the members, of course but also a reward at the satisfaction of a worker long job well done. That satisfaction is the most important value a hard to assess, but it is considerable.

The formation of calf clubs are part of a wide programme to help build good farmers and to help the stride of our young agriculturists. Junior group clubs provide members of education, skill and the valuable hand material as a tool. In the calf clubs the boys make use of about 90% of the skills the horse made use of about 90% of the skills, and they contract a very high percentage of the persons, materials and relations which are the most fund elements of farming.

The aim in breeding boy should be to obtain a valid, rather the horse, and have a practice that is as green in color as possible. To do this, the boy must be cut at the right time. Alfalfa should be cut when one-tenth to one-half in bloom. Alfalfa and Alsike clover in full bloom, sweet clover in the bud stage, and grasses in the early heading stage. With grass mixtures, cutting in the early bloom to cut when the baseline is at the right stage.

Saskatchewan Votes C.C.F.

WELL, the C.C.F. did it again. They were returned to power in the Saskatchewan provincial election last June with a reduced majority as forecasted before the vote. The total vote was 20 more compared with that of the last parliament and three chief opposition, the Liberals, gained 12 seats.

Several interesting observations arise out of the election. One is that the C.C.F. can no longer boast of having a majority government that is a government elected by a majority of the people. They obtained 47% of all the votes cast, compared with 53% in 1944, but as all fourteen of them contained that they is still a good confidence vote formally the percentage voting Liberal also dropped and in this election from 39% to 34%. Yet the Liberal managed to increase their representation from five to 14 seats. This anomaly is best explained by the fact that the Progressive Conservative and Liberals bonded to join forces in many constituencies and battle socialism rather than fight among themselves and split the vote. Further the Liberals were helped which by several C.C.F. only five seats was not a fair representative of the will of the people, and emphasizes the unfairness of a straight "X" vote when more than two parties match strength in a constituency.

The Rural Credit party contested 16 polls, however, and made most of this year's election a three-cornered fight. Nor were the Liberals and Progressive-Conservatives completely beaten. They entered separate candidates in some different cases. Perhaps in the next Saskatchewan election, these parties will join forces, and make the issue a straight Socialist, anti-Socialist one. Such an election would be interesting.

Business Trend

A government report last week on the economic running number of commercial failures is a rather significant trend of a general "lightening-up" of business. The number of business failures reported that there were 203 business failures in the first three months of 1948, the greatest number since 1936. Total for the same period last year was 139, little more than half!

When consumer's purchases begin to dwindle off, firms usually tend to retrench themselves a bit. Retailers buy fewer wholesale goods, industrial machines slow down, workers are laid off, wage scales drop and commodity prices drop with them. With prevailing high costs business hasn't begun to reach that point and many hope it don't. For if it does, the sure signs of a serious depression will be in the offing. Then machinery won't just slow down some of it will cease production altogether.

The number of business failures hasn't reached an alarming figure yet. It is still much lower than in pre-war years: there were 371 in the first quarter of 1939 for example. But is there likely to be any reasonable retrogression with consumer demand at its present high level. But the significant fact is still there: more business failures than at any time since 1936. We hope the barometer of the boom doesn't pull up to an ill wind.

Farming Notes

From the Prominent Department of Agriculture

Quality Egg Production

During these times of high production costs, we must keep only good laying birds and must produce a high quality product. Poor eggs and poor quality eggs are unnecessary and only mean loss of money to the producer.

C. W. Thomas, poultry commissioner, advises that the laying flock should be kept confined to the laying house for four months. If you must feed them they be let out then they should be confined to a small clean run. The house and all equipment should be clean and sanitary. Dropping boards, roosts, shelf, grit and fresh water should be available at all times. The floor litter should be clean and should be before the birds all the time but care should be taken, especially during the warmer weather to see that the litter does not become moldy through containing too much grain. There should be ample room and the nesting material should be clean and there should be ample and clean eggs should be collected at least three times daily, more if weather is cold or wet. Eggs packed in good cases with clean fillers and shipped at least once each week. They should always be packed with the large end up.

During the warm weather be sure that the conditions in the laying house are favorable to the human covered with cool fresh water each. The small mash each will keep out the sparrows and other birds.

Quality Hay

For those farmers who want the best feed obtainable for their stock and know how to get it, buying time is here again.

J. E. Bordwell, supervisor of crop improvement for the department, says that the demand for high quality hay is fed each year simply because hay is delayed too long. The results as many birds, but the stems are coarse and lack of leaves. Much of the valuable feed material is lost. In the case of alfalfa the leaves make up about 70% of the feed, and they contain a very high percentage of the proteins, minerals and vitamins which are the most food elements of feeds.

The aim in breeding hay should be to obtain a valid, rather the leaves, and have a practice that is as green in color as possible. To do this, the hay must be cut at the right time. Alfalfa should be cut when one-tenth to one-half in bloom. Alfalfa and Alsike clover in full bloom, sweet clover in the bud stage, and grasses in the early heading stage. With grass mixtures, cutting in the early bloom to cut when the baseline is at the right stage.

Reflections of the Times

A Note to School Graduates

Before making their plans to journey to other centres, many of our students, and especially the graduates, we suggest to them graduating from the high school this term to make their way to the world of business. Here they have a chance to get some of the opportunities at home.

By taking a "look" we do not mean embarking on a free lord ownership with the industrialists and financiers. The answer will only come through a thorough discussion with employers and top heads of the various establishments.

Working conditions, hours and opportunity for advancement with the various firms will be found at any other time in the history of the community.

Requirements for workers here are not higher than those in other Western Canadian cities. It would appear that impending development would ensure greater and more constant demand for those entering the business world here.

Naturally those electing to join the business section of this city must be prepared to start from the bill in a fount at the glad tidings, nor can they expect to become permanent fixtures overnight. They are ready to give a fair day's work, use the average amount of intelligence and establish some consistency in punctuality.

They Weren't Afraid In Saskatchewan

In the latter election campaign waged in Saskatchewan, the chief weapon used by the opposition parties was fear. Every time you spoke you were going to frighten voters away from the C.C.F. Every time you spoke you were going to frighten voters away from the C.C.F. Every time you spoke you were going to frighten voters away from the C.C.F.

Letters To The Editor . . . .

Shuttleville Alta.

To the Editor

Sir:

May I have the privilege of answering the editorial in last week's Lacombe Globe entitled "What Socialism Means." I feel strongly was a garment is that the C.C.F. party has a platform for the people because they feel that the Government owns them on each and every issue and they feel to realize that the accomplishment of anything means the loss of personal liberties.

This argument is not in accord with the facts. It is quite contrary to the basic philosophy of the C.C.F. or Social Democracy. In the first place it must be realized that a C.C.F. government would be elected because the people as are the old line party governments. On the contrary, the C.C.F. seeks to avoid the ordinary citizens the opportunity to actively participate in the formation of government policy and to give him a constant and effective control over the activities of his representative. In what words are we would have more democracy is how. Who would decide what industries should be nationalized? The people of course!

Should we fear Democracy? Will it deprive us of liberties if extended into the economic field? Surely Democracy does carry responsibilities. In political democracy the government is responsible to the electorate and electors are responsible for the kind of government they elect. Similarly in economic democracy the industrial worker is responsible for the supplying of human needs and services and is rewarded according to these labor.

About 50 Attend Village Field Day At Sedgewood School

A village field day at Sedgewood school last Friday afternoon was attended some 50 farmers from Bergen and other localities east of Lacombe. The program was arranged by J. Dahlman of Ottawa, Dominion Government, land district agriculturist.

The demonstrators of the competitive plots were given by F. T. Partemont of the Olds school of agriculture.

Every harvest of the one-way discs in Alberta are not properly adjusted, he said, and many of the operators are unaware of this because when their machine is operating on the level, gangs heavily, or fails to cut off all the weeds in its path.

He made adjustments to four discs brought in by farmers who stated they weren't getting properly fit. He soon had these working after a few changes here and there.

An aerial is demonstrating and adjusting the one-way disc, Mr. Partemont explained, these rules remain the same operation.

Some Hail Damage

Crop Prospects "Average" As Welcome Rains Fall

A heavy hail storm lasting no more than about ten minutes last Thursday evening caused considerable damage to crops in the district. The hail seemed to follow a narrow strip north and south, letting the Lacombe area pretty well alone. Around Clive, Eckmonville damage was done to hail grains, and some good looking fields of hail are now not healthy. Damage to crop crops was less serious although a few in the short blade stage were considerably cut back. For the most part the downpour was one of rain, and it was most welcome at this time. Cloth in the path laid on Lacombe, Clive areas like trees and grain badly torn, both crops and, a great deal of shredding is recorded in this locality.

Only 1.01 inches of rain fell over the entire month of June according to official records. Many report much heavier showers over the week-end, and others indicate more than two inches have fallen over the week-end.

Rains during the month were of the general and scattered type, and generally speaking crops at present seem to be about average. Wheat is about 10 inches high, but some reports pleasing as much as 60% in the shot blade Oats is reported eight inches in height and barley about six or seven. Any early needed coarse moisture are in the heading stage

Crop Prospects Brighten

THE proverbial million dollars rain was never more needed than it was last week. Farmers were talking in all conversations of a dry spell reaching the proportions of a drought in the near future. There was some rain in June, but it was confined and limited with areas of less than Lacombe district was out of the cloud burst. Some areas did a real thorough soak and moistened of Blackfalds as did Gull Lake. Lacombe itself received hardly enough to dig down and remain moist underfoot.

The damage done would leave some but could end, but hardly if it does not get at least half from now there. A good portion of the stubble ploughed includes areas on Lacombe district but the crop situation was really over appraised.

The only bright spot is against the situation was the rain over the Little Red River and Peace old reports however the heat was not general. Where had did fall after July 1 another damage from summerfallow will also be avoided by spring crops.

And as we enter the hot months of July with a nice rain, and the moisture of last week considerable need, but more rain will be the order of the day. Some of the advance reports which included very little moisting means the district up to Edmonton and other points will be in for a very dry season. Outlook in Central Alberta now compares favorably with other years. A lot of crop depends on moisture, but there has been a good start and there has been no heat to be fearful of. The recent rains have altered the picture to cool "mellow-dollar" style.

"What's New?"

HACKNEYED expressions become awfully boring sometimes. We have in mind a phrase like "What do you know?" which is somehow used in all conversations. Like a flock of homing ducks from the neighborhood's south the same old reply comes back. "Oh, nothing much." What answer can be given, unless some supreme egotist is willing to spend the next few days pondering about how much he does know? Obviously the questioner isn't often anything is leaving on that! He doesn't mean what he asks at all, nor does the human robot care how he himself belongs.

There's a little girl phase which disappoints nothing in the last set of witty, stimulating conversation. That is, "How are you doing?" Invariably the developing answer is barked right back "Oh fine." You may have a bodily cold or a laundry headache but that's not being asked for. Since the subject of health has been almost diagnosed of the awkward lull in the conversation is usually filled in with a few observations about the weather. "How day" says the optimist hovering his head against a driving rain storm," replies the wet face of his anxious associate.

That may be a slight exaggeration of the facts but it isn't far off the mark. Fortunately an early escape from these overworked cliches is in sight. Even the dog-eared eyeballs of the Lacombe editor are When the modifications below are ringing on everyone's ears, they will be discarded, and a new set of grueling phrases will be brought off the assembly line. At least it will be a change

Education in Schools

SHOULD a growing pupil be submitted to the influence of religious teaching in school? Should he study the world with his eyes closed to the deep implications of some individual passage under the guidance of a teacher? Or should religious thought be left to the home, and to the hours taught in Sunday School and Church?

These pertinent questions are raised by a speech given at the recent school division trustees' meeting here by A. G. Andrews, secretary of the Alberta school trustees' association. It was Mr. Andrews' opinion that such instruction would be a worthwhile addition to the present secular moral training of students.

Although religious education undoubtedly would be good moral training, it is a thing that is best practised in the ordinary school curriculum. Most of us jealously guard our right to select and follow the religion of our choice. To be exposed as adults to the various principles of different religions is part of our religious education. But an immature school student is not to be asked or favored in his teacher's faith no matter how sincerely they may put forward. Nor is there any guarantee that our school instructors would be qualified to give judgment on the Bible's inherent worth.

Most parents if able to assume would rather leave the spiritual matters of their children to development in the home and in the Church. There is no doubt however that moral education by [illegible] in this connection rests on the home and no more the means for instruction. The keeping of the ten commandments at the home is just as important as the multiplication table in school

4-D Field Tests

During the present year a number of field crop crops calculated with standard tests have been approved with 2-D under the supervision of the field crop branch Alberta Department of Agriculture. The aim is to obtain information further information on the most suitable amount of seed to apply The rate was 3 or 4 bushels per acre of the better varieties.

Results of these trials suggested that stiff weed can be completely killed with as little as 2-D ounces of 2-D and per acre when applied in the form of an active Triol drops were sprayed at the rates of 2½, 4, 6 and 8 ounces of 2-D per acre. The 6 and 8 ounces oral treatments checked weeds within a day or two. The 2½ ounce oral treatment has showed no apparent effect until at least 4 days after treatment but at the end of that time the usual reactions to 2-D was evidenced in the curling of the leaves and stems. This reaction continued until at the end of 11 days the stem weed plants were completely killed All trials were conducted when the stem weed was in the 4 to 6 leaf stage.

The damage point would have come but stem end, but hardly if it does not get at least half from now there. A good portion of the stubble ploughed includes areas on Lacombe district but the crop situation was really over appraised.

The only bright spot is against the situation was the rain over the Little Red River and Peace old reports however the heat was not general. Where had did fall after July 1 another damage from summerfallow will also be avoided by spring crops.

Cutting the Poultry Flock

With the present high costs of production the home man gains of profit you cannot afford to keep a single bird regardless of age, that is not a healthy vigorous specimen. Culling is important at the day you receive your chicks, says C. W. Treves, poultry commissioner. From there on, the flock should be culled regularly and all unthrifty birds removed. When they are large enough they can be used as broilers, and later as roasters or as hen. There is no room for sentiment when culling your flock. Either a bird is a good one and stays in or out a poor bird. Broilers, as a rule, are culled out of the flock and later, but are ill-shapen a source of danger from disease or parasites. Naturally one must use good judgement but culling should be done regularly and severely

Less Chicks This Year

A commercial hatching of chicks in 1948 has been about equal to that of 1947, but the early date on chicks hatched by the end of March a year ago, only two have been hatched to date.

In most provinces, however, each succeeding month is bringing larger sales and there is likely to be a substantial quantity of chicks produced this year despite the shower start compared with the record period of 1947

Much of the slack in chick sales in the prairie provinces would probably have been taken up by farmer enough for hens and heavy seasonal hatching deliveries by end. Chicks were delivered by air to some parts of rural Alberta

Tolerance of Riots

The worst and most dangerous aspect of the race among Great Lakes seamen, which has led to riots on suppressing them and public apathy about the riots. Tolerance of public disorder is the most serious disease that can insert itself into the body country labor union conflicts, the law is deliberately and successfully flouted.

A Communist-directed union is trying to keep or get control of traffic on the lakes. A fundamental of Communist policy everywhere is to get control on key industries where a whole economy can be paralyzed at pause or war. The employer-bound shipping companies refuse to deal with Communists. That alone is the avowed aim of the Communist Wages and working conditions are not in dispute. Breaking down respect for law and order, getting police and public sentiment on the side of public disorder, is Communist policy for softening up a security opposing a for Red'ism itself. Let's not put up with it.

Housing Project For Wetaskiwin Nears Completion

First half of the Wetaskiwin's housing projects for veterans is now approaching completion This comprises 20 houses built by Wetaskiwin Builders Limited under Mortgage Corporation by Bennett and White of Edmonton

Of the 20 houses 16 are completed and are either occupied or will be occupied within a day or two

The houses are attractive in appearance and have been so placed that there is no appearance of regimentation. In the complete project there will be houses 20 of these have an upstairs and 20 are of the bungalow type. They range from four room dwellings to five and six room houses The four room dwellings rent at $22.00 per month, the five room bungalows at $27.50 and the six room type at $30 per month. They are all equipped with gas, water service, and electric lighting Each house also contains a ground floor locker as, owing to shortage of materials they were built without basements.

Where Are The Conservatives In Alberta?

With the CCF and Social Credit parties busy organizing for the August election, there has been very little activity from the traditional two parties Some Liberals have broken off on their own, only the Conservatives are left to support that decadent element.

There will doubtless be some independents in the field, but it will only be a half-hearted effort Could it be that the Conservatives are leaving the Independents to support Social Credit?

Mrs. John Bracken wife of the leader of the National Progressive Conservative Party gained speaker at a gathering of Women in Winnipeg early in August at the Winnipeg Citizen of June 10th Even in Montreal the Conservative [illegible] continued on a fifth generation in Saskatchewan of course, the job is not so easy The Social Credit Party of Mr Low's term are much like the Conservatives and I feel will work along with us."

It would appear that there is no "Social Credit" organization in this province, except it be the organized half Conservative party that broke away from nothing to go nowhere.

New Sidewalks For Lacombe This Summer

It looks as though Lacombe will have some new sidewalks this year, as the Town Council, at a meeting held last night with the members of available funds for sidewalk construction for more than half an hour at their regular meeting Monday night and decided to call for tenders on about 1,000 feet of sidewalk, the estimated cost of which will be $10,000 - could be safely widened on sidewalks, but definite areas were also set out, but certainly put lots of life into the meeting. The next several weeks will be done. Building of these sidewalks will do much to make a much safer and better walking surface for the pedestrian traffic when paved streets may be constructed here. Lovejoy Mayor Lovejoy, who was also present at Monday's meeting, will be in charge of the work in residential areas just where they are situated in order that the contractor may be more expert to complete the job as soon as possible this summer.

Several residents appeared before council at this meeting the evening's business to complain about the Chairman of T. B. Hopkins made further petitions on behalf of the board and council, as regards the sidewalks. Mr. Hopkins was the first to draw to the attention of the council the need for the new sidewalks in the future to check the traffic out.

Fines have been presented to council by the approach to the [illegible] which will be dealt with later. He asked that the matter be looked in and council agreed to do so.

Two citizens attended the meeting to ask for the use of certain suitable lots for the building of residences. They were Albert Vogel and Lyle Pyzalski. Approval of two lots was given by council for dwellings to be constructed on the same location.

Councillor C. Dalziel brought up the matter of poorly-placed highway signs in Lacombe. Mr. Dalziel said he knew of one town who placed a sign across the road in the case the highway is [illegible] the Calgary-Edmonton.

The matter of improving the signs for traffic in this town was turned over to the [illegible] department.

Council met as a court of revision, and heard two appeals against assessment one from Mrs. Hattie E. Sabiston, and the other from J. W. Thompson. Both appeals turned assessments were to be high against the residences.

Canada Savings Bonds on Sale This Fall.
The Bank of Canada has announced on behalf of the Minister of Finance arrangements for the offering of a third series of Canada Savings Bonds this fall. Terms of the new issue will not be finally established until later probably early next year or September. However, it is expected that the new series will retain many features which proved so popular in the first two series.
Since the introduction of Canada Savings Bonds in 1946, applications for the first and second series have totalled more than 2,168,000 to a total value in excess of $616 million. The decision to issue a third series is based mainly on this wide-spread demand.

Visitor, to England Relates Food Conditions

The best things he (Lacombe) visitor to Lacombe) returned to relatives in England are canned and chicken, pork products, coffee, tea, or rather fish, sugar, dried fruits or canned fruits which are completely unobtainable.

Second-hand clothes in good condition also are welcomed, and very few people are too proud or too-fastidious not to be happy to receive discarded clothes moved from friends in Canada, provided of course that they are in fairly good condition.

THURSDAY JULY 15 1948

The Late Jesse Fraser

One by one the pioneers of Lacombe and district are passing and each one who has gone is held in high esteem by those who knew him. Although not a pioneer in point of years, Jesse Fraser was indeed a pioneer of the Lacombe district.

A resident of the town for the past 40 years, Jesse Fraser was a familiar figure on the streets of the town and district. Time has been kind to Jesse Fraser and until taken ill a few months ago nature was reflected on his cheerful countenance and he was ever ready to help a fellowman in need. Although handicapped by the loss of his sight he did the astonishingly and seemingly impossible of accomplishments. In this district where he made an able secretary and his ability along this line brought him into the office for many years.

One of the truest tributes paid him was made by Rev. R. B. Hutton in his eulogy at the funeral service when he said he had a double but opposite effect on those who knew him. He was the first to introduce the Boy Scout movement into Lacombe and was the first Scout master. Jesse Fraser was a staunch supporter of the Presbyterian church and was a foremost contributor to the Presbyterian building fund together with many other worthy causes.

He better realized than most men the value of a dollar and was a thrifty man. He was a man of strong character and was a man who could be depended upon to do what he said he would do. He was a man who could be depended upon to do what he said he would do. He was a man who could be depended upon to do what he said he would do.

The Railroad Strike

At the time of writing, a strike of 122,000 railroad employees on July 15 seems certain. It is hoped that the wage differences are settled and the workers are still on the job by the time this reaches print, but the attitude of the unions in employing the strike threat to further their own ends is to be deplored.

Apparently labor unions haven't yet learned that strikes don't do anybody any good. It may help the employee cause but domestic but the average worker who is a non-union or disaffected and feels that the dispute is a fight between labor and the employer and usually leaves a bad taste in everybody's mouth. Particularly is this true when public well being is at stake as in the case of the railroad strike.

A company can't suffer in this country could be closed down indefinitely for any reasonable length of time. The inconvenience to thousands of travellers would be nothing compared to the freight problem. Large sections of the dominion would find themselves seriously short of essential food supplies. Some areas might feel the pinch at a shortened meal. And Canada's trucking and road services aren't efficient enough to do the job.

The point at issue is here a mere hundred thousand odd workers the right to place the welfare of Canadian citizens in jeopardy to obtain their own ends? Obviously not whether they demands be justified or not. Compromise is essential in a wage dispute of this nature when the disparity between the views of the contending parties is a 10 cent hour as opposed a 20-cent an hour increase it is likely the dispute will be resolved satisfied with the probable settlement settlement figure but the country shouldn't be allowed to suffer in the interim.

Farming Notes

From the Provincial Department of Agriculture

Instructive Field Days

Farmers as a group are more wont ago are, during field days conducted during the past month by the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Ten years of the use of 2-4-D brought many questions. One of these whether or not 2-4-D sprayed on pastures is harmful to livestock was answered in the negative by Dr. Laing. He advised that as the damage normally used as 2-4-D efforts could be expected on the animals grazing these areas.

The result of the field days was to bring out the information that many varieties were not controlled and the best time to spray was 2-4-D alone. A third recommendation was that the manufacturers of the spray be contacted to have the label changed to read "Do not spray 2-4-D alone." Another recommendation was that the spray be used at the rate of 1 pint per acre in 20 gallons of water. Also that 2-4-D be used in combination with other chemicals.

Other recommendations were that spraying be done when the plants are 6 inches high, that spraying be done when the plants are 6 inches high, that spraying be done when the plants are 6 inches high, that spraying be done when the plants are 6 inches high.

Reflections of the Times

Scarcity of Gophers

Gophers have become such a common annual that every year they are more or less regarded by the farmer somewhat as a necessary evil. Many in the welfare of the community at all times. Christmas at certain times for over 15 years with the famed scarecrow C. F. Emerson brought him into contact with residents throughout the district and no home did not know Jesse Fraser.

His better nature was a true Christian gentleman and a life Layton's contributing biblical quotations. Father in the gracious bearing knew we now he servant sleeping.

SERVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry IN MY HOME?"

Yes, Madam, it is a fact that practically everything you use, wear or consume is affected for the better by chemistry.

"Power" pours the flames into your electric refrigerator; chemical treatments mean better lighting; chemical fertilizers help grow your food. Nylon lines and "Cellophane" both start in the chemist's laboratory.

The chemical industry is never satisfied. It forever seeks new ways to serve you in this chemical world of today.

Turn Over Nearly Two Million
Blindman Valley Co-op Business Up 25% Over '47

A total of 612 sales of livestock were shipped during the Blindman Valley Co-operative association to the Edmonton stockyards and as the last of the associations annual meeting on the local Church Hall last Friday. The sales totalled 612 head and the total amount of money involved was $1,900,000. The 614 cars represented about a 25 increase on business over 1947, when 491 cars of livestock were shipped. Manager Ernest Hall read the annual statement, and it contained many interesting features.

Sales of wool showed a big increase over last year, the total amount being $2,000 as compared with $1,600 in 1947. Sales of cream were down slightly, the total amount being $2,000 as compared with $2,500 in 1947. Sales of eggs showed a big increase over last year, the total amount being $2,000 as compared with $1,500 in 1947.

The association's financial position is very good, the statement showed. Assets total $100,000 and liabilities $50,000. The association's net worth is $50,000.

Directors elected for the ensuing year were: Ernest Hall, Joe Hall, Ben Hall, Ed Barnes and Jack Barnes.

Added Fire Hazard

It will cost lots to Lacombe ratepayers to patrol a road and hallway to protect them from a serious epidemic. Instead of a fine it is proposed to let the hoodlums violate the crown's statutes, then collect a civil action from his dad. Just a case of a mother's love for her children in the past, this procedure has seemed to work out well enough, and this enlightened volunteer idea of quite have been prevented many thousands from doing what they are doing now.

But this issue, centre of current Lacombe residents recognized the reckless hoodlums either with wills of Wheat in the 1927 or early 30's, and ... a fine here or the establishment, and the result either was dead stock because hard to get through. These unsolved gruesome murders including one hoodlum to get, since there was no crowds. Competition can be healthy in the best but when it was not a danger one was, but best at least the correspondents might have been very dishonest, perhaps dangerous.

Now that there is no fire danger in the above spoken of, but more or less positively revealed, we should warn no harm in reviving it. Like necessary things often has been made a danger here has been established at the phone office with interest. But more is required if we operate a from town residents in enforcing from using the phone as soon as the law seven hours. Shells that ought to have all, even if it's only for a moment. There will be the danger of the worthless and time laboring as long as engines are made and sold under valid. It's a simple remedy ... and may save property possibly lives.

Speaking of Seasons

WEATHER is always hazardous stuff to start talking about, but we can probably touch on the more general conditions without getting into hot water. And a hot hot on the other day like a luxurious blow on the head was that summer is more than half over.

Those lengthening shadows as the earlier hours of evening fall the story, but it's seemed like such a short summer. Of course, summer isn't gone yet, but somehow when the pages of the calendar flick so quickly past the big date of June 21 those doesn't seem to be much more left. July is gone like a flash of a gull in the night sky ... much now ... and August is another stepping stone of speed. When the golden leaves of September arrives, summer is over.

Now just why should we look at summer with such wonderful ... when it is accompanied by the bench and mosquitos and flies drive you crazy flats and bugs of all descriptions meet it up with sandwiches, lemons, and bushes rub and tickle your bare arms. And how to cure it? I can put in the bench is being agreed out on this business. But it's the same things that remain on our monetary holidays, the new long days of hot sunshine the garden and the many of vegetables to store for our summer labors.

Despite a slow blossoming spring month into the hottest day tonight of winter, making our eyes our seeds longer. But this year we were gripped with practically no spring at all. Maybe hotter months! Mr. Weather will correct this glaring error right by giving us an unholy long and pleasant autumn. As for snow and winter? Uh, uh. We don't want to think about that. Not in July.

Farming Notes

Hoeing Tree Belts

During the last two years other tests are planted in shelterbelts. No grain or weeds should be allowed to become established. Due to lack of cultivation by cultivating and hoeing as required.

If these operations are carefully attended to, strong growth of trees will result. Vigorous growth during the early life of shelterbelt trees is a most desirable if maximum benefits from trees are to be enjoyed as the shelter protects trees. With the development of the trees to shelter on the trees it should fail shelterbelts should result but to be continued if these operations continue to foster strong growth of weeds among the trees.

Hoeing and cultivating shelterbelt trees should not be continued if these operations continue to foster strong growth of weeds among the trees. For two belts planted five or more years, the last would to be recommended that strips about 10 rods of belts up to 10 feet wide be kept well cultivated and free from weeds and grass. Any weeds that may grow between established rows of the trees should not interfere a great deal with their growth.

Reflections of the Times

A Lesson in Buying

A local woman showed the writer an article she had bought from a travelling salesman which obviously was of silver design and workmanship like that to get at least with the name of his company, but couldn't. Out of curiosity, we handed the article at a local store and found that it could have purchased a similar article of the same kind at just a fraction more than a third of the price she had paid to the salesman.

Local people should remember that doing their shopping at local stores is good business, for they have a guarantee of good ... and if you don't get money back or a suitable exchange. Buying at local stores, purchasers find a feeling of friendship and good service without which no business can flourish. It is good business to buy from local stores where reputations have been established by years from door to door salesmen, who are here today and gone tomorrow and then never return. Buying at home you know they never could return and again make sales or make losses.
